TRIES TO KILL AROSEMENA.

Assassin Shoots at Panaman.

Little Isthmus Republic Is Excited by Attack on Venerable President.

Six Bullets Whiz Past Him As He Rises to Toast Nation at Banquet.

Hot Political Campaign Is on and Clerical Fanatic Is Blamed for Crime.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLON (R. P.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As a result, it is believed, of the hot fight now on for the presidency of Panama, an attempt was made at David to assassinate Pablo Arosemena, the venerable first designado and acting president. After being kept a secret for several days the news became known today and has caused a great sensation throughout the country.

President Arosemena, who is 74 years old, was returning from a trip to the province of Chiriqui. At David he gave a dinner to a number of his friends. Politics were discussed, but informally.

As the banquet drew to a close he arose to answer a toast to Panama. As he gained his feet, six revolver bullets whizzed by him and buried themselves in the wall. No one was badly hurt, although the attempted assassination caused a scurry at the dinner table and several of those present were slightly cut by glass.

DINERS GIVE ALARM.

As soon as they recovered self-possession, the diners gave the alarm but the would-be assassin was nowhere to be seen. A careful search of the town failed to bring any evidence worthy of the name. As the shots came in quick succession, they are believed to have all been from one revolver. Tropical plants massed in a window concealed the assassin.

Although the presidential election does not come until July, 1912, the race already is well advanced and the issues are sharply defined. The liberal party at present controls the offices. Allied with them is the Coalicion Republican or Republican fusion party including many Conservatives. The rest of the Conservatives from the organized anti-administrationists.

The question of the church constitutes the real dividing line. The Liberals want church and state separated and think there should be no religious instruction in the public schools. It had been claimed that the religious problem would be eliminated in the coming election but so far it has been occupying an unusual amount of public attention and many and frequent minor clashes have resulted.

BLAMED ON FANATIC.

HOT TOOTSIES HATCH AN EGG.

But if Charles Henry's Feet Had Been Cold Ones, Tale Might Differ.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles Henry, linotype operator, keeps hens. Last week a hen hatched chickens from nineteen out of twenty eggs. Henry believed there was still a chance to make a perfect score for Biddy. Placing the twentieth egg between flannels, he put it behind the stove for the day and at night Henry placed the egg at his feet in bed. The third night Henry was awakened by something tickling the bottom of his feet. The chirping chick had arrived.

THE CITY. A fat man, alleged to be a burglar, the police and residents of Kensington Road, played a hide-and-seek game yesterday, resulting in the capture of the pursued, because he could not hide his rotund body behind slender garden vases.

Presiding Judge Hutton stated yesterday that Judge Bordwell will try the cases of the alleged dynamiters. According to custom, indicted cases are tried in the department to which the indictment is returned. Counsel for the defense said yesterday that the trial would be held in Los Angeles county.

The offer of the husband of Lillian Paxton to surrender if she is released from jail has been accepted by the District Attorney, who is loth to send the woman to the penitentiary and separate her from her three babies.

An elderly woman, endeavoring to cross at Sixth and Grand avenue yesterday, became bewildered at the approach of several wagons and bumped into an automobile. She was thrown violently and her skull fractured.

Members of the Psychopathic Society Association of Los Angeles petitioned the County Supervisors yesterday to make better provisions at the County Hospital for the insane, protesting against the poor facilities, lack of provision for the mildly insane and the public ride to the Hall of Justice in the Black Maria.

Miss Eva Bovee, who was shot by S. L. Baxin in a suicide pact at the County Hospital, has lost her determination to die, and now wants to recover from the wound, although the physicians give her little encouragement.

In order to take care of any emergency which may arise in the industrial district, Chief Sebastian has arranged to mobilize the police force by certain arrangements made at the Central Station.

Postmaster Harrison has sent out warning to merchants to look out for stolen postal money orders, numbers given; some of which have been disposed of on the Pacific Coast.

Corporations and individuals in ten counties of Southern California who were granted certain privileges by the government on public land and failed to comply with them, will be prosecuted under complaints prepared by the United States Deputy District Attorney.

Prof. Lindemann, former dean of the University of Technology of Colorado, declared in this city last night that woman's suffrage has been the bane of that State, desecrated homes and debauched fair womanhood, and is one of the greatest evils of the age.

At the meeting of the Federated Improvement Association tomorrow night, when arrangements will be made for celebrating "The City Beautiful," May 20, the prosperity of Los Angeles under industrial freedom will be a subject vigorously discussed.

A man charged with bigamy in a justice's court yesterday was singularly backed up by two wives, two mothers-in-law, stepfather and brother-in-law, and a sister-in-law.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. The Daughters of the Confederacy will open a three days' convention in Venice today. Mrs. Abbot Kinney will deliver an address of welcome to the visitors.

San Jacinto is beginning to believe that accidents are contagious. A half dozen people have been injured in that city within the past few days, and the bravest are feeling shaky.

A young aviator made his initial flight at Long Beach yesterday, and when he had attained a height of fifty feet his machine became unmanageable, and he fell to earth. The man was not seriously hurt, but his aeroplane was totally wrecked.

Covina citizens will hold a mass meeting tonight and protest against the hog ranches which have been installed in that vicinity, and if the protest is not heeded the matter will be taken into court for settlement.

The government has purchased a site for the new Federal building at Bakersfield, and the work on the structure will be started in the near future.

Porterville is continually doing something to break into print. She announces now that bonds will be voted in sufficient quantity to make additions to school facilities, when she will claim the title of "The Athens of San Joaquin Valley."

The Sunday-schools of the San Diego district are holding a two days convention in Colton. Prominent church people are in attendance, and a programme of interest is being carried out.

Colegrove citizens have arranged for weekly band concerts, and if the public shows proper appreciation they will be given more frequently.

PACIFIC SLOPE. Refugee American mining men reaching Douglas, Ariz., yesterday, reported widespread pillage by outlaw bands throughout the State of Sonora.

Among the 203 bills Gov. Johnson failed to sign yesterday were six big measures, turned down because the State was financially unable to bear the burden they would have created.

Bee River has developed another troublesome break through the levee, and million-dollar appropriation may have gone a glimmering.

State yesterday made division of railroad tax among the various counties.

Portland Mayor yesterday gave Chief of Police orders to clamp lid tight on every form of vice.

British oil operators were yesterday reported from San Francisco as having taken many options on California oil lands.

Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific lines were yesterday reported to have reached an agreement for joint use of terminal facilities at Seattle and Tacoma.

Los Angeles woman, whose life Bandit Chris Evans once saved, sends him signet ring and wishes for Godspeed as he steps from State penitentiary.

GENERAL EASTERN. Detectives were watching certain Ohio legislators last night and threatened to arrest them before they could board a train, if they tried.

Burns secured letters written to James W. McNamara last night in Cincinnati, and will bring them to Los Angeles with two trunks full of other evidence.

Snow fell in Chicago yesterday, causing much suffering, which was increased by still colder wave which started last night; gale lashed lakes and shipping sought harbor; fruit and grain crops of entire Middle West endangered.

City Chamberlain Hyde of New York last night announced his immediate resignation but declared he was a victim of a wicked conspiracy.

Two young Americans who met for first time in Denver the other day were married after having been in love with each other's descriptions for ten years.

WASHINGTON. House Democrats will begin working on the revision of the wool schedule next week; dodge free trade and plan gradual reduction of tariff for six years.

Protection and free trade were themes of debate in the House yesterday over the Democratic bill to put certain articles on the free list.

Several tentative drafts of proposed American-British arbitration treaty were under discussion yesterday between President Taft and members of his Cabinet.

FOREIGN. Attempted assassination of President of Panama became known yesterday, and created intense excitement in little Isthmian republic.

British bluejackets were landed at Canton, China, Monday, in consequence of alarm over uprising of Chinese.

Portuguese government returns to deposed Queen jewels valued at $50,000, left behind in her flight; British may get contract for $150,000,000 of war material.

Further violent scenes were enacted yesterday during the trial of the Camorrists in Viterbo, Italy.

FINANCIAL. Artificial bulge of nearly four cents in May wheat frightened shorts in all options on the Chicago grain market yesterday.

Following a week of almost uninterrupted advance, the stock market yesterday became mildly reactionary, giving indications of an overbought condition.

AMERICANS IN MEXICO CITY PREPARE TO DEFEND LIVES.

Colony of F[illegible]housand Souls Taking No [illegible]cessary Chances.

With G[illegible] English-Speaking Race, They Organiz[illegible]entualities—Awake to Fact That Mexican Cap[illegible] Is Practically Beleaguered City—Diaz Government Practically Abandons Half of Domain.

BY STEPHEN BONSAL.

[Copyright, 1911, by the Los Angeles Times, the New York Times, and the Chicago Record-Herald.]

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—We have suddenly awakened to the fact that we are living in a beleaguered city. Every night at 8 o'clock the nine pieces of field artillery which Diaz still possesses are limbered up and brought in from the Tacubaya artillery barracks to take up their positions in platoons commanding the roads entering the city from Cuernavaca and the south.

Every night the slender, overworked garrison of the capital, instead of turning in when night comes, tramp through the dusty streets and take positions around little charcoal fires within supporting distance of the guns.

The Cuernevaca tragedy has had at least one advantage. It has cleared the air and we see today that the government of Gen. Diaz, in its military aspect at least, simply rests upon a score or so of disconnected garrisons which, while pretending to be actively engaged in putting down the revolution, are really only acting on the defensive with more or less success.

AMERICANS ASK PROTECTION.

Ambassador Wilson today sent Mr. Deering, first secretary of the American embassy, to the Foreign Office, with a note setting forth very clearly the information which had been received at the embassy, demonstrating the danger which Americans, shut up in Cuernavaca, now run. The dispatch concludes by asking the Foreign Office to inform the embassy at the earliest possible moment what steps the Mexican government has taken or proposes to take to defend American lives and interests.

At 7 o'clock no answer had been received. It is clear tonight that the Diaz government, not entirely of its own free will, has practically abandoned more than half the country and that in many other sections it is not able to hold its own, much less enforce law and order.

I am informed in this connection that Gov. Lerdo of Sinaloa has left his post and is endeavoring to reach the capital by way of the United States.

ARMING FOR EVENTUALITIES.

In view of these growing chaotic conditions, and especially since the Cuernavaca tragedy has brought them so near home to us in the capital, it is natural and right that Americans should be taking serious thought of their situation, and they are doing so. While credit is given to Gen. Diaz, and indeed, to a large percentage of the population of the city for their friendly attitude at a time when official authority is collapsing in so many places, and barbarous crimes (or what appear to be such on the information at hand) are being committed, it is natural that four thousand American men here upon whom in case of emergency may devolve the duty of defending a large number of women and children, should be taking certain precautionary measures.

While, of course, everything of a provocative type is being avoided, our colony is fairly well armed with pistols and ammunition. There are, however, very few rifles available.

ORGANIZING WITH SYSTEM.

Unfortunately, members of the colony and transients who are principally refugees from distant plantations and mines, are scattered all over the city and in the suburbs. However, with the genius of our race for organization, they are naturally falling into bodies of one hundred, such as the hundred

VICIOUS EYES FLASH DAGGERS AS CAMORRIST UNFOLDS TALE.

Violent Outbreaks From Prisoners' Cage Mark Day of Turbulence in Court at Viterbo, Italy—George B. McClellan, Former Mayor of New York, Interested Spectator at Theatrical Hearings.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

VITERBO (Italy) May 2.—Two features today made the Camorrist trial of more than ordinary interest.

These were the presence of George B. McClellan, former Mayor of New York, in whose term of office Lieut. Petrosino arrested Enrico Alfano, the alleged head of the Camorra, for which Petrosino is believed to have paid the penalty of his life, and the confrontation of Abbatemaggio, the informer, by Corrada Sortino, whom he accused of being one of the actual assassins of Cuoccolo.

The scenes of disorder were even more marked than usual, the prisoners in the cage interrupting the witness incessantly, and shouting curses at his head.

Mr. McClellan, who appeared to be an object of great interest to the prisoners, remarked on the unusual methods of the court, which he considered, however, in many respects admirable.

When Abbatemaggio reached the details of the murder of Cuoccolo, Sortino stood before him and at times it seemed as though the two men were about to spring at each other. Carabineers were placed between them and the two were forced to content themselves with baneful glances and the clenching of hands.

VIOLENT SCENES.

Though the morning session was stormy, that in the afternoon presented still more disturbing conditions.

Several times a violent scene was prevented only by the intervention of guards. Sortino defended himself with skill and pointed out contradictions and impossibilities in the statement of the informer.

He ironically called attention to the fact that Abbatemaggio, in his accusation, had said those directly concerned in the murder had changed their clothes, with the exception of Sortino, although he was guilty of two murders. It was ridiculous to say that he wore a false beard, because until May, 1905, he had a natural one, and therefore the false beard would have rendered him unrecognizable to the police.

Abbatemaggio interrupted at this point, saying:

"Thirteen months later all the police who knew you had been changed."

(The Cuoccolo murder occurred in June, 1906).

With reference to the evidence that he had received a stab in the hand, Sortino said the had cut his finger with scissors, not Cuoccolo's knife, and that the wound had been dressed at a pharmacy adjoining his house, as a witness would attest.

DEMONSTRATION STARTS.

Abbatermaggio testified to the route followed by Sortino after the murder of Cuoccolo's wife, and Sortino shouted:

"You insinuate that I had a cab to carry off the stolen goods?"

Erricone jumped to his feet and cried out excitedly:

"We found the cabman you tried to suborn into saying he carried Sortino, but he refused."

All the prisoners took occasion to begin a demonstration which the president had difficulty in quelling. Sortino shouted so vehemently that Abbatemaggio could not be heard.

When the disorder was at an end, he turned in the direction of McClellan and said ironically:

"If we are acquitted here, we will go to America, where you will accuse us of the murder of Petrosino."

In answer to questions by the attorneys for the accused, Abbatemaggio denied he ever had been a police spy.

Gennaro Abbatemaggio repeated his story coolly and at times eloquently, while he was assailed with the curses of the other prisoners in the great steel cage. Every statement that he made was denied in chorus, and when he concluded, Enrico Alfano, the alleged head of the Camorra, rose and shouted:

INFORMER DENOUNCED.

"Abbatemaggio deserves thirty years in prison."

The informer said the Camorra existed in a well-organized form both outside and inside the prisons of

Charles H. Hyde,

City Chamberlain of New York, who said last night that he would resign at once, but protested that he was victim of one of "the most wicked conspiracies in the history of the city." Upper picture is snapshot of Hyde on his return from South to face charges brought by grand jury indictments. Lower picture shows him as trusted city official.

Swift Finish.

"WICKED CONSPIRACY," CRIES HYDE, BUT HE'LL RESIGN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—Charles H. Hyde will resign as City Chamberlain at once. Under indictment and under the fire of practically every newspaper in New York, he announced tonight that, although he is the victim of one of "the most wicked conspiracies in the history of the city," he will relinquish his position in order not to embarrass the Gaynor administration. He has been the Mayor's protege for years.

Indicted secretly yesterday on two counts, one charging bribery, the other with taking an unlawful fee, Hyde pleaded not guilty in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court this afternoon, with permission to change or withdraw the plea up to May 16, and was released under $7500 bail.

The grand jury resumed its investigation of the Carnegie trust fiasco with O. H. Cheney, State Superintendent of Banks, as a witness.

Officials of the bank will also be called to be questioned as to why the Carnegie Trust Company was not closed, although known to be tottering.

Hyde's resignation has been in the Mayor's hands since Saturday last, it is understood, but the Mayor has said nothing although he held an hour's conference this afternoon with Samuel Untermeyer, Hyde's counsel.

The City Chamberlain's statement, issued after this conference, predicts his complete exoneration, but assails the District Attorney's office and concludes as follows:

"While I have no fear or doubt the whole conspiracy against me will be laid bare in a very short time, I do not propose to have the administration of Mayor Gaynor embarrassed and I shall at once tender my resignation."

Hyde asks the public to suspend judgment until the "motives behind the prosecution are brought out," and says that with 120 or more banks with which he has had daily transactions, "it is strange that more alleged irregularities were not brought out, if I were capable of the dastardly crime of betraying the city."

He emphatically denies an alleged transaction with the northern bank, upon which one indictment is based.

Ready to Succor.

WARSHIPS OF FOUR NATIONS DROP ANCHOR NEAR CANTON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HONGKONG, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The British gunboats Moorhen and Robin, the Wilmington and the Callac of the United States fleet, the French warships Argus and Vigilanto, the German Iltes and the Portuguese Maco are at Canton to give aid, if necessary, to the foreigners in the Chinese city now beset by rebels.

British bluejackets were landed yesterday in consequence of an alarm. They mounted a quick-firing gun on Shamien. The viceroy sent his Chinese troops, but nothing happened, though fighting was renewed within the city.

At the East Gate there was a grewsome sight as 100 corpses were dumped there awaiting burial.

The viceroy announces that more than one hundred prisoners were beheaded. He says he is now in complete control and advises the people to resume their peaceful occupations and give no aid to wrongdoers.

The Chinese gunboats Kwong Kung and Kwong Ku intercepted the rebels marching on Fatshen and shelled them, killing two hundred. The land force attacked the remainder, killing 100. The troops lost seventy, including their commander.

LITTLE NEWS FROM INTERIOR.

News from the interior is anxiously awaited. Telegraph communication is restored. Rumors that Wuchow and Samshui were captured by the rebels are not confirmed.

A letter from Nanking dated April 24, reports the discovery of a plot to murder officials and foreigners. Newly-enlisted soldiers are implicated. One of the conspirators disclosed the plans and the leaders were promptly beheaded.

Late advices from Canton, where the revolutionary movement originated, indicate that foreigners have escaped harm.

The foreign residential section occupies Shamien, an artificial island at the north of Canton. A canal separates the island from the city proper. Gunboats are anchored in the canal and guns are mounted on the canal bank commanding the approaches to the island. On Sunday evening the revolutionists attempted to cross the Shamien for the purpose of charging the police station there. They were repulsed by loyal troops.

Bandits led by the brigand chief, Luk, burned four residents at Fatshan, when they attacked and looted the town.

WORKING WESTWARD.

Reports from the West River districts are meager as the rebels destroyed telegraphic communication at many points. It appears, however, that Wu Sum, the leader of the anti-Manchu forces, is working to the westward after raiding Samshui, Wanchow, Woochow, Chunglok, Shuihung and Fatshan. The government seems to be in control at Canton.

Later dispatches today state that the anti-Manchu movement has Burns Detectives Threaten Members With Arrest if They Board Train.

Gov. Harmon and Judge Blair Testify—Hogan Says Fifty Are Guilty.

Sleuth Chief Says Graft in Buckeye State Is Worst in the Country.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLUMBUS (O.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Three members of the Ohio State Senate and six members of the House of Representatives are being closely watched tonight by detectives from the office of the William J. Burns agency. At 9 o'clock the officials in charge stated that if any of the men under surveillance attempt to get away they will be arrested before they board a train.

Detective Burns said this evening that he now has twelve men in Columbus watching the legislators and that ten more will be here early tomorrow morning. Burns held several conferences with Gov. Judson Harmon, Atty.-Gen. Hogan and Secretary of State Graves today. Later, he went to the Franklin county Courthouse and into the grand jury room.

Late this afternoon Gov. Harmon was called before the grand jury. He is said to have told the grand jurors that the money which was shown him and which Dr. George B. Nye of Pike county gave to Speaker Samuel J. Vining did not bear the numbers which Detective F. F. Harrison said were on the bills he had given Nye.

Gov. Harmon went to the Speaker's office yesterday afternoon and when there was shown the $300 which Nye says he received from the sleuths sent here by Burns. The Governor was not in the grand jury room very long and this question is said to have been the only one put to him.

NYE REFUSES TO QUIT.

"I shall not resign from the Calendar Committee of the Ohio House," said Dr. Nye this evening. Republican Floor Leader Langdon and Democratic Floor Leader Russell made the demand from the floor of the House this afternoon that that body compel Dr. Nye to resign from this committee.

"I intend to remain on this committee for the rest of this session," continued the Pike-county physician: "I was elected to it and have a right to remain on it until there is something tangible upon which my enemies can base their statements. Also I shall show the Ohio Legislature that I am not a receiver of graft, even if other members are."

Democratic State Chairman Edward W. Hanley wired today to Senator Cetone, one of the men said to have taken gifts from these detectives, that his home district is with him until the blow-off comes.

"We stand by you," were the first words of the Hanley telegram. "Your friends at home believe you to be innocent and will stand with you to the end. Your interests will be guarded carefully and every arrangement completed to insure fair and just treatment. Be of good cheer and never doubt our loyalty and affection."

JUDGE BLAIR TESTIFIES.

Senator Cetone said after reading this message that he knows the detectives cannot connect him with any of the graft alleged to have been given and that he will not return to Dayton to see his friends until the grand jury finds him innocent.

Judge A. Z. Blair of Adams county, who recently exposed political corruption in that county and sentenced over 1000 voters there for selling their ballots, was called by the grand jury this afternoon. He is said to have given valuable evidence to that body relative to alleged attempts at bribery. His testimony is believed to show shady transactions on the part of one of the legislators prominently mentioned as being guilty of accepting money.

His testimony is said to have been directed toward the Kimball bill to change the judicial district in which Adams county is now a member. Passage of this bill meant that Judge Blair would be ousted from the bench. Charges have been made that several bribes were solicited for this measure.

"Ohio is now passing through one of the greatest upheavals in politics in the history of this country," said Detective Burns this afternoon. "For months and months there have come to us charges against certain members of the body which stated that the senders knew these men were guilty of corruption. I firmly believe that Ohio's political iniquity is greater than that shown in San Francisco when I was there. It is certainly greater than the recent vote selling shown in Illinois, and Pennsylvania is not a marker to this.

LAWLESS BANDS PILLAGE MINES.

Two Americans Killed in Raid Upon Santa Nina.

Rebel Forces Overtake Bandit Gang; Kill Leader.

Chaos Apparently Reigns on Mexican West Coast.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) May 2.—Refugee American mining men who reached Douglas today from Mexico report widespread pillage in the State of Sonora from Nacozari south, and the killing of two Americans at the Santa Nina mine, southwest of Ures.

A band of thirty outlaws appeared at the Santa Nina camp, were S. J. Clark was employed as watchman, while Clark was absent. His wife tried to defend the camp with a shotgun, but was wounded. The outlaws hid in the house while the woman bathed her wounds, and when her husband appeared he was riddled with bullets. His wife was then murdered. Mr. and Mrs. Clark had been only a short time at the mine, having passed through Douglas a few months ago on their way into Sonora. Their former home is unknown.

There are no Federal Mexican officers, and only twenty soldiers between Cananea and Ures, and the whole country along the Sonora River is without law or order.

Another band of outlaws entered the camp of the Chumita mine west of Huepac, shot the Mexican guard, looted the commissary and threw the ore for shipping over the dump. Mine Manager Dobson was among the refugees who fled today.

SAN LORENZO SACKED.

Another band sacked the camp of the San Lorenzo mine southwest of Nacozari and when their right to loot the commissary was disputed, took Martin Hickfnson, the proprietor, and Charles Fineout, an employee, prisoners to Huepac, where they are now detained. At the latter place every store was demolished, and the goods confiscated.

El Tigre camp has also been entered for the third time, and a tax of 2500 pesos levied on the Mexicans, which was paid. Refugee American linemen who had been working on the El Tigre power line have reached Douglas. For seven days they worked under the guns of the outlaws, who poked the Americans with their weapons and took from them their clothing and provisions.

A leader of a rebel band at Ysabel, taking with him a few men to Bavispe crossing ,captured five of the outlaws and took them to Ysabel last night, where one of them, identified as a leader in pillage, was executed. The rebel leaders are striving to keep down pillage and shoot the bandits when they can catch them.

Mining men conversant with the situation are advising all Americans to leave Mexico as the situation is getting beyond the control of the rebel leaders, and they seem unable to prevent murder and the destruction of property.

REBELS MAINTAIN ORDER.

Mail advices from Torreon state the insurrectos hold absolute possession of Lerdo and Gomez Palacio, near there, and have possession of Azarco, a suburb where the American Smelting Company's plant is operating.

Perfect order is being maintained by rebels and saloon men are being fined heavily and their liquors destroyed when they permit men to become drunk. One man was fined $500 for violating the order against selling liquor to men already intoxicated.

The municipal palace in Lerdo has been burned and all the prisoners were liberated. These men later caused much trouble in the town.

No attempt had been made up to Friday to repair the railroad line from Torreon to Eagle Pass and the extent of the damage was not known in Torreon. On the Torreon division nine bridges had been burned.

San Pedro is threatened with famine and a thousand insurrectos in the place, unable to obtain food, have ordered the railroad repaired to Hipolito, where there are six cars of corn, which they ordered brought in.

The rebels have seized $70,000 worth of rifles, ammunition, horses and saddles in San Pedro and vicinity.

The National Railroad train was held up at Canitas on Thursday last and all mail burned after the passengers had been searched for arms. The burned mail included a sack of registered letters containing monew orders. An American found in the wreckage one money order on the Los Angeles postoffice for fifty dollars.

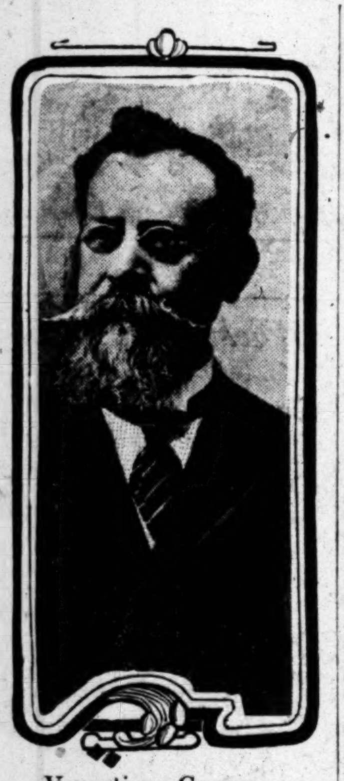
SENOR CARRANZA REBELS' FRIEND.

NAME MENTIONED AS POSSIBLE NEW PRESIDENT.

Fugitive From Diaz Government Taking Active Part in Promoting Peace in Mexico—Flees Across Border, to Escape Arrest—Once Prominent Figure in Coahuila.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

MONCLOVA (Mex.) April 28.—Venustiano Carranza, the so-called provisional Governor of the State of Coahuila, who had to seek refuge in the United States several weeks ago to avoid arrest and imprisonment on the charge of sedition, is taking a prominent part in the effort that is being made to restore peace to the country. Senor Carranza has belonged to the anti-re-electionist faction ever since that movement was inaugurated in Mexico, and through his manifest interest in that political endeavor incurred the enmity of the Diaz authorities some time ago.



Venustiano Carranza,

Provisional Governor of Coahuila, Mexico, who fled to United States to escape arrest.

He was a candidate for Governor of Coahuila a year ago last summer at the time that President Diaz deposed Maguil Cardenas from the office of first executive of that State. Senor Carranza was a warm admirer and political supporter of Cardenas, and as a result of the deposing of the latter took the hint and withdrew from the race for the Governorship. Following that political tempest Senor Carranza retired to his large plantation and ranch near here, where he lived quietly until the revolutionary movement assumed an important aspect, when he was designated by the rebels in this State as its provisional Governor.

The Federal government is reported to have ordered the arrest of Senor Carranza, but the latter heard what was about to occur and escaped across the border before he could be taken into custody. Since then he has resided in San Antonio, where he has assisted in directing the affairs of the revolutionary movement.

It is expected that he will be given a prominent position with the government if the insurrecto faction is given official recognition as a result of any peace compact that may be entered into.

Senor Carranza is a highly educated man and is possessed of modern ideas as to the development and upbuilding of the country. He is being spoken of by his friends in this State as a possible candidate for the Presidency.

MODIFIED MEXICAN REPLY IS RECEIVED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The modified Mexican reply to President Taft's protest against border fighting has been received by the State Department. While Mexico has withdrawn some features of the original answer, there are indications that conflicting information has reached Washington and Mexico.

Both governments are seeking further light on the actual happenings at the border towns. The State Department will not respond to counter representations in the Mexican reply. Its investigation is completed.

Reports of the situation in Mexico that reach President Taft are not encouraging, and today the Cabinet discussed at length the prospects for peace or for further trouble in that republic.

American cattle owners who have ranches in Mexico have appealed to this government for permission to bring cattle across the Rio Grande in bond, and the matter was referred to Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh and Secretary of Agriculture Wilson. Mr. Wilson is interested because of his efforts to keep tick-infested herds of cattle out of Texas.

REBELS MAKE DARING PLAY AT CHIHUAHLA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHIHUAHUA (Mex.) May 2.—A band of insurrectos entered this city yesterday from the south and began indiscriminate firing. It is presumed that this was done to demonstrate their preparedness to resume hostilities should the peace negotiations fail.

An alarm was immediately sounded at military headquarters and troops were sent to repel the attacking party. The insurrectos fled within a short time. No one was wounded.

It is believed that the insurrectos are a part of a band from the south which were not included in the armistice.

Practical isolation of Chihuahua city from the outside world continues, the insurrectos having cut most of the railroad and telegraph lines.

JACK MOSBY WOUNDED IN FIGHT NEAR TECATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN DIEGO (Cal.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] May Day below the border ushered in a report that another "revolutionary patriot" has been fatally wounded. In a brush with Mexican Federals at Carrizo "Jack Mosby" was wounded three times. His injuries were considered so serious that his men seized the Tia Juana stage and hurriedly drove with him to Tecate. Since the death of Simon Berthold the handful of Mexican highwaymen has been guided by Mosby, who has posed as a son of the Civil War veteran, John Mosby. However, Speed Mosby, a Missourian and nephew of the veteran, declares that the ex-guerrilla chief has no son taking part in the Mexican revolution.

Reports from the rebel camp this morning state that Mosby may die. He was in advance of his men and was shot from ambush. He fell from his horse, but continued to direct his men. The two parties, comprising about fifty men in all, came upon each other unexpectedly and began firing from a few paces apart. Mosby fell at the first volley. When the completed results are learned it is expected that the list of dead will be increased.

The skirmish changed the plans of the rebels for an advance on Tia Juana, Lower California. An American physician, who is said to have attended Simon Berthold at Alamo, is with the rebel band.

PEACE PARLEYS PLANNED TODAY.

Envoys of Both Sides Meet for Conference.

Resignation of Diaz Still a Pivotal Point.

Terms Can be Reached in Day if He Will Agree.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

EL PASO, May 2.—Judge Francisco Carabajal, the official Mexican peace commissioner, arrived here tonight, surprising everybody connected with the negotiations, as he had not been expected for at least twenty-four hours more. He immediately went into conference with Oscar Braniff, Esquibal Obregon and Rafael Hernandez, who have been acting as go-betweens in the negotiations thus far.

At the conclusion of the conference, Senor Braniff announced that Judge Carabajal had "brought full and necessary powers" for treating with the rebel commissioners, and that no hitch would occur on that score.

Judge Carabajal refused to discuss his instructions. He said, it was obviously impossible for him to disclose their nature at this time.

It was stated that formal negotiations would be taken up tomorrow in a tent in a willow grove on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, half way between Juarez and the insurrecto camp.

ONE ENVOY EACH.

Judge Carabajal will act alone, while Dr. Vasquez Gomez will represent the provisional government, advised by Don Francisco Madero, Sr., and Senor Pino Suarez, a lawyer and provisional Governor of Yucatan.

Judge Carabajal's delay at Saltillo was due to a misunderstanding as to the meeting place, and to the slowness of telegraphic communication in Mexico.

Gov. Ahumada, acting Federal Governor of the State of Chihuahua, reported to have been named on the commission, did not accompany the Federal commissioner.

After a tedious wait for news of the whereabouts of Judge Carabajal, Francisco I. Madero, Jr., this afternoon informed Gen. Navarro, in command of the Federal troops at Juarez, Mex., that a three days' prolongation of the present armistice which expires at noon tomorrow would be acceptable to him if the Federal government so desired.

Gen. Navarro telegraphed to Mexico City for instructions, particularly because the armistice extension suggested by Madero would include Ojinaga, for some time under siege by the rebels.

LEADERS IMPATIENT.

Several rebel leaders were impatient today because of the dilatory procedure of the negotiations. Gen. Madero, however, was inclined to take into consideration the difficulties of travel from Mexico City northward.

"We shall prolong the armistice," he said, "because we wish to be as fair as possible in this matter. We do not want to be accused, for instance, of having seized any pretext to break off the armistice. We wish to show our earnestness and sincerity in the negotiations."

Senors Braniff and Obregon, go-betweens in the cause of peace, visited the insurrecto camp today for the first time since there has been a full gathering of insurrecto chiefs at the camp.

WOULD NEUTRALIZE ROAD.

It was reported tonight that they brought a proposition to neutralize the railway between Laredo and Mexico City, which in the last few days has suffered from rebel activity. It is said that the insurrectos were amenable to some proposition for neutralizing the road, but would not consent to the suggestion to allow the Federal government to transport over the line sufficient troops to protect the inhabitants of the country from bandits and outlaws.

Some of the insurrectos at this point happened to remember, it is asserted, the fact that government officials early in the revolution, had not infrequently characterized the rebels as bandits and outlaws, and feared a possible troop movement.

There was a disposition at the conference today which Senors Braniff and Obregon attended, to insist on official credentials from these men before taking up their propositions or engaging in peace discussion. Some of the rebel chiefs took the stand that all peace envoys, including Carabajal, must have plenary powers to act on behalf of the government. Senors Braniff and Obregon have declared their unofficial personality and their desire to continue their work as private citizens.

The government is believed to have been disposed to name them on Peace Commission, but it is thought they will consent to act on it only in an advisory capacity and without vote.

"PARTY PLATFORM."

The rebel leaders today completed their party platform which a condensation of the discussion of the last three days of revolutionists principles and contains the composite ideas of all the Governors and other officers of the provisional government. This platform was typewritten in the Madero camp today and all the rebel leaders affixed their signatures to it. They call it "an act" which admit is analogous to a declaration of independence.

It contains the propositions for peace in a general way. The actual basis for peace which the rebel commissioners will submit in their conference with the Federal envoys is being written tonight by Dr. Vasquez Gomez, head of the insurrecto commission, and will be discussed in another conference tomorrow.

Much secrecy is maintained about the contents of both documents, but there is good ground for the belief tonight that the question of the resignation of President Diaz and Vice-President Corral is taken up in it.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

Some pertinent questions, such as the exact time of the President's retirement, are said to be contained in the document as prerequisites to a complete rehabilitation of the government. At first it was thought the informal and indirect assurances which had reached here about President Diaz's disposition to resign might be sufficient and before the peace conferees announce the result of their labors it is quite possible that these questions may be omitted, but the more radical leaders are insistent, especially in view of the reports of the rebel military triumphs in other parts of the republic. They say the negotiations at the Madero base of operations must bring satisfaction to the entire revolutionist party and not to any one part.

AMERICANS IN MEXICO.

members of the Young Men's Christian Association and the University Club.

Such a degree of organization has been reached that, should the Diaz government collapse suddenly, as so many apprehend, and the revolutionists not come in immediately, there would still be lined up a body of men to defend the women and children for a few hours—perhaps even for a few days—against the ruffians of the Balsas district, who, when excited, buy pulque, and, inspired by their superiors, in education at least, are said to be dangerous.

Of course, there are many persons here, or quite a number at least, who are anxious to divert attention from their own shortcomings by initiating a movement which, however irrational and barbarous, might temporarily be popular.

PLANS NOT TOO PREMATURE.

While I personally do not entirely share these views, which are almost universally held by the veterans of the colony, if I should express an opinion at all after such a short stay here, it would be to the effect that these plans are not premature and that these views are not unduly alarmist.

I confess I think that should such a lawless interregnum as some foresee take place, some reliance for moderating influences at least can be put upon the educated classes of the community, and perhaps even more on the friendly feeling of the hard-working peons, who, in distinction to the loafers and the rowdies, seem very much to prefer American employers to those of their own nationality.

The news that some of Admiral Ward's ships have sailed for gulf ports is published in the morning papers in the largest type known to Mexican printers. No comment is made, but the large type and the silence are most eloquent. It cannot be denied that this news has been received with enthusiasm by the American colony.

WANT WARSHIPS AT VERA CRUZ.

A great many of the most experienced Americans in Mexican affairs believe that if two of these ships should anchor off Vera Cruz and train their guns on the town, informing the Governor of that place that in case a single American in Mexico City were hurt the port would be blown into a scrap heap, the position of the Americans would be very strong.

However, while many counsels are heard on other matters, there is perfect unanimity here in the belief that the State Department is better and more fully informed in regard to the situation than we are and that President Taft's decision as to the course to be pursued is for the best for all concerned.

J. O. H. Newby, an American mining engineer, filed an affidavit at the Embassy today in regard to the hardships and wrongs he says he has suffered at the hands of both the Federal and rebel forces.

AMERICAN'S HARDSHIPS.

He describes how he was taken from his home at Chacala, in the State of Durango, three months ago, and drafted into the rebel forces. He describes how, though absolutely ignorant of surgery, he was compelled to probe for bullets in the bodies of wounded rebels, and his wife, Margaret Newby, was held as a hostage for the success of the operations.

When he fell into the hands of the Federals, though he had his passport and other papers showing who he was, from the Consul at Mazatlan, he was put in a dark cell and held incomunicado for five days, when by the exertions of the Consul, he was liberated on parole.

Mr. Newby leaves for St. Louis tonight by way of Laredo. He has filed with our Embassy a claim for $25,000. His account of what he saw while involuntarily in the field is very vivid and graphic, but absolutely unprintable. It would seem that this section of unhappy Mexico has gone back to the days of the Huns and Vandals.

I am indebted to criticisms which I made of the barbarous conduct of so-called insurgents in murdering Spaniards in Puebla and killing train passengers at Cuernavaca, which were cabled back here, for the most informing and enlightening hour that I have spent since my arrival in Mexico.

JUNTA TELLS ITS SIDE

Three members of the secret section of the revolutionary junta called upon me and after showing their credentials, asked me to tell their side of the story.

The Cuernavaca train was fired into, they said, because Hardy, the engineer, foolishly tried to drive his engine through a warning fire. Hardy, as well as other engineers on all the lines, had been ordered to stop on a signal and he was directly responsible for the shooting which followed.

Nothing has been heard of the fate of the unfortunate American engineer Hardy and his fireman. The government has done nothing to shed light on the matter and has pointed out, probably correctly, that it would be foolhardy for his American comrades to start out to rescue the party as they proposed doing last night.

TROOPS BEING SENT OUT TO CUERNAVACA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MEXICO CITY, May 2.—The War Department announced today that additional troops had been ordered to Cuernavaca and it was suggested that in this instance, the government, in doing all it could to protect itself, was doing all it could to protect foreigners. The Foreign Office has assured the United States embassy there is no cause for alarm.

A guard was sent from here today to protect workmen clearing away the debris of trains wrecked Saturday on the Cuernavaca branch of the National Railway by rebels, and repairing the track. The rebels had ordered that the track be not repaired. Communication by rail or telegraph with Cuernavaca is cut off at present.

Other troops will depart tonight or early tomorrow for Cuernavaca and vicinity. This force will comprise a batallion of infantry ad a company of artillery bearing machine guns and rapid-fire pieces.

Two work trains were sent today to El Parque, where a few rails are torn out. One went from Cuernavaca.

This afternoon the Spanish Minister was informed that the government had captured two of the rebels responsible for the assassination of six Spaniards last week and had given them a summary trial and execution.

Eighteen prisoners, three soldiers, two prison officials and one rural guard are dead in Tepic, the capital of the Territory of that name, as one result of an attempted jail delivery, according to a report of the Department of War. The authorities learned of the plot just in time to send troops to the jail.

Stone in Bladder Removed Without Surgical Operation

In the Spring of 1904, I was confined to my bed with kidney trouble and thought I would never recover. I took a lot of medicine but did not realize any benefit from anything. I finally saw Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root advertisement and sent for a sample bottle and thought the sample bottle helped me, so I bought more of the medicine from my Druggist, and after using a few bottles discharged a very large stone from my bladder.

After passing this stone my health was very much improved and I have been able to continue my business without any serious sickness.

INSURRECTOS CAPTURE SHIPMENT OF RIFLES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LAREDO (Tex.) May 2.—A small band of revolutionists held up the south-bound train on the National lines of Mexico at Santa Maria last night, entered the express car and obtained 250 rifles and forty thousand rounds of ammunition and then permitted the train to resume its run.

Saltillo is quiet according to reports. A number of wounded and several rebel prisoners have been taken there following an engagement, details of which are not yet known.

CARBAJAL HAS FULL POWER AS AN ENVOY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MEXICO CITY, May 2.—Announcement was made tonight that the armistice had been extended for five days more. It is insisted that Judge Carabajal has full power to act for the government in the peace negotiations and that the doubts expressed by Madero are without basis.

Gov. Miguel Ahumada, who will join Judge Carbajal on his mission of peace at El Paso, goes not as an authorized peace commissioner, but more in the capacity of an adviser, according to a statement made this afternoon at the Foreign Office.

SINALOA AND SONORA IN INSURRECTO HANDS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) May 2.—Whatever the prospects of peace at El Paso and Juarez, there are no peaceful signs along the western Coast of Mexico. News that dribbled into Nogales today from various quarters of the States of Sinaloa and Sonora tell of scenes of disorder and almost continuous fighting. There were reports of small battles, with attendant loss of life, from several points.

It is apparent that sedition and strife in these States is on the rapid increase, and tonight Americans in this city, familiar with the conditions across the border in Mexico, regard the situation as one of deepest gravity. Not only is the political welfare of the western Mexican States affected, but American interests are involved and in danger. Even the lives of Americans, hitherto held sacred by Federals and rebels, are no longer regarded safe in the interior of Mexico.

Prominent railroad officials, who reached Nogales from Mexico today, brought with them the warning from the rebels to remove all their families as quickly as possible into the United States, and to advise all of their American friends to do likewise. Coupled with these warnings was the threat of the insurrectos that they intended, before the end of the week, to launch attacks against all the Mexi-

What Cures Eczema?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.

Because—It cleanses, soothes and heals the skin, clearing away pimples and blotches over night.

Because—It enables Nature to repair the ravages of disease.

Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable Eczema Cure.

Drop into our store today, just to talk over the merits of this wonderful Prescription. We will also explain the value of D. D. D. as a household remedy.

SIX BIG BILLS LAID ON SHELF

Governor Vetoes Measures of Vast Importance.

State Not Financially Right to Assume Burdens.

Two Hundred Laws Fail to Be Made Into Statutes.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—In the list of 203 bills which were pocketed, or vetoed, by the Governor are six big ones in which great interest was taken throughout the State. He refused to sign the net container bill, providing for the net weight to appear upon all original packages, and also providing that all canned goods should contain the name of the manufacturers; the teachers' pension bill, providing for a pension for superannuated teachers in California at from $360 to $900 per year; the bucketshop bill prohibiting the operation of the so-called brokerage concerns known as "bucketshops"; the automobile highway bill, which provided a graduated tax on automobiles, funds from which were to be placed in a highway fund for the improvement and maintenance of county roads; the industrial school bill, providing for industrial education throughout the State; the school extension bill, providing for university courses in the common schools and raising the standard of the common and high school systems.

In giving his reasons for refusing to sign the teachers' pension bill, Gov. Johnson said that he does not believe the State is ready at this time to take up such a large burden and that while his sentiments are with the principles he could not see his way clear to open the way for a general pension system which would cost the State an enormous amount of money each year.

His reasons for letting the industrial schools bill die were about the same—the State is not at this time financially able to assume such a burden. The bucketshop bill, he did not sign because of its evident discrimination and consequent unconstitutionality. The net container bill was not signed because the Governor held, with its opponents, that it was not in workable shape and could not be enforced properly by the State. He is in sympathy with the principle of the bill, but it was not in good shape for execution.

The motor vehicle bill was not signed because of the storm of protests against the measure and the fact that it could not be made to operate as it was intended. This bill would have placed a large number of additional employees in the office of Secretary of State Jordan.

The Caminetti bill for exension of school work was not signed because the Governor held the State is not ready to undertake such a vast work at this time.

The Los Angeles and Long Beach harbor bills were signed by the Governor. The Governer's time to sign bills expired at midnight Monday. All bills not signed by that time are dead.

STATE BUSINESS BRISK.

LICENSE FEES PILE UP.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) May 2.—Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan has issued a statement of the business transacted by his office during the month of April. Briefly summarized it shows that license and registration fees amounting to $34,801 were collected, making a total of $174,167 paid over to the State Treasurer since the first of the year. No less than 384 new corporations, with an aggregate capitalization of $42,001,750, were admitted to record, and foreign corporations capitalized at $15,490,000, were given the right to do business in the State. There were registered 1837 automobiles and 249 chauffeurs. The number of certified claims to trade marks issued was 122.

Mayor Gives Chief of Police Orders to Clamp on Lid and Clamp it Down Hard and Tight.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Portland is to have no more of the alleged open-town conditions that led to the indictment and resignation of Chief of Police Cox during the administration of Mayor Simon, if that official can prevent it.

The Mayor today called to his office Acting Chief of Police Moore and gave him definite instructions to clamp the lid on tight.

"I told Capt. Moore to suppress the social evil and gambling, especially," said the Mayor after the conference. "I have given him full authority in the management of the police department with the one qualification that I want Portland made as clean a city as we can get."

Chief Cox, who has been relieved only temporarily, pending his trial, will spend much time at the station, but will have no voice in the affairs of the department.

Capitalists Take Options on Properties in Coalinga Fields, and Enlist English Money.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The British oil operators who were reported yesterday as making extensive purchases of California oil lands, in conjunction with W. H. Hammon, are said to be T. S. Marshall and T. Watson, who have formerly operated in the South Burmah oil fields.

These promoters have taken many options on California oil properties, which they have underwritten in London, interesting British investors in the oil fields here. They have also been instrumental in placing California electric stock with investors in England.

The oil properties they have taken here are confined to the Coalinga fields. Among them, it is reported, are the Lucille, Silver Tip and Empire.

SALEM (Or.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ernest C. Van Pelt of Portland, an actor, today married Miss Mae J. Thorne of Los Angeles. Hal D. Patton, State Senator, was a witness to the marriage license and the ceremony was performed by Dr. P. S. Knight, a prominent Congregational clergyman.

Van Pelt is a member of the Lyric Musical Comedy Company of Portland, and was formerly with Kolb and Dill. The wedding was a surprise to his friends in Portland and it is supposed that he slipped quietly away to Salem in an effort to keep the marriage secret.

ABEL FAMILY FARES WELL.

Aged Father Celebrates Birthday by Dividing Up $100,000 Among His Ten Children at Colusa.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLUSA, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John F. Abel, one of the most prominent pioneer residents of Colusa county, celebrated his eighty-third birthday yesterday at his home in Williams by giving to his ten children his 75,000 shares of stock in the Abel Land Company, formed by him several years ago as a holding corporation to manage his large real estate possessions.

Twenty-five thousand shares were already held by his sons and they have been managing the company since age forced their father to retire.

There was a family reunion at Abel's home, at which were present nearly fifty members. The children presented their father with a number of gifts before they knew what he had in store for them. Abel's gifts yesterday represented about $100,000. He is still well to do, having retained sufficient property to keep him in comfort as long as he lives.

Members of his family are scattered from one end of the State to the other.

Sacramento Man Commits Suicide When Wife Begs Him to Cut Out Late Hours and Make Home Happy.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Thursday. Dear Harry, I had given you until Friday to make some move, as I had arranged to leave Saturday for Texas. You must know I am just about disgusted with the way you have heretofore treated me. There is no need to remind you of the different times, for you know. I have at last arrived at the point where things must go as I say, or we shall certainly have to separate. This I surely mean, for I have been more than imposed on. I have always been willing to help you to do anything I could, but now I am afraid you will find me entirely changed. You seem to love me and now letter-writing will not suffice; you'll have to do.

"I love you, but hereafter you will have to respect me as a wife and provide a home. No pool-playing until 2 o'clock and drinking. I have discovered I can live without you, and this I will do if you do not change. We have grown much colder in these two weeks. You cannot blame me. Now write me if you intend to work and let men and pool-rooms alone, and make me a happy wife, so when my husband's name is mentioned I can say, 'No, he is not a drunkard, but a good husband.'"

The foregoing letter, written upon stationery bearing the imprint of the Hotel Sacramento, undoubtedly suggested to Harry G. Cornell that the time had come to destroy himself. Within twenty-four hours after its receipt he swallowed the contents of a vial of potassium cyanide and died. Even as the poison stained his lips and the last deep sigh left his body, Mrs. Cornell was speeding gaily along the Riverside road in an automobile.

The automobile, driven by a professional chauffeur, and containing besides Mrs. Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. Fowler H. Sturgis, J. Weizal and Miss Katherine McCabe, a clerk in one of the downtown department stores, suddenly caught a wheel. In a moment the occupants were hurled to the ground. Mrs. Cornell was taken to a hospital, where she remained all day crying for her husband to come to her, unaware that he was dead.

Sturgis was also seriously injured.

COMING TO HELP OUT.

General Secretary of Portland Y.M.C.A. to Participate in Raising Half-Million Dollars in Los Angeles.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] H. W. Stone, general secretary of the Portland Y.M.C.A., announced tonight that in response to an invitation from Los Angeles he will go to that city to participate in a $500,000 building congress. Stone will leave Portland in time to be present at the banquet that is to open the Los Angeles movement. He will speak before several meetings and will take an active part in raising the $500,000.

Stone has had much experience in conducting Y.M.C.A. campaigns. Beside leading the "Everybody Gives" campaign, by which he raised $330,000 within a few days in Portland several years ago, he has visited several of the larger cities of the country to aid associations in similar movements.

The Havana cartmen, who struck Monday, resumed work yesterday, following the transfer of a police captain who had been particularly objectionable to the drivers.

Treacherous.

BEE RIVER HAS THEM GUESSING.

Finds Weak Spot in Levee and Breaks Through.

Million-Dollar Expenditure Possibly in Vain.

Stream Flows Where It Lists, Despite Contractors.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

YUMA (Ariz.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Once more the forces under Col. Ockerson at the Bee River break are face to face with a new difficulty. This time they must give up for the present and wait until the spring flood passes, and by that time the treacherous old river may have gone off on a new tangent and the million dollars spent by Col. Ockerson be totally wasted.

On April 7 the last contractor finished his levee contract and sent his men and teams across to this side of the line. This left only the closure of the break in Bee River, to which Col. Ockerson was giving his personal attention and then the work would either be a success or failure. So far the past two weeks the work of dumping rock has gone steadily on and last week the break was almost closed. Then Col. Ockerson sent to the Decles quarry near Colton, Cal., and contracted for several cars of rock per day from that quarry. The rocks in question were monsters in size and sometimes only two could be loaded on one car. An average of six or seven of these cars has been received every day since, in addition to an average of possibly forty cars per day from Andrade, but the Andrade rock is mostly small and much of it is carried away as soon as it is dumped.

RIVER TAKES NEW COURSE.

So the rock fill grew and began to back the river up and spread it out alongside the levee for miles around. Some three or four feet of water was going down the old channel, but it was not scouring out its own bed as the Colorado does when there is much momentum to its flow, and seemingly what water was going down the old channel was going down much against its will.

So the back water swirled and hunted along the levee for a place to break through and all at once yesterday it found it at a point about two and a half miles from Bee River, on the levee built by Mulligan and Marable. A crevice about sixty feet wide was opened up here, and with the breaking through of the river at this point, instead of going on off across the country on a new tangent, the river gradually turned and is now coming back down the side of the levee to the Bee River break and from there on its way to the sea just the same as if nothing had happened except the fact that the river has added another big loop or horseshoe to the many it already has.

MAKES MORE WORK.

It is merely flowing up one side of the levee to the crevice and then back down the other side of the levee to a point directly below the rock fill and then on its way. Of course where it goes around the point of the levee it will gradually eat the levee away, until soon there will be a mile or more of levee to replace and perhaps another and deeper channel in which to drive piling by the time the government forces get to it. So before the workmen can even start to work on the new crevice the Bee River break must be entirely closed and made substantial; the railroad must be laid on top of the levee to the point where the crevice is steadily widening, and then, as mentioned above, perhaps the pile driving must all be done over. This is merely a question of how deep the river will cut as it flows around the levee and how much of the levee it will take in.

Several days ago Col. Ockerson asked Congress for more money as the million dollars given him was almost exhausted. So far Congress has taken no action. Col. Ockerson has returned to his home in St. Louis.

WOMAN'S TOKEN OF GODSPEED GREETS BANDIT LEAVING PRISON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When Chris Evans, bandit and train robber, stepped out of the Folsom Prison yesterday, a free man, Warden Reilly handed him a package containing an old-fashioned gold signet ring. Accompanying it was a note written in a feminine hand, wishing him God-speed in his new life. The letter and package containing the ring bore the Los Angeles postmark.

This was the sequel to an incident that occurred in Evans's life when he was a fugitive from justice, being tracked by men and bloodhounds. It was the feeble reward of a woman whose life Evans had saved during his early career.

Following the liberation of Evans from the Visalia jail by Edward Morrell, the youngest member of the band, while the bandit chieftain was awaiting his sentence, and when the two hunted men panted wearily across the snow-covered ridges of the Tulare Divide with a posse at their heels, they stopped one night at a tent in the backwoods.

So hard pressed were they and so fagged, that they were prepared to take that tent for shelter, no matter at what cost. When they thrust their frozen faces under the tent flaps with weapons ready to flash they found only a woodcutter and his wife, the latter lying sick on the bed.

The rude shelter leaked snow and rain. A few rods away stood a comfortable mountain cabin, boarded up for the winter. The owner of the cabin had asked the husband to take care of it, but had commanded him not to enter the hut, and the owner's command was more imperative to the shiftless husband than the mute call of his wife for warmth and shelter.

For just a moment the lure of the warm cabin and the recuperation it would mean to him was balanced in the heart of the outlaw against evident needs of the woman. Then he decided. He commanded the husband, at the point of a rifle, to break open the cabin and make his wife comfortable there. Evans and Morrell spent the night in the tent.

This act saved the woman's life, and it made Chris Evans's capture easy for the pursuing posse. The bitter cold of the night spent in the tent so weakened Evans, inflaming the wounds received at the battle of Stone Corrall, that he was an easy prey the next day. He had forgotten his own safety for the comfort of a woman.

The woman remembered Evans, and the ring he now wears is the token of remembrance.

WANTED—FIRE APPARATUS.

TACOMA, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mayor Vasco Christy of Yacolt is making a search for parts of the fire apparatus belonging to the town, fearing that some resident has borrowed it to water his garden and has forgotten to return it. In the Yacolt Bulletin Mayor Christy has inserted the following advertisement: "Anybody having any of the city's fire apparatus or knowing where any parts are will kindly communicate the same to the Yacolt Bulletin office, where you will find the keys to the fire hall." Yacolt's fire hall is kept locked except when there is need for the fire department.

Demonstration Announcement

"American Lady Corset"

You Are Invited

Every day adds enthusiasm on the part of Los Angeles women in reference to our American Lady and Lyra Corsets.

A most expert corsetiere, Miss Rosenthal, direct from New York, is here to talk with you concerning the merits and advantages of these two world-famous lines.

Miss Rosenthal knows the science of corsets—how to choose a model for you, how to fit it to you. Herein lies the secret of smart dressing—the corset being the foundation of the gown and of one's whole appearance.

There is probably nothing you buy in regard to which you should be so particular as a corset.

We urge our customers to take advantage of this special demonstration, knowing that each and every one will derive a great benefit. Private fitting rooms—Second Floor.

For Women Who Delight In Dainty Things

Extensive Price Range

For the purpose of illustrating we selected seven of the most charming new spring styles—neckwear which accurately expresses clever ideas of Fashion for spring and summer. It can be easily said that the Broadway was never so admirably stocked with suitable and attractive neckwear at moderate prices.

Referring to the Dutch Collars, which represent a price range of from 25c to $1.45, there are beautiful machine and hand-embroidered patterns.

Jabots and Cascades are very prominent this season. We have them from 25c up to $1.45. Edged with neat and showy laces.

Perhaps nothing more popular than the hand-made ribbon novelties in roses and other flower effects. Extremely novel and up-to-date.

We urge that you see the Regent and Westend ties, so stylish when worn with Lord Byron collars. You will find rich lace coat collars and sets of fine Plauen lace, priced all the way from 50c to $1.95.

If your needs include sailor collars, we have exceptionally pretty styles of linen, lawn and silk; plain or fancy.

Even too late for the illustration have arrived the new Fichus; some are made of nets and lawns, trimmed with laces in various designs.

Don't forget the Lord Byron collars, starting with the plain at 10c, up to the embroidered styles at 65c.

BRADFORD'S BREAD in the Nevada mining Camps

Every day we send large shipments of Bradford's bread by train, stage and burro to Nevada's remotest mining camps. This bread is never used until it is a week old. It arrives in the same sweet, palatable condition that it leaves the bakery. Here is extraordinary proof that Bradford's bread retains its freshness and its goodness indefinitely. No other bread in the Southwest can stand such a test. If you want bread with such splendid qualities, simply 'phone your Grocer to send you a loaf of Bradford's bread today.

Bradford's is the Cleanest, Sweetest, Purest Bread Made in Los Angeles

The splendid popularity of Bradford's Bread comes from the real merit of the loaf itself. We number among our customers people who have used Bradford's Bread for years—ever since we started baking, in fact. Once you try Bradford's Bread you will never be satisfied with any other—there is no substitute for its cleanliness, its sweetness and its real home-made flavor. Your Grocer will supply you with Bradford's Bread if you insist. 'Phone us if you are unable to get it.

BURNS GETS LETTERS WRITTEN TO M'NAMARA IN CINCINNATI.

Will Bring Two Trunks of Evidence Against Union Official Charged With the Dynamiting of the "iTmes" Building—Now Searching for the Prisoner's Father in Ohio.

CINCINNATI (O.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Detective William J. Burns, who has rounded up three union men charged with having blown up the Los Angeles Times Building, when he was in Cincinnati late last night, secured letters written to James W. McNamara.

Detectives Kelley and Smithson, from his offices in Chicago, came to Cincinnati this afternoon and were closeted with Chief of Detectives Ralph Crawford and Chief of Police William Jackson for three hours. Later they left for Chicago and took with them the two trunks in which were packed the electrical equipment and other accoutrements found in the home of James W. McNamara here last week.

Detective Kelley says that all this evidence, part of which the people have not been told about, will be taken to Los Angeles tomorrow from Chicago. There it will be placed with Dist.-Atty. Fredericks and used against these men when they are brought to trial.

SEEK M'NAMARA'S FATHER.

It became known tonight that the Burns detectives are searching throughout the whole State of Ohio for John McNamara, the father of the two men arrested. He was sent to the Ohio penitentiary in 1894 on the charge of having criminally assaulted his little daughter, Mary McNamara. About a year ago he was released from the penitentiary on a pardon signed by Gov. Judson Harmon. Since his release he has been living either in or near Columbus.

The Burns men will make a thorough search for him, though he will not be arrested or harmed in any way, according to the statement made here this afternoon by Detective Kelley of the Burns offices.

"The police of Cincinnati have aided us materially in finding evidence against these men," said Kelley here today. "They came very near turning the home of Mrs. McNamara upside down and found everything that would be of any importance to us."

"We have looked this over and will take most of it with us to Los Angeles. The rest we shall have returned to the home of their mother in Cincinnati.

CASE IS STRONG.

"We have one of the strongest cases possible against these three men. I cannot say now if any more will be arrested, inasmuch as you know, it is part of a detective's duty to keep his mouth shut and forge ahead. However, just as soon as the real evidence is known in the case, all this kicking against our arresting high union officials will vanish."

Detective Burns said at Columbus this afternoon that Cincinnati people have helped them to fix the guilt upon these men. This was in the evidence which was turned up here by the raid of the residence of Mrs McNamara at No. 4306 Quarry street, South Cumminsville, Cincinnati. Detective Burns said:

"One very important bit of information has never been given to the public and that is that James B. McNamara had in his possession at the time of his arrest the keys of the receptacles in which we found the dynamite, caps, fuses, clocks, etc. Similar keys were found on Ortie McManigal. We have the 'goods' on the McNamaras just as we have it on the 'crooks' of the Legislature.

"We had all the evidence required when we caused the arrest of these men, and we want to say now that the talk of a 'frame-up' is absolutely untrue. It is also untrue that I was employed by the interests to investigate this affair. As a matter of fact, I was employed directly by the City of Los Angeles and not by 'special interests.'

PROCEEDINGS REGULAR.

"I have been charged with 'kidnaping.' Every proceeding in the entire matter was regular and according to the laws of the two States involved. McNamara was given the same treatment as is accorded individual prisoners taken under extradition act and because he was taken to the depot in a taxi to prevent a possible rumpus, it is charged we kidnaped him.

"That things should be perfectly legal and that no mistake be made the prosecutor of Los Angeles not only prepared all of the papers himself, but sent his assistant to Indianapolis to see that the papers were served in a legal manner and that all necessary requirements were complied with."

INDIANAPOLIS BUSINESS MEN ARE AROUSED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) May 2.—The Merchants Association of Indianapolis today adopted resolutions "unequivocally demanding that a most thorough investigation be made into the recent charges which connect Indianapolis with the many dynamiting outrages which have taken place throughout the county in the last two years."

The association also offers its support to city and State officials in all legitimate efforts to discover and punish the guilty party or parties.

UNIONITES TAKEN AS DYNAMITERS.

ARRESTS IN INDIANA FOLLOW BRIDGE BLOW-UP.

Accused Men Both Members of Ironworker's Union—Police and Detectives Claim Evidence Which Implicates Laborite Organization. One Queer Coincidence.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the arrest here of John Koehler and Martin Woefel, the police believe that a connection between the dynamiting of the Grand Trunk Railroad bridge and the iron workers' union will be established and for that reason the arrests are considered important.

The Grand Trunk was at variance with its employees whe the dynamiting of the bridge occurred and the railroad detectives and the local officers at once attributed it to union labor troubles. It was then supposed that some of the railroad employees were at the bottom of the outrage, but the most careful investigation failed to show that they were in any way connected with it. When evidence was found to show that the dynamiting of the Times Building was the work of officials of the Iron Workers' Union the police began to attach importance to certain claims that they had before ignored and today Koehler and Woefel were arrested.

They are members of the Iron Workers' Union, and both are known to have made threats to destroy the bridge. By a singular coincidence, the man who makes the charges against them is named McNamara, a railroad detective who has been working on the case since the explosion occurred.

It is said that evidence has been secured which goes to show that the two suspects were in close touch with the officers of the Iron Workers' Union and this is regarded as important. Neither would make any statement, either denying or admitting the dynamiting.

NEBRASKA BANK ROBBED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

HASTINGS (Neb.) May 2.—The Bank of Rosemont was entered by robbers early today and the safe was blown after the third explosion. The robbers got away with $1500 in cash.

FROSTS IN MIDDLE WEST.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) May 2.—There was a light frost here this morning. Fruit was not damaged, except on the bottom lands, where it is feared the berries and other small fruits have suffered. Garden vegetables were not damaged. Along the lines of the Santa Fe a minimum temperature of 28 degrees was reported from Newton north to Superior, Neb., which damaged or destroyed all fruit, while between Kansas City and Emporia the frost was light. On the Rock Island the northern Kansas towns report temperatures of 29 degrees and killing frosts.

ALMSHOUSES MISMANAGED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

COLUMBIA (Mo.) May 2.—Startling conditions in Missouri almshouses and penal institutions, described as a disgrace to the State, so rich and prosperous, are contained in the report of the State Board of Charities and Corrections. The report states that the thirteen institutions in the State are almost wholly lacking in modern facilities properly to care for the inmates. Ninety per cent. of the feebleminded, it is declared, are allowed to roam at large and many of them marry and reproduce, thus multiplying the number of degenerates and increasing the State's burden. The blame for the conditions set forth in the report is laid to the niggardly policy of the Legislature toward the institutions.

IOWA FRUIT NOT HURT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) May 2.—Reports to Dr. George M. Chappell of the Iowa crop bureau indicate that very little damage resulted to Iowa fruit last night because of the frost.

PHYSICIAN SUFFOCATED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) May 2.—Dr. J. W. Caldwell, 72 years old, was suffocated by smoke in his room when a fire started early today in a restaurant, in the rear of which his apartment was located. A policeman, hearing Caldwell's cries for help, fought his way to the door of the physician's room but found it locked. When firemen broke open the door twenty minutes later the doctor was dead.

Two Americans Fall in Love Through Descriptions Given by Teacher in Austria; Meet in Denver and Wedding Bells Get Quick Action.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two persons who fell in love with each other from descriptions given by a music teacher in Vienna ten years ago, and who met for the first time in Denver ten days ago, were married at the Auditorium Hotel last night. Eugene Walter Blatter, son of Titus Blatter, a wealthy manufacturer of New York, was the groom, and Miss Georgiana Nelson of Boston, the bride.

Miss Nelson went abroad to study vocal lessons. She first visited Vienna and became the pupil of Leschetizky. Afterward she studied in Berlin under Busoni and then returned to Vienna.

During her stay in Berlin, Blatter became a pupil under Leschetizky. Being an American, he was naturally told of Miss Nelson and became greatly interested in her.

On Miss Nelson's return to Vienna she heard from her tutor of the young American, but he had departed.

Blatter came to Denver last fall to spend the winter. Miss Nelson came on a visit to relatives and also stopped at the Auditorium. The couple became acquainted and discovered each other's identity as the pupils described by the Vienna music teacher. It was more than a case of love at first sight, as each had been in love with the description of the other for ten years.

Receivers Start Suit Against Officers and Directors, Alleging Mismanagement and Neglect.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TRENTON (N. J.) May 2.—Thomas E. French, Samuel K. Robins and George J. Bergen, receivers of the State Mutual Building and Loan Association, which has been in litigation for four or five years, today filed in the Court of Chancery a bill against the officers and directors of the company to recover about $450,000 which it is alleged was lost as the result of mismanagement and negligence.

The headquarters of the concern were in Camden. There are about fifty defendants named in the bill, among them Former Judge Edward M. Armstrong, Congressman H. C. Loudenslager, Dist.-Atty. John B. Vreeland, Atty.-Gen. Edmund Wilson and Edward B. Grosscup, appointed last week as a member of the State Board of Equalization of Taxes.

Order of Court Prevents Calumet Company Voting Stock It Owns in the Ahmeek Concern.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BOSTON, May 2.—Slightly more than 81 per cent. of the outstanding stock of the Calumet and Hecla Mining Company voted today in favor of consolidation of nine smelter subsidiary companies with the Calumet. The only protest came from a representative of the estate of the late Thomas L. Chadbourne, in behalf of Waldemar I. Chadbourne, the special administrator.

When the stockholders of the Ahmeek company met later in the day, to vote on the consolidation question, it was announced that an order had been granted by one of the courts in Michigan preventing the stock of the company owned by Calumet and Hecla from being voted at the meeting. The order was issued at the request of F. W. Denton, general manager of the Copper Range properties and others. The Ahmeek meeting was then postponed for a week.

Mr. Denton is related by marriage to the Chadbourne family.

Son of Mary Baker G. Eddy Would Go Back on Agreement Not to Contest Will Made by Her.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CONCORD (N. H.) May 2.—Counsel for the plaintiff in the action of George W. Glover of Lead, S. D., against Henry M. Baker, executor of the will of the late Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church, filed a motion today to amend their amendment of March 25 by adding the averment that the agreement made by Glover prior to his mother's death not to contest her will "was not made with her, but was made only with the defendant, McClellan, and the other directors, whose purpose, unknown to the plaintiff, was, if possible, to make secure to themselves the fruits of Mrs. Eddy's illegal residuary bequest of them of more than two millions of dollars, of which money they were then in possession. In the agreement and in Mr. McClellan's purpose therein, Mrs. Eddy took no part."

The McClellan referred to is Archibald McClellan.

ARBITRATION IS CABINET THEME.

President and Advisers Talk of Proposed Treaty.

Tentative Drafts Gone Over at White House.

Weeks May Elapse Before Any Action Is Taken.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Several tentative drafts of the proposed arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain were discussed by President Taft and his Cabinet today. Following the Cabinet session Secretary Knox and his aides continued the discussion of details of phraseology, but tonight the President told callers no draft had been accepted as final, and it might be weeks before the treaty could be submitted for ratification.

Some difficulties in framing the treaty have disappeared, according to the White House. The criticism of English newspapers that the United States Senate might be consulted before disputes could be arbitrated was hardly a valid objection, the President thought.

The treaty probably will be general in character. It will provide, according to the present idea, that when disputes arise between the United States and Great Britain they may be submitted to an arbitral court for settlement. In the opinion of the President and his advisers it is perfectly natural that the Senate here, or Parliament or the British Foreign Office, should be consulted in arranging the details for the settlement of each dispute.

So far no agreement has been reached among the framers of the treaty here as to how the proposed arbitral court shall be constituted. One proposal is that the question at issue be submitted as they arise to The Hague tribunal. Another is that as each question comes up, a court be constituted by the agreement of both governments to settle that question alone.

WILL TACKLE WOOL TARIFF.

House Democrats Dodge Free List Plan and Propose Gradual Reduction of Duties At First.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The House Committee on Ways and Means next week will begin working on the revision of the wool schedule.

It is the policy of the Speaker, Majority Leader Underwood, and other Democratic leaders not to submit a bill placing raw wool on the free list.

That a majority of the Democrats on the Ways and Mean Committe favored free raw wool until a few days ago there is no doubt, but a majority of Democrats could not swing such a bill even in committee, nor could a majority of Democrats in the House effect its passage.

It is reported that of the fourteen members on the committee only seven are standing for free raw wool. Originally there were nine. The progressives believe in a gradual reduction on raw wool and the plan is for a 50 per cent. reduction for the first year or a tariff of about six cents a pound, a cent a pound to be cut off each year for five years, at the end of which the commodity would automatically go on the free list.

Such a compromise is looked upon with favor in the minds of the Democrats, and such an arrangement doubtless will be approved before the bill reaches the House.

BILL STILL UNDER FIRE.

FREE LIST CRITICISED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Protection and free trade were the themes of today's debate in the House over the Democratic bill to put agricultural implements, certain food products and manufactured articles on the free list. Mr. Tillson of Connecticut said his State, usually referred to in tariff debates as a manufacturing community, held large and important farming interests, but that the farmers refused to be caught by the "farmers free list" bill, or the Democratic measure.

S. W. Smith of Michigan and Mr. Burke of South Dakota (Republicans) opposed the measure because of its assault upon the doctrine of protection. Mr. Catlin of Missouri said the bill would give a firmer foothold in the United States to the growing Japanese trade.

Messrs. Byrnes and Sims of Tennessee and Lever and Burns of South Dakota (all Democrats) defend the bill.

Wife Slayer Sent Up For Life.

SPRINGFIELD (Mo.) May 2.—A. B. Bass, a farmer on trial for killing his wife near here last January, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in the criminal court today. He was sentenced to life imprisonment. Last January fire destroyed the Bass home and in the ruins the body of Mrs. Bass was found.

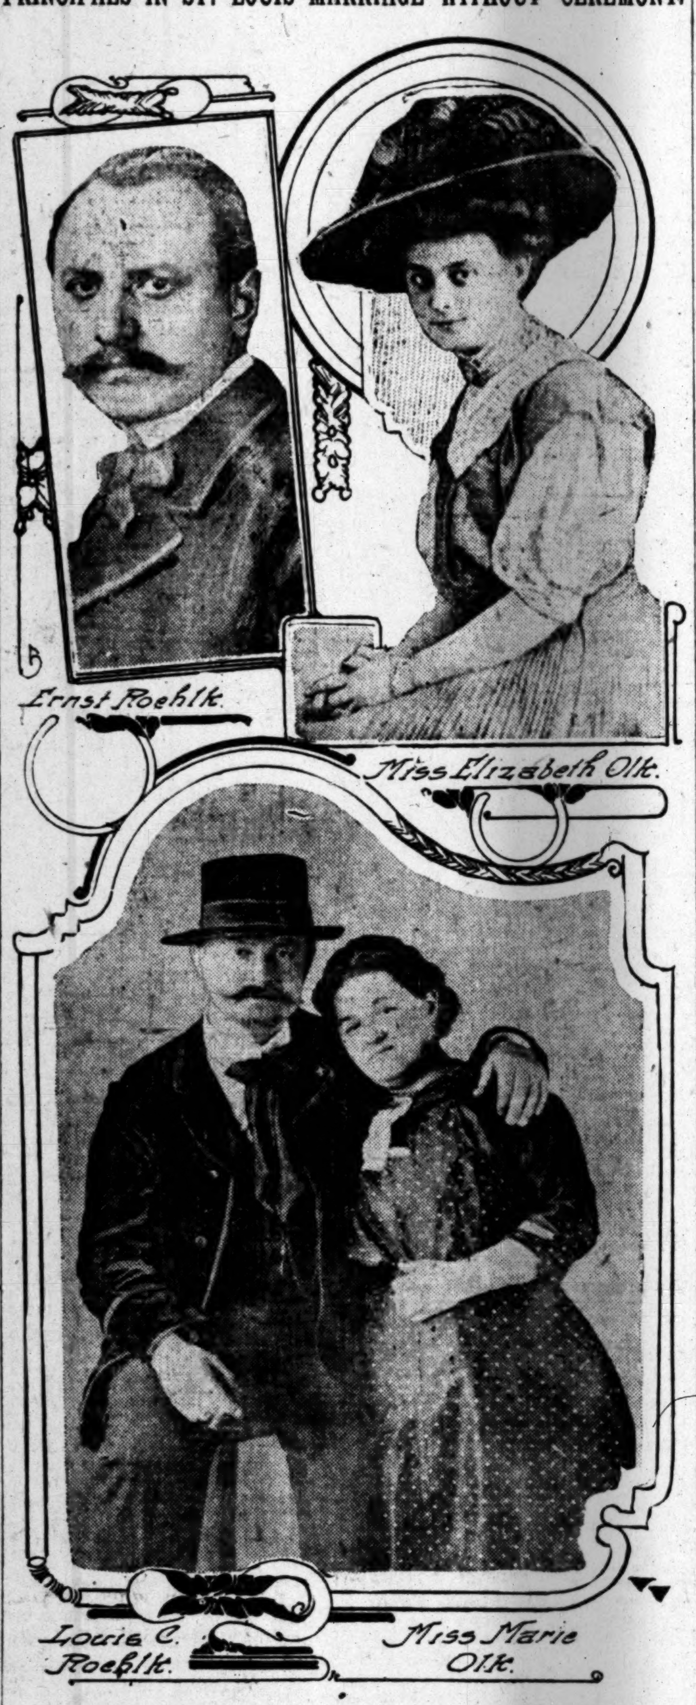
SHOWING NAVY OUR GOOD OIL.

Pasadenan Goes to National Capital to Boost California Product.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Frank S. Wallace of Pasadena is here to make a plea to the Navy Department for the more general use of California oil as fuel. He is a director in and represents the oil interests of the State, but more particularly the Independent Oil Producers' Agency, which is the marketing organization for fifteen companies. Wallace has seen Senators Perkins and Works, Congressman Stephens of Los Angeles, and other influential men in Congress and out of it. He will do everything possible to bring home to the naval authorities the facts regarding the superior merits of oil over coal and the unquestioned abundance and permanency of the supply. Wallace is accompanied by his wife.

PRINCIPALS IN ST. LOUIS MARRIAGE WITHOUT CEREMONY.



Ernst Roehlk.
Miss Elizabeth Olk.
Louie C. Roehlk.
Miss Marie Olk.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—Miss Maria Olk, a prominent violinist whose brother, Hugo Olk, is the St. Louis Symphony Society's concert master, created a sensation by announcing that August 10, last year, she had entered into a matrimonial pact with Luis C. Roehlk, portrait painter here. She retains her maiden name under the agreement. He tonight explained the pact by saying they do not recognize any church ceremony, believing love is as binding in marriage as any ceremony can make it, and that they hoped to imitate the Virgin Mary, who, he believes, maintained her purity in the immaculate conception of Jesus. By this means, he said, they expect to produce a new type of child—a perfect being. She attends a Roman Catholic church, but is not a communicant. His brother, Ernest Roehlk, who was not informed of their pact until a week ago, said today that he was engaged to marry Miss Elizabeth Olk, Maria's sister, and that they would probably enter a similar pact when she returns from Europe next year. The Olks and Roehlks are Germans.

Capillary Bout.

BALD POLL VS. WHISKERED CHIN DEBATED BY THE BEST O' MIN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Whether whiskers are a greater detriment to a man than a bald head is still a mooted question. Four of the ablest men in public life debated the subject before the National Press Club here tonight.

The bout was under Marquis of Queensberry rules and when the bell rang the referee threw up his hands in despair. The baldheaded side of the question was in the hands of Senator Robert L. Taylor of Tennessee and Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio.

The chin curtains found their champions in former Senator Carter of Montana, and "Uncle Joe" Cannon of Illinois. Messrs. Taylor and Longworth entered the ring amid cheers. Their hairless domes sparkled beneath the radiance of myriad electric lights. Senator Carter and "Uncle Joe" came with their whiskers combed for the fray. The shouts that greeted them were deafening.

Dr. "Purefood" Wylie of the Department of Agriculture was chosen as timekeeper, and each contestant was allowed ten minutes. Scott C. Bone represented the Press Club as referee during hostilities, but gave way to Speaker Clark at the end.

LONGWORTH OPENS.

Representative Longworth, the first speaker, said he did not believe that a hair on the head was worth two on the chin. Neither was he willing to assume that a bald head—provided he should be considered bald—was in any sense a handicap, either in public or private life. Mr. Longworth claimed that on his birthday every man has a choice between hair and brains. His choice, he said, was apparent.

"The condition of the disputants on the other side is utterly inexcusable," asserted Mr. Longworth. "In olden days whiskers were excusable — they were sworn by—but nowadays they are only sworn at.

"There is no excuse for such whiskers as those that adorn the chin—or chest—of the former Senator from Montana. I claim that whiskers are unsanitary and I appeal to the timekeeper to uphold me."

CARTER "EXHIBIT A."

Senator Carter was introduced as "Exhibit A" for the whiskers.

"No man," said he, "ever voluntarily wore a bald head. A bald head is an affliction, a standing joke, a physical infirmity. We pity, but do not blame, our opponents."

Senator Carter insisted that the "beard" was the "real thing."

"No fair maiden," he said, "ever feared a promise from a bearded man. The beard is a badge of manhood. A bearded man needs only opportunity. The first man to cut off beards was Alexander the Great."

"It was a brutal measure of warfare—to prevent antagonists from seizing the soldiers by the beard. Let us all wear beards and there will be no more warfare in this troubled world of ours.

"There is another thing about the bald-headed man. He naturally goes to prison without previous preparation. The subject is ready for the work. It takes some trouble to prepare a bearded man for that unfortunate habitation."

IVORY-PATED MOSES.

Senator Taylor, introduced as an "ivory-pated Moses of the Tennessee Democracy," said that when Mr. Cannon was Speaker of the House, he shook pestilence and war from his horrid beard. He dwelt upon the nobility of the bald peaks of the mountains and the bald heads of the American eagle circling about them in the azure atmosphere. Coming down to bald facts he added:

"Once I had raven tresses, but, like autumn leaves, they left me. Ever since I lost them I have had a horror of hair and supreme contempt for whiskers. On the other hand I have always admired a bald head as a symbol of purity and innocence."

"Uncle Joe" Cannon said he had never been funny in his life—at least not consciously—quoted from a writer who recently was in Turkey and who said the saddest man he found in the empire had a bald head. He was the harem guard.

CLARK'S TELLING POINT.

When Speaker Clark was called upon to settle the dispute, he insisted that a majority of men no longer wear whiskers because they were all trying to look like William Jennings Bryan. He rather rapped the whiskerites when he said a good looking man could afford to have a smooth face while an ugly one had better keep his beard.

"Observe, gentlemen," he concluded, "that I have a smooth face."

WARSHIPS NEAR CANTON.

spread from the West River at the west of Canton to the north and east through Kwang Tung provinces and to Amoy in the southeastern portion of Fukien province.

According to the best information obtainable, the foreign missionaries have not been molested by the rebels.

Service on the Canton-Kowloon section of the railroad leading from Canton to Hongkong, has been abandoned and the British railway officials have been ordered to come to this city tonight. Vessels are making frequent trips between Hongkong and Canton, bringing refugees here.

BLOODY DETAILS.

It is difficult to obtain reliable news of the progress of the rebellion, but the feeling here is that grave developments are quite possible. Details of the fighting at Chantun confirm earlier reports of the ferocity with which the troops and the rebels engaged. Queueless heads and headless bodies in European dress are still exposed in the streets. Other bodies show that death was caused by strangulation. The absence of queued heads together with the clothing of western fashion makes plain that the dead were rebels. The bodies of the soldiers killed appear to have been removed.

A son of the Viceroy of Canton and a maid were found hidden under a bed in the servants' quarters of the palace, which escaped destruction when the home was set afire.

The commander of a Chinese cruiser was killed. Admiral Li, who commanded the loyal troops in the first two days of the fighting, is said to have killed ten revolutionaries before he was mortally wounded.

PROCLAMATION MADE BY REBEL CHIEFTAIN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—The Young China Association here gave out today what purports to be a cablegram received a short time since from Hu Wan Sang, commander of the "Citizen army" of China, in the province of Kwang Tung, and dated the "first day of the year of Senhai," April 28. A long cablegram in numerical cipher was shown to establish the authenticity of the message. This is the statement:

"To all friendly nations. Greeting. We, the citizens of all China, for the purpose of shaking off the yoke of the Tartar conqueror by overthrowing the present corrupt state of autocracy and establishing a republic in its place, and at the same time intending to enter upon a more close relation with all friendly nations for the sake of maintaining the peace of the world and promoting the happiness of mankind, hereby declare that:

"First—All treaties concluded between the Manchu government and any nations before this date will be continually effective upon to the time of their termination.

"Second—Any foreign loan or indemnity incurred by the Manchu government before this date will be acknowledged without any alteration of terms and will be paid by the maritime customs as before.

"Third—All concessions granted by the Manchu government to any foreign nation before this date will be respected.

"Fourth—All persons and property of any foreign nations in the territory occupied by the citizen army will be fully protected.

"Fifth — All treaties, concessions, loans and indemnities concluded between the Manchu government and any foreign nation after this date will be repudiated.

"By order of Hu Wang Sang, commander of the citizen army of China, in the province of Kwang Tung."

FAMINE CONDITIONS GREATLY IMPROVED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SHANGHAI (China) May 2.—A correspondent of the Associated Press who returned today from the famine stricken districts of Northern China found conditions improved as a result of the relief work, but still very bad. The daily death rate has decreased from several thousand and in the middle of March to a few hundreds.

Many farms are deserted, only mud walls indicating that they were once tenanted. Children who formerly were sold for 50 cents each, are now exchanged for a few pounds of grain. Women are selling themselves into slavery to provide succor for the more helpless ones of families.

The Princeton and Yale missionaries at Ewai Yuan, in the north of Shensi province, are doing splendid work in controlling the distribution of foodstuffs.

The Chinese generally are exhibiting a new spirit, having abandoned the old-time theory that famines were a necessary evil to reduce the surplus population. The government and missionaries are organized for the relief of 2,000,000 persons in the greatest need. The continuation of the famine, however is exhausting the relief supplies and 1,500,000 more remain for whom relief must be provided.

AMERICAN WARSHIPS READY TO GIVE HELP.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The State Department cabled today to Rear Admiral Hubbard, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet, to send more American warships to Canton if necessary.

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) May 2.—John H. Vanderpoel, instructor in art and painting at the art institute of the American Woman's League in University City, Mo., died suddenly today. The cause of death was heart failure. He is survived by Mrs. Vanderpoel and two children. For nearly thirty years Mr. Vanderpoel was a leading member of the faculty of the Chicago Art Institute. His body will be sent to Chicago and will lie in state Thursday, in the art institute. He was 54 years old.

Lungs Declared Sound--- Life Insurance Granted

We advertise Eckman's Alterative to tell those who have lung disease what has been done by its use.

Gentlemen: "On the evening of May 13, 1907, I had five hemorrhages from the right lung. My hemorrhages kept up for one week—I had twenty-eight in all. Septic pneumonia developed. My doctor told me my left lung had also become affected. I started to take Eckman's the last of August, 1907, and improved steadily. Since my recovery about a year ago, I was accepted for life insurance after two examinations by a company that had previously rejected me."

(Signed affidavit) CHAS. MORGAN,
5583 Thompson St., Phila., Pa.

Fuller details of above case on request. Eckman's Alterative is for Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Affections. For sale by the Owl Drug Co.'s Stores and other leading druggists. CAMORRIST TRIALS.

Italy. The first question put to a man sentenced to imprisonment when he entered the prison was, he said, whether he was a Camorrist, and if so, whether he was a full-fledged Camorrist or a picciotti, the latter being one who has not taken the final degrees in the criminal society. Each Camorrist has under him forty-eight picciottis or recruits, who are on probation and who may become Camorrists proper only when they have proved their ability to commit crime without detection. The witness said this ranking of the prisoners in the society was in order that the Camorrists and the picciottis might be grouped separately and communication between the elder members and the aspiring candidates be avoided.

STORY OF CRIME.

Abbatemaggio's story of the murder of Gennaro Cuoccolo and his wife already is known. He claimed to have escaped this assignment by feigning illness. Long after the murders he fell in with Capizzuti, to whom he confessed of his ambition to be married and the fact that poverty stood in his way. The spy thereupon told him that he would furnish the necessary funds if the other would tell him enough of the Cuoccolo murders to permit him to become a member of the Camorra through the use of his knowledge. Abbatemaggio was tempted and fell, and when it was too late to retract learned that his friend was an officer of the law. After some persuasion he decided to become a witness for the State.

The informer named Corrada Sortino as one of the actual assassins of Cuoccolo and Sortino was summoned from the cage to confront his accuser. Standing before the bar, the carabineers between them, the two men glared at each other for a moment, when Abbatemaggio continued.

He surprised all by his graphic description of the murder, and, going into minute details, gave the day and hour of each event from its inception to the commission of the crime. He declared that everything Sortino had said in his examination was false. Occasionally, when interrupted, he bowed with mock deference to Sortino and remarked:

"But you know better than I do, as you were there."

Abbatemaggio then took a penholder and used it as a weapon to illustrate the knife thrust that ended the life of Cuoccolo, when Sortino interrupted.

"It is impossible to murder any man when holding a knife as you are holding that penholder."

Wonderful Curative Agent Saves Life

After Physicians Had Given up Hope the Madison Treatment Restores Health and Strength.

Suffering with Multiple Neuritis and having given up hope of ever recovering, Mrs. H. W. Squises, proprietor of the Lovejoy Hotel, corner of Third and Grand avenue, was cured by the Madison method. She had tried many different treatments without obtaining relief, and was very much discouraged. Doctors said she would not recover.

During the year or more of the most severe stages of her trouble, Mrs. Squires was unable to obtain sleep at night on account of the intense pain. After the first treatment at the Madison Institute the relief was immediate and the patient enjoyed a refreshing sleep.

The improvement continued with each treatment and today Mrs. Squires is fully recovered from her ailments, and recommends the Madison Treatment very highly to those who are suffering.

Our institute has been established in this city over three years, and we have treated and cured many prominent business people; many of them who do not care to have us use their names in our advertisements are glad to have us give their names to anyone calling at our office, and any of our patients will be pleased to tell of the benefits they have derived from the Madison Treatment.

In our treatment rooms we combine Dry Hot Air Electricity, Leucodescent and Roentgen Rays, Vibration, Hydro-Therapy, Osteopathy, Dietetics, Swedish Movements and all of the latest mechanical methods of treatment used in Europe and in the leading institutions of this country.

MANY PROMINENT BUSINESS PEOPLE OF THIS CITY ARE BEING CURED OF SERIOUS DISEASES BY THIS TREATMENT.

RHEUMATISM, NERVOUS DISEASES AND CHRONIC AILMENTS CURED BY THE MADISON METHOD.

MADISON TREATMENT INDORSED BY LEADING PHYSICIANS.

Many of our most difficult cases have been sent to us by physicians of this and surrounding cities. Diseases which have resisted other methods of treatment are promptly cured by our method.

Mr. Foley of the Mackie-Foley Furniture Company, 723-25 South Hill street, was advised by his physician to try the Madison Treatment; the result is immediate relief and another patient who will testify in favor of the Madison Institute. Mr. Foley says the treatment is the best he has ever taken.

Mr. J. J. Haggarty, proprietor of the New York Store, says the improvement in his condition after a few treatments was remarkable; appetite was restored, mind and body become more active, nervousness overcome, was able to sleep better and general physical condition improved in short time.

PERMANENT CURES ARE MADE in Nervous Disorders, Insomnia, Stomach Trouble and Disorders of Nutrition, Constipation, Chronic Pain, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver Troubles, Prostatic and Bladder Diseases, Pelvic Disorders, Ailments Peculiar to Women and many other diseases of serious nature.

OUR TREATMENT RESTORES circulation, promotes absorption and increases the nutritional functions, increases oxidation and excretion of necessary waste matter and promptly relieves inflammation and congestion.

OUR LABORATORY is completely equipped with X-Ray and all the latest scientific electrical apparatus necessary for thorough examination and efficient treatment.

WE ARE SPECIALISTS in this method of treatment and are able to give each patient the time and attention necessary to effect a complete cure. We give many treatments that heretofore could be had only in Europe. We have testimonials from hundreds of patients cured by our treatment. Call or write for information.

Baiting Them.

OFFERS STIPEND TO TEMPT THEM.

Carpenters' Union Uses Bait to Recruit Strikers.

Offers Strike Benefits to All That Will Register.

Pickets Already in Evidence to Harass Builder.

Unable to induce more than a small fraction of their fellow-members to strike, officers of the Carpenters' Union yesterday were offering "strike benefits" to all non-union carpenters who would place their signatures on the registration book at the Labor Temple.

The book last night contained 700 names, and was exhibited in support of the union's contention that there are many carpenters out on strike.

At the Builders' Exchange there were calls for less than ten men all day, and these were easily supplied. At the end of the day, more non-union carpenters had been turned away because of the lack of work than were taken on to fill the places of the strikers.

James A. Campbell, secretary of the Builders' Exchange, declared that a watchful eye is kept on known members of the I.W.W. who have been seeking employment under the guise of non-union carpenters. He declared that applicants at the Exchange are carefully scrutinized before given employment or encouragement to return. Contractors called upon to fill the strikers' places are taking the same precaution.

A standing offer has been made by the Carpenters' Union to pay all non-union carpenters who will quit work $7 a week. This is the amount the striking carpenters have been promised weekly, and is one-third the amount paid them for working eight hours a day. To draw the $7, the men would have to work, and probably longer than eight hours a day. It is understood they would be placed on picketing jobs, where they would be required to violate the anti-picketing law and lay themselves liable to heavy fine or imprisonment.

It did not take long for the report of the union's $7 offer for men to pose as strikers to reach the haunts of the "floaters" and they comprise the bulk of the 200 who signed up for the promised meal ticket.

It was stated at the officers of the Builders' Exchange that pickets had already been placed on the J. H. Hall job at Second and Los Angeles streets, where a six-story reinforced concrete building is being erected for the Perry estate. As soon as their identity is ascertained, Hall says he will cause their arrest.

The committee in charge of the threatened strike of union bakers met with little more success yesterday than on the first day of its calls on the baking establishments. While a number of the smaller shops were signed up, the committee met with complete failure at the larger establishments. In rounding up the smaller shops by the union, the larger employers see an attempt to force them into signing the contract. They declare that they intend to remain firm and refuse to consider the demands of the union bakers. The employers who had refused to sign at quitting time last night provide 90 per cent. of the bread and pastry consumed in the city.

No demands have been presented by any other union affiliated with the Building Trades' Council. The bricklayers, cement workers, plasterers, roofers and shinglers all remained on their jobs.

TAKE EFFECTIVE STEPS.

Although declaring that the present situation does not necessitate it, the members of the Master Builders' Association, at their regular weekly meeting last night, decided to communicate with eastern carpenters desiring to locate in Los Angeles so that they will at no time be compelled to depend on the union.

There was a call for eighteen carpenters at the meeting. These, it is expected, will be supplied early this morning.

Union carpenters, called off their jobs by the labor bosses, and compelled to support families as well as keep up a heavy assessment on $7.00 a week strike benefits, are hunting jobs in the country, accepting whatever wages are offered.

A letter from a professional strike-breaker of San Francisco, offering his services to break the local carpenters' strike, was read with considerable amusement at last night's meeting by J. F. Hall, president, of the Master Builders' Association.

Commenting on the situation, Hall said:

"We are not even regarding this as a strike. As far as strength is concerned, the local carpenters' union seems to have fallen off greatly during the last few years. The carpenters' strike some years ago embarrassed many of the contractors, but there is not a member of the association who has been affected by the present trouble.

"Rather than ever submit to the dictates of the labor bosses, however, we will import men from the East if necessary. We do not believe we will be compelled to do this, but we do intend to be prepared.

"From the reports of the members of the association less than seventy-five men have walked out, and there are many union carpenters working for $3.50 a day. We believe these men are satisfied and will continue to stick with us."

WON'T MEET ADVANCE.

More than 100 union carpenters quit work Monday at Riverside and at a meeting held the same night were unable to arrive at any plan of action. Several of the largest contracting firms of Riverside have agreed not to meet the 50 cents a day advance in wages asked by the men, stating that the competition is too sharp to allow them to grant the increase. Five of the contractors have served formal notice on their employees that hereafter they will observe the open shop and manage their business and that, while they prefer to have their present help remain with them, they will not be under obligation to consider an advance at this time.

SAYS KU-KLUX-KLAN JUSTIFIED.

Oklahoma Judge Approves Action By Citizens When Officials Fail To End Whisky Selling.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OKLAHOMA CITY (Okla.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the citizens of Watonga, in Blaine county, were justified in organizing a Ku-Klux-Klan to suppress bootlegging after the county officers had failed in their duty, was the opinion of Presiding Judge Henry M. Furman of the Criminal Court of Appeals, who today refused J. P. Crawford of Watonga a change of venue in a whisky-selling case, despite the fact that County Judge Ferguson was a member of the "committee" that visited his place and ordered him to close.

The court declared that the people have the right to organize in a peaceable manner to assist the officers in the enforcement of the law. However, the court believed that judicial officers should abstain from participation in public meetings in which questions are discussed that might come before them for decision.

HILL CLIMB PROVES FATAL.

Great Grand-daughter of Revolutionary Army Officer Succumbs to Apoplexy.

Mrs. Mary Porter Christy, wife of Edwin Christy of No. 4212 South Olive street, died at 3:10 o'clock yesterday morning of apoplexy, following a rupture of the heart, caused by climbing a hill at Dominguez Field, whither she had gone January 1, to attend the aviation meet. She had been confined to her bed ever since that time.

Mrs. Christy was a daughter of Col. Daniel S. Porter of the Eleventh Pennsylvania Reserves, who served with distinction in the Civil War. Her great-great-grandfather, Gen. Andrew Porter, and her great grandfather were officers in the Revolutionary Army. Gen. Horace Porter is a relative. Mrs. Christy leaves three daughters.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Los Angeles Crematory, Rosedale Cemetery, by Rev. Charles Edward Locke, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who officiated at the wedding of Mrs. Christy in Pittsburgh nineteen years ago.

Alas!

DREAM OF LOVE IS SHATTERED.

GIRL SWALLOWS POISON WHEN LOVER DESERTS HER.

Expends Her Last Dime for Tablets and Says Farewell to World, But Quick Work by Doctor Saves Her—Sobs Out Story of Elopement With Santa Ana Youth.

Deserted by the man with whom she ran away from home Sunday evening, Elsie Collier, the 18-year-old daughter of C. F. Collier, a rancher near Orange, spent her last dime for poison and tried to kill herself in a lodging house at No. 331½ South Spring street last night.

At the Receiving Hospital the police surgeon soon had her out of danger.

The girl whose large blue eyes, golden hair, a complexion of pink and white and a slender form made the detectives doubt seriously that she was more than 16, fought fiercely against the endeavor to save her from death. She was dressed in a sailor suit of white and blue, and with tears welling up into her eyes, was a picture of misery.

"My name is Elsie Collier," she sobbed out to Detective Zeigler. "I want to die because I have been deserted by the man who made me run away from home." She refused to tell his name.

Later under the soothing words of Miss Beatty, the nurse, she told her story.

"I ran way from home Sunday night with Richard Grant of Santa Ana," she said. "He is only 19 years old. He had been begging me to run away with him, for a long time, and I had been telling him no, but I loved him and at last I said yes. We went to Riverside and stayed there that night. Monday we came to Los Angeles. We rode and walked about the city a whole lot yesterday afternoon. Late in the evening Dick told me to wait for him on a downtown street corner.

"I waited for him there for a little more than an hour, and then I realized I had been deserted.

"Dick had only left me 10 cents in my pocket-book. I knew I could not go far with that. I went into a drug store and bought antiseptic tablets of bichloride of mercury. I swallowed several of them and I do wish you would let me die."

She cried out that she could never bear the shame of meeting her father again.

The room where the girl swallowed the tablets was occupied by Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Perry, the former a mechano-therapist. She had entered the doctor's office, asked for a glass of water and remarked that she had taken poison.

Dr. C. C. Gleaves of No. 322 South Spring street, was sent for and gave her an emetic which probably saved the girl's life.

SAY ASSESSMENT EXORBITANT.

West Sixteenth Street Property Owners Decide in Meeting to Enjoin Proceedings to Open It.

At a meeting of West Sixteenth-street property owners at the Harvard Military School last night, it was decided to secure an injunction enjoining the city from proceeding with the proposed opening and widening of West Sixteenth street between Normandie avenue and Pacific street.

About 150 citizens were present, and it was the sense of the meeting that the assessment is exorbitant. For the purpose of obtaining legal counsel the following committee was appointed: F. F. Cross, W. R. Dickinson, Justice of the Peace J. W. Summerfield, Henry C. Jensen and W. F. Ford.

The distance between Normandie avenue and Pacific street, where the improvements have been called for, is approximately a mile. The question of opening the greater part of this and widening the street at points where it is already open, came up about a year ago. All arrangements for the work were made when a large number of property owners made an objection to the assessment levy.

TARANTULA'S SWIFT BITE.

Gardener, Victim of Venomous Insect, Successfully Treated at Receiving Hospital.

H. T. Clemens, a gardener living at No. 613 Centennial street, was the victim of a tarantula bite last evening. Clemens, who is employed as a watchman by the National Bank of California at Fourth and Spring streets, was in his back yard, pulling weeds, when he was startled by seeing a small, furry thing leaping like a shot out of the grass and an almost simultaneous fire-like sting in the index finger of his left hand.

Realizing the danger of the bite, he rushed to the Receiving Hospital. There, Police Surgeon Wright found a puncture as large as could be made by the driving of a lead pencil point. This was cut out and powerful caustics applied. Clemens, although deathly sick when he arrived, left the hospital apparently free from ill effects.

They Will Come.

TWO THOUSAND BIBLES ALREADY, EIGHT THOUSAND MORE NEEDED.

DAY BY DAY, more money and Bibles are coming in for the enterprise of the "Gideons," whose secretary, W. E. Henderson, is in Los Angeles arranging to place a Bible in every room in every hotel and lodging house in the city. Up to last evening, 1909 Bibles of the 10,000 necessary had been contributed, and many sums of money as well. A Glendale gentleman sent in a check for $10 for the good work in Los Angeles. The Y.M.C.A. Brotherhood sent 200 Bibles and the First English Lutheran Church 90. There were many other contributors, organized and individual. Dr. Charles Edward Locke of the First Methodist Church wrote:

First Methodist Episcopal Church,
LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 1.

My dear Mr. Henderson: "It is just like the progressive "Times" to take the initiative in your great campaign to place a copy of the Holy Bible in every hotel and lodging-house room in Los Angeles.

You can depend on the First Methodist Church to do its full share in this most Christian undertaking. I will present the matter to my congregation next Sunday.

God bless the Gideons in their noble work. Faithfully,

CHARLES EDWARD LOCKE.

Here are two letters which the Gideons have received, to show how these Bibles work for good.

"DENISON (Iowa) Jan. 31.

"The Gideons, 601 Baltimore Building, Chicago, Ill.: Just want to commend your good work of placing the Holy Book, our Book of Life, in the hotels.

"I came in here after a bad day, delayed train, trade poor, no business, and family cares, and was happily surprised to find a Bible. After reading the blessed truth, I feel happy and strong.

"I want to be a Gideon; please tell me how to do so.

"Yours for the good of our brothers."

"CHICAGO (Ill.) Jan. 20.

"The Gideons, 601 Baltimore Building, Chicago, Ill.: Perhaps a word will help you to realize that the little 'good Book' on the table in a lonely hotel room 'helps some.'

"Last night, after fighting the fight that every young woman with any appearance fights, I found myself in Chicago at this hotel. I had papers, magazines, books, and other reading matter, but for a joke—yes, joke—I picked up the Bible. It fell open at the Seventieth Psalm. Can you imagine the impression it made upon me. I read it again and again. Needless to say it helped me and I feel better, happier, and not so much alone.

"I hope that others may be helped as I was helped, no matter in what spirit the first words be read.

"You will, I am sure, pardon my not signing my name—not that it is known, but that I do not care to come before your notice any longer than to say, 'Keep it up.' Believe me, most gratefully, One more friend."

The 10,000 Bibles for Los Angeles or the means for securing them must be supplied before next Sunday. It will be done if everybody who thinks the plan a good one will wake up and send in their contributions. Use the attached coupon in sending subscriptions to Mr. Henderson in care of The Times.

Disappointing.

STATE EXPOSITION BUILDING SET BACK BY GOVERNOR.

IN THE TRIMMING of legislative appropriations by the Governor at the last minute, the $60,000 for the establishment and maintenance of the State Exposition Building in Exposition Park was lost to Los Angeles. The Governor did not sign this measure, which was introduced by Assemblyman Cogswell, before the expiration of the thirty-day period following adjournment of the Legislature, and consequently its passage is nullified.

"This means that the building must be closed until another Legislature provides the means necessary to equip and maintain its exhibitions," an official of the Chamber of Commerce said last night.

The Chamber was much interested in the bill, and received word of its failure with much disappointment.

The Governor did sign the bill of Senator Thompson (No. 1235) which provides that $25,000 may be used for the furnishing of the building ready for opening. This appropriation, however, will not be available to bring together exhibits that are to make the building attractive.

The Thompson bill was signed April 24. The Governor stated that very little, possibly $25,000, was cut from the general appropriation, but the special appropriation bills have been kept $100,000 less than two years ago.

"In reality," he said, "it should have been $1,500,000 more but we had to keep down partly on account of the new tax amendment, Constitutional Amendment No. 1, and partly because extraordinarily strict economy had to be observed on account of the State's low financial condition, something which I hope we will not have to do hereafter.

"An exception was made in the case of the Los Angeles Exposition Building."

The Hurd bill, repealing the law giving the Governor power to name pilots at San Pedro, was signed at the last minute.

TO HELP THE CITY'S NEEDY.

Pupils of the High Schools and Others Enlist for Associated Charities Tag Day Saturday.

Music, fun and frolic will characterize Tag Day of the Associated Charities next Saturday more than ever in the history of this day, which is devoted each year to the cause of raising funds for the needy of Los Angeles.

Volunteer tag sellers from the ranks of society women, professional men and women, theatrical people and pupils of the public schools, are offering their services to the committee and Secretary Sewall says he expects to have the greatest array of "talent" ever shown in Los Angeles, when the time comes.

Yesterday the members of the Bison Motion Picture Company offered their services and these actors will appear on the streets in the costumes they use at Edendale in posing for the long films. The list includes Indians, cowboys and cowgirls represented by Princess Mona Darkfeather, Frank Lawson, Madeline West, George Geb-Thornton.

Tag Day was given a boost in the high schools yesterday when a committee from the Associated Charities composed of President Frank, Secretary Sewell, Superintendent of Schools Francis, Phillip D. Wilson and Frank G. Tyrrell, visited the schools and addressed the students. The committee met with a splendid reception at the Los Angeles, Polytechnic, Manual Arts and Hollywood High Schools, and enthusiasm was aroused among the students, who have entered heartily into the plans for the day. The high schools are figuring on selling 30,000 tags each.

EMPLOYEES ENJOY THEMSELVES.

Members of Broadway Department Store Benefit Association Dance And Elect Officers At Meeting.

The seventh annual meeting of the members of the Broadway Department Store Benefit Association was held last night at Kramer's Hall, No. 932 South Grand avenue. Addresses were made by the retiring president, E. W. Lewis, and his successor, W. I. Smither, the remainder of the evening being given up to dancing.

The association, which was organized in 1904, is now one of the strongest of its kind in the West. Members, when ill and unable to work, are provided with a salary through the medium of the association. It has also for its purpose the promoting of sociability among its members.

Its good work is shown by the fact that it has distributed among its members since its organization over $6000 in the form of sick benefits, and upwards of $4000 in physicians' fees.

The officers for this year are W. Y. Smither, president; G. E. Ruff, vice-president; W. H. B. Kilner, secretary and R. R. Musser, treasurer. The Executive Committee for 1911 is composed of E. R. Bell, B. F. Dillon, W. K. Gibson, Joe Levin, A. G. Penn, and the Misses A. Boyd, G. Fugit, L. Polkinghorn, G. H. Powers and G. J. Smith.

HALF-CENTURY TOGETHER.

Reminiscenses of Olden Times in Los Angeles at Celebration of Double Golden Wedding.

A double golden wedding was celebrated last night in Caledonian Hall, No. 119½ South Spring street, by the members of the Pioneers' Society.

The principals were Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Herwig of No. 237 West Eighteenth street and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Newell of No. 2417 West Ninth street.

The meeting of the pioneers had been turned over to a committee of the friends of the four principals, and an entertainment arranged. The hall was prettily decorated, and at one end was a stage. A brief musical programme was rendered by J. W. Gillette, A. W. Wern, Miss Elsa Grosser and others. Joseph Mesmer delivered the address of the evening on the olden times in Los Angeles, of which many of those present were familiar.

UNDELIVERED TELEGRAMS.

Telegrams are at the Western Union Telegraph Company for Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allen, R. W. Neighbor, Robert Neighbor, Martin Christenson, Inland Grain Company, Mrs. A. M. Hughes, V. Q. Hickman, John J. Maroney, A. J. Latent, Louis Buck, Miss Sophia Caster, A. M. Heath, L. F. Spralton, Dr. J. R. Boylton, Emitt Koester, C. M. Huse, Thomas H. Greenlay, W. R. Mix and Mrs. S. L. Askerson.

LAWSUIT OVER HORSE.

Charles T. Cushman, who bought a bay horse from George Sterling for $25, receiving a guarantee with the animal, decided, after a trial, that he had been cheated. Sterling refused to make restitution and Cushman brought suit, not only for the $25 but for $15 board money. The case was tried before Justice Summerfield yesterday. The attorneys in the case were told to submit briefs, decision, meantime, being reserved.

BILLICKEN CHANGES NAME.

The Billicken Club, which has a membership of 350, decided at a meeting held in the club rooms, No. 349 South Hill street, last night, to incorporate under the name of the Metropolitan Club and issue stock to the extent of $10,000. It is a business men's club and conducted on the same lines as the Jonathan and Union League. Elmer R. McDowell is president.

Badly Hurt by Automobile.

On the eve of sending $400 to Pressburg, Austria, to pay his wife's passage to Los Angeles, Frank Palaci, No. 1743 San Julian street, a gardener, was possibly fatally injured last night, when he was run down at the crossing of Pico and Wall streets by an automobile driven by Robert Boge of Pico and San Julian streets. Palaci is believed to have sustained a basal fracture of the skull, and the surgeons at the Receiving Hospital express no hope of his recovery.

HURLED HIGH BY COLLISION.

MOTORCYCLE RIDER CRASHES INTO AUTOMOBILE.

Victim, Badly Hurt, Rushed to Hospital, While Owner of Colliding Car Wrecks His Machine Trying to Keep Pace—Police Judge to the Rescue.

Albert F. Deacon, No. 205 West Avenue 57, 19 years of age, a dealer in window shades on West Pico street, came within an ace of losing his life last night when the automobile of Winfield L. Dinsmoor, No. 2021 West Twenty-ninth place, began running amuck at the crossing of Hobart boulevard and West Adams street.

Dinsmoor and Deacon were both riding home, the latter on a motorcycle. Deacon was crossing West Adams street when Dinsmoor, turning the corner sharply, crashed into him. The boy was hurled high into the air by the shock of the collision and fell the curb on the opposite side of the street with a compound comminuted fracture of the left leg.

Dinsmoor did not know the way to the Receiving Hospital, and Police Judge Rose, who passed by in his automobile, offered to take the injured man there.

"Take him as quickly as you can," urged Dinsmoor. "I'll follow you."

Judge Rose, with the patient safely in his machine, dashed for the corner of First and Hill streets. Dinsmoor did the best he could to follow, but at the corner of Seventh and Olive streets three automobiles swung into the street ahead of him. He crashed into the rear of one of the machines, wrecking his own car by knocking off one of the front wheels and buckling the rear axle. Dinsmoor then jumped into another automobile and was taken to the hospital by its owner.

COOPER'S CHECK.

End of Comedy of Errors—The Excited Mr. Ware is Satisfied—Settled Up at Bank.

The "comedy of errors" brought about by an over-excited gentleman named Wilfred G. Ware, who tried to have Alfred Cooper arrested for passing a check which was afterward dishonored at the bank, ended yesterday in the payment of the check. Dr. Avery, president of the German-American Savings Bank, said last night that he was satisfied that Mr. Cooper did not know that he was overdrawing his account. The check was given to take up a note held by Mr. Ware and, after giving it, Mr. Cooper left town for Salt Lake City. The officers set after him by Mr. Ware just missed him at the train. There could be no warrant issued, as it was a matter of debt, Mr. Cooper, of course, still owing the debt till the check was honored. The whole thing was settled up at the bank and the excited Mr. Ware subsided. Dr. Avery says that the bank had nothing to do with the action taken by Mr. Ware.

CALLS TURN ON MRS. ALICE.

Bishop Fallows Declares Daughter of Roosevelt Fails to Live Up to Theories of Father.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Roosevelt goes to the extreme on race suicide. By the way, Mrs. Alice Longworth has not lived up to his doctrines, has she?"

Bishop Samuel Fallows of the Reformed Episcopal Church has some decided views on race suicide and is going to tell women, who are expected to throng St. Paul's Church on Mother's day Sunday, May 14, just what these views are.

The bishop is not a radical of radicals on this subject; he calls Roosevelt an extremist. Yet he tells with pride that he is one of ten children; that Mrs. Fallows is one of eleven, and adds that these are the ideals of his family. He has four children himself. "Not half enough," he says.

"There are multitudes of rich women in Chicago and all over America who for one reason or another have no children. Instead of adopting children and lavishing on them their care and affections which they ought to do, they are pampering animals—dogs, cats and the like. Human babies ought to have precedence over animal pets."

RETURNS JEWELS TO EXILED DOWAGER QUEEN.

Necklace Worth Thousands Left Behind in Flight Restored to Rightful Owner—British Firms Seem Apt to Win Big Contracts for Supplying War Munitions.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LISBON, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Seculo, one of the best informed newspapers of Lisbon, reports that the superintendent of the royal palaces has returned to Dowager Queen Maria Pia a magnificent diamond necklace, valued at more than $50,000, which she had left behind in the Ajuda palace in her flight. The necklace was a present from the King of Italy.

The most advanced Republican newspapers attack the government for having returned the jewels and personal effects of the exiled royal family. The government, however, states that it could not keep private documents, correspondence and the personal property of members of the dethroned royal family.

Assisted by a naval commission, the provisional government began examining the proposals today of foreign firms to supply naval material, for guns for land fortifications and the construction of a new arsenal opposite Lisbon. Though nothing has yet been decided, the probabilities are that the contract will be given British firms. The total cost is estimated at $150,000,000. The government desires to pay it in fifty years by yearly installments.

CAN'T FIND SYDNEY C. LOVE.

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) May 2.—Sydney C. Love, the millionaire banker of Chicago and Seattle, Wash., was by order of Supreme Court Justice Morschauser served today with a summons and complaint by publication in the suit for absolute divorce which his wife Marjorie Burns Love, of New York, has brought against him. Counsel for Mrs. Love declared that they did not know the present whereabouts of the defendant and they had made repeated efforts to locate him, without success. Love claims that he is not now and never has been a resident of the State of New York.

Corporal Peter Peshon of the San Francisco police force, accompanied by his family, is a guest of Chief of Police and Mrs. C. E. Sebastian at their home, No. 1633 West Twenty-second street.

Are You Drinking Pure Water?

Have You Evre Thought How Necessary Pure Drinking Water is to Your Health?

Many people give very little thought to the purity of the water they drink. They are very careful to secure pure, wholesome food. They take pains to see that their surroundings are sanitary.

But when it comes to the matter of drinking water, they merely use what is to be had conveniently—without giving the matter any special attention.

There is no more fertile cause of illness than impure drinking water. Disease germs are easily taken into the system this way. Mineral matter dissolved in the water is also a frequent cause of illness. And almost no natural waters hereabouts are pure.

You should drink Puritas Distilled Water. It is inexpensive and easy to get. And it protects you from diseases that are water born.

Pure water is "soft" water. It keeps the system sweet and clean. Our city water is "hard" water, containing considerable amounts of mineral matter. These become deposited in the body, causing kidney and rheumatic troubles.

The common sense plan is to drink Puritas, and plenty of it. You may be sure of its uniform purity—every demijohn, all the time.

Puritas is distilled carefully, and aerated with pure ozone. We bottle it in clean glass demijohns. This work is so carefully done that the water reaches you with all its wholesome purity intact.

Puritas is inexpensive—5 gallons cost but 40c. delivered within the old city boundary lines.

At points byeond this, the price is a trifle more, owing to the long haul. Regular Puritas customers purchase coupon books, thereby materially reducing the expense.

When you telephone ask us about them. Home 10053; Sunset Main 8191. Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Company.

FOR SALE—

In beautiful and charming Hollywood, commanding a magnificent view of the mountains and valley.

$6500. PRICE $6500.

On terms to suit if desired.

I have built and sold many charming and beautiful homes, but without any exaggeration or self-praise, my Hollywood creations are the most artistic and thoroughly complete, 9-room Swiss Chalet bungalows to be found anywhere at any price.

The large and elaborately appointed living-room with its massive and unique mantel, built-in seats and art-glass windows and the artistic wall decorations, impart a charming effect on entering; to the right is the den with bookcases and secretaire and magnificent built-in wall bed; it has a spacious and artistically fitted dining-room with imported wall tapestries and the most elaborate buffet you have ever seen; 3 charming bed chambers, a cosy breakfast room with French doors opening on pergola from which you get a sweeping view of the mountains; a buffet kitchen and a thoroughly complete bath, with high-class plumbing complete the first floor. On the second floor there is an open-air sleeping chamber with stationary lavatory and a large card or billiard room, and last but not least the magnificent view to be had from these charming rooms is a revelation to all lovers of true nature. These homes will be thoroughly complete with cemented drives, garage, down-to-date convenience and must be seen to be appreciated; houses will be open daily for inspection. The location is on Argyle ave., between Franklin and Vine, one block north of Hollywood Blvd. Or Phone 71005 for appointment.

VEGETABLES, EGGS,
ALL YOURS
ON THIS ACRE.

Did you ever raise your own things for the table? Tastes pretty good, eh? Saves lots of money, too. Perfectly practical to have these things if you live on an acre at Somerset. The soil is a rich, sandy loam. Abundant water in steel mains, under natural pressure, free. Conditions are ideal for a profitable garden, for chickens—for small fruits and berries. Somerset is only 30 minutes by trolley. An ideal suburban place, with schools for your children—stores, telephones and many conveniences. Good car service—convenient for you to go back and forth to your work here in town. Why not "pass up" the city with its high rents and high cost of living? Why not give your family the advantages of a wholesome, healthful life? It will save you money, and you can have your home free and clear within a few years. Come in and get details, and then go see Somerset. Hurry! There are only 5 acres left, $10 cash per acre and $10 monthly.

FOR SALE—

WILL GROW.

Did you know that you can buy a splendid lot in the southwest for only $25 cash and $15 monthly? The trend of the city's growth is to the southwest, and that is the district for big money in real estate. Buy in the fastest growing residence section. Buy in Arlington Square, where values will change almost every month. You'll be safe; you'll be certain of profit. Arlington Square is a beautiful, convenient, handsomely improved residence section, with a grand view of the mountains. Several car lines serve this place, all with a five cent fare. It has every convenience—gas, electricity, telephones, graded and oiled streets, cement walks and curbs; wide, tastefully planted parkings. Lots can be had today at only $725 up, on the above easy terms. What better investment could you make? To see Arlington Square is to appreciate its many advantages. Take Inglewood car to my tract office, corner Arlington street and Santa Barbara avenue, or let me take you out in my automobile.

FOR SALE—

NOTICE TO AGENTS AND INVESTORS.

As I am just completing a large court proposition in Pasadena, I need money, and in order to raise it I will sacrifice on the following properties. Each you will find A-1 and at a Bargain Counter Price.

The S. W. corner of W. Washington and Oxford; 150 ft. on Washington by 100; one of the best hotel, apartment or residence sites in Los Angeles.
$8500; cheap at $10,000.

The N. E. corner of W. Adams and Seventh ave., 150x150. A fine residence corner in a swell location.
$12,500; worth $15,000.

Houses 2316 and 2320 S. Grand ave.; 100x150; 2 large 10-room, modern residences, well rented; fine hotel or apartment site.
$20,000; cannot be duplicated on Grand ave. at $25,000.

219 S. Grand ave.; right at the top of the Flights; 8 apartments leased at $1740 per year; all the latest improvements installed to conform to recent city ordinances; full basement. This property worth $20,000, but I want to sell it at once at $15,000. You cannot beat this bargain.

$3250, and cheap at $4000; a large 50x150-foot lot and good 6-room modern cottage. 4312 S. Main st.; the lot is worth $2500; the house cost $2200; all goes at $3250; only $1250 cash required.

$2500; new, modern and up-to-date 7-room bungalow, near the new cross-town car line. Vernon and Compton, on large lot. It's cheap. $1000 cash. 4308 Morgan ave.

The southwest corner of E. Fourth st. and Molino, 158x140, unimproved; there are only a few of these industrial sites left so close-in. I have been asking $25,000 for this and think it worth that price, but like all the above I want to sell, and will take $15,000.

The southeast corner of E. Seventh st. and Crocker; one block from San Pedro st.; a fine corner for business block and apartment hotel; 57½x110 to alley; there are now improvements on the ground renting at $130 per month.

This corner is worth, I think, $1000 per foot, but if you want it and have the cash to handle it at about one-half that price come and see me. I want to sell. Don't have to, but want to. The same applies to all of the above properties which you will find cheap and good.

Now, I am the owner of the above and will not consider any trade whatever at the low reduced prices for thirty days, for it's cash I want. I also have about $75,000 worth of A-1 contracts on houses and lots sold the past year to homeseekers who reside in the houses and pay monthly, running in amounts from $1000 to $2000, on which I would give a liberal discount on one or more to raise cash, as I said before it's cash I want.
Who will be the lucky purchasers?

Hermosa.

FOR SALE—

DO YOU KNOW THAT

on May 8th the County Highway Commission will open bids for the construction of the "Manhattan Beach Boulevard," which will complete a fine macadam road from Los Angeles to the waterfront at Manhattan Beach?

Do you know that the people of Manhattan have started a campaign for over four miles of asphalt paved streets?

Do you know that several miles of asphalt pavement have been laid in Hermosa Beach and that many more miles are now being constructed?

Do you know that a portion of the proposed asphalt boulevard along the waterfront from Redondo to Venice has already been constructed, and that over 30 building permits have been taken out in Hermosa Beach so far this spring?

Do you know that many Ocean Park people, who bought their lots at $550 to $600 nine years ago, are now selling them at from $3000 to $5000 or more, and are coming down to Hermosa Beach to repeat the operation?

I am offering great inducements for the immediate building of twenty more attractive homes (four now building) at SHAKESPEARE, a restricted, ocean front, subdivision of Hermosa.

Come in and let me show you.

RED APPLE LAND.

ADJOINING REDLANDS. Lies at an elevation of 3000 feet above sea level. The growing of BIG RED APPLES in the Yucaipa Valley has been proven the most profitable and certain business in California. Apple orchards in the Yucaipa Valley have paid an annual income of $1250 an acre. Five-year-old orchards have produced four boxes of apples per tree, ten-year olds average nine boxes per tree. The 1910 crop of Yucaipa Valley apples has sold on the Los Angeles wholesale market at $2.75 to $3.50 a box.

BIG RED APPLES

such as are grown in the Yucaipa Valley are in greater demand each year. Cherries producing over $40 per tree each year. Pears and all other deciduous fruits yield heavily and get a finer flavor than similar fruits grown in the lower valleys. Currants, berries and other small fruits are big money makers, vegetables grow the year round. The soil is a rich red decomposed granite, containing no alkali, no hard-pan, no adobe.
Sheltered by the high San Bernardino Mountains. Perfect climate. Pure dry mountain air in which asthma, catarrh and bronchial troubles cannot exist. No fogs, no sandstorms, no hot desert winds. An abundant supply of pure mountain water for irrigation and domestic use piped to each tract under pressure.
Over forty families have settled in the Yucaipa Valley this season and have planted apple orchards. A large proportion is made up of successful apple growers from Washington, Oregon, Colorado, Michigan, California and other States, who expect to repeat their successes here and live in a more agreeable climate. To be successful, get in with successful people.
Price of the land is $275 an acre, on very easy terms. This includes one share of stock in a mutual water company, with each acre.
Free excursions to buyers. Excursion parties leave Los Angeles for the Yucaipa Valley every day.

LA SIERRA HEIGHTS.

ORANGE AND LEMON LANDS

REACH THE HIGHEST

PINNACLES OF PERFECTION.

In richness of soil, in climatic advantages, in altitude and in abundance of water.
LA SIERRA HEIGHTS, adjoining as it does and being point to point in quality an identical duplicate of the great Riverside orange and lemon district, is destined to become as it is developed, like Riverside, one of the greatest, if not the greatest, producing markets in the world. Producing the same superior grade of fruit if not even better quality. The annual gross income from the orange groves in the Riverside district is now $7,000,000. This is on the steady increase. Think what this would mean to you owning the same type of orange and lemon land in LA SIERRA HEIGHTS—in 3, 4 or 5 years, a 10-acre orange grove, for example, yielding $500 or $1000 or even more an acre—(depending on their care.)

BELATED SNOWSTORM BRINGS MUCH SUFFERING TO CHICAGOANS.

Cold Increases With Nightfall and Frost Is Predicted. Fruit Raisers Throughout Middle West Fear Heavy Damage—Wheat Is Threatened—Great Lakes Lashed by High Winds.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A belated snowstorm, accompanied by bleak winds, struck Chicago today and intensified the misery of the population already suffering from damaged dispositions, bad colds, sore throats and wet feet, accumulated in the last few days of capricious weather.

This was a typical March day, with snowstorms, rain, brilliant sunshine, clouds, winds and rapid changes in the temperature. The last snow in May, prior to today, was on May 3, 1907, when 1.3 inches fell. The belated "Beautiful" began to fall in dense wet flakes at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and the temperature lowered rapidly. Within an hour the sun was shining brightly, dispelling the snow.

With evening, however, came colder winds and the government prognosticators said there would be heavy frost tonight.

It is feared that the frost of this morning and tonight will work havoc with the fruit prospects and may also injure wheat and other crops. Wheat jumped 4 cents at the close of the market this afternoon. Dispatches from the fruit belts of Southern Illinois indicate that the frost has done much damage there.

BOATS SEEK HARBOR.

The high winds lashed the Great Lakes into such a fury that boats were sent rapidly scurrying for a safe harbor.

Snow from yesterday's storm still blankets portions of the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Heavy snow is also reported as covering the fields in Western Canada.

The entire northern half of the West awoke today to a calm and sunshiny day and took stock of the damage done by the boisterous May frost, which extended across into Kansas and Iowa, where heavy damage to orchards and early vegetation was reported. In Eastern Nebraska considerable damage was done to fruit and truck farms.

The damage to the lower portion of Illinois was lessened by the fact that there were clouds and high winds for the greater part of the night.

CYCLONE IN NEW YORK.

In New York State a full-fledged cyclone swept several towns, doing much damage. At Hinsdale, New York, a boy was killed and scores of dwellings were wrecked. From New York to Rochester there was but one telegraph wire working in the early hours of today.

At Ithaca a hailstorm caused much damage. At Syracuse several houses were blown down and the city was in darkness all night. In Southwestern New York the wind attained hurricane violence.

Reports from Galesburg, Ill., said thermometers stood at 29 degrees in the morning. Early garden stuff was annihilated. Fruit prospects, it was said, are completely gone.

MISSOURIANS SPEND NIGHT FIGHTING COLD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Mo.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hundreds of men, women and children spent a sleepless night last night in what many believe to have been a vain effort to save the fruit crop of Southern Missouri. Fruit growers who were fortunate in having their orchards equipped with smudge pots kept the crude oil burning from dusk last night to sunrise this morning in the hope of warming the air around the peach and apple trees.

Reports from many sections of the Ozark country today regarding the outlook are discouraging, though fruit growers say they will be unable to estimate the damage for several days. The temperature over the northern half of the great fruit belt last night was lower than at Kansas City and St. Louis. In many places the mercury fell to 30 degrees. One-eighth of an inch of ice formed and all vegetables bore a heavy coat of frost this morning.

While the frost itself was of the killing kind the greatest damage will result from the severe freeze.

Following the frost warnings sent broadcast through Southern Missouri yesterday by the Weather Bureau, the big fruit growers began assemblying all the available men to combat the cold. The big Hazeltine apple orchard, west of here in which have been placed 6400 crude oil burners, probably is safe, though a large force of men had a hard time keeping the smoke around the trees, owing to the changing of the wind.

The greatest damage was done in the orchards of growers who cannot afford to buy the heating devices. Hundreds of farmers made huge bonfires, choosing the side of the orchard where the wind would drive the smoke through the trees. Trainmen coming in today reported seeing thousands of such fires dotting the hills and valleys. Many big strawberry fields are believed to have been saved by the use of straw which was strewn over the plants.

Another desperate effort will be made tonight by the fruit growers, as the weather bureau predicts another freeze and killing frost. Where systematic smudging was resorted to last night the temperature in the orchards was warmed from two to six degrees.

The orchards, at the Kansas State Agricultural College, at Manhattan, Kan., in which fire pots were used last night suffered no damage. Outside of this area in the opinion of the horticultural department, the fruit was killed.

Dramatic.

GRIM JOHN DIETZ ACTS AS HIS OWN COUNSEL IN COURT FIGHT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

HAYWARD (Wis.) May 2.—John F. Dietz, his wife, and son, Leslie Dietz, were placed on trial here today before Judge Alexander H. Reid in the Circuit Court. They are charged jointly with having shot and killed Oscar Harp, a deputy sheriff, who was one of the posse which besieged the Dietz cabin at Cameron dam on Thornapple River last October, and who was found dead after a gun fight with the Dietz family.

There were several warrants out for John Dietz, who for a number of years had defied the officers. The trouble grew out of a dispute with the Chippewa Boom and Lumber Company, which built a dam in the Thornapple River near the Dietz homestead. The flood waters, Dietz claimed, damaged his land. He claimed he could not negotiate a satisfactory arrangement with the company and he destroyed the dam and held up a large cut of logs for a year or more. The company was obliged to haul the logs off with teams.

When court opened, the Illinois Surety Company of Milwaukee and the indemnitors who reinsured Dietz's $40,000 bond announced that they declined longer to be responsible for Dietz and he was given into the custody of Sheriff Fred Clark.

The bonds of the other members of the Dietz family have not been revoked.

There was no attorney for the defense, Dietz conducting his own case.

When the court asked Dietz if he wanted a lawyer Dietz said no, and added:

"I might as well tell you I haven't any too much faith in lawyers, since one told Myra that the lumber company had 100 witnesses to impeach her testimony, and we would have to fight the devil with the devil's club."

In the examination of jurors Dietz repeatedly asked them if they would be influenced against him and his family by what he called the despotism of the so-called lumber trust.

ATTACK UPON AROSEMENA.

in Panama City that a clerical fanatic had taken this method of attempting to rid the Liberals of their chief support. Standing alone, the Conservatives seem to have no chance to regain the power they lost when Obaldia secured every electoral vote by grace of American interference. The only seeming danger to the Liebrals is that a split may develop.

A hot fight for the Liberal nomination is already in sight. In addition to Dr. Arosemena, the candidates are Frederico Boyd, Vide-President and Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Dr. D. Belisaro Porrels, Minister to Washington.

Constitutional inhibition would seem to be in the way of Acting President Arosemena, but it is said he can overcome this by resigning six months before the election.

JOKES ABOUT ATTACK.

No one thinks of connecting the attempt upon Arosemena's life with any man of recognized standing or with any revolutionary movement, although the latter was the first thought in many minds. The members of the clergy without exception have denounced the assault, and the men of all political creeds have taken the same stand.

The President seems little the worse for his experience. He was heard to express laughing comments upon the attack and made the joking assertion that if the assassin had waited a very few years he might have been spared the ignominy of trying to kill the nation's chief executive.

Still, despite his seventy-four years, Arosemena is a man of remarkable activity and bids fair to be a powerful competitor in the race for the presidency.

HOTEL FOR BAKERSFIELD.

Hostelry to Cost a Quarter of a Million Dollars Is Said to be Planned By Capitalists.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That Bakersfield is soon to have a $250,000 hotel the equal in construction and equipment of any in the interior of the State is a report generally credited although none of the parties interested, including H. H. Jastro, general manager of the Kern County Land Company and F. W. Tegeler, proprietor of the Southern Hotel, will confirm it.

According to the report, the hotel is to be located at the northwest corner of Nineteenth and G streets, half a block from the site selected for the new Federal postoffice building and on the same block where the Bakersfield Club is preparing to erect a $60,000 clubhouse.

The hotel, according to the plan, is to be five stories in height with a roof-garden, heating, lighting and refrigerating plants. The plans for the Bakersfield Club have been drawn and work is to be begin within the next six weeks.

MAY ASK TOKIO TO EXPLAIN.

Uncle Sam Learns That Japanese of High Rank From Mikado's Navy Served as Steward on Warship.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GALVESTON (Tex.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If Isay Hito, a Japanese, who was employed on United States warships as a steward, is an officer in the Japanese navy as reported, Tokio may have to explain to Uncle Sam.

Through telegrams exchanged between Hito, who quit the service some four or five months ago, and returned to Japan, and another Japanese employed on the cruiser Salem, it was discovered that Hito holds a command in the Japanese navy equivalent to captain or commander in the United States navy. He was an unusually bright Japanese and enjoyed a clear record in his several years' service in the United States navy.

OHIO LEGISLATIVE SCANDAL.

your newspapers any day and you will see where some ministers of the gospel go wrong. Yet, neither you nor I would say that all ministers are bad as a consequence. We have not yet begun to open up our evidence to the grand jury. This will take at least a week. When it all comes out there will be loud yelpings from the legislators who are guilty."

Detective A. C. Bailey of the Burns agency took up the entire morning with his testimony, and is to be recalled later to tell more.

State Printer Edward Crawford went before the grand jury this afternoon to tell, it is said, of an offer of $500 to him to swing legislation relating to Judge Blair's section. Atty.-Gen. Hogan said this afternon that there is positive proof tnat fifty of the legislators were crooked and that the evidence before the court now will send at least half of these to the State Penitentiary.

LEGISLATORS SEEK AN IMMUNITY BATH IN VAIN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

COLUMBUS (O.) May 2.—Ohio legislators, who hoped by testifying before the grand jury now investigating bribery in the Assembly, to escape conviction by means of an immunity bath were disappointed today when Prosecuting Attorney Turner and Att.-Gen. Hogan refused to accept their testimony.

Other immunity baths were headed off today when an investigation by a Legislative committee was deferred until after the grand jury finishes its work.

The House Calendar Committee, of which Dr. George B. Nye, one of the early central figures in the bribery disclosures, was an active member, practically went out of existence today. The Republican and Democratic floor leaders, Representatives Langdon and Russel, respectively, first said they would resign from the committee unless Dr. Nye and one other quit at once.

The two threatened members declined, but later all of the seven members save Dr. Nye turned in their resignations to the House.

Then ensued a wrangle as to whether the House was in any way responsible for the personnel of the committee which was named by the Speaker. The House adjourned without definite action.

Representative Greeves introduced a bill to make it mandatory upon judges to give legislators convicted of bribery a penitentiary sentence. Under present statutes they can be let off with fines.

It was asserted today that money Dr. Nye said he had received as bribes and which he turned over to Speaker Vining was not in the same denomination of marked bills as those which detectives asserted they paid to the doctor.

Speaker Vining did not open the envelope which Dr. Nye turned over to him, he said, but put the package intact in the House clerk's safe. It was opened in the presence of Gov. Harmon.

COUNTIES GET RAILROAD TAX.

Out of Total of $2,161,857.19 Collected By State, $42,704 Goes To Los Angeles—Other Southern Divisions.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The total amount of taxes collected from the railroads of the State for 1910 was $2,161,857.19, of which the various counties received $1,704,114.10 and the State $457,743.08.

There was one delinquent, The Ocean Shore Railway Company, which failed to pay its taxes, amounting to $1368.52.

The second installment of the taxes has been paid into the office of the State Controller during the past month. Warrants were drawn today by that officer in favor of the counties for their share of the taxes collected. The amount that goes to the counties for the second installment is $833,832.66.

San Francisco county receives only $3030, while Los Angeles gets $42,704. The shares of other southern counties are as follows: Imperial, $19,138; Inyo, $5732; Kern, $30,000; Kings, $9573; Orange, $16,402; Riverside, $31,746; San Bernardino, $73,839; San Diego, $15,918; Santa Barbara, $20,925; Ventura, $19,060.

SMALL ECONOMY FOR BIG RESULT.

RAILROADS ASK EMPLOYEES TO WATCH PENNIES.

System Would Make Dollars Grow Where None Grew Before—Careful Attention to Little Details Expected to Result in Material Reductions in Expenses.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Economies in small matters" is the slogan along the lines of the Rock Island and Pennsylvania railroads as a result of the adoption of a policy to encourage employees to save time and material whenever opportunity offers.

A nickel a day in the caption of an appeal that has been made to all the employees on the Rock Island lines to take advantage of every chance to reduce outlays of money. The Pennsylvania likewise has issued a circular pointing out that if each employee could save 10 cents a day for the company, the total would amount to a huge sum.

The statement of the Rock Island to its army of employees includes the following suggestions:

A small saving by each employee spells prosperity.

Prosperity hires more men and pays better wages than hard times.

Office men can reduce unnecessary wires and correspondence, saving stationery and postage.

Train and yard crews watching every move and not wasting time will do their share.

Enginemen can easily use a few less shovelsful of coal and make a better showing.

Everyone can help and some can help others.

"The necessity for reduction in expenses at this time is very urgent," reads the request sent out by the Pennsylvania. "In addition to the exercise of the strictest economy in the use of material by all employees, the working time should be watched very carefully by trainmen and enginemen to avoid overtime whenever possible.

"Remember the old adage, 'What is everybody's business is nobody's business,' and let each employee make it his personal business to join this laudable one for the company."

Labor.

GIRDS UP LOINS FOR LONG FIGHT.

Pennsylvania Railroad Not to Bow to Unionism.

Ten Thousand Workers Obey Call to Quit.

Strikers Ask Women Cleaners to Keep on the Job.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) May 2.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is pushing preparations adequate to withstand a long strike.

With 10,000 men already out, according to union estimates, among carmen, boiler men, machinists and allied trades, because of alleged discrimination against men active in union ranks, the union leaders continued to hold meetings at shop points along the division, but the results are not made public.

Good order continues and strike leaders announce it will continue. The municipal council of Pitcairn, where the largest repair shops outside of Altoona are located, has selected a force of men from which the strikers have picked thirty men to act as special policemen. These will not be uniformed, but will be provided with badges and will be held responsible for the conduct of the strikers.

The railroad company began the construction of bunks in the Pitcairn shops, and the organization of a commissary and restaurant.

Inducements offered by the railroad company to men working at Altoona are viewed with some apprehension by the strikers.

The Altoona men have been given ten hours work a week extra and it is feared this will keep many of them at work.

The strikers discouraged the women car cleaners from organizing and striking.

TO COLONIZE CATHOLICS.

Priests in Session at St. Louis Form Organization for Betterment of Immigrants.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Catholic Colonization Society of the United States is the name of an organization formed today by twenty-six priests of the Catholic church, who are holding a two days' conference at the Southern Hotel. Archbishop Glennon, who is presiding at the conference, said that the organization was formed in order to foster, concentrate and direct Catholic colonization in the United States and to act as a central body for the local Catholic bureau.

The society will also co-operate with the national racial societies, where the same are in accord with local diocesan authorities. The Rev. E. J. Vatmann of Chicago was appointed secretary.

"There are annually over 1,000,000 immigrants who come into the United States," said Archbishop Glennon. "Of this number 700,000 are Catholics, two-thirds of whom are farmers. It is better to lead these people to farms than let them settle in the cities, which are already congested. By the natural environment of the farm they will be able to build up a more uniform civilization.

"The organization will also endeavor to induce those who are already in the cities to settle on farms. They are tied down by industrialism and would be better off in the country, where they could live more intelligently and with more fixity of home life. This is to be one of the means of solving the social problem."

Among the committeemen selected on membership was Father H. Eummelin of San Diego, Cal.

FREIGHT HANDLERS STRIKE.

Two Hundred Attempt To Tie Up Two Railroads For Refusal To Recognize Their Union.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Col.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] About 200 freight handlers employed by the Union Pacific, Col., and Southern and Rio Grande went on strike at the end of their day's work last night, as result of the discharge by the companies of about fifty men for joining the Freight Handlers' Union. The Burlington road, which also discharged nine men, is not affected, having reinstated those discharged.

National Organizer Beaumont is in Denver to conduct the strike and says that the freight handlers from one end to the other of the three systems will be called out unless the roads recede from the position they have taken in opposition to the organization.

There was no congestion of freight as the result of the strike and the roads claim that all of the positions left by the strikers have been filled. This is denied by the strikers, who claim that seventy-five strike-breakers joined the union today and went out.

ATTORNEYS' HOPES DASHED.

Counsel for Oberlin M. Carter May Not Get Huge Fee Expected; Court Refuses to Tie Up Fund.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today dashed any hopes of counsel for Oberlin M. Carter, former goverment engineer for large fees, by declaring that $20,000 was a sufficient allowance. The attorneys sought to have tied up $208,000 that there might be sufficient funds on hand to pay their fees and expenses. Specifically, they wanted this fund to be tied pending further order of court. They received such an order in the trial court.

Horace G. Stone and Nathaniel C. Sears are counsel in the court of appeals and Senator Foraker and John B. Daish are counsel in the United States Supreme Court.

A ruling was given on an appeal from an order directing the receiver in West Virginia and in Illinois to retain possession of money and property in their hands until further order of court.

There is about $8000 in Illinois and about $200,000 in West Virginia.

TWO KILLED IN WRECK.

HINTON (W. Va.) May 2.—Two persons were killed and four others were hurt through the derailment of Chesapeake and Ohio railway passenger train No. 3 in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains, ten miles from here. The known dead are Engineer Pitcher and Fireman Richie, both of Huntington, W. Va. The injured were express messengers and postal clerks. The cause of the accident is not known here.

MEXICO.

can border towns. Consequent upon these warnings many American families are coming across the border.

The situation along the Southern Pacific lines in Mexico, which parallel the western coast for many hundreds of miles to the southward, is grave. Trains are running on these lines only as far south as Navojoa, a hundred miles south of Guaymas, and Pullman cars are being run only as far as the latter place. All railroad connections, south from Navajoa, are broken, and there is no way of reaching the many important ports that line the coast. All wire communication is interrupted to the southward, and only the smallest scraps of information concerning the real situation are obtainable.

From these small indications it seems certain that the rebels are overrunning almost the whole of Sinaloa, taking town after town, and that the situation in the southern and western parts of Sonora is almost as bad. Many Americans are in Sinaloa, south of the point where real communication now reaches.

Heavy fighting at La Colorada, a rich mining camp about thirty miles southeast of Hermosillo, the capital of Sonora, is reported by passengers crossing the border today from the west coast of Mexico. The reports, which come through rebel sources, say that the Federals were again driven from the camp, which was captured once before by the insurrectos, and afterwards retaken by the Federals.

Further news brought by passengers arriving from the west coast say that twenty-five Federals were killed at Otates. The rebels ambushed the government troops, while the latter were engaged in escorting a wealthy farmer to his ranch near Magdalena. The insurrectos opened fire without warning, killing nearly all the Federals at the first volley. The survivors were unable to escape and only two or three of them succeeded finally in getting away. The farmer, who the troops were escorting, is reported to have been fatally wounded. He was cared for by the insurrectos.

Other reports say that Luis Estrella, learning that the rebels were ten miles south of Magdalena, gathered thirty volunteers, and asked permission of Col. Kosterlitzky of the Mexican Rurales to pursue the band. Permission was refused, and Estrella carried his request to Gen. Torres, who granted it. With his little band, Estrella left in the direction of Cucurpe.

Only two of them returned to Magdalena, the rest being either killed; wounded or hiding for their lives in the mountains. Estrella's horse was shot, and he himself had a narrow escape. It is thought that the rebel force was composed of about fifty men. Estrella was formerly Comisario of Cucurpe, and because of his being accused of the shooting of several men, charged with petty offenses, was unpopular with the people.

EIGHTEEN ARRESTS AT GUADALAJARA MADE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

GUADALAJARA (Mex.) May 1. (via El Paso, Tex., May 2.)—Eighteen arrests have been made here in connection with the conspiracy to capture the city for the insurrectos. A quantity of dynamite and a number of bombs were captured. Among those arrested were Roberto and Miguel Monraz and Benjamin Camacho, well-known business men.

AMERICANS ANXIOUS TO JOIN REBEL ARMY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) May 2.—Four non-commissioned officers and a private discharged here today from the Tenth Infantry, U.S.A., at Fort Sam Houston, it is announced in a local paper, today, will spend their vacation of three months, or until the period for re-enlistment expires, with the insurrecto army, if they are accepted by Francisco I. Madero, Jr. They are Sergeants Harry Willis and E. F. Wargil, Corporals Edward McCloskey and Thomas H. Meyers and Private Charles Hoar.

FEDERALS RECAPTURE THE CITY OF OJINAGA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MEXICO CITY, May 2.—The town of Ojinaga, under siege by rebels for over a month, was relieved and occupied by Federal troops today according to official dispatches received here. Caught between the forces of Gen. Luque, who has been holding the town, and Gen. Manuel Gordillo Escudero, who marched from Chihuahua to its relief, the rebels made their last stand, losing many men, according to the report.

At 10 o'clock this morning, the column of Gen. Escudero marched into Ojinaga and with that of Gen. Luque will guard the place.

FALL OF TORREON MAY COME AT ANY MOMENT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHIHUAHUA (Mex.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Advices received here tonight tell of continued revolutionary activities in the States of Durango and Coahuila, the capture of Lerdo and Gomez Palacio in the immediate vicinity of Torreon, and of the taking of San Pedro where the revolutionary leaders have established headquarters.

The fall of Torreon is reported as imminent.

A large number of insurrectos is about the city and residents are urging them to attack.

In the cities of Durango, Parral and Zacatecas conditiois are critical, Chihuahua's isolated railroad and telegraph service being intermittent.

The southern revolutionists claim the war is social as well as political and say that peace with Diaz still in power would be unpopular and result in suppressing the revolution only in spots.

Railroad men assert that unless the outhern revolutionaries are suppressed the whole interior will soon be tied up.

HALL FOR HISTORICAL RELICS.

National Congress of Sons of American Revolution Proposes Erection of Structure in Washington.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) May 2.—Col. George A. Armes, U.S.A., retired, at today's session of the National Congress of the Sons of the American Revolution, introduced a resolution providing for the erection of a great memorial hall in which historical relics may be preserved. Definite action on Col. Ames's resolution will be taken before the congress closes.

The time of convening the regular congress was changed from April 30, as heretofore, to the third Monday in May of each year.

PLANNING PARK ALONG ARROYO.

Crown City Anxious for a Beauty Spot.

Will Acquire Some Land by Condemnation.

Their Beautification Will Naturally Follow Soon.

(Office of The Times, 26 S. Raymond avenue.)

PASADENA, May 2.—The success of the bridge bonds at last week's bond election and the failure of the bonds to buy city parks has served to again start a movement to make a great natural park in the Arroyo Seco, extending from Devil's Gate on the north to the south city limits.

The bond election entered into the matter intwo ways. In the first place the building of the bridge will make one of the most beautiful spots along the arroyo from the mountains to the center of Los Angeles. Had the bonds carried for the Carmelita and Monk's Hill site it would have cost the city $121,000. It is now being urged by those who are behind the movement to take that amount of money or even half of it and fix up a beautiful park along the arroyo, a park which would be both artistic and a natural beauty spot to be visited and admired by tourists from every point of the globe.

Mayor Thum has been asked to meet with the Los Angeles Park Commission in a few days and go over their plans for an extension of the proposed Arroyo Park. In other words that commission is now working on a proposition to park the arroyo from the center of Los Angeles clear up the mountains. It is known that Mayor Thum, personally, is in favor of such a plan. It is believed that South Pasadena will readily join.

There is also a movement to consolidate South Pasadena with Los Angeles during this year and those who are working on that matter have given assurances that the consolidation will surely take place. Should that come about Los Angeles will own Arroyo Park as far north as Columbia street.

The next four blocks are owned by Adolphus Busch and on north to California street Los Angeles would have a half interest.

As to Pasadena's portion, an ordinance of intention was passed at Monday's session of the City Council condemning a strip of land along Arroyo Seco from the Busch gardens to California street. This will give Pasadena the ownership that far. From that point to north of the Linda Vista bridge, which is just north of the site where the beautiful new $250,000 reinforced concrete bridge will be built, the land is owned, for the most part, by the West Side Water Company.

Mayor Thum has a proposition under way to buy the water companies, which deal will give all of that land to the city for park purposes. As a matter of fact, there will remain but a small portion of the Arroyo Seco to be bought. If the park proposition goes through, as is now being outlined, it is believed the city will be justified in condemning the balance of the arroyo for park purposes.

With these conditions in mind, and with the general enthusiasm existing in favor of such a plan, it looks to those who are behind the proposition like business and a great natural park way many miles long may be realized at no distant date.

NEW MAYOR GETS TWISTER.

Much of the time was taken up by the new Council yesterday trying to unravel a knotty problem which it is feared the city has tangled. Crouch & Crouch, Los Angeles attorneys, appeared before the Council in the interest of their client, S. M. Kerns who, a few weeks ago, was the successful bidder to construct the proposed conduit along South Orange Grove avenue, into which all the electrical wiring of that section is to be placed. In order to provide for this contingency, City Attorney Carr last fall spent many weeks in drafting an ordinance which he stated "would hold water." It provided that the property along Orange Grove avenue should be bonded to build the conduit which should be used free by the city for its electric-lighting wires and to be rented to the other public service corporations at an annual rental which is to go into the city treasury.

The ordinance was passed, plans and specifications drawn for the improvement and bids advertised for. Kerns and a number of other contractors put in bids and Kerns's bid of $33,500 was accepted. It was stated in the Council that Kerns then found out that he had bid too low and wanted to "back out." Kerns denied the allegation but stated, personally and through his attorneys that the ordinance is illegal and that if he does the work he cannot get his money and will have to go to jail. He also states that the specifications provide for seventy-one manholes which are smaller than that specified in the new State law, which went into effect just a few days ago, in fact since the bids were advertised and accepted, but before the contract for the work was signed.

Kerns and his attorneys, yesterday, asked to have his guarantee money returned. He also stated the ordinance is class legislation and that it is illegal to assess property owners along any certain street for the building of a conduit which is to be used free by the city, and to be rented to public service corporations the rental for which goes into the city treasury for the benefit of the whole city.

In other words Kerns found a large loop-hole and jumped through but reached his hand back to get his money and was caught by the City Attorney, who states that he can patch the thing up and that Kerns should not be allowed to escape. It is generally believed that Kerns has a valid excuse for not signing up to do the work and that the city will, eventually, have to refund him his money and readvertise in accordance with the old law. However, Kerns states that if the property owners along Orange Grove avenue will guarantee that he will get his money he will go ahead with his work, otherwise he will not and will begin suit against the city.

Mayor Thum and the Council were inclined to agree with the City Attorney and the attorney stands pat. The City Attorney drew up a motion, which was introduced and carried, to "patch up" the contract by allowing the City Engineer to expend $500 to provide for the big manholes required by the new law, but Kerns stands by his guns and says that if any part of the original specifications is changed it will change the entire matter. He declared that the City Attorney cannot force him to sign a contract specifications for which have been changed from the original.

MAKE APPOINTMENTS.

Mayor Thum yesterday appointed Dr. Stanley P. Black to the position of City Health Inspector, and Miss Anna L. Meeker as a member of the library board. He also appointed his Council committees. Park Commissioner Nash resigned his position. A number of the appointive city officials spent a nervous forenoon yesterday expecting they would receive appointments to their old jobs, but there was "nothing doing." It begins to look to them as if there may be a good many changes. It is believed Mayor Thum is busy looking for some one to appoint and is retaining the old ones until he can find the right parties. It is believed that if he intends to retain the old officials he would have made the appointments yesterday.

On recommendation of Mayor Thum a new commission was created to be known as the "City Farm Commission," to consist of five tried and true farmers who are willing to serve without salary and to make a written report every three months on the condition of things "down on the farm."

NEWS BREVITIES.

Prof. Rockwell D. Hunt of University of Southern California delivered a lecture at the High School yesterday on the early history of California. His entire talk was on the two years of history which was made from the signing of the treaty of peace between Mexico and the United States and the admission of California into the Union, which period he designated as the period of no government.

The lawsuit of the Humane Society against the Pasadena Electric Transfer, whereby the former charged the latter with inhumanely treating a team of horses, occupied all day in Justice Klamroth's court yesterday. The jury acquitted the defendant.

At a meeting of the directors of the Tournament of Roses Association last night, Edward T. Off formally accepted the position of president for the ensuing year.

It was announced last night that the California State Homeopathic Medical Society will hold its annual meeting at the Hotel Maryland from May 10 to May 14. Arrangements have been made for entertaining a large number of delegates.

Arrangements were completed yesterday for running a special train to San Diego May 27 to carry about 300 Pasadena people who will go to that city to attend a performance of Kirmess.

Purd B. Wright, formerly librarian of Los Angeles, who is a member of the Executive Board of the National Library Association, came to Pasadena yesterday, where he will stay until after the big convention of librarians from May 18 to May 24. He will have charge of all the arrangements.

The directors of the Board of Trade held a meeting yesterday afternoon and decided on the evening of May 9 for the annual banquet of the Board of Trade. The Rev. Dr. D. F. Fox, pastor of the First Congregational Church, will act as toastmaster.

PALMS MERCHANT PASSES AWAY.

Was Widely Known and Held in High Esteem On Account of Personal Excellencies.

PALMS, May 2.—Jesus Saenz, one of the oldest, most widely known and most highly respected of the Spanish-speaking population of Palms, died here at 1 o'clock this morning, after a short illness, although he had been in feeble health for a number of years.

He was born in Mexico about sixty-seven years ago, but came to this country in his early youth, and while thoroughly American in thought and spirit, was never lacking in his intercourse with his fellow-man in that courtesy and consideration so characteristic of his race.

At the time of his death, and for several years prior thereto, Mr. Saenz was engaged in the mercantile business, being the senior member of the firm of Saenz & Son., general merchants, at First and Washington street. A widow, three daughters and one son survive him.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The remains of William Mutaw, a civil engineer, well known in Arizona, Nevada and Utah, arrived here yesterday, and were interred in the Santa Monica Cemetery. The deceased was 35 years of age, and unmarried. His mother lives at Santa Monica, but during the period of his adolescence he was a member of the household of his uncle, J. J. Chapman, of this place. His body was shipped here from Las Vegas, Nev., at which place he died.

The boys of the seventh grade in the Palms grammar school have organized a baseball club to play a nine made up of the eighth graders, who are contesting for the championship of a league, the constituent clubs of which come from the eighth grades of the Venice, Santa Monica, Ocean Park, Sawtelle and Palms grammar schools. The chances of success for the Palms contestants may be fairly guessed when it is told that so far the would-be champions have had to yield three games out of four to the "kids."

AZUSA NOTES.

AZUSA, May 2.—The trustees of the Presbyterian Church have ordered, through the George J. Birkel Company of Los Angeles, an eight-stop Estey pipe organ to be installed by September 1, at a cost of $2500.

The City Trustees voted to extend the electric light in the northwest part of town. The Superintendent of Water was also authorized to furnish water free for building purposes, and to make no charge until the actual work of construction is finished.

The rocks of Azusa have long been an eyesore to herself and a source of amusement to her friends. Now she will take advantage of the opportunity to get rid of them. The R. B. Davisson Company, in charge of street construction work now being done here, has established a rock-crusher in town and will gather and haul the rocks free of charge. But the supply of rocks in the riverbed will never be exhausted so long as there is a river to bring a fresh supply down from the canyon every year. At present the four crushers just west of town cannot supply the demand for crushed rock, though one of them is going day and night.

Long Beach.

AVIATOR FALLS; WRECKS MACHINE

Darius Green of Strand Hurtles to Earth.

Aeroplane Is Reduced to a Mass of Splinters.

Daring Young Inventor Will Try It Again.

LONG BEACH, May 2.—H. J. French, a young inventor, who, with his brother has been engaged in building an aeroplane on his own designs came to grief this morning while making a trial trip of the machine on the beach near his home on East Ocean avenue, and fell a distance of about fifty feet, demolishing the machine and getting pretty badly bruised up himself.

An engine was installed yesterday and the airship taken to the beach this morning. The machine was started east and, to the delight of the brothers, rose after traveling 200 feet and flew several hundred feet answering readily the steering gear, which in this machine is placed in the extreme bow instead of at the rear. Fearing he was getting too far over the ocean young French swung the head of the machine in shore and striking a current of air the southern wing was tipped over and the machine plunged to the earth a mass of splintered wood and twisted wire. The fact that the engine was situated far in the rear of the machine is all that saved young French from being crushed to death.

An examination of the plane showed it was damaged beyond repair and the inventors will have to build a new one. One of the reasons for the accident is that the engine used was not the one intended for the machine and had to be placed a foot closer to the bow, thus affecting the poise. French, though it was his first attempt, is not discouraged and says he seemed to have had the machine under perfect control, and if he had been higher in the air could have avoided the land current which caused the disaster. He says the accident was due entirely to his inexperience.

The new board after some minor matters of routine, adjourned until today when they met to consider the appointment of teachers for the district for the coming year. There are over 200 applications on file of new teachers, but present indications are there will be few vacancies. The list of teachers will probably be ready the latter part of the week.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The launch Camiguin returning last night from a deep sea trip, sighted a monster black whale in the channel. Capt. Loop fired a bomb and struck the whale but evidently did not injure it seriously as it dived and was not seen again.

Dan Gridley, son of Councilman Gridley, with a force of fourteen men, leaves Thursday morning for St. Michaels, Alaska, at the head of the Yukon River to supervise some dredging operations on the river for the North American Dredging Company.

Miss Iva Shepard, former leading woman of the Bentley, and now employed at Edendale for a moving picture company, is laid up with severe injuries sustained while making a leap of twelve feet in a fire scene. She alighted on the edge of a rock and fell, breaking her leg in three places and fracturing an ankle.

The basketball girls of the High School today received their championship pennant in honor of their victory this year in the league. Long Beach has won six successive championships. The banner will be formally presented the last of the week.

A. E. Eastman is having plans drawn for a four-story apartment house on the beach at the foot of American avenue to cost about $30,000. It will be either of brick or reinforced concrete.

SEWER NEARLY COMPLETED.

Hollywood Pleased Over Connection of Trunk to Outfall—Branch of the Y.M.C.A. Is Wanted.

HOLLYWOOD, May 2.—Indications are that contracts for the trunk sewer connecting this territory with the outfall sewer may be let by or before July next. This will be welcome news to residents. The lack of sewers has not thus far led to serious effects on the public health from the fact that few, if any, of the families use well water; still there has been general apprehension of the serious need for sewers. Preparatory work for the trunk sewer, which has been going on steadily since the consolidation of Hollywood with Los Angeles, is now practically finished.

NEWS NOTES.

Considerable business of importance was presented before the Hollywood Board of Trade Monday night, but unfortunately formal action was delayed for lack of a quorum. Dr. Snyder, principal of the High School, appeared to urge a renewal of the effort to establish a branch of the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A. in Hollywood. The matter was referred to A. Z. Taft, who was chairman of the committee which did considerable work on this proposition about one year ago.

Col. J. J. Steadman of the Los Angeles Board of Education stated some of the local needs for school buildings, and asked the Board of Trade to take active interest in getting out the Hollywood vote at the school bond election to be held June 6.

Notice was given that the Los Angeles City Council would be out next Saturday to inspect Mocohuenga Canyon and the western part of Griffith Park.

A communication from Manager Shoup of the Pacific Electric to the effect that the 5-cent commutation books for his territory were ready for use pending approval by the State Railway Commission was filed.

Only automobiles followed the automobile hearse, in which the body of Mrs. H. Carroll Brown, daughter of the late Marcus Daly, the Montana copper king, was borne to the grave yesterday in New York. As the long procession filed its dusty way from Mrs. Marcus Daly's house in Fifth avenue to Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, it drew comment on every side.

INTUITION SAVES A LIFE.

Woman's Psychic Superiority Proved by Act of a Long Beach Mother.

LONG BEACH, May 2.—Fearing that her husband might trip while descending the steps leading from the Auditorium to the beach, Mrs. Joseph Sellers took her baby from the carriage and carried it in her arms.

Her intuition was correct, for Sellers, carrying the buggy, tripped on the second step and fell headlong, landing on the cement walk with the buggy underneath, completely wrecked. Had the tiny babe been an occupant it would have been killed.

Pomona.

DELIBERATE IN VOTE COUNTING.

ELECTION OFFICIALS WORK ALL NIGHT ON BALLOTS.

Matthews Has a Safe Plurality and Preston J. Tarr Defeats W. T. Fleming by Six Votes—New Officials Will Take Charge of City Affairs May 9.

POMONA, May 2.—It was early this morning when the counting of the votes cast in yesterday's election was completed, the Second Ward, where 544 votes were polled, being the last to report.

The most closely contested office was that of Councilman from the First Ward, the result being the defeat of present City Trustee W. T. Fleming by his opponent, Preston J. Tarr, by the narrow margin of six votes.

The battle centered in the Second Ward, where 544 out of the 1568 ballots cast were polled. Here was Mr. Matthews's stronghold and it was thought until three o'clock this morning that Mr. Fleming would gain enough votes in that precinct to elect him. The present board of City Trustees will meet in final session Tuesday, May 9, the business of the old regime completed and the newly elected officials formally inducted into office. This will start the wheels of the municipal machinery of the new form of modern government by which the affairs of the city will be run. The operation of the new charter will be watched with interest. Mayor-elect Matthews is a former City Trustee and having resided here for twenty-two years knows the needs of the city and its citizens and should make a conscientious and capable Mayor. The new administration declares itself unalterably opposed to the liquor traffic in every form and stands for the business conduct of civic affairs by conservative and progressive, men free from class prejudice or personal control.

GRIFFIN FUNERAL.

Herman Griffin, for twenty-one years a resident here and brother of the late O. F. Griffin, died at the Tavern this morning from heart failure, at the age of 82 years. Mr. Griffin had many friends here, being possessed of a genial nature. He was born in Ogdensburg, N. Y., and came to California in 1852, passing many years of his life in mining operations in Central California. He is survived by a son who is here from San Francisco.

Funeral services were held this afternoon from W. B. Todd's chapel, Rev. Albert P. Davis officiating. Mrs. O. F. Griffin, sister-in-law, and Mrs. E. B. Tufts of Los Angeles, niece of the deceased, were here to attend the funeral.

The death of Mrs. L. D. Van Arnum, wife of Rev. L. D. Van Arnum, pastor of the First Methodist Church, occurred at the family home early this morning after an illness of some months. The deceased came to Southern California from Troy, N. Y., for the benefit of her health in 1903. Besides a widower, Mrs. Van Arnum leaves two sons and a daughter. Funeral services will probably be held Thursday afternoon from the church, Rev. F. D. Mather of Pasadena officiating.

WOMEN TO PRESENT A FARCE.

Members of Parent-Teachers' Federation at Redondo Beach Will Give Benefit at School Auditorium.

REDONDO BEACH, May 2.—A number of women of the High School Circle of the Parent-Teachers' Federation will give a farce, "How the Story Grew," Thursday evening in the High School auditorium. The play will be given under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Galentine. The cast, which is composed of well-known club women of this city, is as follows: Mrs. W. A. Anderson, Mrs. White; Mrs. E. L. Hills, Mrs. Rice; Mrs. D. W. Kegeris, Mrs. Bean; Mrs. John Steward, Mrs. Snow; Mrs. A. B. Steel, Mrs. Taylor; Mrs. Alice Porter, Mrs. Doolittle; Mrs. B. A. Burlong, Mrs. Brown; Mrs. W. A. Galentine, Mrs. Green.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The Crescent Bay Club will move into its new quarters in the new Hoansler Building on Pacific avenue, from the present quarters in Hotel Redondo, Wednesday. The club will have a large billiard-room on the first floor facing on Commercial street, and a large hall or reception-room on the second floor. New furniture will be purchased for the new clubrooms.

Redondo Aerie, No. 935, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will hold their annual smoker Tuesday evening in the new Crescent Bay Clubrooms. Refreshments, music and speeches are on the programme for the evening.

The Parent-Teachers' Federation will entertain the fathers and mothers of the children of the public schools Friday afternoon, at a picnic, in the Pacific-avenue grove. A big picnic dinner will be served at 12 o'clock. A number of prominent club women of other cities will take part in the programme in the afternoon. Addresses will be made by Prof. C. A. Langworthy, principal of the local High School, Mrs. Myra Miller of Long Beach, Rev. A. C. Welch, pastor of the M. E. Church, Mrs. Harriet William Myers, president of the Southern California Audubon Society, Mrs. E. B. Mapel and Mrs. Katherine Wheat of Los Angeles.

WILL BROADEN THE SPEEDWAY.

Ocean Park Council Instructs City Engineer.

Narrow Roadway Will Not Carry the Traffic.

Daughter's of Confederacy Open Convention.

OCEAN PARK, May 2.—The City Engineer, acting under direction of a resolution recently adopted by the City Trustees, has undertaken the task of writing a legal description for more than 700 separate pieces of property lying on both sides of Trolley way from the city limits on the south to the northern boundary line.

The preparation of these descriptions is preliminary to the starting of condemnation proceedings whereby the city hopes to obtain possession of a narrow strip on either side of the trolley tracks through the city from end to end. The property which the city is planning to purchase is to be converted into a roadway, the purpose of which is to relieve the congestion along Speedway. The resolution declares for the condemnation of strips fifteen feet in width. Should it be possible to accomplish this improvement, the expense woudl be heavy, but as it is planned to have it borne by property scattered throughout a widely distributed assessment district, it is considered that the burden will not fall heavily on any property owner. Speedway at best is but a narrow alley and in building for the future the City Trustees estimate that there will in years to come be a constantly increasing automobile traffic to accommodate.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY.

Local committees announce tonight that all arrangements are completed for a successful session of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at this beach tomorrow. The session is the eleventh annual one and for it an entertaining programme that is to run through two days has been prepared. The convention will open at the Auditorium on the pier at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

After music and a prayer by Rev. B. P. Lee, Mrs. Abbott Kinney will deliver the address of welcome on behalf of Venice. Like addresses on behalf of the John H. Reagan and Robert E. Lee Chapters will be spoken by Mrs. B. A. Davis and Mrs. H. C. Warden, respectively. The response on the part of the delegates will be by Mrs. D. S. Lisberger. There will be reports by the Credentials, Rules and Programme Committees, after which the address by Mrs. Virginia A. Beede, president, will bring the morning gathering to a close.

The afternoon session will be devoted to listening to the reports of the several officers and committees, including the following: Recording secretary, Miss Gertrude Montgomery; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. P. Massie; registrar, Mrs. J. A. Brown; treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Stewart; historian, Mrs. J. Lightcap; Auditing Committee, recorder of the cross, custodian of the flag, Committee on Funds for Veterans, organization and librarians.

The Thursday morning programme will be a continuation of reports, the Committees on Monuments and Cemeteries, Commemorative Services and Finance submitting their statements. There will also be welcome addresses by the Los Angeles and Wade Hampton Chapters.

Election of officers and their presentation will be the feature of the Thursday afternoon programme, which is to include a talk on artistic story telling by Miss F. E. Foote.

OCEAN PARK POINTERS.

The Newberry grocery establishment of Los Angeles is opening a retail business house at the Venice end of the beach and is seeking a central location in the Pier-avenue vicinage for a second store. A site for a third branch is being sought at the northern end of the beach.

R. Ohlf of Los Angeles today sold to Mrs. Gerson Goldsmith for a stated consideration of $16,000 a forty-foot lot on Pier avenue. The improvements on the property consist of a two-story frame building that was among the first business houses to be erected on the sand.

Mrs. Phoebe Downie, aged 59, died this morning at her home on Main street. Deceased, who was a widow, is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Galen Peters and Mrs. Hal Smith, whose homes are here. The body will be taken to Sawtelle for burial tomorrow.

SANTA MONICA SALAD.

F. J. Wagner has been appointed as a member of the City Board of Health, succeeding the late Dr. W. S. Smith. The City Council last night confirmed his appointment.

June 25 is the date selected by the officers of the Santa Monica School Association for a religious rally by the sea. This organization draws its membership from all of the Sunday-schools of the bay district and is non-sectarian. Able speakers will be secured for the affair and a chorus of 200 voices will be one of the features of the meeting. There being no hall large enough to accommodate the delegates expected, two churches will be utilized in which to hold the afternoon and evening meetings.

The members of the Board of Education and representatives of the press have been invited as the luncheon guests of the domestic science class of the Jefferson school, at an affair to be given next Tuesday. Last year the experiment was tried on the members of the City Council.

Miss Elizabeth Stewart has resigned as teacher at the Grant school and F. A. Russell has been elected to fill the vacancy.

Mrs. D. G. Stephens, president of the Board of Education, has been selected as a delegate to represent that organization at the annual meeting of the county school officials soon to be held in Los Angeles.

The date for the completion of the new Windermere Hotel has been placed at May 19, and on that evening the Board of Trade will assist in a public dedication of the hostelry, giving a banquet to which prominent residents from all sections of the bay will be invited. The programme of toasts is to include a large number of short talks. It is probable that Roy Jones will serve as toastmaster.

The consolidation of the two women's club organizations of beach cities, which was announced a few days ago as having been consummated, is again very much in the air. The Crescent Bay Women's Club virtually voted to disband and join forces with the Santa Monica Women's Club; but when it came to ratifying the treaty there was a lack of unanimity. The Santa Monica organization will, with open arms, welcome the members of the smaller club within the fold, but it will surrender no part of its plans or organization. It would be glad to receive the additional membership and then all move together for a new clubhouse on Oregon avenue. It would merge, but it declines to consider consolidation. This being the situation, the smaller club may rescind its former action looking to abandoning organization, take a new cinch in its girdle and make a strong pull for a clubhouse of its own in the southern part of the city.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE IN SESSION.

Luncheon, a Little Fancy Work, Considerable Gossip With an Admixture of Business.

SOUTH PASADENA, May 2.—An all-day meeting of the Women's League of the Memorial Baptist Church was held at the home of Mrs. W. E. Tussing, No. 1420 Lyndon street. The morning session was taken up by the work department of the league, the vice-president of that department, Mrs. W. A. Tritt, presiding, the ladies sewing until 12:30, when they adjourned for luncheon. The regular monthly missionary meeting of the church formed the afternoon programme, with the vice-president of that department, Mrs. A. J. Wride in the chair. Mrs. Hoagland read the devotional exercises, and "The New Woman of the Orient" was discussed by Mrs. Tompkins.

The Board of Education of the Public Schools has invited the Women's Improvement Association to hold its exhibition of milk products in Science Hall, May 19 and 20. Any person may bring samples of milk and cream and have them analyzed under the direction of the health officer, Dr. Whiting.

Workmen making sewer connections for the ancient adobe house on Raymond Hill discovered underground rooms, supposedly used as a retreat from Indians in pioneer days. The old adobe house is one that stands just off the road on Foothill street, and for its historical value is probably the most interesting relic of the early days that this part of the country possesses.

The opera—"Cupid's Eye"—will be given by students of South Pasadena High School, on the evening of May 5, in the Auditorium of the school building in South Pasadena under the direction of Miss Harriet B. Vail, the supervisor of music in the schools. Miss Marguerite Powell, soprano, will take the part of Sylvia, the charming maid of honor to the Queen. Miss Helen Mason, who has a remarkably fine contralto voice, is Betty the coquettish country lass. The following are those having prominent parts: Sir Bertram Delacey, Loyd Casper; Prince Tobbytum, Clarence Cope; William, Palmer Ritchie; Sylvia, Marguerite Powell; Betty, Helen Mason; Arabella, Helen Pearson; Araminta, Marjorie Gillis; Polly, Esta Kite; Molly, Gladys Barnes; Dolly, Lucile Spencer.

COLEGROVE WILL HAVE MUSIC.

Arrangements Made For Weekly Concerts and They Will Be More Frequent On Demand.

COLEGROVE, May 2.—Open-air concerts by the Colegrove Band will be resumed next Tuesday evening, May 9, at Vine street and Santa Monica boulevard.

Concerts will be given thereafter during the summer, every alternate Tuesday evening. Once a month the public-spirited ladies of Colegrove will serve coffee, cakes, ice cream, etc., at the concert, for the benefit of the band. The matter of Sunday afternoon concerts is also under consideration. One or two experimental Sunday concerts are likely to be given to learn public sentiment. The band has a good stand, and substantial seats sufficient to accommodate all who are likely to care to sit. These were much in demand by elderly people, and mothers with children, last summer, and the concerts were good and highly appreciated.

STREET MATTERS.

The Colegrove Board of Trade devoted itself mainly to street matters. Petitions are in for the improvement of nearly all north and south streets and for some others. A communication from the City Engineer's office asking for certain signatures to protect the city from damage suits was read and referred. The signatures in this instance are merely matters of routine, as the work by the city will change the grade very little from that established by the surveys made by the Board of Trade, which governed the work done on the streets by the county crew before annexation to Los Angeles.

In this connection the matter of the road district fund never turned over to the city, so far as known, came up. Colegrove, with other parts of the former Cahuenga road district, expected benefit from the use of this fund for lights and other utilities. It was reported that Supervisor Sidney Butler, in whose district the territory of the old road district lies, had suggested that the city bring suit for the money due.

DAMAGE SUITS.

In the matter of suits under the Civil Code to recover $200 damages, each, by parties paying the Los Angeles Pacific Railway 10 cents fare from Colegrove to Los Angeles, under protest, it has been discovered that, with demurrers and answers, and postponements and varied obstacles, there is not such rapid transit through the Court of Justice Young, as some of the plaintiffs looked for. The date for hearing on the complaints themselves has not yet been set.

W. E. Lowe was elected secretary to fill a vacancy.

ALHAMBRA.

ALHAMBRA, May 2.—The Alhambra Sunday-school Association is planning to take a census of this city on May 9. Churches of all denominations from Garvalia to Bairdstown will send delegates to assist the local committee with the work. The officers of the association are: George O. Johnson, president; Mrs. L. D. Ashton, vice-president; Miss Hattie Cook, secretary; L. D. White, treasurer. The committee having direct supervision of the census taking is composed of George O. Johnson, Miss Hattie Cook and Miss Lucy Stone.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. Fo

The Beautiful Hair of English Wo

(Annie Bly in N. Y. Graphic.)

The long, abundant and tresses of English women are no to hair tonics and heroic shampo There is a general belief over th that the less water put on the hair, better it is; they say wetting "ta the life out" and leaves the hair brittle and colorless.

English women with hair ric color, clean and wholesome — plenty of it—have told me they attr ute it to dry shampooing two or th times a week. They mix four oun of therox with four ounces of or root and sprinkle a tablespoonfu this mixture on the head; then br the powder thoroughly through hair. They thus also avoid the d ger of catching cold and the disc fort that accompanies washing, f ing and drying the hair.

This treatment keeps the hair li fluffy and lustrous, and is the o thing I know that will actually p duce the growth of hair.

ORANGES HAVE THE LEAD.

San Fernando Valley Ranch Ow ers Setting Acreage to the Ci Fruit in Large Numbers.

CALABASAS, May 2.—In the fru growing sections of this valley a nu ber are clearing off the ground o cupied by fig groves and planting o ange and lemon trees instead.

Various reasons are assigned making this change. However, these reasons can practically be cluded in the statement that the l ter fruit is found to do better in region and is far more profitable. few small olive groves have likew been removed to make a place for or anges. Thousands of both ora and lemon trees have been and being planted in the valley this son

Local nurseries have not only be kept busy but also heavy shipme of trees have been received fr other points. By all odds orang appear to have the preference, the lemon industry is fast growing favor and is commanding special tention this year.

As examples of the number of le on groves being set out it can be st ed that lately one order was pla for 10,000, another for 20,000, yet another for 30,000 trees. Num ous other orders for big or sma amounts could also be cited.

Although all real estate men not coincide with the opinion, neve theless it is true, that, whenever is possible, owners and agents to designate property as "ora lands." The cause of this is th realty of this description always co mands the tiptop market price, outside of the intrinsic worth of property, the name alone attracts investor and homeseeker.

COVINA, May 2.—Citizens a again scouring the countryside in a around Baldwin Park and Valley View in the interests of a mass meeting, to be held Wednesday night in the Baldwin Park schoolhouse, where resolutions will be drawn and undoubtedly adopted, asking the Board of Supervisors to take immediate ac tion on the garbage question.

Residents are growing more a more restive because of the delay. The establishment of a huge piggery near these villages has brought all realty transactions practically to a standstill, according to a statement made yesterday by D. J. Shultis of Baldwin Park.

Having been instructed to keep tab on the V. D. Reduction Company, handling Los Angeles city garbage, and also on the hog owners, the Baldwin Park citizens have discovered that new lumber for the construc tion of more pig houses and for the laying of the spur track from the electric line still farther down the valley has arrived this week, and that no idea of a cessation of the business is contemplated by the com pany. NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

San Bernardino.

ANSWER FILED IS SENSATIONAL.

Graphic Story of Woman's Alleged Misconduct.

Dead Man's Fondness for Woman Is Shown.

Claim Note Signed While Mentally Incompetent.

SAN BERNARDINO, May 2.—Sensational is the answer filed in the Superior Court today in the suit brought by Mrs. Lulu Deitz against Carlisle Esler, as administrator of the estate of the late Frederick J. Elser, who died last fall under an operation at San Francisco. The woman sues to recover $30,000 from the estate on a promissory note executed by Esler at Reno, Nev., shortly before his death.

The answer, after denying the claim, details the alleged relationship which is charged existed between Mrs. Deitz and Esler for years prior to his death, charging that when she first met him here in 1902, coming here with her husband, Harry Deitz, now deceased, Esler was conducting a prosperous business.

That she at once commenced to alienate his affection from his wife and two children, and that he visited her in her apartments at divers times, during the absence of her husband. That after the latter died Esler joined her in London, by previous arrangement, and they traveled over Europe. Later, says the answer, after he returned here, he received a telegram from her at Hamilton, Canada, telling him she was ill with ptomaine poisoning.

At once Esler dropped all his business, and hastened across the continent to her bedside. Later she took a room at the Hotel Rosslyn, Los Angeles, and he at once engaged an adjoining room, with a door connecting the two apartments. Then he was taken ill, and renting a cottage at Ocean Park, she lived there with him for a month. They then lived in Riverside for several months, says the answer, and afterward went to Reno.

The answer then details the divorce proceedings which Esler commenced there, the reconciliation with his wife, and then his second divorce action, which was still pending at the time of his death, and the answer avers that the deceased had become weak mentally from long use of alcoholic liquors, absinthe and drugs, and was not mentally competent at the time the promissory note was executed, nor knew what he was signing.

FINAL REPORT FILED.

Mayor S. W. McNabb has filed his final report with the City Council. J. S. Bright, his successor, takes his seat Monday at noon, the final report shows that during the last two years the city has expended $341,000 in street improvements, of this sum $57,500 representing the cost of seven miles of paving; $39,000 was spent in laying nine miles of cement sidewalk and curb, $21,700 was spent in sewers, $4183 was expended in filling in where culverts and bridges had been installed, and $8307 went for grading and oiling streets. Other large expenditures were also made, but the administration leaves the city treasury lined with gold.

WANT DAMAGES CUT.

Judge Z. B. West of Orange county, who heard the damage suit brought by H. A. Landwehr against the Riverside stockholders of the Seal of Gold Mining Company, for false arrest and slander, has granted a new trial of the action for R. B. Sheldon, C. H. Lewis, H. R. Greene and W. L. Peters, but in case Landwehr, within ten days does not file an acceptance of a stipulation cutting the damages recovered against P. T. Evans, F. M. Sabathe, William Yates, A. N. Younglove and F. M. Sabathe, from $15,000 to $4400 on the first court, and from $10,000 to $4400 on the second court, their motion for a new trial will also be granted.

LYTLE CREEK PROTECTION.

The committee of engineers appointed by the Board of Supervisors to report on the proposd Lytle Creek protection district today filed a voluminous report, advocating boundaries for the district extending from Lytle Creek Canyon to the Riverside county line, and embracing all of this city west of Town Creek and the entire city of Colton.

FAIR PLANS.

The Board of Supervisors has taken up the matter of raising funds to build a $10,000 structure at San Francisco in which to house the exhibits from this county, to be displayed during the Panama exposition. The matter has been thoroughly discussed from the viewpoint of Amendment No. 1, but it is believed that a way out of the difficulties which this amendment presents will be discov-

SUNDAY-SCHOOL PEOPLE MEET.

SAN DIEGO DISTRICT DELEGATES ARE IN ATTENDANCE.

Carnival Plans Go on Apace and [illegible] Swinnerton, the Famous Cartoonist, Has Taken Up the Duties of Director-General—Baby Show Will Be a Feature.

COLTON, May 2.—A conference of the Methodist Sunday-schools of the San Diego district is being held here today and tomorrow.

Among the speakers today were Rev. Oren B. Waite, D.D., Rev. Eli [illegible] D.D., Rev. W. C. Geyer, Rev. [illegible] Roberts, Rev. D. B. Loofbor-[illegible], Rev. Frank Lucas, Rev. O. W. [illegible] and Rev. F. A. Leak.

CARNIVAL MATTERS.

[illegible] Swinnerton, who has just [illegible] from New York, at a meeting of the Carnival's Executive Committee last night, took up his duties as director-general. M. Solomon was appointed chairman of the Installation Committee in place of G. B. Caster, resigned.

J. R. Fletcher was instructed to spare no expense in the effort to secure the dance as given by the Mexicans of this locality every St. Joseph's Day.

J. A. Hungate was appointed chairman of the Baby Show Committee, this to be given one day of the carnival, only. Max Zenpleburg, chairman of the Queen Contest Committee has announced as contestants for the queenship in the coming Colton Merchants' Carnival, Misses Ethel Hatchett, Anna Bostwick, Lena Bradley, Clara Sisson, Mamie Paul and Daisy Davenport.

"SASSED" THE COURT.

Marshal F. W. Weaver returned last evening from Los Angeles, having in his charge A. R. Williams and J. L. Williams, whom he has arrested three times on the same charge, that of distributing advertising matter without a license, as required by the city ordinance. These men were released on their own recognizance, twice before this, but failed to appear, later writing an impudent letter, stating they had been unable to appear at the time set, "but hoped any old time would suit the judge just as well."

Martin and Williams are each under bonds and the validity of the city ordinance will be tested. Attorney S. M. McNabb of San Bernardino has been engaged for the defense.

NEWS BRIEFS.

At a meeting of the City Trustees last evening, the City Engineer, W. L. Brown, was instructed to prepare a general plan for street improvements. Mayor R. J. Martin will appoint a committee of nine influential citizens to meet in conjunction with the Trustees, in connection with this matter. Postmaster Wilson Hays has been asked to notify Postmaster-General Hitchcock that everything was in readiness for free delivery.

The Colton Woman's Club held their annual election, at the Anderson Hotel at 2 o'clock, today.

LETTER FROM SON DISPELS GLOOM.

REPORT HAD REACHED PARENTS OF SON'S DEATH.

Tells Relatives That He Is Getting Along All Right and Only Needs Money to Make Him Fairly Content With His Lot—Had a Long March.

SANTA ANA, May 2.—There was joy in the household of Fred Franke at No. 904 Stafford street today, for a letter was received from Franke's son, Alfred, who, though a prisoner of war at Chihuahua, Mex., reports: "Tell mother not to worry, as I am all right; I am doing fine." A rumor had reached Fred Franke and his wife that their son had been stood up against a wall and shot, and today's letter lifted a world of gloom.

Alfred joined the rebel ranks near El Paso and was taken prisoner at Casas Grandes. That much the family here knew from the dispatches, but they had no word directly from him since January. Young Franke, writing from the Chihuahua jail, tells of his experiences as follows:

"I was made prisoner March 6 at Casas Grandes. It was a hard fight. They kept us in Casas Grandes till the troops were sent here. There are thirteen more Americans and two Germans besides the Mexican prisoners.

"We met with very good treatment from the Federal officers, better than we expected. They gave us tobacco and plenty of food, and when they spoke to us it was with respect.

"When we left Casas Grandes we walked all the way, about 200 miles. That was hard, very hard. When we arrived we felt like tramps and I guess we looked the part. During the trip we did not get much to eat, for they could not stop to cook whenever they wished to.

"The American Consul is doing all he can for us. When we had no food he sent us food. Yesterday, through the aid of other Americans, he furnished us with clothes, which we certainly needed very badly, besides giving us tobacco and soap.

"We are greatly in need of coin, and if you should send any money send it to the Consul, or I may not get it. This is a Mexican prison we are in now, and the food is not of the best. So you see a little money will help quite a lot. Tell mother not to worry, as I am all right; I am doing fine."

The father of the captive insurrecto will send him some money tomorrow.

BIG FINE.

Yesterday Constable Robert Squires and Deputy District Attorney A. E. Koepsel walked boldly into Quinticio Arote's place at Richfield, and Squires bought liquor. That night the two officers, with Sheriff Ruddock, raided the place and got a wagonload of liquor. Today Arote was arrested and taken before Justice Fullerton at Orange. He pleaded guilty to three charges of illegal liquor selling, paid a fine of $300 and was allowed to go with a ninety-day suspended sentence hanging over him to keep him straight.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The City Trustees last night completed their appointments for the new administration by naming George Balderston as City Engineer at a salary of $75 a month. Balderston was formerly City Engineer of Cripple Creek, Colo.

At a conference between the Board of Supervisors and the Highway Commission today the commission agreed to set dates for public hearings concerning the location of roads in the Second and Fourth Supervisoral districts. In the Second district the people are divided in opinion as to whether the main east and west road should run through Westminster or Bolsa.

Riverside.

STRANGE MAN ALARMS CITY.

DRESSED IN BATHROBE HE RUNS DOWN STREET.

Evidently Man of Culture He Raves About Some One Defrauding Him While in Los Angeles. He Is Locked Up Pending an Inquiry and Sanity Inquest.

RIVERSIDE, May 2.—The residents along Seventh street for several blocks were awakened from their slumbers about 1 o'clock this morning by the yells of a man clothed in a bathrobe and running up the street as if he were pursued by a thousand fiends.

He was yelling, "Police, police, I'll locate 'em yet." He entered the police station and there told the officers a rambling, disconnected tale about somebody stealing from him some valuable papers. The man was detained till morning and was taken today to the County Jail to be cared for till some action is taken in his case.

He gives the name of S. L. Crocker, is about 30 years of age and has the dress and appearance of a well-educated, well-to-do person. His personal effects are of the finest and most expensive kind and he is evidently connected with some invention or patent, as he has copyrights and printed matter, that so indicate. He is also a violinist, evidently, and had a fine violin and a great quantity of classical music among his effects.

During a seemingly semi-rational interval he told that his home is Brookline, Mass., and that while in Los Angeles a few weeks ago he was done out of $2500 in some knd of a business deal. A city hospital physician and a nurse went to the jail and endeavored to take him to the City Hospital for attention, but he refused to go with them and asked for an attorney, talking incessantly and disconnectedly all the while, so that he was returned to the cell for insane patients until he is examined in court.

NEWS NOTES.

At the regular meeting tomorrow of the Board of Supervisors of the county it is probable that there will be an application for a franchise for an electric line from this city to Corona, as such a request has been talked over in railroad circles here for some time and the rumor is that it will come up tomorrow.

Frank Dananiri, a Greek, was arrested at Corona today by Marshal Lyman and Constable Slayton and brought to the County Jail here by the latter on the charge of having shot several times at an Italian woman at Casa Blanca Sunday afternoon. He will have a preliminary hearing before Judge Webb this evening. He is a man 40 years of age and is accused of having terrorized the Casa Blanca neighborhood on previous occasions, although this is the first time he has ever been in custody.

RAISING CAIN IN LOS ANGELES.

PROMOTER ROCKWELL SAID TO BE IN THIS CITY.

Those Who Retain Faith in the Gentleman Assert That He Will Secure Money and Satisfy All Creditors—San Diego Police Cannot Locate Him.

SAN DIEGO, May 2.—According to information received here, L. A. Rockwell, whose sudden flight revealed to San Diego creditors that he is a smooth individual, is in Los Angeles.

An erstwhile officer in one of Rockwell's erstwhile corporations this morning gave out the information that he had received a letter from the promoter, who stated that he was in Los Angeles endeavoring to secure funds with which to straighten his financial entanglements. The person receiving the letter refuses to give Rockwell's address. Local officers, who state they have warrants for Rockwell's arrest, so far have been unable to trace his whereabouts.

Those who have faith in Rockwell say he will return and square accounts.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The Board of Education reorganized for the year by electing the following officers: President, Eugene E. Capps; clerk, Dr. L. G. Jones; secretary, S. W. Belding; assistant, Miss June Bagley. Following are the committees: Ways, Means and Salaries, Hans Marquardt; Teachers, Dr. L. G. Jones; Buildings and Supplies, George Magly; Rules, S. W. Watson. Next Monday the board will discuss plans for a new High School Polytechnic building to cost $214,000.

STEAMER BRINGS ONYX.

The steamer Excelsior brought from Santa Catarina, Mex., 600 tons of the finest onyx ever imported for the local market. The largest slabs weigh seven and seven and one-half tons. The colorings range from bright reds to deep-water greens. This shipment is to be manufactured here for use in furnishing the interior of the new First National Bank building at Seattle.

KIRMESS AT THE GRANT.

Under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A. and the Talent Workers, a Kirmess will be given on the evenings of May 25, 26 and 27. The production and all rehearsals will take place at the U. S. Grant Hotel. The proceeds are to be devoted to the visiting nurse and clinic fund of the Talent Workers. Women foremost in social circles of San Diego and Coronado are among the patronesses.

EL TORO.

EL TORO, May 2.—James Aguirre, one of the big ranchers of this end of the county, is very low as the result of injuries received in a runaway last Friday. His horses became frightened at an automobile, and he was pitched from his wagon. His collarbone, sternum and two ribs were broken. Yesterday he suffered a relapse, and for a time his life was despaired of.

Yesterday's Senatorial ballot in Colorado resulted: Democrats, Martin, 32; Speer, 29; Maupin, 1; Ward, 1; Jefferson, 1. Republicans, Goudy, 33; Vaile, 1. Necessary for choice, 51.

Only First Chapter.

FASHIONABLE SANTA BARBARA WOMAN IN AN INVOLVED LEGAL ROW

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first chapter, so far as court proceedings are concerned, in the complicated case of the Brownells and Mrs. Louise W. Timson, well-known resident of fashionable Montecito, came up today. It was the opening of a series of suits and countersuits brought by the opposing parties.

The name of William Miller Graham, which has been linked with the case throughout preliminary moves, was not mentioned, but it is said he will be involved in a second suit scheduled for next week.

This initial suit was started August 6, 1910. In it Mrs. Timson alleges that she was the owner of two coupon gold bonds, one of the American Tobacco Company, the other of the American Steel Company, each for $1000. In July, 1910, the complaint recites, Mrs. Brownell had possession of the bonds; that the latter gave the bonds to her son, W. A. W. Brownell, to sell for his mother's account. The complaint further says that the bonds were accordingly sold and the proceeds converted to the use of the Brownells, for all of which plaintiff asks $3000 damages and costs.

The original answer to the complaint recites that in December, 1908, Mrs. Timson bought an automobile in Los Angeles, but that she failed to pay for it. Later, however, plaintiff, still according to the original answer, asked Mrs. Brownell to settle for the auto and gave the bonds to Mrs. Brownell as payment.

Counsel for plaintiff moved to strike out the entire amended answer to the complaint. This was argued, submitted and finally granted from the bench. Then the plaintiff's attorney moved that the first paragraph in the original answer to the complaint be stricken out. This paragraph recites that Mrs. Timson was married to Arthur E. Timson in 1904 and that she was still Timson's wife at the time of the trouble over the bonds, between Mrs. Timson and the Brownells, and further that she still is the wife of Timson. The paragraph asserted therefore Arthur E. Timson should be a party to the plaintiff in the action. This motion was denied.

Then the attorney made the opening statement for the plaintiff and Charles A. Edwards, president of the Santa Barbara County National Bank, was called. His testimony had to do with some of the financial affairs of Mrs Timson.

Mrs. Timson was then called to the stand and when questioned in regard to her alleged companionship with E P. Stone of Boston refused to answer The court upheld her.

W. A. W. Brownell was next called. He was on the stand some time, but nothing of a sensational turn came from him.

The case will be on trial again tomorrow.

It Tickles Them.

SAN DIEGO HARBOR BILL SIGNED AT LAST MOMENT BY GOVERNOR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES]

SAN DIEGO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch] News that Gov. Johnson at the last moment signed the San Diego Harbor Bill was the cause of rejoicing among members of the Chamber of Commerce, which organization fathered the project from the start.

By the terms of the measure, the tidelands are taken from State control and are ceded to the city. A requirement is that the city shall cause to be spent within the next year $1,000,000. Business men here feared that on account of Gov. Johnson's apparent hostility to corporations would cause him to allow the bill to go by default. It was pointed out that Gov. Johnson feared that municipal control would prove more favorable to corporations than through the State. Public sentiment, however, was so strong that the measure was finally enacted.

The Chamber of Commerce proposes to assist the city in the erection of a seawall and the reclamation of the tidelands along the water-front for a distance of five miles. According to plans and estimates prepared for the Chamber of Commerce, the project will cost $5,000,000.

DOCTOR FALLS FROM TREE TOP.

Professional Man Resumes the Habits Of Boyhood and Has a Leg Broken When He Topples.

COLTON, May 2.—Dr. C. F. Whitmer met with a painful accident at Riverside, which will confine him to his home for some time. Dr. Whitmer was gathering seeds from a eucalyptus tree when a limb broke and he fell to the ground with sufficient force to fracture his left leg. He was attended by Dr. Van Zwalensburg, who brought him to his home by auto.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Western College Alumnae Meeting.

The Southern California branch of the Western College Alumnae Association will meet at the Peabody Rest Home, No. 212 South Euclid avenue, Pasadena, Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Novel Church Concert.

A novel concert, on "Ye Olden Tyme" singing school plan, will be given at the Congregational Church, Temple and Burtz streets, next Friday night. The programme, printed in the style of long ago, indicates an unusual and interesting entertainment.

Death Claims Aged Resident.

Mary E. Lang, aged 74 years, and a resident of Los Angeles since 1866, died yesterday at No. 2540 West Pico street, as the result of a stroke of paralysis. The funeral will be held at St. Thomas Church, Pico and Mariposa streets, tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

Boiling Coffee Scalds Boy.

Everett Brown, 9 years old, was severely scalded about the head and shoulders Monday by the upsetting of a pot of coffee at the restaurant of his father, L. A. Brown, No. 603 West Sixth street. The lad tripped a waiter who was carrying a tray on which, among other things, was a pot of boiling hot coffee, all of which fell upon the child. He was sent to the Receiving Hospital.

Dies in England.

The many friends here of Edward Wyllie were shocked yesterday by the news of his sudden death at Hempstead Hospital, London. He left Los Angeles in August, 1908, for what was to have been a four years' tour of the world in the interests of the Society for Psychic Research. He had completed his work in England and was about to embark for South Africa when illness overtook him.

Trade Trip Planned.

The Chamber of Commerce is planning a trade trip to the San Joaquin Valley. It will be taken within sixty days and is open to business members of the organization.

St. John's Church Meeting.

The annual meeting of St. John's Episcopal Church was held last night at the parish house, West Adams and Figueroa streets. All the vestrymen were re-elected for the ensuing year. They are Dr. J. E. Cowles, senior warden; H. R. Miller, junior warden; Dr. A. L. MacLeish, R. B. Kirckhoffer, Merrick Reynolds, James R. Page, W. C. Marble, Thomas R. Lee, Curtis Williams, Edward Johnson and the rector, Rev. L. G. Morris. Kirckhoffer was elected treasurer of the church and Mr. Williams clerk. The report of the rector showed a total of 689 communicants and 1500 baptized members. All reports made showed the church to be in excellent condition. Favorable reports were also received from the various church organizations.

Organize New Tent.

The Anna Emma Carroll Tent No. 8, Daughters of Veterans of Sawtelle, was organized last Thursday evening at Markham Hall, Soldiers' Home, with a charter membership of twenty. The organizer was Mrs. Mary E. Gordon of Jessie Benton Fremont, Tent No. 4, Los Angeles, and the tent had the honor of being installed by the national president of the Daughters of Veterans, Miss Anna M. Kelly of Pueblo, Colo. She was assisted by Mrs. Mary E. Gordon, Mrs. Carrol Marks, Mrs. Elda Kenney, Mrs. Ella Renwick, Mrs. Ethel Boyd, Mrs. Ella B. Peat, Mrs. Grace Marshall, Mrs. Mary Tytler and Mrs. Fannie D. Collins, all of Jessie Benton Fremont Tent No. 4, Los Angeles. A feature of the evening was the obligation of twenty-two comrades as honorary members of the new tent. The tent is fortunate in having Mrs. Hattie McNaught for its first president, and the outlook for the growth and welfare of the tent is bright.

TABLET FOR PARK DONOR.

Suggestion to Memorialize Man Who Died Destitute and Was Given Burial by Sisters of Mercy.

Following the proposal of the Park Commission to ascertain who presented Central Park to Los Angeles, Richard Garvey, one of the oldest residents of the city, stated last night that he believes the land was tendered as a donation by an old-time character known as "Greek George" or sometimes called "Round House George." Garvey came to Los Angeles from Ohio in 1858 and is an authority on the history of the city. For years he was employed by the government to carry the mail between Los Angeles and Forts Yuma, Mojave and Tejon.

"If George gave this park to the city," he said, "I think that a bronze tablet should be placed there in his memory. Other old residents of the city are of the same opinion.

"Between 1850 and 1860 this man conducted a sort of park where the Van Nuys Hotel now is. He sold beer in a roundhouse which he built there and had a choice collection of cacti.

"George had a mania for buying corner lots. He owned property outside of the city, as it was then, which he said he was going to give to the city for a park. I believe this property was Central Park. The city was lax at that time about keeping records, and probably no formal papers were ever made out.

"George finally lost all of his possessions. He died destitute in 1863 and was given burial by Sister Anne, the first Catholic nun to engage in charitable work in Los Angeles."

WIFE CHARGED WITH HOMICIDE.

JURY LOOKS INTO BREAKFAST-TABLE SHOOTING.

Accused Held Without Bail Pending Filing of Formal Charge and Hearing—Maid, Principal Witness at Inquest, Tells Details of the Domestic Quarrel.

Homicide was charged yesterday afternoon by the coroner's jury, which held an inquest over the remains of A. P. Ford, who was shot by his wife last Friday morning, following a quarrel at the breakfast table. A complaint against Mrs. Ford will probably be filed in the Police Court this morning. She is held without bail, pending a hearing. Deputy District Attorney Keetch, who was present at the inquest, declined to state what the charge would be.

Nellie Bergstrom, the maid in the Ford home, was the principal witness at the inquest. She said that Ford and his wife had quarreled Thursday night over the action of Mrs. Ford in inviting her music master to come to her house to give her a lesson.

Ford, the maid said, insisted that the music teacher be not admitted and Mrs. Ford became very angry. Finally Ford declared that the man could not enter. The argument was then dropped, Miss Bergstrom said, but was renewed Friday morning at breakfast. Ford became enraged, and jumping up from his seat, rushed at his wife. The maid ran to the front door to call help. A few minutes later the shooting occurred.

Members of the police department, who were sent to the house after the shooting, also testified.

WARNING TO MERCHANTS.

Postal Authorities Give Numbers of Stolen Money Orders, Some of Which Have Been Cashed on Coast.

Postmaster Harrison warns Los Angeles business men against accepting postal money orders, numbered serially from 12013 to 12200, which, according to Inspector H. B. Hall of San Francisco, were stolen from Station B, Jacksonville, Fla., in December, 1910.

Since that time several of the orders have been disposed of at St. Paul, Portland, and other points along the Pacific Coast. The swindlers are supposed to be in Los Angeles, but none of the orders have so far been found here by the postal authorities.

The plan is to present an order at a store on Saturday evening, for a small purchase, receiving the difference in cash. The fraud is not discovered for several days.

One of the men supposed to be operating the scheme is about 40 years old, five feet eight inches in height, and weighing about 185 pounds. He is smooth-shaven, wears glasses, and looks like a well-to-do farmer.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is regarded as a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers.

SOHMER

"The Artistic Piano"

The Sohmer is a favorite with musicians throughout the country. Recent local purchasers include the following—
Herr Becker,
Harry Girard,
Mr. Blanding, of Hotel Maryland,
Orpheum Theater,
Hotel Alexandria, where the music is now under the direction of Herr Stark, one of California's most popular leaders.

Made In But A Single Grade

Sohmer & Company, like the other makers we represent, produce but one grade of piano. Thus their product is the result of the highest specialization—a piano of musicianly quality.

By an original method of frame construction, the Sohmer acquires extraordinary strength, and is enabled to sustain unusual tension strain of the strings. Hence its richness and fullness of tone, and the fact that it is always up to pitch. Its light action and flexibility of touch adapt the Sohmer to either the concert room or the Home.

Uprights and Grands, $450 to $1200—musically the same—differing only in style and case. Purchasable upon terms of $10 monthly.

The Sohmer-Cicilian Player Piano

The Sohmer-Cecilian combines the artistic merit of the Sohmer Piano with the Perfect Cecilian mechanism. This Player has the celebrated Metal Action—which renders it impervious to dampness or to climatic changes. It is priced at $1050—and purchasable upon moderate monthly payments.

With every Sohmer—Cecilian sold we give a generous supply of music free at time of purchase. You also have the privileges of our great Music Library, can exchange your music as often as you wish, without charge.

Small Instruments

You should know that we are exclusive representatives in Los Angeles for the famous Lyon & Healy Harps. We also have the Agency for Washburn and Martin Guitars and Mandolins—for Stewart Banjos—and for Holton Band Instruments. Full assortments of small musical instruments. Violin Outfits of all descriptions, priced from $5 to $500.

BABIES MAY SAVE MOTHER.

Fate in Hands of Daddy Now a Fugitive.

Offer Accepted to Surrender, if Wife Released.

Woman in Jail While Word Waits From Husband.

If negotiations succeed, pending between the District Attorney's office and William Lewis, attorney for Edward M. Stevens, who escaped from the Denver Jail several weeks ago following his arrest for complicity in numerous deed forgeries in Los Angeles, the fugitive will give himself up within a few days.

In return for this, the District Attorney will release Stevens's wife, Lillian Paxton, arrested at the time the deed manipulations were discovered, and agree to ask the court not to impose a sentence upon him exceeding seven years in the penitentiary. Deputy Horton is conducting the negotiations.

Capt. Fredericks has already agreed to the above arrangement and it remains for Stevens to carry out his part. Stevens, however, is apparently wary of a trap sprung upon him, and is endeavoring to have the officers turn his wife loose before he divulges his hiding place.

His attorney, however, has been assured of no idea on the part of the District Attorney's office. Until he is heard from nothing will be done in the matter.

STEVENS IN HIDING.

According to Attorney Lewis, the latter has had no direct communication with Stevens. He admits, however, that he has received letters from him, the first of which bore the postmark of the Arcade Station post-office branch.

Lewis asserted that the letter was posted by Stevens while he was awaiting a train, but Detective Louis Duni of the District Attorney's office, believes that it was dropped in the mail box aboard an incoming train, and was stamped with the Arcade postmark.

Attaches of the District Attorney's office are inclined to think that Lewis knows Stevens's refuge, but will not divulge it until the details attending his rearrest are completed. Duni is sure that Stevens is lying low, within the city limits. In the event that he fails to conform to the agreement as outlined by Dist.-Atty. Fredericks he will be hunted out.

Deputy District Attorney Horton yesterday stated that it was perfectly proper and legitimate to make a bargain with Stevens. According to Horton, Lillian Paxton, at present in the County Jail, is not the arch criminal back of the numerous forgeries. Her connection with the series of crimes is only passive. The county or State would be forced to take possession of the three Stevens children, if she is sentenced.

ACT OF CHARITY.

Since the father's arrest in Denver, they have been in the care of a charitable organization in that city. According to Horton, it would be better to turn the Paxton woman loose to care for her children, and prosecute Stevens, than to force her into the penitentiary.

The District Attorney's office has nother motive for putting through the bargain. From the evidence obtained by detectives, it is believed that more than Stevens and the Paxton woman are implicated in the deed forgeries. It is thought that when the skein of dence is unraveled, others, largely local men, will be in the conspiracy.

With Stevens in custody and agreeing to plead guilty, his testimony will aid them in convicting the others, who otherwise escape punishment. This belief is borne out by the officials of the Title Insurance and Trust Company through whom Stevens and the Paxton woman negotiated a number of bogun deeds.

ON HAND BY DOUBLES.

Two Wives and Two Mothers-in-Law Part of a Group Eager to Help a Man Charged With Bigamy.

Sir Joseph Porter, K.C.B., who stalked the boards melodiously in the "Pinafore" of a generation ago, was no more blessed with his sisters and his cousins and his uncles and his aunts" than was Richard J. Grace, examined yesterday before Justice Young on a charge of bigamy.

Grace's two wives were in court, supported and abetted by his two mothers-in-law. With these came his step-father, and a brother and sister-in-law. Many friends completed the party.

The miracle was that everybody seemed to want to help the accused man. His first wife, Emaline Dray Grace, appeared at the office of Deputy District Attorney Richardson before the hearing and begged that the case be dismissed. She was told that Grace's offense had been against the State, and that he could not be released until he had proved his innocence.

In court the same spirit was shown. The mothers-in-law, contrary to precedent, sniffed sympathetically into their handkerchiefs. Mrs. Sarah Dray, mother of the first wife, even made a plea for him.

As exhibits A and B, the two wives produced their marriage certificates, both procured in Los Angeles, one under Grace's name, and the second as Robert Kaywood. The defendant acknowledged that he had applied for both. The second wife testified that she had married Grace last August, changing her name thereby to Carrie Lockridge Kaywood.

Justice Young held Grace to answer in the Superior Court, under bond of $5000, which he could not produce. He went back to the County Jail. The charge of abandonment, preferred by Mrs. Kaywood-Grace before she heard of the first wife, was dismissed.

SHORT SHRIFT FOR DISTURBERS.

MOBILIZING POLICE FORCE TO ACT QUICKLY.

System Devised by Which Department Can Respond to Riot Call or Take Care of Threatening Bodies With Precision—Transfer Made to Central Station for Quick Duty.

To provide for emergency calls, such as riots and disturbances in the industrial district, Chief Sebastian stated yesterday that, in the future, Lieut. Dave L. Adams, of the East Side Police Station, will be the outside night lieutenant at Central Station while Lieut. Williams will attend to matters in the station.

The transfer of Lieut. Adams to Central Station and placing of him in command of the night squads is the first step toward strengthening the department, and promptly taking care of any violent labor disturbance.

Quick work on the part of the police will have a deterrent effect on the disturbing element, the department believes. The East Side Station, which is but a short distance from the heart of the industrial district, will be in charge of Capt. Lehnhausen, an able officer, in the handling of bodies of armed men, and Sergt. Toolen, who has been made acting lieutenant. Capt. Lehnhausen will have charge of the station by day and Acting Lieutenant Toolen by night.

In performing his duties as outside lieutenant, Adams will make the rounds of the division while keeping in touch by telephone with Central Police Station.

In case a disturbance breaks out in any portion of the Central division and industrial district, or in case numbers of men are seen loitering about the industrial district with no tangible reason for doing so, the first officer to discover this will immediately telephone the information to the operators in the Central Police Station. They, in turn will summon the patrolmen on the adjoining beats and Adams will then hurry to the scene and take charge of the squad.

To facilitate the mobilizing of patrolmen, the Department is now figuring on the installation of a special signal system. Several plans have been suggested.

SAYS WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE IS BANE OF COLORADO.

"WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE has been the bane of Colorado, has desecrated the homes of the State, debauched its fair womanhood, and is one of the greatest evils of the age," declared Prof. E. C. Lindemann, former dean of the University of Technology of Colorado, who is registered at the Angelus from Boulder.

"Since the time of the institution of suffrage in the State, the divorce rate has increased alarmingly, family life has decreased proportionately, and the women of Colorado are far from the happiest women in the United States," he declared. "They have lost prestige with the men, have destroyed many traits that go to make true women, and are far lower on the social scale than previous to the time that this obnoxious ruling came into effect. I am speaking entirely of those women who have allowed themselves to be drawn into political affairs, and not of the women who have ignored the new phase of things."

Prof. Lindemann was one of the chief opponents of woman's suffrage at the time it was debated in the Colorado Legislature, and at one time he was practically evicted from one of the sessions by Senator Patterson.

"The other great evil of the day," said the professor, "is prohibition as practiced. I never drink myself; I don't believe in it, but I know from long experience that prohibition which does not kill off all manufacture of the product is impossible and further, that the human race will not stand for it. This was demonstrated in the Garden of Eden, when prohibition was placed on a certain fruit tree, and the same thing runs through all centuries. Where there is prohibition there is usually more drunkenness, more disorder and wanton living than where the laws properly regulate the liquor traffic."

Prof. Lindemann at the present time is associated through the Wootton Land and Fuel Company, of which he is general manager, with J. Pierpont Morgan. As a soldier of fortune, Lindemann started out from Holland, his native land. He graduated from the famous technical school at Saarbruken, Germany, as a mining and civil engineer. With this profession as a touchstone, he has wandered over the face of the earth and there are few countries which he has not seen. He can relate incidents of his sojourn in many lands.

WANTS CASH AND MATRIMONY.

Publisher Asked To Print Advertisement Along That Line, Asks District Attorney For Advice.

"Wanted — Working girl with money. Must be willing to entertain proposition of matrimony. Good references furnished on demand."

An anxious Los Angeles publisher called up Deputy Dist.-Atty. Veitch by telephone yesterday, and asked him whether it would be a violation of the law to print this "want ad." He was afraid that he might be indicted for tampering with the marriage relation.

Veitch consulted the Code, and found nothing that forbids a man to peddle himself as an envoy of Cupid. Just what the working girl with money will say—if there are wealthy girls who work for a living—is still to be seen.

HEED PROTEST TO AID INSANE.

Poor Facilities Condemned at County Hospital.

Doctors Ask Supervisors for Additional Building.

Object to Prison Cells and Ride in Black Maria.

After an agitation extending over a period of several months, the campaign for better facilities to take care of insane persons in Los Angeles county came to a climax yesterday in the presentation of a petition to the Board of Supervisors by a delegation of leading physicians and laymen.

These represented the Psychopathic Association of Los Angeles, and with the Mayor at their head, asked the board to provide a detention ward of at least fifty beds for the insane, and a committee of architects and alienists to draw up plans for a new building to house this ward.

W. S. James, secretary of the Psychopathic Association, presented the petition, which bore the signatures of 200 representative citizens. In a short address he explained what the delegation had come for.

The Mayor characterized the present system at the County Hospital of detaining persons suspected of insanity in cells like those of prisons, as sadly out-of-date. He objected to driving patients through the streets in the "Black Maria" to the Hall of Justice for examination, and recommended that something be done to obviate this condition. County property on Griffin avenue was suggested as a site for a new building.

SUPERVISORS APPROVE.

Drs. C. L. Allen, J. Ross Moore, J. T. Fisher, T. J. Orbison, W. A. Lamb, H. G. Brainerd, president of the Psycopaths, and others developed different sides of the situation. The board agreed that the project is a worthy one, and submitted it to the hospital committee, made up of Supervisors Pridham, Butler and Nellis.

"The accommodations at the County Hospital are poor," said Dr. Brainerd last night, "because they are suited only to persons who are violently insane. There is no adequate provision for those mildly so, or merely under suspicion. The trip to the Hall of Justice in the city is one of horror.

"The patients are mixed together—suspects, mildly demented and the violently insane, who must be strapped fast. They are penned in an iron cage at the hall, where one day I saw two boys swearing loudly, strapped to cots, beside a refined, delicate woman, who had given up to some idiosyncracy, and was forced to listen to them. The men handling the patients are competent, and do the best they can. But they haven't the proper facilities."

AVOID PUBLICITY.

"We ought to treat the mentally sick just as well as we do those who are physically ill," declared Dr. Moore, who is a member of the visiting staff of the hospital. "They should not be treated as criminals. At Patton, where there are 1500 patients, only five were in restraint, on a sample day last week. Because the facilities are poor, a third of the twenty-odd patients at the County Hospital are usually in restrait.

"I believe we should have the examination of persons suspected of derangement at the hospital, to avoid the ride back and forth. It is hard on the patients, and not good for the public to see and hear violent persons driven through the streets. Sane persons often spend twenty-four hours, or more if over Sunday, in cells at the hospital before they are examined, because all under suspicion must be detained, and there is no way to dispose of them but to lock them up."

Judge Bordwell, who, as presiding judge, has sat regularly with two physicians from a number appointed by the State Board of Lunacy to make the examinations, agrees that new facilities are needed, but does not favor building an addition to the hospital.

"That would necessitate the taking of too much time for the judges," he said. "I believe there should be a new detention ward, of the latest pattern, situated near the jail, for example, where it will be easily accessible. This would save time, and there would not be the objectionable ride for the patients. Persons mildly insane would be spared the treatment accorded those violently so, and this would better their chances for recovery."

WHAT WHITMAN SAYS

"The present quarters are all right for the class of patients who must be restrained," said Supt. Whitman of the County Hospital, "but we need other quarters for the mild cases, and the suspects who may be adjudged sane. That is a humane idea, to hold out a chance for recovery. If the insane are kept at the hospital, the institution should be put to the expense of only a detention ward. I do not favor a large psychopathic ward there, because the patients should have some freedom, and their influence on the others would be depressing."

The Psychopathic Association will take up the matter more thoroughly in a meeting this week and recommendations may be made to solve the problem of the building, as to location, class of patients to be admitted and equipment.

PONY HALTS TWO THOUSAND.

Little Animal With a Large Balk Blocks Broadway Traffic at Fourth Street Half an Hour.

One contrary pony delayed traffic at Fourth and Broadway for fifteen minutes at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon by balking and otherwise manifesting a disagreeable disposition. The culprit is known to his owners, the Los Angeles Manufacturing Company, as Little Joe, although the patrolman at the busy crossing, as well as a score of impatient street car conductors and automobile drivers called him harshly by another name.

Joe was drawing a new, red-painted wagon and probably feeling his oats. It is also possible that he liked the ladies on Broadway and was flattered by the attention he attracted. Perhaps, too, he balked as a protest against receiving his consent to travel from a whistle in the hands of a crossing officer.

Anyhow at the shrill signal to go ahead, Joe took two mincing steps, bringing his wagon directly across the track, and then reared backward. The automobile in the wake of Joe and his wagon had not anticipated these tactics. The clink of a shattered wind shield and the musical voice of a chauffeur whispering sweet nothings about Joe attested to the damage done.

Thereupon Joe carefully laid himself down on the car track while his driver did not whistle "Please Go 'Way and Let Me Sleep." Crowded cars stopped while disgusted motormen filled the air with the clang of their gongs. Persons on their way to stores and offices gathered for the free pony show.

An irate officer and a now thoroughly-aroused driver finally prodded Joe to his feet, but Joe was balking to the gallery and he knew it. Down he went again like nervous prostration, winking wickedly, first at the officer and then at the driver, as if to say, "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink."

For the second time Joe was lifted, and for the third time he went down and waited for the count. By this time the crowd began to cheer the stubborn pony in his contest for personal rights. When he had rested as long as he liked, Joe sprang to his feet, threw back his ears with a snort, and by subtle pony magic the crossing was cleared. Before he decided to move, however, Joe attracted the attention of about two thousand persons.

TREATS HIS LADY FRIEND; JAILED.

SHE GETS FREE LUNCH; HE GETS THIRTY DAYS.

Pretty Miss Is Given Pie and Coffee Gratis by Enamored Swain Who Acts As Hash Dispenser at Lunch Counter; Harsh Proprietor Has Him Locked Up.

To pay for the lady's lunch is proper, according to the etiquette book, but when you make your employer foot the bill without his knowledge it is misdemeanor embezzlement, according to Police Judge Rose. Because the court held this view, Roy Rodgers, a youthful clerk at a South Spring street dairy lunch, was sent to jail for thirty days yesterday. Rodgers works at the counter and he charged a young woman friend but five cents for a fifteen-cent lunch.

Thirty days in jail for giving a girl a cup of coffee and a piece of pie while she pays for a ham sandwich is not the scale by which all future lunch-counter offenders will be judged. It was made heavy in Rodgers's case because Judge Rose was lead to believe he had treated other friends in a similar manner.

By the irony of fate, however, it happened that the evidence for which Rodger's employers were looking turned up when a pink-cheeked miss in whom Rodgers was particularly interested received too much change.

"I won't tell her name," Rodgers said with a do-your-worst air. "I gave her the lunch and you'd do it, too, if you could see her."

Police Judge Rose was rather inclined to believe that in smiles of fair young things there oftentimes turn embezzlement germs. He seemed on the verge of dismissing the case when Detectives Leon and O'Brien produced witnesses who said that Rodgers had frequently charged but a small sum for expensive lunches. Other witnesses declared that Rodgers had said in their presence that the company was losing about $800 a month through irregularities. The court then assumed a different attitude and said it was high time to make an example of someone.

KILLED IN PECULIAR MANNER.

Mexican Loses His Life On Trolley Line By Sliding Down a Pole When Car Approaches.

Ramon Camacho, a Mexican laborer employed by the Los Angeles Pacific Railway Company, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon by a Venice Short Line car.

Camacho was raising poles and had climbed one near the Vineyard Station to inspect the fastening of the guy wire when he saw a car approaching. He slipped down the pole rapidly, landed on uneven ground, and fell backwards directly in front of the car.

The body was removed, on order of the Coroner, to the undertaking establishment of Booth & Boylson.

LEAVES CASES TO BORDWELL.

Presiding Judge Decides on McNamara Trials.

To Be Heard in Department Where Started.

Change of Venue Not Sought by the Defense.

"I am satisfied that these cases will be tried in Los Angeles county," said Leo M. Rappaport of Indianapolis, chief counsel for the two McNamaras, yesterday.

This was in answer to a question as to whether the defense will, as reported by some and advocated by Andy Gallagher and other union bosses, seek a change of venue.

A visit by Rappaport to the office of the District Attorney was followed by the announcement that every one is ready for arraignment, and that this formality may take place before the week is over.

Judge Hutton, presiding over the twelve departments of the Superior Court, announced that he will not transfer the case from Judge Bordwell's department, where custom has placed it, and that unless serious reason appears Judge Bordwell will hear the arraignment and try the cases.

"Judge Bordwell is one of the best judges on any bench in California," said the presiding judge, "and I regard no one as more able to handle this case. In fact, I am pleased that it is naturally in his department."

It has been the custom of the court, Judge Hutton said, to have indicted cases tried in the department to which the indictment is returned. There has been one notable exception. That was the Broadhead case, which was transferred from Judge James to Judge Davis. Unless Judge Bordwell requests a transfer, or the defense should show him to be disqualified, Judge Hutton said, the cases will remain in Bordwell's calendar.

The District Attorney said he will accept the assistance of counsel in the prosecution of the case, if the National Erectors' Association or the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association should offer it. This may mean that Earl Rogers, who conducted the investigation last fall and whose work was afterward presented before the grand jury by him, acting as special deputy to the District Attorney, and Walter Drew of New York, special counsel for the Erectors' Association, which was active in running down the dynamiters, will be associated in the prosecution of the McNamaras. No such offer has been made to Capt. Fredericks, and he knows nothing of the plans of any private organization, but dispatches say both attorneys will be asked to assist.

MAY ARRAIGN FRIDAY.

Rappaport served formal notice on the District Attorney yesterday that he is in charge of the defense of the McNamaras. Rappaport and Fredericks held quite a tete-a-tete, most of which was a discussion of two States—Indiana and California. The discussion ended by an agreement that there are no two better. Being officially notified that the defendants have counsel, the District Attorney will arrange for the arraignment. When it will be set he would not say, but Friday is regarded as a probable time.

Upon arraignment a copy of the indictments and the grand jury testimony will be furnished Rappaport. The transcript of the testimony alone will cost $800, and form volumes. As it will take some days to read it, the date for entering pleas will be at least a week later than arraignment. The pleas when entered, according to Rappaport, will be "Not guilty."

Whether the indictments will be attacked by demurrer depends, Rappaport says, on their substance, as he has not seen an official copy. It is also probable that the rights of the defendants to an examination of the grand jurors under the law will be fully exercised to ascertain if bias possessed them in the returning of the bills.

All these proceedings will take weeks, and indicate plainly that there will be no chance for the beginning of the trial before midsummer. If it is begun then it will be a surprise to many familiar with the history of other similar cases.

So He's Caught.

FAT MAN CAN'T HIDE BEHIND A THIN VASE.

RESIDENTS of fashionable Kensington road, the police and an alleged would-be burglar played hide and seek for over an hour yesterday afternoon. Back and forth they went, through one yard and another and around ornate flower pots, until the game finally came to an end in the capture of James Sprake, 30 years old. He was taken to jail.

Whatever his intentions may have been, Sprake is not an adept at the game he started. He is "fat and stout, and his stomach was built so it rounded out," while the garden vases behind which he sought shelter are slender and graceful. The result is obvious. Portions of the man were always in view, and now, in meditating over it, he sees that his adversaries had the better of him from the start.

The excitement began when a telephone call was received at the University Police Station from Mrs. Paul E. Haugh, who lives at No. 912. She was greatly agitated, declaring that an attempt had been made to burglarize her home. The man, she said, rang the doorbell, and her maid, who was slow in answering the summons, upon reaching the hall found him stealthily opening the door.

"What do you want?" demanded the maid.

"Oh, I'm just looking for my blanket," replied the man. Then he closed the door and made a hurried departure from the front gate.

Following Mrs. Haugh's alarm others were received at the University station, thick and fast, and Motorcycle Patrolmen Gardner and Hickok were dispatched to the scene of excitement.

The patrolmen encountered Sprake near the home of Councilman Stewart, No. 754, on the same street, and the chase began. The officers dismounted and began a foot race with the man. Round and round Councilman Stewart's house the trio went Meanwhile, residents of the block came hurrying to the place and encouraged the officers with cheers. At the end of the third lap all three were fairly winded, and the fugitive had gained about four feet. Seeing that the patrolmen were of lighter weight and figuring that they would probably hold out the longer, Sprake darted off at a tangent, leaped upon a porch and tried to obscure himself from their view.

Here he excited much mirth among the on-lookers with his ostrich-like maneuvers. Pulling himself together into the smallest possible bulk he crouched behind a vase containing ferns and buried his face in his hands. It was his extraordinary width that gave him away, for vases are small in the waist, and considering the fact that his face was hidden, the officers had no difficulty in tiptoing up and seizing him from the rear.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The City Council yesterday asked the Board of Public Works and the Public Service Commission to furnish information as to what compensation will be required of future districts annexed to the city, under the new State law.

The building ordinance was amended so as to permit partition brick walls to be four inches thinner than required by the present ordinance.

James Edward must serve a life term for having assaulted Miss Julia Koebig. Judge McCormick expressed regret in sentencing him that he could not inflict a more severe penalty.

A druggist's mistake in giving opium pills instead of a harmless drug is urged as the basis of a suit to recover heavy damages for the death of an infant.

A lunch counter man who treated his girl friend to a cheap lunch was sent to jail for thirty days by a police judge yesterday. His previous record prevented him from obtaining leniency.

MUST HELP PAY BONDED DEBT.

VOTERS LIKELY TO ENFORCE NEW REQUIREMENT.

City Council Asks Information As to What It Will Cost Future Annexed Districts—Recommendations of Fire Commission Turned Down.

The new State law provides that petitions asking for the annexation of contiguous territory to a city, may state that it is desired to participate in the bonded indebtedness of the city; otherwise, the annexed territory cannot be required to do so. Obviously, the people who attempt to come in and decline to participate in the indebtedness, would have a hard time getting the city voters to agree to take them in.

The question arose in the City Council yesterday, when the petitions from the territory northeast of the city were up for discussion. The only one of the districts asking annexation that was represented on the floor of the Council, was Belvidere, inasmuch as no opportunity was given. Councilman Washburn at once moved the reference of the whole matter to the Board of Public Works, the Public Service Commission and the City Attorney, for information as to the probable compensation that is to be demanded of those wishing to come in. The Belvidere representative said that they were opposed to assuming any portion of the water-bond indebtedness, as they had more water than they needed for many years to come, and, he said, better water than the city at large could ever hope to have.

The motion of Mr. Washburn was adopted and the joint committee will probably present a report at the next meeting of the Council.

NO NEW FIRE INSPECTOR.

MOTOR AERIAL TRUCK.

The request of the Chief of the Fire Department for an Inspector of Public Safety, created a warm seance in the Council yesterday. The Chief stated that the condition of many of the basements in the business district is such as to imperatively demand careful inspection, and he can see no other way of doing the work successfully except through an officer who shall have full power to examine the premises and see that his orders are complied with. The condition of many of these basements is notorious, even among people outside the fire department, and some means should be provided for their inspection.

Councilman Betkouski, chairman of the Supply Committee, fought the proposition on the ground that the money should be saved, and said that the chief had plenty of men that could be detailed to perform the service. He admitted the need of it, but put up such a fight that the matter was given back to his committee to consider it in connection with the Legislative Committee and report at the next meeting of the Council.

Betkouski also fought and prevented the adoption of the report of two members of his committee, in favor of purchasing a motor aerial ladder truck for the fire department, on urgent recommendation of the Fire Commission, on the ground that but one bid was received. Commissioner Hawley was present and spoke on the subject.

"This truck is the only one made, and if we are in need of it," he said, "and only one man makes and sells it, clearly we must buy it from that man, whether Mr. Betkouski likes it or not."

The price of the truck is $11,840, but because some other man said he could build one "just as good" for something over $10,000, though one had never been built, Betkouski opposed the purchase. The Fire Commission has the money to pay for it, provided in the budget of last year, and if the purchase is not made by the end of the fiscal year, June 30, it cannot be made unless included in the next budget. The same two committees will talk it over.

ORDINANCES PASSED.

THINNER WALLS PERMITTED.

The building ordinance was amended by the adoption of a recommendation of a committee of experts, that the partition walls be reduced by four inches.

An ordinance was passed yesterday giving public garages the right to store 1200 gallons of gasoline on their premises, in not more than four receptacles of 300 gallons each. The original ordinance limited them to 300 gallons, coming under the provision provided for the regulation of small grocery stores.

An ordinance was adopted creating the position of Secretary of the Playground Commission, at a salary of $125 a month, and abolishing the position of Director at Large, at a salary of $110 a month. This was considered necessary for the better working of the department, and merely changes the title of Charles Lamb to secretary.

James D. Irons was appointed deputy Sealer of Weights and Measures by the Mayor and confirmed by the Council, vice F. W. Tuffield, deceased.

ONE FOR ALEXANDER.

Charles A. Alexander, contractor for street sweeping and garbage collection, having been called upon by the Board of Public Works to answer a complaint that he was paying some of his employees less than the legal daily wage, yesterday made the following reply:

"Permit me to state that the compensation of my men ranges from $2.10 per day, upward. I will, however, see to it that in the future their compensation shall be $2 per day, as required by the terms of the contract, and that said $2 per day shall be the minimum wage."

The letter was referred to Inspector Humphreys, as the last month's pay on Alexander's contract was being held up, pending a reply.

CITY HALL BRIEFS.

REFUND OF TAXES DENIED.

On recommendation of the City Attorney, the petition of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation that taxes to the amount of $24,830, paid during the fiscal year, be refunded, was denied.

The request of the Park Commission for the employment of 100 additional laborers at $2.25 a day, was referred to the Supply Committee.

The Streets and Boulevards Committee was given the task of wrestling with the question of combining the Wilton Place storm drain proposition with the La Brea district.

A largely signed petition was filed with the City Clerk yesterday, asking the City Council to take steps to correct the steep grade on West Sixth street, between Loomis street and Beaudry avenue. It is set forth that it is almost impossible for horses to climb the grade and many have been seriously injured there. The street is paved with vitrified brick, grouted with hard cement, and it is difficult for an animal to secure the slightest hold.

The Mayor yesterday appointed T. E. Gibbon a delegate to the City Planning Conference, to be held in Philadelphia, May 17.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR EDWARDS.

ASSAILANT OF YOUNG GIRL IS INDIFFERENT.

Judge Expresses Regret That Law Does Not Provide for Greater Penalty—Experts Declare Man to Be of Lowest Type of Criminal Degeneracy.

An unnatural indifference was displayed by James Edwards, the assailant of Julia Koebig, yesterday morning, as he stood before Judge McCormick to listen to the words which condemned him to spend the remainder of his life behind the prison bars for having committed a crime which could only be conceived by a fiend.

The judge strained his vocabulary to find words which would properly express his outraged feelings toward the prisoner at the bar, but confessed that the ferocity of the crime could only be felt and not described.

Edwards was as devoid of any feeling as though he were a stone statue. When asked if he desired to say anything as to why judgment should not be pronounced, he carelessly replied that he did not.

The details of the crime and information which the officers have gleaned, leads them to classify Edwards as one of the most abnormal degenerates who have been produced in this country in a decade. It is asserted that his case is a rival of that of Durant or of any of the Europeans who have puzzled the medical profession.

Edwards broke into the Koebig home at No. 1720 Toberman street on April 24. He was trailed to his room by Detectives Jones and Boyd, and readily confessed his guilt.

Judge McCormick told the criminal that the Legislature had been too lenient, and that his only regret was that he could not impose a more severe penalty than life imprisonment. Edwards will be taken to prison without delay.

WIFE'S PLEA SAVES.

HUSBAND ON PROBATION.

The pleas of Mrs. Emil Earheart yesterday saved her husband from being sent to prison for having assaulted her with a deadly weapon. He was found guilty and asked for probation. She denies former statements to the effect that he had been cruel to her, and declared, on the contrary, he had been exceedingly kind. He will be at liberty, under the care of Judge Willis's court, for two years.

Several prisoners, yesterday, pleaded guilty and asked for probaton. Their cases will be disposed of on the 8th inst. They are A. L. Aemans, who passed fictitious checks; A. B. Drake, who admitted two charges of forgery, and Melville B. Levi, a forger.

SMITH, BROWN, JONES.

ALL THE GOOD OLD NAMES.

One of the most commonplace cases from the standpoint of names, which has been in the courts in months was disposed of yesterday in extra session No. 1.

The court was presided over by Judge Smith. The plaintiff was Mrs. N. L. Brown and the defendant C. W. Smith. One of the attorneys is named Jones.

Mrs. Brown sued Smith for damages for having made misrepresentations relative to the sale of a lot at Alabama street and Avenue 61. She was given judgment for $1000.

PRIZE FIGHT BRIEF.

OPPOSES HABEAS CORPUS.

Deputy District Attorney Hammon will file a lengthy brief today, advancing reasons why Judge Willis shall not release on habeas corpus proceedings the men who were arrested for participating in a prize fight.

The defendants are Ad Wolgast, George Memsic, Thomas McCarey and Charles Eyton. They have been held to answer to the Superior Court.

Hammon has consumed much time in reviewing all of the law which bears on the case and declares that he has found an unbroken line of decisions which uphold the position which the District Attorney's office has taken.

MARITAL TROUBLES.

FOUR DECREES GRANTED.

The divorce mill ground freely, yesterday, when Judge Monroe granted four decrees, and heard the evidence in two more cases, in less than an hour. In the same time he disposed of several other matters relative to legal separations.

Mrs. Mabel A. Wilson did not like the residence which her husband selected at Baldwin Park, which settlement has come into prominence on account of the odors from the city's garbage dump. Her lifelong ambition was to be a school teacher, and she is now teaching the young idea how to shoot, in a small town near the Roosevelt dam. He was given a decree, she not appearing.

Gladys Davis was severed from M. F. Davis on the grounds of desertion. For a similar reason Nellie B. Clark was granted a decree from Lincoln Clark. Mabel C. Michael was deserted by James C. Michael, and was given legal relief.

Frank E. Peterson was ordered to appear in the suit against him by Josephine Peterson. The judge desired to make sure that he had been served with a subpoena. One more witness will be summoned in the action in which Cora E. Paget charges Robert Paget with cruelty.

QUARREL SETTLED.

DIVORCE CASE ENDED.

"This is the most pleasant duty I have ever performed officially," declared Judge Monroe, yesterday, when he dismissed the suit for divorce and cross-complaint in the case of Maurice Newman against Jessie W. Newman.

The case was to have been tried on Thursday. The court was surprised when the smiling couple approached him yesterday. They declared that they had settled all of their differences and had decided that they could be happy together.

The judge expressed a hope that they might never need the services of the court in a similar circumstance.

DRUGGIST SUED.

FOR DEATH OF INFANT.

The circumstances of the sad death of an infant were related before Judge Willis yesterday in a suit of B. A. Haskins against R. L. Shinker, a druggist, to recover $5000 damages for the demise of the plaintiff's son, Bertram, 10 months old.

The mother with difficulty repressed her tears as she told of having administered two pills to the child, who was ill, on September 26, 1909, and the manner in which he went to sleep, and never awakened.

Dr. R. P. Dundas prescribed for the infant and the prescription was filled at Shinker's drug store. The action is based on the allegation that the druggist made a mistake and furnished pills containing much opium instead of a harmless drug.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

BAD BARGAIN. The suit of Anton Miller for an annulment of a contract for the sale to him of real property in Kings county, by C. Edwin Alderson, was brought to trial before Judge W. M. Conley of Madera county, who is sitting in extra department No. 3, yesterday. Miller was formerly a Dakota farmer, whose lands were irrigated by the heavens. He came to California on a visit and thought he would like to locate here. He was shown a field of alfalfa growing in luxuriance and declares that he was told that the property next to it, which he later bought, would be equally productive with proper care. He alleges that he was also assured that he would get the same water right. He avers that the water right which he received was of little value and the property was not worth cultivating.

SOMBER CASE. Judge Rives yesterday listened to evidence to support a motion to remove Mrs. Marie G. Tomb as executrix to the estate of her late husband, Thomas Tomb, a wealthy Kansas City cattleman, who died in this city. The matter was taken under advisement.

THOUSAND A FINGER. A jury in Judge Houser's court yesterday awarded W. D. Barckdall $5000 damages against the Simons Brick Company. The plaintiff was employed in the brick yard when his right hand was caught in some machinery, and his fingers and thumb so badly mangled that it was necessary to amputate them.

THROWN OFF. The suit of Barney Ferdinand against the Pacific Electric Railway for $5050 damages was begun before Judge Houser yesterday. Ferdinand was thrown from a car at Brooklyn avenue and Echandia street on May 5, 1910, and severely injured. He alleged that the railway company employees were negligent.

WOULD OUST 'EM. Walter P. Story, owner of the building at Sixth street and Broadway which bears his name, yesterday brought suit to terminate a lease to room No. 812 between himself and H. C. Hullinger. He asserts that he rented the office to the defendant for a period of five years for $45 a month, and that Hullinger broke his covenant by subletting it to the Ricketts Brokerage Company for $77.50 per month. He asks the court to terminate the contract and award him $125 damages.

GETS OFF EASY. Albert B. Cluxton was given five years' probation yesterday by Judge Wilbur. Cluxton was found guilty of having contributed to the delinquency of Hazel Wharton, a 16-year-old ward of the court.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporations were filed yesterday by the Thompson-Snow Amusement Company; directors, J. D. Thompson, H. C. Snow and Carl H. Pafenbach; capital stock, $55,000; subscribed $15. Fisherman's Market Company, directors, Francis H. Johnson, F. W. Fellows and Marshall Stimson; capital stock $10,000, subscribed $33. Oak Lodge Land and Water Company, directors, R. B. Turnbull, P. E. Greed and Donald Barker, capital stock $100,000, subscribed $100,000.

PRELIMINARY STEP. Attorneys for Anita Beatrice Baldwin Turnbull yesterday sought to have Judge Rives settle the bill of exceptions in her case in order that they might perfect their appeal. The judge postponed the case until today in order to learn if Attorney Garrett McErnerney of San Francisco desired to be present when the bill is considered. The petition of the heirs for a partial distribution of the estate of the late E. J. Baldwin was brought to the attention of the judge but he deferred action for one week.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Socialist Gets the Twenty Days Previously Imposed—Says Police Have It in for Him.

Frank P. Oats, an inebriate and socialist, was sent to jail for twenty days yesterday by Police Judge Frederickson, who last week released him under a twenty-day suspended sentence upon Oats' promise to brace up. He was in court again yesterday morning on another charge of drunkenness. Police Judge Rose, before whom he was taken, dismissed the case so that Police Judge Frederickson could enforce the earlier sentence.

"I didn't do anything. The police simply have it in for me because I am a socialist," Oats declared. "Most every time they see me they say, 'Ah, there you are. We will get you yet.'"

The police declared that Oats is an habitual inebriate and that fact, they say, accounts for his periodic appearances.

Forgery Charged.

G. W. Baker, charged with passing forged checks for small amounts in various business houses, was held for trial in the Superior Court by Police Judge Frederickson yesterday. A check for $45, ostensibly signed by Howard & Brundage, fire adjusters, was mentioned in the complaint.

DYNAMITE CASES.

Nine, which happens to occupy the smallest of the twelve courtrooms. A hundred spectators will crowd it. Consequently the opportunity of a large attendance is remote if the trial be held in this chamber instead of the Hall of Justice, where other criminal cases are tried. It is stated that every official has the purpose to have the trial conducted with the strictest dignity. It is probable the court will adopt a rule requiring all visitors to be admitted by tickets, and to limit the number daily.

Rappaport would not say yesterday when Attorney Darrow is to be here, but he stated that Darrow will be in the case. "There has never been any doubt about this in my mind," said the Indianapolis lawyer. Rappaport also said his visit has nothing to do with arranging the fees to be paid counsel for defense, and that this has never been discussed by him or Darrow. "I am sure there will be plenty of funds to provide for the defense," he added.

Rappaport spent three hours with John J. McNamara yesterday in the County Jail. Late in the afternoon he also saw McNamara-Brice. It was after he talked with the secretary of the ironworkers' union that he announced that the case will be tried in Los Angeles county. He said it is McNamara's wish.

HE'S BRINGING EVIDENCE.

Assistant District Attorney Ford is to reach Los Angeles tomorrow afternoon. He has in his possession, it is understood, much of the evidence collected at Indianapolis against the prisoners. The McManigal confession, made in Chicago, is understood to have been forwarded to the District Attorney last week. Dispatches from Columbia, O., last night announce that W. J. Burns left there for Los Angeles and San Francisco, in connection with the dynamite case. He is not expected here before Sunday or Monday. His coming may mean further disclosures of the murderous plot.

At the request of the District Attorney yesterday the Supervisors honored his requisition for $10,000 to be used in his secret-service fund. This money is to be applied in defraying the expenses of the prosecution, Capt. Fredericks said, and is probably all that will be asked. Before the requisition was presented and approved Capt. Fredericks explained to the Supervisors the necessity for its appropriation to his purposes. This necessity was not explained by him to others.

COMPARING FINGERPRINTS.

Frank H. De Pue of the State Bureau of Identification, San Francisco, yesterday received from this city copies of the fingerprints of J. B. McNamara, accompanied by a request from the District Attorney that he compare them with the finger impressions found on the launch Pastime, in which the dynamite from the Giant Powder Works was taken across the bay. De Pue is having photographs of the fingerprints in the launch made, and his report is expected in about ten days.

Should the impressions of the fingers of McNamara coincide with those discovered on the walls of the little cabin of the Pastime it will be one more link in the strong chain of evidence connecting Brice and McNamara.

"It is necessary to have a number of enlarged prints made and practically every line must be compared," said De Pue last night, according to a dispatch from San Francisco. "A microscopic examination is imperative and the lines will have to be measured to the most minute fraction of an inch. I fully appreciate the fact that this is a most important matter, and will devote the greatest care to it. I expect to be in a position to make a report to the Los Angeles authorities in about ten days, and it will be up to them to then make the report public should they desire to do so."

PRESS VIEWS ON DYNAMITE CASES.

The Arrest of McNamara.

The arrest of John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Ironworkers, on the charge of plotting to blow up the Times Building in Los Angeles, is an event of the first importance, not alone for the members of this union, but for the people of all classes throughout the country.

While McNamara's brother, James W. McNamara, is directly charged with placing nitro-glycerine which wrecked the Times Building on the night of October 1, 1910, and cost the lives of twenty-one people, the responsibility for this explosion, and for many others in different parts of the country, is charged by the detectives against the secretary of the union himself.

He should certainly not be judged by the public in advance of his trial, but that trial, when it comes, will be followed by the people of the entire country with an interest which few criminal cases have ever received. The Los Angeles outrage was one of the foulest crimes in the recent history of America. The punishment of the perpetrators is demanded by every consideration of right and justice. If it is true, as charged, that the labor-union leaders planned this as a deliberate part of their fight against the association of large operators in structural iron-work, the respectable union followers of those men should be the first to repudiate them.—[Binghamton, (N. Y.) Press.

The Crime of A Continent.

The crime whose existence is established, if the confession of an informer made at Chicago is accepted, is one of such appalling atrocity and magnitude, that its perpetrators may be conceded to have acted fittingly in using the breadth of a continent to stage it.

The story Harry Orchard told was horrifying enough, but this latest informer has improved on all predecessors. Considering as one collective offense all the misdeeds to which he made admission, it is a crime that stretches across 3000 miles of territory, presents ramifications reaching into scores of widely separated localities and numbers among its victims more than a hundred lives. It is the execution of a plan whose very audacity is dismaying.

In effect it constitutes a virtual state civil war, carried on so secretly as to be unsuspected, against the law and the authorities charged with the preservation of order. It reaches its climax in the dreadful tragedy in which twenty faithful newspaper workers met a terrible death in Los Angeles, but includes many other outrages that differ from this one only in degree, and largely because of fortuitous circumstances.

If such a conspiracy in crime as that alleged has existed, we may be sure that those implicated as leaders or accessories number many more than three or four persons. Provided that allegations already accepted as sufficient by experienced officers of the law are true, no duty of this time is more important than that of running down and punishing all members of this conspiracy and striking a blow that will put an end to such heinous and widespread practices.—[St. Louis Republic.

No Kidnaping.

The startling developments in the case of the Los Angeles Times Building mystery, which now include an alleged detailed confession on the part of one of the alleged dynamiters, are stirring up much bitter and violent comment. The situation calls for self-restraint and a suspension of judgment.

In the first place, the law presumes innocence until crime is proved. In the second place, the more grave and amazing the charges against any group of citizens of respectable records, the greater is the instinctive disinclination to credit them. Men are men, not fiends in human shape, is the first thought, and only substantial, convincing evidence removes our natural presumptions.

So far, however, there has been nothing illegal or extra-legal in the treatment of those under arrest. There has been no "kidnaping." One executive of known independence, courage and honesty has honored a requisition of another such executive. A judge ordered the surrender of a man on the presentation of a properly honored requisition. There is no hostility to labor and no violence to constitutional law or public morals in these steps. The Governor and judge acted as they were bound to act, and denunciation of them is based on misapprehension. We can all afford to be fair and sane; the accused will not be punished unless they are guilty, and their trial will be legal and fair.—[Chicago Record-Herald.

Murder by Wholesale.

One, McManigal, taken into custody in Chicago, has made a confession. He has told a story of destruction of life and property. The murders—for that is what they were—exceeded one hundred, and the value of the property destroyed is said to have been $3,500,000. Three men, whose names are given, are directly implicated, and some of the particulars have been followed up. For instance, the place where dynamite was said to have been stored was disclosed. It was visited, and there the explosive was found.

This is corroboration. This is adding the circumstantial to the verbal. Assuming the rest to be true, the services of the prisoner and his more immediate associates were at the disposal of a labor organization which employed murderers who employed dynamite for "big and little jobs." McManigal could not remember the exact number, so he tried to approximate it, guessing "a hundred or so." He volunteered the further information that life was lost in all but one of them.

From other sources have come other particulars, also corroborative. They indicate that the dynamiters, or those to whom they sold their services, were not satisfied with their havoc in Los Angeles, where there would have been other explosions had it not been too hazardous to attempt them. McManigal himself returned to the scene, but found that what he described as too close a watch was kept. Hence, the immunity since enjoyed. And for that immunity, those who enjoyed it have their vigilance to thank.

There will not be anything like a general disposition to regard the confession as a story woven out of whole cloth. As stated, it is supported by the results of the advantage of it detectives have taken since. Then it is crowding credulity to suppose McManigal to have, as it were, a preference for a halter. But, for the present, the confession may be accepted for anything it purports to be worth, nothing being surer than that before long it will be subjected to processes of confirmation or impeachment as the case may be.

Meanwhile, it is difficult to imagine any statments more unfortunate than those the disclosure has provoked from the president of the American Federation of Labor, Samuel Gompers.

He has stigmatized as an "infamous outrage" the arrest of James J. McNamara, one of the alleged associates of McMaginal. He calls his apprehension the first act of a tragedy contemplating the assassination of organized labor, with the stage all set and the properties arranged before the curtain went up with a blare of trumpets. He is convinced that the cause he espouces is the victim of a great conspiracy.

Well, there has been more than one "infamous outrage." There has been more than the "first act of a tragedy." There has been more than the mere contemplation of "assassination." For months the newspapers have been printing accounts of the use of dynamite. They have been telling stories of explosions carefully planned and as deliberately executed; explosions in which there was no attempt to distinguish between the guilty and the innocent from the organized labor point of view.

No matter what the provocation, murder is bad enough. Perhaps it is no worse when the victims include those who have given no provocation at all; but dynamiters do not stop to think of that. Some years ago they blew up a station platform, shattering to atoms many who had absolutely no connection with the grievances, so called, prompting murder by wholesale. Of all the terms, therefore, which sedulously should have been avoided by Mr. Gompers, tragedy, outrage and assassination should have been the last to be taken from his lexicon.

Equally unfortunate was Hugh Frayne, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor, in this city, and personal representative of Mr. Gompers. At the meeting of the federation yesterday, he said that it would stand by McNamara, adding: "The only thing that would make me believe McNamara to be capable of such a thing would be his own statement to that effect." There is only one step further for Mr. Frayne to go. All that remains for him to say is he would still believe in McNamara's innocence if the prisoner made a confession of guilt.

It is just this sort of thing that has helped to bring organized labor into disrepute. And it is just the reverse of this sort of thing that would have the reverse effect. Its leaders should be among the first to denounce murder and murderers. As a matter of fact, they should be among the first to give expression to the hope that proof of guilt being forthcoming, retribution swift and sure will follow. They know how many dynamiters have gone unwhipped of justice, and they know that in every instance those who are at odds with organized labor have suffered; but they are always incredulous.

In the present case, there is more to come. McManigal had immediate associates, but there were others. Murder is not done for nothing. When it is not the result of passion, when it follows deliberation, when it is reduced, as it were, to a fine art, and when there are employers and employed, there is a consideration nominated in the bond. If, as alleged, there was a secret council at which sentences of death were passed, the rest will be awaited with interest. For not less guilty than those who take blood money are those who give it.—[Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

FULTON LEASE IN NEW HANDS.

Providence Capitalists Are Now in Control.

Development of Property Is to Be Pushed.

General News of Interest From Oil Fields.

An oil deal of considerable significance in the Maricopa district was the sale of the Fulton Oil Company's lease. This property comprises 120 acres in the southwest quarter of section 1, 11-24, adjoining the town of Maricopa. Several weeks ago it was announced that John M. Wright, the owner of the Fulton, would sell to the Sunset Monarch, but this deal fell through and the Fulton property was recently taken over by the group of Providence, R. I., capitalists that already controlled the Adeline Road Oil Company.

While the price paid for the Fulton lease is not given, it is surmised that the Providence people offered more than the Sunset Monarch had agreed to pay. Anyhow, the Fulton is now in charge of the new owners, and W. H. Taylor, general manager of the Adeline Road Oil Company, occupies the same position with the newly acquired property which will hereafter be known as the Fulton Road Oil Company. Floyd Knight, who has been the superintendent of the Fulton for the past two or three years, will remain with the lease in the same capacity.

The new owners have let a contract for the erection of several new derricks and expect to start five strings of tools going at once. It is their intention to drill a number of new wells on the lease, and continue its development until the property is practically all drilled up and brought to the highest state of productiveness.

BEAR CREEK IN OIL. GETS GOOD PRODUCER.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

BAKERSFIELD, May 1.—The Bear Creek Oil Company on section 14, 31-22, has brought in its well No. 5 as a 400-barrel producer at a depth of 1440 feet. The well was baled for a couple of hours after it was perforated and then began shooting oil over the derrick. The well came in while a number of directors and stockholders were present, including the president, James Sloan, R. A. Lozier, Charles Arkley, W. J. Packard, James Rennie, H. S. Cherrie, Fred Teatsworth and Charles Reed of Lompoc; E. M. Sheridan and R. W. Stevens of Midway, and J. L. Hulbert, C. A. Hunt and Basil Fox, all of Santa Barbara.

The Midway Royal Petroleum is down over 2300 feet on section 11, 31-22 and expects to strike the oil sand very soon. On adjacent land the Poinsetta recently brought in a fine well at 2800 feet.

Business men of Taft have formed a Credit Men's Association with the following officers: President, E. H. Conklin; vice-president, C. W. Fox; secretary, Charles Del Bolindo; treasurer, C. C. Painter.

The Midway school district has plans drawn for a handsome school building in the Mission style.

The Combination Midway Oil Company is down 2300 feet, fishing for tools lost in the hole.

The Oil and Metals Bank of Taft has elected the following directors: L. L. Elliott, W. S. Collins, William Loftus, Frank J. Thomas, C. B. Barnes, E. A. Montgomery, R. J. Walters and H. J. Scott.

Electors of the Conley school district, in the Midway oil field, voted by a majority of fifty-eight to one for a $50,000 bond issue for the purpose of building a new schoolhouse. The building will be finished in time for next fall's term. The schoolhouse will be at Taft.

A workman named Fred Smith, entering a rig on the North American Consolidated Oil Company's lease on section 22, 31-23, ignited the gas escaping from the well with the result that the rig was destroyed and the workman was seriously burned about the head.

BIG WELL LOOSE AGAIN. PRODUCING MUCH OIL.

R. M. Henningsen, president of the way Five Oil Company, returned to Los Angeles from the field yesterday and reports that well No. 1 broke loose Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock with such tremendous force that it cut the crown block of the derrick, throwing up a large amount of shale. This continued until about 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

During this time the well delivered about 4000 barrels of oil. This well is regarded as one of the best producers in the field, its output during the month totaling 50,000 barrels. No. 2 well of the company is expected in any time. It is now down 1970 feet with 8¼-inch casing. The first oil was encountered at 1900 feet, and the hole is loaded with water so as to allow the drilling to be continued to a greater depth. The company is anxious to have as much sand as possible for perforating, as in the No. 1 which has 157 feet of oil sand to draw from.

No. 4 well is down to a depth of [illegible] feet with a 15-inch casing.

CONSOLIDATED MIDWAY. LATEST DEVELOPMENTS.

The fifteen directors of the Consolidated Midway Oil Company, according to agreement, resigned a week ago and a committee was selected to name a board that would not be so unwieldy in point of numbers. On top of this the big gusher on fractional section [illegible] which in a period of twenty-three days flowed 25,000 barrels of oil, sanded up.

Officials of the company say that unless the gas pressure back of the gusher again asserts itself, the well will be put on the pump the same as the other wells in that vicinity, and under those conditions they expect that the well will have a long life.

The change in the board of directors and the second sanding up of the well were responsible for a sharp decline in the stock on the local exchange.

VENTURA OIL FIELDS. ACTIVITY IS PRESENT.

Activity has been general of late in the oil fields of Ventura county. The Star Company last week in No. [illegible] struck a good flow of light oil at a depth of 3100 feet. The well will be put on the pump. It is the deepest in the district.

DISLOCATED.

A Colton physician fell from a treetop and one of his legs was broken. Even a very good doctor may be out of place in a treetop.

ANOTHER DEFINITION.

A friend explains to us that when one man talks to another who does not understand him and the talker does not understand what he is talking about, it is metaphysics.

MISPLACED CONFIDENCE.

The Begum of Bhopal, an Indian princess who will neither see nor be seen, is exciting Paris by her presence. From what we have read of it, Paris is no place for a lady of that character.

THEY COME CHEAP.

A countess who is suing for divorce and for separate maintenance wants $100 a month, but her husband tells the court that the lady could live on $40. We had no idea that nobility was so inexpensive.

HAVE IT BACKWARD.

An attempt is being made to have a millionaire newspaper man in the East adjudged insane. It is when a millionaire undertakes to break into the newspaper business and not when a man in the business earns a million at it that he is really crazy.

STILL SIGNING BILLS.

It is hoped that Gov. Johnson will conclude his labor of signing the laws passed by the late Assembly by the time that the cows get home. The Governor is likely to fracture the rule of the union by working overtime.

BIG BUSINESS.

The old saying that if you want a thing done you must go to a busy man is again demonstrated in the fact that Detective William J. Burns has uncovered a nest of bribe-takers in the Ohio Legislature and has secured twenty confessions from the culprits.

THE ANALYSIS OF CHEESE.

The poetry of a "Cotter's Saturday Night" was interrupted at a Santa Monica home when seven members of a family were stricken with ptomaine poisoning from eating cottage cheese. We are thereby reminded that someone has described cheese as "the glorification of decay."

CORRAL'S DENIAL.

Vice-President Corral has given out an interview in which he denies having said that Americans were fomenting the revolution in Mexico. Nobody better than Corral knows that the great majority of Americans favor the reign of law, order and progress under the administration of President Diaz.

THEY'RE AFTER HIM.

The fact that Gov. Harmon is the first of the avowed candidates for the Presidency to open up headquarters has aroused the enmity of his opponents and they are already throwing old shoes, tin cans and other impedimenta into his political back yard. It promises to be an unusually hot summer.

DEMOCRAT SMIRCHED.

Hon. George B. Nye, a member of the Ohio Legislature, who is implicated in the alleged bribery of members of that body, is a well-known Ohio Democrat who represents Pike county in the Legislature. They have been trying to catch "Dock" Nye for lo these many years and it appears that they have caught him with both hands in the trap this time.

A REAL SKYSCRAPER.

A permit has just been issued in New York for the erection of a fifty-five-story building that will tower more than 700 feet in the air. It will be the highest building in the world. Some time ago a business man of Los Angeles was refused a permit for the erection of a business block that exceeded the limit set by the City Council. It seems they do things differently in Gotham.

NOMENCLATURE.

The science of nomenclature is either entirely misunderstood or else utterly defied by a great many owners of property. "The Seaside" is not within sight or sound twenty miles from any running stream. "The Seaside" is not within sight or sound or smell of the sea. "Pleasant Valley" is for more than half the year under water and "La Vista" is at the bottom of a ravine where the only view to be obtained is that of the sky, and one has to lie upon his back to obtain that.

The practice of inappropriately naming places is extended to misnaming men. A Speaker of the New York State Assembly who lived on the Hudson River, nowhere near a mountain, and whose head was crowned with a heavy growth of hair, was called "the Bald Eagle of the Catskills." A diminutive Democratic statesman whose residence was on the Ohio River was designated as "the Tall Poplar of the Lakes," and a strictly conservative and exceedingly intelligent Congressman from California was called—by those who did not like him—the "Wild Ass of Siskiyou."

If the practice shall be resumed we shall have Gov. Johnson named as "The Gentle Shepherd of Insurgents," Lissner will be called "the Shrinking Statesman of the Pacific," and Dist.-Atty. Fredericks will be popularly known as "Woolwine's Delight."

That Tokio baseball team seems to be doing fairly well for a club whose players can boast of so much yellow.

THE PULCHRITUDE OF WORKS.

The Boston Advertiser says: "From the far West Senator Works of California is a contribution to the Senate's pulchritude. He looks the part of a statesman. California has not so shone lately." [Ah there, Flint!]

"Pulchritude," according to Webster's Dictionary, is "from pulcher—beautiful. It is "That quality of external appearance which pleases the eye; beauty; comeliness; grace; loveliness."

What has our junior Senator done to earn such derisive comment from a journal published at the Hub of the Universe? The Boston Advertiser, in branding Senator Works as "beautiful, graceful and lovely," is evidently giving him what sinful, slangy persons call a "stiff." In more common, if not more elegant, phrase it is "joshing" him. It could not have said more of him if he had been a chorus girl, attired in pink tights, with an 18-inch waist and a 42-inch bust covered with pearl powder worn decollete—the bust, not the powder—and with lips stained with henna, rouged cheeks, peroxide blonde hair and eyes made bright with injections of belladonna.

The Times resents the description of Senator Works given by the Boston Advertiser. It is not to be denied that the Senator has "An outside person and a smooth dispose,

Framed to make women false."

It is not to be denied that when the Senator uplifts his Apollo-like form from his curule chair and makes "a listening Senate tremble with his voice" he radiates beauty like a perfume until the galleries are wild with admiration. The Times does not deny that, with his left hand thrust in the breast of his long-tailed coat and his right arm sawing the air like a pump-handle on a jamboree, the Senator has

—"the front of Jove himself,
An eye like Mars to threaten and command,
A station like the Herald Mercury
New lighted on a heaven-kissing hill,
A combination and a form indeed
Where every god doth seem to set his seal."

But the Senator is dignified rather than "lovely," and majestic rather than "graceful." He is strong, but he is not "just too sweet for anything."

The Times declares that the sneers of the Boston Advertiser are simply outrageous. Suppose that Works did obtain his place by disregard of pledges, by violation of law, and by means not of jack-pot money bribes, but with promises of appointments to office? Is that any reason why a low-down, scurrilous Massachusetts newspaper should make mockery of his personal appearance? Senator Works has much to answer for, but The Times denies that he is guilty of "pulchritude."

DESECRATION OF CHILDHOOD.

Nothing so instantly appeals to the average audience as the appearance of a little child upon the stage. The younger, more unconscious and natural the child, the greater the delight of its auditors. Few seem to realize that this appreciation is destroying the very charm it applauds. The child who speaks "pieces," sings or dances before the public in nine cases out of ten soon loses the naturalness and innocence that belong to childhood and begins to seek consciously for attention and admiration. And the bloom of spontaneity once lost is never regained—the bud that is blasted, however slightly, never makes the perfect blossom.

It is really a pitiful thing to see a tiny girl who should be tucked safely in her crib or making mud-pies—only the children of today don't make mud-pies—doing ballet steps and skirt dances with all the airs and affectations of the seasoned chorus girl. It is a sight to bring tears rather than laughter when babies do cake walks, sing popular airs and perform vaudeville stunts with the poise and coolness of professionals. The child who is thus put forward soon becomes that most unbearable of all nuisances, the little prig who demands the center of the stage and expects constant attention and praise. The overstimulated, self-conscious child develops into the self-centered, notoriety-seeking "grown-up," as a rule—the sort of person who goes through life with every action and every movement calculated for its effect upon onlookers.

The church, school or "benefit" entertainment which depends mainly upon the performance of children for its attraction may win dollars; but no object can be worthy enough to compensate for the injury done the little ones when they are robbed of innocence and naturalness and their childhood desecrated by premature sophistication. At best our children lose their freshness and purity of spirit soon enough after they leave the "gate of Paradise."

ANARCHY OPENLY ADVOCATED.

The manifesto of the "Organizing Junta of the Mexican Liberal party," signed by two Magons and three others, has been printed on dodgers and circulated broadcast.

Its immediate object is to secure cash contributions which it urges all friends of anarchy to remit to its quarters in Los Angeles. Its ultimate purpose, as stated in its manifesto, is not "to destroy the dictator, Porfirio Diaz, in order to put in his place a new tyrant," but to "take part in the actual insurrection with the deliberate and firm purpose of expropriating the land and the means of production and handing them over to the people, that is, to each and every one of the inhabitants of Mexico, without distinction of sex." The authors and circulators of the manifesto "deny the right of property." They propose "the installation of a system which shall guarantee to every human being bread, land and liberty"—meaning thereby unearned bread, land belonging to somebody else, and liberty to loaf when not engaged in larceny.

This morbid, crazy, anarchic manifesto is too utterly ridiculous—so far as any mischievous results may be apprehended from its publication—to warrant serious attention from the authorities, unless it should be deemed expedient to send its authors to an asylum for the insane. But it contains one feature worthy of notice in that it indorses the conclusion of The Times—hitherto stated in its editorial columns—that the resignation of President Diaz and the triumph of Madero, so far from securing an end of the present insurrection in our sister republic, would result in the inauguration of insurrections against Madero in every part of Mexico.

The manifesto says:

"Francisco I. Madero is a millionaire who has seen his fabulous fortune grow with the sweat and the tears of the peons of his hacienda. . . . The Mexican Liberal party is not fighting to destroy the dictator, Porfirio Diaz, in order to put in his place a new tyrant. . . . The dictatorship of Porfirio Diaz is about to fall; but the revolution will not end by this act alone. Upon the tomb of this infamous dictatorship there will stand, face to face, with arms in the hand, two social classes. This formidable fight of the two social classes in Mexico is the first act of the great universal tragedy which will soon have for its stage the surface of the whole planet."

The junta of the Mexican Liberal party appeals to the Tvietmoe-Gallagher-McCarthy-McNamara-McManigal-Los Angeles Record banded brotherhood of beer and brawling as follows:

"Your brothers in Mexico have had the courage to raise on high the Red Flag, but not to make a puerile boast with it in inoffensive manifestations through streets and plazas which almost always terminate with the arrest and the wounding of the participators by the cossacks of the tyrant, but to sustain it firmly in the battlefields as a spirited challenge to the old society which it is trying to crush.

"Our cause is yours; if you remain inactive while your brothers meet death embracing the Red Flag, you will give with your inaction a rude blow to the cause of the proletarian.

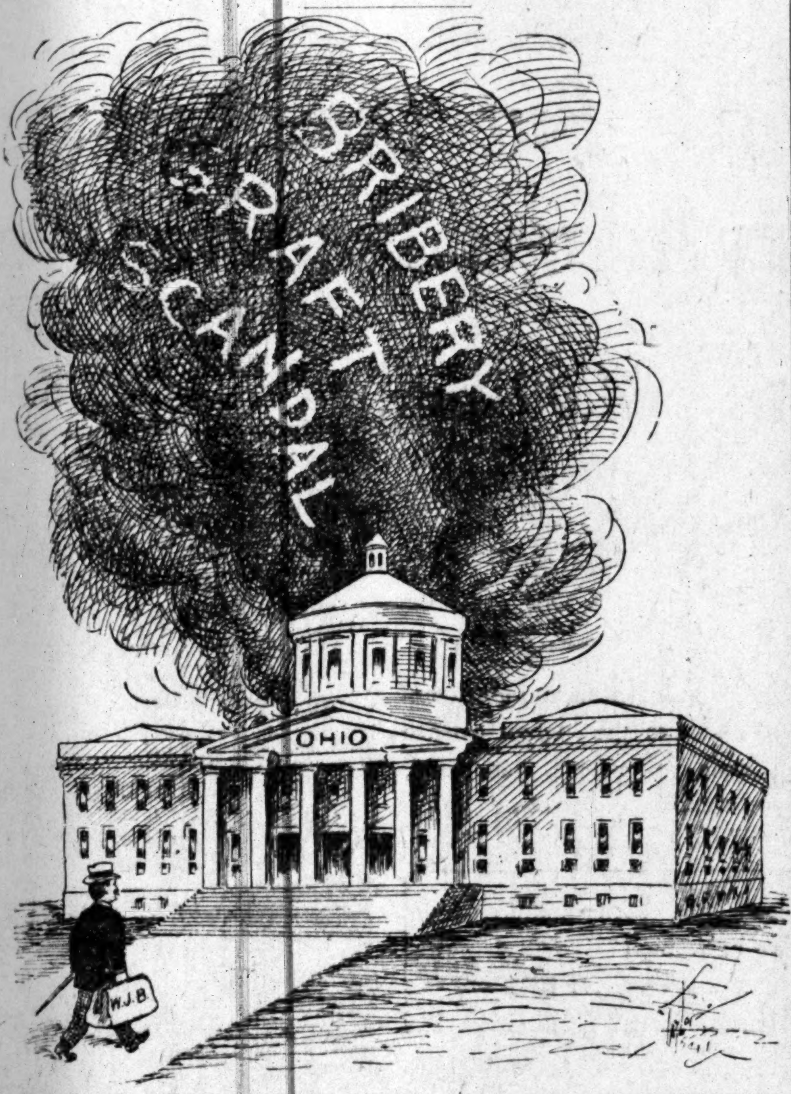
"We shall not spend time in showing you what has come of your indifference, of your lack of solidarity, of the disregard of your duty in failing to unite to precipitate the advent of the social revolution."

The peroration of the manifesto is an appeal for "money, money and more money for the support of the social revolution in Mexico."

The authors and publishers of the manifesto have clearly rendered themselves amenable to the provisions of the neutrality act of Congress, and the United States District Attorney will not exceed his duty if he causes their arrest and prosecution. But it is doubtful if such a course would not be giving too much consequence to the crazy fools. It is not likely that the most ultra and unthinking of the members of the closed-shop labor unions will divest themselves of much of their wages in order to help the members of the Mexican junta to sustain their worthless bodies in luxury. The workers who won't work are themselves mendicants and have no money to contribute, and those who are at work have their own Tvietmoes and Gallaghers and McCarthys and walking delegates to provide for.

The manifesto of the junta is an interesting contribution to current industrial literature in that it shows that the only way by which the people of Mexico can hope to obtain and retain peace, order and prosperity is to uphold President Diaz and aid in crushing the rebellion.

Another Statehouse "Burns"



THE GLORIOUS DESERT.

Have you ever, just about half an hour before sunrise, awakened from a warm, hovering slumber and, looking through the open window, gazed dreamily across the glimmering landscape? Did the world ever seem so chill and gray and cheerless as at this particular moment, when the trees hang dark and heavy and the distant houses are shrouded in ill-fitting cloaks of solemn mist and only a long, yellow-white dimness in the far-off east suggests the ending of another night? This is the second when the cares and duties of life become shadowy and unreal, before their importance has been stamped again upon the returning consciousness.

To enjoy to the full this feeling of blessed irresponsibility one needs a spacious modern sleeping-porch, with the cold tub ready at hand within the open door to bring back in one swift, sharp plunge to the eater of the early morning lotus-food, the practical realities of the work-a-day world. Or, best of all, one should be wrapt up in blanket and canvas out in the glorious desert, under the big yellow stars, and wake up just as the Pleiades have chased Orion's Belt into the hazy west, where the night is dying, and the Ursus Major is lost beyond some funeral range of mountains; while the great desert stars that have hung all night like amber balls in the indigo vault of eternity pale into the insignificance of a milky way as seen through a city murk. And then suddenly out of the cold, dead sands a red-hot, flattened sphere the magnified sun turns the whole atmosphere into gossamer veils of red and green and orange. Yes, to enjoy to the full the return of another day one should be far away in vast mountain solitudes beside the tinkling stream, or lost in the boundless desert beyond the reach of cities and markets and the rights and wrongs of wrangling humanity.

To fly far, far away, on the wings of a dove, into the uninhabited wild of nature, where the sun's rays are never dimmed with tears of human suffering, where the soft sands are never tortured by the iron heel of tyranny, where the strong, pure winds sweep away all the venom of human malice; there would we live; there would all hearts grow sweet and brave and simple, mingling and merging with the desert, growing and swelling with its boundless freedom, refreshed and strengthened in its clean, crisp air. At noon, within its blazing crucible the dross of sin shall melt and crumble into powder, at night under the cool, dark shadow of its starry wing the peace of God shall nestle with our souls. The one peace "that passeth understanding" and seems so impossible in the roar and rush of city life.

So perhaps we have been dreaming in that "misty mid-region" between sleeping and waking. But the alarm clock cares nothing for our romantic imaginations; the sun is already rebuking us for sluggardly waste of precious time; life, and not the desert, is yet ahead of us.

Life, full of fragrant earth, bright color, buoyant air; the busy streets, the crowds of jostling bodies, the clash—you can almost hear it—of nimble brains in sharp encounter; the keen edge of competition, the mechanical whirl of wheels, the scent of man-raised dust; all the concentration of city forces is dear to the heart, still fond of fighting and loving and accomplishing.

And yet—and yet—the worker, a little tired of the unending conflict, a little worn by the ceaseless grind, perhaps disheartened at the wide gap between effort and result—be he millionaire or lawyer or doctor or artisan or laborer or only a poor newspaper man—will sometimes echo the bitter cry of the grand old prophet of Israel, who, for all the wild unrest tugging at his heartstrings, never deserted his God or neglected his people: "Oh, for the wings of a dove, for then would I flee away and be at rest."

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

I am old and gray and spavined and I look like twenty cents, but I have one consolation now that life is in its fall; I can sit upon a boulder, with my back against the fence, and forget my tribulations when I see a game of ball. Oh, I love to see old fellows in the sere and yellow leaf, sitting, happy, on the bleachers, yelling fifty-seven ways! For the time they have forgotten all about old age's grief, as they shriek appreciation of the home team's foxy plays. I am old and stiff and sweenied, and my ringbones bother much, and the undertaker eyes me in proprietary style, but I'd go to see the ball games if I had to use a crutch, and I'll yell like ten hyenas as I wave my ancient tile. You may say I'm full of codfish, that my block is out of plumb, when I make the sad confession that an old man me annoys, if he moons around his dooryard, looking woebegone and glum, when he might be at the ball game, raising thunder with the boys. If you are so beastly ancient that you do not feel a thrill when the home team's winning laurels and a gorgeous lot of fame, you should rent a hearse to haul you to the boneyard on the hill; for it's mighty foolish living when you're weary of the game.

COWED.

The biggest sensation in this part of the country just now is the arrest of three men for blowing up the Los Angeles Times. The crime was dastardly in the abstract, but further than that, it was an assault on established order. Anything concerning it, especially the apprehension of persons charged with the crime, is therefore of tremendous importance. Yet you may look in vain for any comment or editorial reference to the matter in the leading newspapers of San Francisco this morning. This omission is the most eloquent testimony that could be of the tendencies of the San Francisco press on this subject. It suggests how completely cowed the agencies of publicity are.—[Alameda Argus.

OUR BEST EXPORTS.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

There is no gainsaying the fact that manufactures, the products of our shops, are our best and most profitable exports, providing, as they do, large areas of work and wages, uses for our raw material and more or less profits for our factory owners, individual and corporate. And manufactures do form a constantly increasing share of our total exports.

Note the Bureau of Statistics record of exported manufactures for the nine months ended March, 1911, as compared with the preceding similar period:

	—Nine months— 1910.	1911.
Manufactures ready for consumption	$361,200,000	$430,700,000
Increase, 1911 period		69,500,000
Manufactures for re-manufacturing	200,200,000	225,300,000
Increase, 1911 period over 1910..		25,100,000
Total increase, 1911 period over 1910		94,600,000

Then note some of the items sent abroad in the 1911 nine months and the increases thereof over the 1910 period:

	Nine Months, 1911.	Increase.
Copper in pigs, bars, etc.	$73,300,000	$6,300,000
Boards, deals and planks	30,900,000	4,900,000
Cotton cloths	17,300,000	3,400,000
Lubricating oil	16,500,000	800,000
Builders' hardware and tools	12,500,000	2,400,000
Iron and steel sheets and plates	10,800,000	2,100,000
Rosin	10,400,000	3,200,000
Mowers and reapers	10,000,000	2,000,000
Boots and shoes.....	9,900,000	900,000
Automobiles (a fine export)	8,300,000	2,900,000
Timber, sawed and hewn	8,100,000	900,000
Turpentine	7,900,000	1,500,000
Electrical appliances	7,800,000	2,000,000
Pipes and fittings...	7,700,000	500,000
Wire	7,100,000	1,200,000
Typewriters	6,900,000	900,000
Books, maps and engravings	6,900,000	1,700,000
Metal-working machinery	6,800,000	2,600,000
Plows and cultivators	6,400,000	2,100,000
Cars for railways...	6,300,000	3,600,000
Naphthas, etc.	6,300,000	2,300,000
Sewing machines ...	6,000,000	700,000
Structural iron and steel	6,000,000	2,400,000

Large increases also occurred in the exports of electrical machinery, mining machinery, photographic goods, cotton clothing, patent medicines, furniture, twine, soap, locomotives, stationary engines, printing paper, cash registers, traction engines, staves and bars or rods of steel.

PETRUCHIO AND HIS WHIP-LASH.

SOTHERN AND MARLOWE IN "TAMING OF THE SHREW."

A Brilliant Revival at Hamburger's Majestic—Play Like a Pageant Full of Color—Two Incomparable Impersonations—Romeo and Juliet Today.

After the grim, accumulating horrors of "Macbeth," the rough, hilarious joys of "The Taming of the Shrew."

In the one we have the brooding poet Shakespeare whose habit of serious thinking impelled him to imagine a Hamlet, in the other the gay Elizabethan actor-manager and man of the world who sought to please the groundlings—and Good Queen Bess, too—by drawing the portrait of a purple Falstaff.

"Macbeth" and "The Taming of the Shrew" are the two antipodal plays that Sothern and Marlowe have so far given us at Hamburger's Majestic Theater in this memorable week—to demonstrate, perhaps, that they, like Shakespeare, never repeat, and that they, like the immortal playwright whose works they strive so faithfully to interpret, are also past masters of the revels.

Alexander Heinemann, lieder-singer, who will be heard in a recital at Blanchard Hall this evening.

The play is like a pageant, a series of gorgeous, colorful moving pictures, filled to the very frame with men and women, grave and gay, lively and morose, the wise and simple—of all sorts and conditions—festive and turbulent glimpses into the spacious days when men were brave and full of strange oaths; yes, and women, too; and all were bubbling over with the joy of life. This, and much more, Sothern and Marlowe and their company of excellent players caused to pass before the entranced audience which packed the Majestic last night. All this, with art so subtle, despite its power, that it filled the imagination beyond its most daring hope. Just so, we thought as we looked and listened, just so, with no more and no less, should Shakespeare be played. Ah! if Shakespeare himself could only have been in Los Angeles to see it—the playwright who knew nothing of scenery, nothing of women actors, nothing of spot-lights and calciums, nothing of the thousand devices of the modern stage. What would he have thought of Marlowe—he who had never seen anything more exquisite than a boy with a falsetto to play the part? Reason grows dizzy with the conjecture. But we may be sure he would have fallen in love and worshiped—as we did.

Over twenty years ago I saw Sothern and Marlowe in New York—but not together, as last night. Sothern was playing in a comedy, whose name I have forgotten. Marlowe was rolling her lustrous eyes—oh, such eyes—and rolling her lovely voice in the romantic periods of "Ignomar." Both were winning their first dramatic suprs in a way to make all New York sit up and take notice. How gallantly both have worn those spurs for many a year since then, and how securely and nonchalantly they jingled them in our ears last night, and swung them before our intent faces. Genius newborn may grow mighty big in twenty years or more. Theirs has surely done so.

Marlowe's Katherine is a shrew, without a doubt, but she is no fool, and she soon lets us know that she has "caught on" to her husband's bumptious ferocity. Sothern's Petruchio is a man of sharply-tempered mettle, but he is also a gentleman, and somehow he never lets us forget this fact in his most outrageous moments. Again, if Shakespeare could only have seen these two at their little game.

Katherine's speech in the last scene reads very much like the inspired literature of the anti-suffragettes—which goes to prove that there is no such thing as a new woman, that femininity does not change, but is the same yesterday, today and forever.

This afternoon and tonight "Romeo and Juliet" will be given.

The Los Angeles Theater is this week playing a bill of what may best be described as good popular-priced vaudeville. It contains almost everything that the Los Angeles theatergoer loves to see, and possesses speed and great variety.

The Monday matinee was a somewhat disastrous affair, as the show, in common with other companies coming from the North, did not get in until almost time for "ringing up," hence was deprived of all opportunity for rehearsal.

One of the very best individuals on the programme is Edwin George, juggler, who probably receives a smaller percentage of laughs than any other participant. A juggler of very mild technical pretensions, young Mr. George peddles a line of utter foolishness so quaint and absurd that it is unique. He is somewhat reminiscent of that vast scream, Frank Tinney. But his audience, agape for Joe Millerisms and comedy of the loud slapstick variety, fails to catch more than half he throws at them. The people who have to go to the show as a business appreciated him, at any rate, as an unexpected diversion.

Clayton Kennedy and Mattie Rooney, who have visited Los Angeles before, disport wildly for some twenty minutes in an agile but formless vehicle termed "The Happy Medium." The lunatical pranks of Mr. Kennedy and the curves of Miss Rooney account for the very large success the pair attained at the first performance.

Jere Sanford, a delightful whistler and a yodler of some yodle, earns his money.

Springer and Church have one of the dreadful regulation comedies of mistaken identity, worked with a new twist to roof-raising results.

The headline act, Arthur LaVine's "Flying Dreadnaught," will remind you of some of our cheap restaurants which advertise everything from hors d'oeuvres to cafe noir for two-bits. If the stage presents a harder working comedian than Mr. LaVine his address is unknown to the party of the present part, and if he would consent to divest himself of some of the absurd mechanical junk with which he is encumbered observers would be able to see his comedy talent—if he has any.

The Braggaar brothers, comedy acrobats, who, we are informed, come from Australia, open the performance.

They are followed by Claude Summers and Helen Mae Page, in catchy popular songs.

Motion pictures, as usual, are shown.

Alexander Heineman, accompanied by his pianist, John Mandelbrod, arrived in the city yesterday. He came from San Francisco, where he had scored a very substantial success as a lieder singer. He has two appearances here—tonight, at Blanchard Hall, and Saturday afternoon, at the same place.

"Thorns and Orange Blossoms," the current offering at Sutton's Theater, was very favorably received by the Monday night audience. It is an old and well-known story, and as a play has been seen several times in Los Angeles, but has apparently lost none of its powerful appeal to the lovers of "mellerdrammer" thereby. Miss Lorton as the unfortunate Lady Violet plays the part sympathetically, while Harry Cornell makes a good impression as Lord Randolph. Miss Fanny Keeler is a portly and properly villainous dowager, while Robert T. Hazlett as her accomplice and tool, is all that could be expected. Miss Lulu Sutton as Lord Randolph's sister, Ralf Belmont as her sweetheart, Don Churchill in a comedy role, Bob Roberts and John Thomas in minor roles, complete the cast. Pleasing musical specialties are given between acts by Mr. Roberts and Little Nell Herd. The piece runs for the week.

A bill of novelty acts of entertaining nature is being presented at the Hyman this week. Of the four acts, each has something unique. James Dervin, ventriloquist and mimic, has succeeded in finding something in his line that has the distinction of being unusual. Aside from being an excellent mimic, he is a ventriloquist, who seems to make his figures talk without any perceptible movement of the throat or facial muscles. He has a new and amusing dialogue with his friend "Jeff" containing many pertinent comments on current events.

Young Buffalo, his young lady assistant and a dog do their share towards making the performance enjoyable. Young Buffalo, who is the original of that title, is a fine shot with rifle and revolver and several times shoots at targets fixed to the young lady's head or outlining her form. An opera cape is draped around her and he literally shoots her clothes off. The act is a skillful one and shows the dog in a series of tricks.

Wolzer brothers are capable performers, with a bright singing, talking and dancing act. Both are performers of experience, but they have never appeared in Los Angeles as a

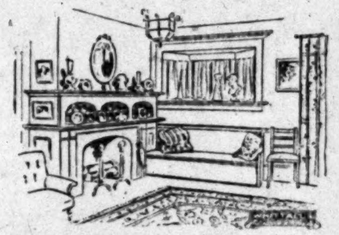
Rug Beauty is More Than Skin Deep



—What is true of one thing is not of necessity true of another. The old saying is not true as applied to rugs. Their beauty is far more than skin deep. It is woven into every thread of their structure from the bottom to the very topmost surface.

—There is one maker who set out to make rugs that should have true beauty; beauty that was lasting because deep. And that maker's rugs bear the name "WHITTALL."

—What splendid rugs they are! Firm and solid; beautiful and individual of pattern;—more than that, possessed of the true and lasting beauty that makes a rug worth while.

—o—

May-Day Bride.

Miss Jeanne Canet of Ventura, became a May-day bride yesterday afternoon at the old Mission Church, in Ventura. The groom was Leon Garnier of Los Angeles. The ceremony was performed at 5 o'clock, Rev. Father Grogan, the parish priest, officiating. The church was well filled with friends of the family.

The bride, who was attended by her sister, was gowned in duchesse lace, pearl embroidered over satin. The bridesmaid, Miss Renee Canet, wore princesse lace over pink satin. The groom was attended by John Larronds of Los Angeles, as best man.

After the church ceremony, the bridal party went to the Pierpont Inn where a wedding supper was served. The wedding cake was cut at the seaside home of the Canets on California street, Ventura.

The bride, a beautiful and accomplished young lady with a host of friends in Ventura and Los Angeles, is a graduate of Notre Dame Convent, a musician and painter of rare merit. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed C. Canet and a grand-daughter of L. Sentous of Los Angeles. The groom is the son of a Los Angeles pioneer. He has passed many years traveling in Europe where the couple will enjoy their honeymoon.

—o—

Farewell Courtesy.

Miss Lois Boardman of Nevada, Iowa, who, with her mother and aunts, the Misses Heneningsen of Clinton, Iowa, has been passing the winter here, was given a delightful going-away party yesterday by her young friends. She will be married in June to Prof. Harold Mickel of Chicago.

—o—

Dancing Party.

A delightful dancing party was given by Miss Gladys Brown at her beautiful Highland Park home, Friday evening. The hostess was assisted by Miss Mary Ahrens. The spacious rooms were tastefully decorated with pennants and greenery. Dainty refreshments were served, and excellent music rendered by the orchestra.

The guests were: Misses Jessie Anundson, Lucy Mitchel, Ilene Campbell, Hilda Hans, Irene Parley, Irene Stoll, Dindinder, Edith Doolittle, Margaret Dalton, Marie Ingraham, Bertha Anderson, Bertha Sullivan, Cora Anderson, Violet; Messrs. Elmer Howlette, Fred Reynolds, Charles Kieroff, John Brown, Robert Merriet, Ralph Maskey, Merle Dendinter, Ralph Ahrens, Travely Dalton, Jerald Smith, Albert Brown, Carl Ahrens, Arthur Anderson, Harry Webster, Jack Sheppard, Ray Donald, John McGann and Frank McGann.

LOOKING AHEAD FOR BUSINESS.

Plan For Attracting Passenger and Freight Traffic to This State Will be Formulated For Action.

Frank P. Flint, former United States Senator, appeared before the Commerce and Transportation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and re-outlined his plan for attracting passenger and freight traffic to California during the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The plan first received publicity at the dinner given by James Slauson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, to the committees of the organization recently.

It was decided at the meeting yesterday to formulate the proposition for submission to the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the Pacific Coast with a view to having the plan developed for execution by the exposition company.

FACTS FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

BY ~ Olive Gray.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: Too much importance cannot possibly be attached to the neck at present, in view of the fashions for summer and it is well to begin in time giving it proper attention. Whatever lotions, creams or bleaches are used, the question of washing the neck is of prime consequence. Never use very hot water for this purpose, as this will be certain to make a bad matter worse. Tepid water and a pure soap should first be used and then followed by rinsing with extremely cold water. Thus will the loose skin and flesh be toned and made firm, while the bleaching process is going forward.

A pretty May-day incident came to my notice. In the business office of one of the big stores, I chanced to see a beautiful basket of flowers and the girl at the head of the office said with pride: "We are all so happy over this May basket. It came to us from some little childrren whom none of us know." Then she explained. It seems that at the home of one of the girls in the office, the children have heard big sister speak of this one and that, in her office, and although she did sot realize it, she must have made rather a vivid picture of her friends there and of the place and the work; for to her surprise, on May-day morning she was asked to take a package to the office as a gift to the girls there. It proved to be a basket which the children had learned o make at school—a pasteboard box so beautifully decorated with paper flowers—made by the tiny hands—that it looked like some kind of fairy flower production. Then it was filled with roses, pink and white. How it did illuminate that work-a-day place. And you could see, the moment you entered the door, that something beautiful had happened there, by the look on the faces of the girls. It was not only that they appreciated the flowers for the sake of their beauty and fragrance, but it was as though the sweetness of the little children themselves had accompanied them.

All There.

You remember the buyers' sale of which we were talking—wasn't it just as interesting as I told you it would be? You were all here, I'm sure; and so were a few hundred other people. It was really stirring, wasn't it—the crowd and the enthusiasm? (To say nothing of the bargains.)

June Bridery.

One of the prettiest windows ever seen, is that in a Broadway store, presenting a special sale of linens for the June bride. The bride herself is there in all the bravery of satin gown, veil and shower bouquet, forming a picture which is a feast to the eyes. Upon every side, are the things which delight the heart of the home-lover—fine linens, damasks, napery. Here and there, placed in perfect taste, are huge fluffs of satin ribbon with bunches of lilies of the valley, the bridal flower par excellence.

The embroidered sets for the table are, of course, most luxurious of all the bridal gifts offered, unless perhaps it be the bedsets which are equally elaborate in embroidery of handsomest design. The bride whose wedding gifts come from among this collection, would surely feel just pride in her household treasures.

The Butterfly.

Speaking of lilies of the valley, I saw a huge butterfly in one of the millinery establishments, which was made entirely from these dainty flowers. It looked as though some greedy butterfly may have gorged so ravenously upon these delightful flowers that, as a punishment some retributive fairy had turned him into the flower which he had so ruthlessly destroyed.

A Revival.

With the vogue for filet lace, and all kinds of square meshed bands and insertions as well as the craze for cross-stitch, it is not strange that the old-fashioned darned net work should come into fashion again.

This work is easy to do and very effective, so a little effort crates striking results; therefore it will be extremely popular with those who wish hand work upon their summer gowns. A recent issue of the popular magazine had a number of good designs in this work, with minute directions as to how to execute them.

Fern Medicine.

When the large fern which graces the jardiniere in the living-room, looks "tired"—that is when it ceases to look bright and green—it needs a tonic, or at least so says the lady whose fern is the wonder of her visiting friends. What does she do but give it castor oil! She treats it, in fact, as she would any person who is run down and needs strengthening food and she says it revives at once under the attention.

For Summer.

With the fashion for short sleeves, the long gloves are quite a necessary part of the costume. I saw a sale of washable doeskin gloves, in an exceptional value at a "sale" price. Bless the advent of the washable glove, as it means glove saving and also comfort.

Scarf Gowns.

With the craze for bordered materials, the scarf gown has come into favor. Some of the scarfings of chiffon with flowered borders are inexpressibly dainty and desirable. I observed an especially attractive collection of these pretty things, in one of the Broadway stores and for a surprisingly little price.

Toilet Soap.

A charmingly perfumed soap, which is still a pure soap, is one carrying so delicate yet true an odor of violet that it is noticeable when you enter the bathroom. It is put on the market by one of the most reliable of firms and is reasonable in price.

The Omni-Panama.

Could anything be more charming than the Panamas that all the girls are wearing? So individual, so attractively characteristic are the sloppy, floppy broad-brimmed ones, that each one you see seems more interesting than the last. No two girls wear them at the same "pitch" or angle; and almost no two use the same kind of band, scarf or drape.

You can spend as much or as little as you like upon a Panama, but probably there is no article which shows quality more plainly than does this shape. I once feasted my eyes upon a broad hat of this make which a man was bringing from South America. He carried it in the Pullman in a handsome leather hatbox and I supposed that he was nursing a silk tile, until he proudly opened the box to show me his treasure. The sight of that Panama spoiled me for ordinary ones forever after. I think he told me that he paid something like a hundred dollars for it in its native jungle—or whatever native place it is that Panama hats inhabit.

Salad.

A pretty and tasty salad for these spring days is made by combining pineapple cut in cubes and large ripe strawberries cut in two. Place the fruit upon lettuce leaves and dress with ordinary mayonnaise or with a whipped-cream dressing.

A Pretty.

One of the most charming little accessories seen this season, was a narrow stole of black velvet embroidered in gold bullion and finished at the ends with gold bullion fringe. This little "confection" yielded just the needed touch to a costume of light summer silk which would otherwise have been a bit "bare" for the belated weather.

Fashion Favors.

French knots are an effective way to decorate the spring and summer blouses.

Red in all shades is very popular, perhaps on account of the coronation in England.

For morning, shoes with wide-cut vamps, low heels and round toes are smartest.

The train of the moment is short and square; some trains have pleats at the back.

Some of the new pumps have buckles composed of tiny white porcelain beads.

In nearly all the new suits the favorite trimming is braid, especially the wide braid.

A strong feature of border patterns in prints is the heavy use of black in the designs.

Bordered materials of all sorts—light woolens, silk and cotton—will be much worn.

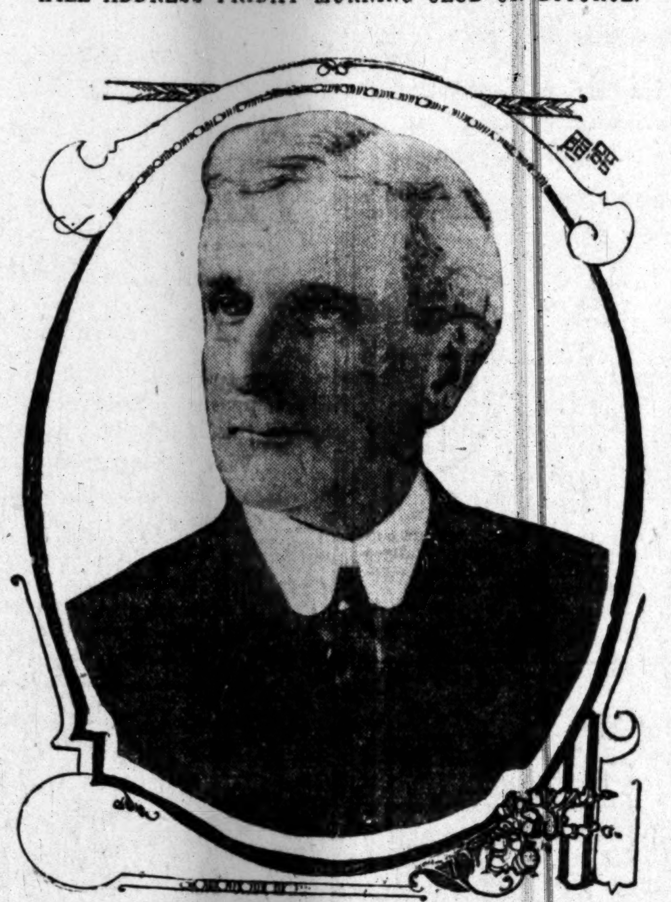
For simple dresses for young girls, sheer mousseline with a satin stripe is very effective.

Extremely good-looking are the parasols of moire in white and all the fashionable colors.

Faille ribbon is being used much by milliners, especially in black-and-white combinations.

Black and white effects are prominent in parasols as in so many other costume accessories.

WILL ADDRESS FRIDAY MORNING CLUB ON DIVORCE.



Judge George E. Church,

the distinguished jurist and orator of Fresno, who frequently holds court in Los Angeles, and who made quite a hit recently on several decisions rendered in divorce suits. Judge Church will address the Friday Morning Club May 5 on "Modern Divorce," or things rather to that effect.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

At the meeting of the Los Angeles Civic Association at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning, Mrs. H. R. Boynton, who is chairman, I believe, of the civic planning section of this organization, presented a resolution which went through with a rush, passing unanimously and with both hands upheld, as it were.

If this resolution meets with the approval of the city the question of a convention hall, a public library building and art gallery will be forever solved for Los Angeles. The proposition is for the city to immediately take steps to secure the Normal School site at the head of Fifth street and here erect the above building.

A committee, appointed for the purpose, has been looking into the matter, and Mrs. Boynton outlined the plan proposed. She called attention to the way the city of Denver solved the problem of a big public auditorium. A civic theater building was constructed, seating 3500 people, and was rented to theatrical managers when not in municipal use. The building is so constructed that the big stage can, by some mechanical magic, be lifted to the roof when desired, leaving an auditorium which seats 12,000 people. Weekly popular concerts are given here, which attract audiences frequently numbering 10,000.

Another thing those Denverites have done is to arrange with all these theatrical companies who rent the building for a nominal rate of admission for Denver citizens, so that they are able to hear the best operas and plays for 50 cents or a dollar each.

Mrs. Boynton further reported for her committee that, if commercial consideration were necessary, an admission of as little as 5 cents for popular concerts might be charged, which would not only pay the running expenses of the auditorium, but leave a municipal income. She declared that the Normal School site is just the place adapted to the needs of Los Angeles for such an enterprise. It is four and a half times as large as the Denver site and there would be ample space for a public library on the south side of the auditorium and a public room for art treasures and loan collections on the other side under a good north light.

In the opinion of the committee such a building would be a most wonderful advertisement and attraction for Los Angeles. The resolution passed amidst much applause. Now it's up to the city.

Men May Smoke.

By the way, it may be a comfort to mere man to know that the committee appointed by the Civic Association to look after the smoke nuisance in street cars has decided, after all, that it is rather a one-sided affair to place this matter, which so vitally affects the happiness of the opposite sex, solely into feminine hands.

Just now, as a matter of fact, women are asking so many political favors of men that I suspect they think it's hardly policy to be too severe in curtailing their privileges.

Anyway, the chairman of the committee appointed to see about abating the smoke nuisance reported that "in the present state of women's relation to the government it was better to be sufferers than sinners, and it would be more seemly to allow the initiative in this matter to be taken by an organization of federated men who now have the matter under consideration."

The association appointed Mrs. A. S. Lobingier a delegate to the State Convention of Federated Clubs, which meets at Long Beach next week, with Mrs. J. B. Stearns as alternate. The president of the association, Mrs. Oliver P. Bryant, is also a regular delegate.

Methodist Missionaries Meet.

The annual meeting of the Los Angeles district of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church will occur next Friday at the First Methodist Church. The officers are: Mrs. Walter H. Fisher, president; Mmes. J. B. Green, G. W. Coultas and George H. Martin, vice-presidents; Mrs. M. V. McQuigg, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. A. Wood, recording secretary; Mrs. S. Townsend, treasurer, and Mrs. W. R. Goodwin, superintendent of children's work.

Rev. Frank Scott of Japan will give an address at the morning session, which will otherwise be chiefly devoted to reports from the thirty-four auxiliaries of the district. In the afternoon Mrs. George A. Henry will open a symposium on up-to-date missionary topics with an address on the great missionary exhibit of the world in Boston. Mrs. St. Clair will talk about conditions in Korea and Dr. Thomas will tell what he has seen in India.

Besides the seventeen or more Methodist churches in the city, those of Hollywood, Long Beach, Whittier, Santa Monica, Sawtelle, Compton, Florence, Inglewood, Huntington Park and Gardena belong to this district and will send delegates and annual reports of work done during the year.

Expert on Divorce.

Judge George E. Church of Fresno will speak before the Friday Morning Club this week on the subject of divorce. Judge Church is a good talker and has settled many domestic disturbances by the divorce route.

Averill Club.

A feature of the Averill Club programmes is the interesting and instructive way in which current events are handled. Instead of appointing one member to present these very live facts, each member responds to roll call with an item of current news. I had the pleasure of being present yesterday when Mrs. F. E. Buswell of East Twenty-fifth street entertained the club, and such a variety of topics and such a mine of information! Practically everything, from the Mexican war to the man who first invented buttoned boots for women, was mentioned. The club numbers about thirty and there is an atmosphere of genuine neighborliness and personal friendship among the members that can never enter into a large club by reason of its numbers.

Matinee Musical Club.

The next meeting of the Matinee Musical Club will be held at the Gamut Clubhouse next Thursday afternoon. It will be an ensemble programme, Mmes. C. H. Merigold, Harry Cardell, Edith Schulenberg and Miss Eva Adele Olney playing an eight-hand piano selection. Other performers are Miss Helen Baker, warbler; Mrs. Harry Underwood, violinist; Miss Esther Liverside, vocalist, and Miss Zoila Withrop, reader. The hostesses are Mrs. Schulenberg and Miss Olney.

OFFICERS ARE ALL WOMEN.

But College Equal Suffrage League Drops Word Woman From Name—Other Suffrage Meetings.

New officers were elected by the College Equal Suffrage League at its annual meeting yesterday afternoon. The word woman was dropped from the name, and several prominent college men were elected members. The officers, however, are all women, as follows: President, Miss Marie Lopez; secretary, Miss Annie Bock; treasurer, Miss Jones. Members-at-large are Mrs. Emma Rowan Ewing, Miss Clara Underhill and Mr. Bailey. Waldo M. York, Lewis R. Works and Stephen Miller were elected honorary members. The league will assist the Political Equality League during the woman suffrage campaign.

The nurses of Los Angeles county heard how woman suffrage will arouse the public conscience on the question of pure milk, when Mrs. Charles Farwell Edson addressed them at a meeting which they held yesterday afternoon at the parish house of St. John's Pro-Cathedral.

Mrs. Charles Bell will entertain at a tea at her home on St. John's drive, Pasadena, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Arthur Braly will entertain the Political Equality League's executive board at her Pasadena home at noon, Friday.

Woman suffrage will be debated by students of the Normal Training School May 4, 11 and 17.

Mrs. A. Cornish has succeeded Mrs. Harriet E. Hunt as office secretary of the Southern California Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

Monday night's meeting of the Votes For Women Club was in the nature of a May festival. The decorations were elaborate and when Miss Flora Wilson spoke she was showered with bouquets. Mrs. Alice Park and former Judge Waldo M. York also spoke. Leslie Hewett will be the speaker next Monday night.

GO AFTER ENCAMPMENT.

A large delegation, including the first delegate of the State, will represent Stanton Post, W.R.C. No. 16, at the national convention at Rochester and will boost for Los Angeles for the 1912 encampment of the G.A.R. Honors were literally showered upon the local post at the recent State convention in San Francisco. From the local ranks several high State officers and the first delegates to the national convention were chosen. They are Mary Hartwell, department secretary; Kate Fields, department inspector; Alice Fitch, member of Executive Board, and Jennie Droro, first delegate. Other delegates and alternates to the national convention were elected from the members of Stanton Post.

D. S. McGonigle, a real estate operator of Kansas City and F. M. Bernardin, a manufacturer of electric supplies of the same city are passing a few days at the Alexandria.

FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

44 Bushels to the Acre

is a heavy yield, but that's what John Kennedy of Edmonton, Alberta, Western Canada, got from 40 acres of Spring Wheat in 1910. Reports from other districts in that province showed other excellent results—such as 4,000 bushels of wheat from 120 acres, or 33⅓ bushels per acre. 25, 30 and 40 bushel yields were numerous. As high as 132 bushels of oats to the acre were threshed from Alberta fields.

THE SILVER CUP

at the recent Spokane Fair was awarded to the Alberta Government for its exhibit of grains, grasses and vegetables. Reports of excellent yields for 1910 come also from Saskatchewan and Manitoba in Western Canada.

Free Homesteads of 160 acres, and adjoining pre-emptions of 160 acres (at $3 per acre), are to be had in the choicest districts.

Schools convenient, climate excellent, soil of the very best, railways close at hand, building lumber cheap, fuel easy to get and reasonable in price, water easily procured, mixed farming a success.

Cutting Out One Factor In The High Cost of Living

One of the chief causes of high prices is high profits. Any plan that reduces the size or the number of profits that stand between the factory and you is a plan in your benefit.

Regal Shoes are Sold Direct from the Factory to Wearer at Cost Plus Five Per Cent. Commission and the Low Regal Selling Cost

Heretofore, all good shoes have been built to sell at fixed "even" prices—$3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00 and so on. If a shoe could be sold at, say $4.35, shoe traditions would not permit it. It had to be "built up" by adding unnecessary expense to sell at $4.50, or "cut down" (to its hurt) to sell at $4.00.

All this has been changed by the Regal Shoe Company's new plan of selling shoes just as many other necessities are sold—and just as all necessities should be—at a definite, small commission over cost of manufacture—in our case only 5 per cent.—plus the cost of selling.

COST PLUS REGAL SHOE CO. PRICE OF EACH SHOE APPEARS HERE TRADE MARK REG. FIVE PER CENT

It makes no difference whether or not the price figures out in "even money." The new plan gives you Regal Shoes nearer to actual cost, and charged with smaller and fewer profits than any other make. The price is stamped on the shoes at the factory. This stamp is your guaranty that more of your money goes for quality and less for profit than in any other shoe you can buy.

This is the stamp that will hereafter be found on Regal Shoes. It is your guarantee that the price appearing in its centre is the lowest for which a shoe of such quality can be bought.

Regal Prices are now $$3^{35}$ to $$5^{85}$

SOUGHT DEATH NOW WOULD LIVE.

WOMAN'S CHANGE OF HEART COMES TOO LATE.

Regrets Bullets Fired in Suicide Pact and Frantically Struggles to Get Well at County Hospital in Spite of Physician's Discouraging Verdict and Weak Condition.

Although determined to die a few weeks ago, Miss Eva Bovee is now just as anxious to live, and she is fighting frantically for life in the County Hospital where, about a month ago she smuggled a revolver to S. L. Dania and stood resolutely before him while he fired four shots into her body.

Fate, however, refuses to be thus juggled with, and she is slowly sinking. One of the bullets penetrated her right lung which is now seriously infected, and Dr. Whitman, superintendent of the hospital, stated last night that the young woman has little chance to recover.

Her system has become so weakened by the physical and mental strain that she is unable to undergo the ordeal of an operation to remove the infected portion of her lung.

Miss Bovee has kept her own counsel, but it is apparent that life has seemed more desirable to her since the death of Dania, the tailor who shot and killed his 6-year-old daughter, after being wounded in a street duel with George Koerner, April 1, and who later shot himself in the hospital.

Though relatives of the young woman have on several occasions called at the hospital and asked to see Miss Bovee, she has steadfastly refused to allow any of them to be admitted

"Tell them they can see me if I get well," is the answer she sends each time. Grimly, she sets her teeth when the physicians in the hospital tell her that it is true she has but slight chance, and she replies, "I will get well."

The next two days will probably determine whether or not the young woman's repentance has come too late.

NEW LAWS FOR TEACHERS.

More Businesslike Methods of Making Contracts Calculated to Attract Better Type of Men.

Assistant County Superintendent of Schools Phillips announces that by the passing of the Crosby bill important changes have been made in the method of employing and paying teachers throughout the State.

Teachers can now be hired on or before June 1 instead of on July 1, as heretofore provided. After serving one term they will simply be continued in office, without formal notification, if the trustees desire to retain them. Notice that they are not wanted must be sent them by June 10. If this is not done they will be retained another year.

If a teacher does not accept, officially, within twenty (20) days of her election, she shall be deemed to have declined the position. Trustees may now pay by calendar months in twelve installments, instead of nine, if they wish. They will also be permitted to enter into four-year contracts with supervising principals, and with city superintendents in cities which do not have charters to govern this matter. The period, heretofore, has been one year. This provision is expected to cause fewer changes in office, and to attract a better type of men.

Phillips has been appointed a member of the State Council of Education by A. S. McPherron, president of the Southern California Teachers' Association. The Council of Education is composed of delegates from the five educational associations of the State.

Phillips left this morning for a five-day trip of inspection among the schools in the San Fernando Valley.

LIEN LAW SIGNED.

Word was received here by the builders and building supply men yesterday that the revised mechanics' lien law, a measure of great significance to the construction industry, had received the Governor's signature. The measure represents a radical simplification of the former statute, chiefly in that the contract clause, looked upon as a useless technicality, has been dispensed with and a direct lien upon property for labor and material is now provided for. At the same time, according to R. L. Horton, one of those chiefly instrumental in securing the passage of the amendment, the availability of unfinished improvements as collateral for loans, is not interfered with. It was feared that this bill would seriously hamper the building and loan business through tying up the security by a priority clause. This, however, will not be the case, according to the material men who effected the compromise.

YE OLDEN MAY POLE.

Jacoby's Broadway Store Ushers in the Month with Charming Window Display, Realistically Wrought.

A reminiscent whiff of the brave days of old in Merrie England, albeit wrought over into the latest costume models of fashion's 1911 behests, was that presented yesterday and May day in the great display windows of Jacoby's Broadway store.

A great May pole, from which were draped festoons of bright-colored ribbons, was the center piece of the brilliant scene. It represented the old-fashioned ceremony of heralding the new-born spring by the Maypole dance and every detail was carried out with painstaking care.

The dancers were tiny tots in fetching spring costumes, in the attitudes of marching round and round the gay pole, each bearing the broad end of a ribbon in her hand. About them were grouped a number of models of pretty women, clad in the daintiest of spring and early summer frocks and millinery effects eminently worthy of the mysterious appellation of "creation." These, arranged in postures of spectators, were surprisingly realistic, every resource of the cunning window trimmer's art being called into play to enhance the effect.

As becomes an "outdoor" scene, the window was carpeted with green "moss' 'and spring verdure out of which sprang clusters of flowers that were literally and figuratively close to nature. Without over-crowding, the few pieces of rustic furniture employed in the setting lent a pleasing and harmonious effect. Walks traced in sand and bordered with stone from behind which peeped lilies and ferns completed the lawn effect, in which palms were employed to excellent purpose. Two dogs, in lifelike attitudes, contributed an additional touch of realism.

The general color scheme was worked out in pink and white, the costumes being chiefly marquisettes and voiles. The entire setting was originated and executed by F. D. Rowe, head window trimmer for the store. Rowe has just recently come from the East, where he has devoted much of his time to the study of scientific decoration and in the devising of striking schemes of display.

Great attention was attracted to the window during the two days it was on display and hundreds of shoppers paused on their busy way to admire its realistic touches.

A Bit of Old-Time May Day in a Modern Department Store.

Taken in the ample display windows of Jacoby Bros.' Broadway store, where the May was prettily ushered in by a reproduction, except as to the very modern styles of costume, of the old-fashioned ceremony of draping the May pole.

TROUBLE OVER PUBLIC GRANTS.

GOVERNMENT COMPLAINTS FOR CORPORATIONS.

Failure to Comply With Conditions of Right of Way Privileges to Result in Prosecutions in Ten Counties of Southern California. Titles to Land Clouded.

Complaints have been prepared by United States Deputy District Attorney Regan against Southrn California corporations and individuals, who, it is alleged, have failed to conform to the requirements of the law following the granting of the right of way through public lands.

It is claimed that, in some instances, these rights of way have been abandoned and that some of the parties have abused the privileges granted them.

The rights for the most part were for the construction of ditches for the irrigation of the land, the holder to have the use of the land fifty feet on each side of the right of way. They were also allowed the use of the earth and stones found lying on the right of way. The reservoirs or irrigation canals were to be completed in five years, and in case of failure the right of way was to revert to the government.

One of the features of the situation is that the abandoned rights of way form a cloud on the title to the land. If there was any desire to transfer the land to other parties it could not be done by the government, because the right of way had not been legally vacated or forfeited by the person to whom it had been originally given.

According to the information furnished by Regan, defendants in the proposed cases, who have acquired rights of way through public lands, are to be found in ten counties of Southern California, including Los Angeles county. Just when the prosecution of the cases will begin has not as yet been determined.

MUSIC AND STAGE.

team before. As dancers they show many difficult and intricate steps.

The Hungarian instrumentalist, Lacyi Dobronyi, was a distinct novelty in his manipulation of the Dulcimer. This instrument is typical of his native countrty and he plays it with rare skill. He does not confine his selections to Hungarian airs or to classic selections, but did some popular pieces for encores.

As an added attraction this week, Mlle. Syma, serpentine and globe dancer, does her specialty.

The pictures, first run, are of a series to be seen only at Hyman's.

Hyman's Orchestra has a good selection of popular music.

There is William Danforth.

Just what his reasons for inconspicuousness are may be best known to himself, but in any event his personality eluded the most desperate sleuthing until yesterday.

William Danforth, author of "Nan o' the North," is a minister of the gospel, residing at Elmhurst, a suburb of Chicago.

Dr. Pauline, the eminent French hypnotist who also lays claim to being an eminent scientist, is still the headliner in big black letters at the Pantages Theater this week. If you neglected to see Dr. Pauline last week, take time by the forelock and don't miss your opportunity. He will interest, mystify and amuse you for three-quarters of an hour. His work in mental suggestion is certainly wonderful, making one strongly inclined to agree with Shakespeare that we ourselves are "such stuff as dreams are made of." Are we all living in a state of hypnosis, and are the countless phenomena of our daily existence merely illusions? This and many other questions are apt to tease the close observer of Dr. Pauline and his subjects.

The La Bella Italia Troupe are musicians, indeed, playing on many instruments with an artistic swing that is engaging. The one woman of the aggregation has a shrill voice of no beauty whatsoever, but somehow or other (the secret must be Italian) she charms, for she falls into the rhythm of the accompanying instruments with delightful ease. One of the troupe plays operatic airs on an accordeon with a fullness of orchestral effects not often to be met with. He is a big brass band—and a mighty good one, too—all by himself. The La Bellas are clad in the picturesque habiliments of Italian contadini.

A playlet with "atmosphere" is "A Texas Wooing," played with excellent spirit by Middleton and Spellmyer, aided by Wounded Buffalo, a full-blooded Indian. The playlet was written by Middleton himself, who enacts the role of Big Pard with all the low-toned fluency we have been taught to expect from graduates of the New York schools of dramatic art. Miss Spellmyer is pretty, and she plays Virginia, a girl from the South, as prettily. Wounded Buffalo is rather melodramatic. The best work he does—and it is very good indeed—is the lunge forward, the bound and the twist he gives his body when he dies from the bullet shot into him by Big Pard.

The Lelands are lightning artists who fill us with awe and wonder. They paint lurid landscapes behind transparent canvases. Irwin and Herzog sing in a lively way. The one with the heavy baritone voice is a fun-maker of much capability, and this fact, coupled with his excellent voice, renders him particularly attractive. The other has a high tenor voice which he handles well. Young and Brooks give a comedy skit with music. The comedy is lamentable, but one of the duo plays the violin in a score of difficult and impossible positions, with a manual dexterity that is amazing.

The moving pictures close a bill of unusual interest.

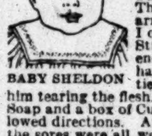
What Cuticura Soap and Ointment Have Done for Skin-Tortured Babies

Letters from Three Grateful Parents



BABY SHELDON

Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, Litchfield, Conn., writes: "My little son began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. They began to come on his arms, body and chest. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering we had to tie his hands to prevent him tearing the flesh. I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and followed directions. At the end of two months the sores were all well. I say that only for the wonderful Cuticura Remedies my precious child would have died."

BABY FOGEL

H. M. Fogel, R. F. D. 1, Bath, Pa., writes: "When [my baby] was two months old it got eczema on top of her hands, on her face and inside her nose and mouth. It itched so frightfully that the poor little girl could not rest and her mother was forced to sit in a rocking chair with the baby, day and night. We got some Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In three days the crust began to come off and now the baby is cured without a mark. 'Cuticura' seems a wonderful remedy for this disease and anyone having eczema should not delay in getting it."

BABY CRAVER

Mrs. Freeman Craver, 311 Lewis St., Syracuse N. Y., writes: "When my little girl was about eight months old, she was taken with a very irritating breaking out. I consulted our physician and found she was suffering from eczema. I used the ointment he gave me, without any relief. Then I purchased a box of Cuticura Ointment. I did as I found directions and she was entirely cured."

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on the skin, will be sent, post-free, on application to "Cuticura," Dept. J, Boston.

Superfluous Hair

Why Not Shave It Off? If You Do It Right, It Does It Better Than Most Depilatories

You might just as well shave as use a pasty substance which is to be applied to remove superfluous hair. This simply removes the surface hair; therefore, the effect is the same as shaving, only the razor is more convenient, takes it off cleaner. Of course, it does not matter which way you do it; you only remove the surface hair, which will return stronger after each removal. The same applies to other worthless compounds and so-called "liquid cures." DeMiracle is not like these; it is the only method that gives proof that it is absolutely non-poisonous, safe and sure. You are not asked to buy it on our BARE WORD It is the only preparation of its kind which is endorsed by physicians, surgeons, dermatologists, medical journals, prominent magazines and newspapers. Remember, the longer you use such treatments as those referred to above the stronger the hair will grow and the harder it will be to remove it. DeMiracle is sold at all good stores.

No honest dealer will offer you a substitute on which he makes more profit.

We will send you a 52-page booklet containing full information concerning this remarkable treatment. You should read this booklet before you try anything. Write to the DeMiracle Chemical Co., Dept. G28, 1905 Park Ave., New York, simply saying you want this booklet, and it will be mailed, sealed, at once.

Note—All readers of this paper who are afflicted with superfluous hair growths are strongly advised to write for information concerning this wonderful method, which is endorsed the world over by eminent authorities, who have made a lifelong study of this subject.

It Grows Hair

Here Are Facts We Want You To Prove At Our Risk

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course, in none of these cases were the hair roots dead, nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed, and will not gum or permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair, and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us, and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold only at our stores—The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Cal.; Seattle, Wash.; Portland, Ore.

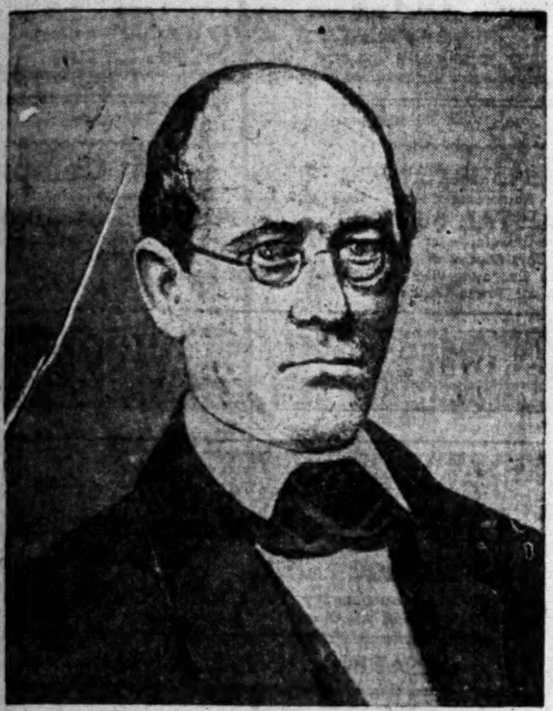
Battle Stories of The Civil War.

XXXI.

The War Day by Day Fifty Years Ago.

May 3, 1861—Lincoln Called for Three-Years Volunteers and More Regulars and Seamen—North and South Preparing for a Prolonged War.



Gov. John Letcher of Virginia.

[Copyright, 1911, by the Century Company.]

FIFTY years ago today President Lincoln issued a call for volunteer troops to serve three years, and for large additions to the regular army and navy.

This call meant that Lincoln now realized that the United States was on the eve of a great war not an affair of 90 days, but a struggle that might last for years, and that the three-months men who had answered the original call of April 15, only 18 days before, were no longer sufficient.

It meant, too, that he proposed to wage war on the confederacy, not merely with a view to repossessing the federal property, but with the strong intent to overcome it and have but one government north and south, or to be overcome by it.

The new proclamation, like the old, contained no word of "war," nor did it make any specific mention of the events that had caused its issuance. Its purpose was again announced simply as "the suppression of the insurrectionary combinations now existing."

It called for 42,034 three-years volunteers, 22,714 enlisted men for the regular army and 18,000 seamen for the navy. This force, the proclamation stated, was indispensably necessary to the President's purpose.

What April Had Showed.

On April 16 Lincoln had hoped that the confederacy and the whole secession movement might be put to an end by the show of authority on the part of the Federal government and that actual resort to force might be thereby avoided.

His proclamation had, on the contrary, only served to rouse the South to action, and to ally with the confederacy States which had hitherto been disposed to remain neutral; it had drawn sharply the line between union and secession.

Before half of the twenty days had elapsed Virginia had seceded, northern troops had been attacked in Baltimore, the garrisons of Harpers Ferry and the Gosport navy yard had been forced to destroy and abandon them, and Washington had for days been cut off from the north and placed in a virtual state of siege.

By April 25 it had become very apparent that the only alternative to the acceptance of secession and the confederacy was a prolonged war, and that for such a war long-term troops were required.

Peace—With Union.

On April 26, therefore, Secretary Cameron had written to the Governor of New Jersey in response to his tender of troops in excess of the State's quota under the first call: "No further troops beyond the quota of your State can be received at present unless they will agree to volunteer for the period of three years, unless sooner discharged. In that event and upon such terms one or two regiments more would be accepted from your State and mustered into service."

Like replies were sent to the Governors of Connecticut, Indiana and Michigan, and from day to day the same general notification had been sent to the other States, until on May 3 the official call was made in the President's proclamation.

It was peace and not war that Lincoln wished for. "I have desired as ardently as any man," he said to a visiting military company, April 27, "and I sometimes think more than any other man, that our present difficulties might be settled without the shedding of blood. I will not say that all hope has gone but if the alternative is presented whether the Union is to be broken in fragments and the liberties of the people lost, or blood be shed, you will probably make the choice with wihc I shall not be disappointed."

Lincoln was for peace, but only with union.

For New Troops.

The total immediate increase now [illegible] for—volunteers, regulars and [illegible] together—was 82,748, raising the total military establishment of the United States, including the 75,000 three-months' volunteers of the call of April 15, to an army of 156,681 and a navy of 25,600.

That increase was needed. The personnel of the navy had on March 4 been placed at 7600, enough for ordinary purposes, but by no means enough to man all the vessels to make effective a blockade of the Atlantic and Gulf seaports from the Potomac to the Rio Grande.

The regular army on April 5 had reported as 17,113 strong, but a part of this was in the far West and therefore unavailable. The loss of army officers by resignation, moreover, as also in the navy, had been very great, 313 or nearly one-third of the commissioned officers having resigned, to take service with their tSates and the Confederacy.

That these resignations had been almost wholly among the officers and that the private soldier and "common" sailor had with hardly an exception stayed in the service was a great satisfaction to Lincoln.

"To the last man, so far as is known," he declared, in speaking of the situation, 'they have successfully resisted the efforts of those whose commands but an hour before they obeyed as absolute law."

The volunteers were to form three divisions of three or four brigades each, and to include cavalry as well as infantry. The regulars were to form two divisions of two brigades each and to comprise eight regiments of infantry and one each of cavalry and artillery.

Gov. Letcher's Proclamation.

Fifty years ago today, likewise, Gov. John Letcher of Virginia issued a proclamation authorizing the commanding general of the State forces to call for such volunteers as he might require, without limitation.

This proclamation, which well expressed the southern view of the situation, was as follows:

"The sovereignty of the commonwealth of Virginia having been denied, her territorial rights assailed, her soil threatened with invasion by the authorities at Washington and every artifice employed which could inflame the people of the Northern States and misrepresent our purposes and wishes, it becomes the solemn duty of every citizen of this State to prepare for the impending conflict.

"These misrepresentations have been carried to such an extent that foreigners and naturalized citizens, who but a few years ago were denounced by the North and deprived of essential rights, have now been induced to enlist into regiments for the purpose of invading this State, which then vindicated those rights and effectually resisted encroachments which threatened their destruction.

"Against such a policy and against a force which the government at Washington, relying upon its numerical strength, is now rapidly concentrating, it becomes the State of Virginia to prepare proper safeguards.

"To this end and for these purposes I do hereby authorize the commanding general of the military forces of this State to call out and to cause to be mustered into the service of Virginia from time to time, as the public exigencies may require, such additional number of volunteers as he may deem necessary."

The proclamation was in notable contrast to that of April 24, nine days previous, in which Gov. Letcher had stated. "I feel it my duty to advise the people of the commonwealth not in the military service of the State to return to their usual vocations in connection with the trade and commerce of the country, assuring protection and defense."

It was the acts of the State of Virginia and her citizens that had in large measure caused Lincoln's call for more men; it was the assembling of the northern forces in Washington and the extension of the blockade to Virginia that had caused Gov. Letcher's proclamation.

That while Washington was fearing hostilities on the part of Virginian troops native Virginians were in no less fear of Washington is seen from a letter written to Gen. Lee by one G Mason from Spring Bank, on the "exposed frontier" of the Potomac near Alexandria.

"Not only are our ports blockaded," wrote Mr. Mason, "and our navigable waters held by armed vessels, but the forts on our limits are filled with troops, while armed thousands are encamped on our borders; these thousands are not regulars and disciplined soldiers, but fanatics and lawless ruffians, ready for every outrage and violence."

For tomorrow: Col. Thomas J. (Stonewall) Jackson at Harpers Ferry.

MUST PAY EXCISE TAX.

Many Local Corporations Liable to Heavy Fine for Non-Compliance With Federal Law.

The constitutionality of the excise tax law having been affirmed by the Supreme Court of the United States, all corporations assessed under that enactment of Congress will be compelled to pay the tax. Claude I. Parker, collecter of internal revenue, received word from Washington yesterday to report all Los Angeles corporations that did not file the report required by the law to United States District Attorney McCormick, for prosecution.

These reports were to have been filed by March 1, covering the business transacted during 1910, but a number of the firms obtained an extension of thirty days. Under the law these firms are liable to a fine of not less than $1000 nor more than $10,000.

It is provided, however, that corporations, firms or persons that violate any provision of the internal revenue law may tender a sum of money as a compromise. These amounts must be submitted to Collector Parker, who forwards the statement with his recommendation to the Internal Revenue Bureau at Washington. But whether these amounts will be accepted or rejected is up to the department. Instructions will then be sent to the District Attorney to prosecute such firms or persons whose tender has not been accepted by the government. It appears from the statement of Collector Parker that there are about two hundred firms liable to a fine for noncompliance with the law.

Reaching Out.

CELEBRATING CITY BEAUTIFUL.

FEDERATED ASSOCIATION SEEKS STATE CIVIC LEAGUE.

President of Organization, Who Tours State, Finds Sentiment Unanimous for Proposed Step. Approve This City's Determined Fight for Industrial Freedom.

At the meeting of the Federated Improvement Association at Blanchard Hall tomorrow evening, final arrangements will be made for the celebration of "The City Beautiful," May 20, and steps will be taken toward the formation of what is to be known as the State Civic League.

Garner Curran, president of the association, has returned from a tour through the principal cities of California in the interest of the proposed organization, addressing realty and civic boards, and explaining the principal features of the State Civic League.

Everywhere, Curran reports, he found home owners enthusiastic for the organization of the league, and he brings back the further information that these people are looking to Los Angeles to lead in the movement for the betterment of civic conditions.

In these addresses Mr. Curran emphasized the spirit of progressive citizenship in this city, the climate, interurban service and the enterprising spirit of the people. He found that public sentiment was unanimously in favor of the fight that is being successfully made here for industrial freedom. All over California the men who make communities and cities are looking to Los Angeles to maintain the high standard set along labor lines. This will be one of the high spots of the meeting tomorrow night. The attendance of every member of the nearly half-hundred organizations comprising the association is earnestly requested.

"MAY WANT TO RETURN."

Distinguished Mexican Visitor Gives That as Reason For Refusing to Talk of Rebellion.

Prof. Elis Montayo, a graduate of the University of the City of Mexico, and for three years a teacher of the literature and language of Spain in one of the normal schools at the capital, visited the Federal building yesterday.

Like most of the high-class Mexicans who have been driven out of the country by the stress of the revolution, he closed his mouth absolutely when an attempt was made to learn something of his views of the situation. "Porgue pudiera querer regresar a Mexico," he declared, and that seemed to cover the situation.

Prof. Montayo brought to Ralph Dominguez, interpreter and bailiff at the United States Court, a letter from Postmaster-General Dominguez, a relative of the Los Angeles man, recommending the bearer to the good wishes of his relative.

The visitor talked about everything in Mexico, except the rebellion, and intimated that he had a son who might have trouble if he talked too freely.

He is staying at Santa Monica, where his interests are being looked after by Justice Carillo. The distinguished teacher has some ambitious plans in regard to his stay in Los Angeles. A movement to combine the Mexican colony and the native Californians into a social organization for the consideration of the language and other matters of interest is one of his ideas. The publication of a Spanish newspaper for the use of the higher class of Spanish-speaking people living in Los Angeles, is another. As an educator he is also interested in teaching the children of the lower classes and assisting them in securing an education that will be of benefit to them.

PRISONER HOLDS HIS TONGUE.

Although Told Woman Had Peached On Him, He Denies Rifling Mail Pouch In Kansas.

Deputy United States Marshal Fred Durlin started for Topeka last night, with John J. Rohe, wanted for stealing $1500 from a mail pouch in transit at Ellis, Kan., March 2, last.

Rohe, known as Anderson and Jacobs, was arrested at the King Edward Hotel, this city, by office inspectors who found cards on him showing he was not only a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, but that at one time served as a member of the grievance committee. He is said to be as clever a man as ever fell into the hands of the authorities.

Every effort to get him to confess was fruitless. He admitted being on duty the night the pouch disappeared, but professed to know nothing more about the affair. Even when it was demonstrated to him that a woman at Ellis had given him away, he remained undisturbed.

The $450 in cash found in the safe at the King Edward Hotel, secured by the officers on the order of Rohe, will be returned with him. The prisoner claims that he won the money playing poker on a sleeper out of Salt Lake City, en route to San Francisco.

Police Court Brevities.

Pete Bacich was found guilty yesterday of having "battered" M. Miller behind the ear when the latter went to Bacich's meat market to repair a leaky sink.

The Sunrise Court continues to lighten the work in the regular sessions. Previous to the opening of the early-morning court from forty to sixty inebriates appeared regularly in the day session, but since the number has rarely exceeded half a dozen.

STRIKES AUTO, WOMAN INJURED.

SKULL IS FRACTURED BY BLOW ON CROWDED STREET.

Caught in Car Track With Wagons Coming in Both Directions, Elderly Person Becomes Bewildered and Bumps Into Machine Which Hurls Her Violently to Pavement.

Bewildered by many wagons approaching from both directions while she was in the center of the car track at Sixth street and Grand avenue yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Mary Davidson, 55 years old, of No. 536 South Grand avenue ran into the rear of an automobile and fell, her skull being fractured.

She was picked up by J. A. Mathis, the owner of the machine, and taken to the Receiving Hospital. She was conscious when admitted and gave her name, though she was unable to remember her address.

The machine was moving slowly when the accident happened. Mrs. Davidson did not see it until she struck the fender with her head. The auto was behind a heavily-loaded coal wagon and the noise made by the approaching wagons prevented her from hearing it.

It was later learned that Mrs. Davidson has rooms with a daughter at the South Grand-avenue address; but the daughter could not be found. She has but slight chance of recovery.

PICK UNIONITES OUT.

Officers Identify Pickets in Crowded Courtroom, Charged With Conspiracy.

Great headway was made in the labor-unionite conspiracy trial in Police Judge Chambers's court yesterday. Prosecution and defense agree that the introduction of evidence is now proceeding as rapidly as possible.

Patrolmen Boaz, Allen, Ward, Kreps and Burgess walked through the pickets as they crowded into the court room and identified them before the jury as men they had seen loitering and picketing.

A large number of the labor unionites' names were not known to the officers, and they gave the titles with which they were familiar.

E. Borcard, who prides himself on his luxuriant beard, was called "The Count." E. Durr was known as "Thirty-one Days" because the officers declared he loiters in the industrial district "every day in the month." H. Nordmark's facial expression won him the appellation of "Grinny."

In addition to the testimony of the officers, that of Reese Llewellyn, president of the Llewellyn Iron Works, was taken relative to the condition of affairs in general in the vicinity of his plant.

The defense was unable to shake the testimony of the witnesses.

Barney Is Back.

Barney Kinard arrived from Santa Barbara Monday and accommodations for a thirty-day stay in the East Side Police Station were arranged yesterday. Since his last visit he has been a prominent member of the beach city chain gang, where it is said he made his mark on the beach road. Barney appeared in court yesterday to answer to his regular charge of vagrancy.

The last time he appeared here he told Police Judge Frederickson that he was guilty of vagrancy, but thought the law ought to be limited to a sentence of ten days in jail for the offense. Police Judge Frederickson said he would try one of that length, and Barney retired for the period. Upon his release he went to Santa Monica and assisted in the street work.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The demand for potatoes swept a number of merchants off their feet, to the extent that buying was so heavy that the market was forced up to $1.75 per lug box on the new crop arrivals. Sales went all the way from $1 to the top notch. The demand for new spuds has been increased greatly by the hard work of salesmen through the hotels and restaurants as well as through the distant Arizona, New Mexico and Texas territory. As soon as some of the farmers heard of some of the prices paid in the morning, they rushed to the telephones and through long distance connections ordered all the digging of new potatoes possible in order that they can be rushed in at the high prices. As a result there are predictions of a slump this morning. No matter how many come in, it is scarcely possible that the market will go below the $1 price. The demand for old potatoes continues very fine and quotations on them are not at all affected by the new crop as yet. Receipts yesterday were only 326 sacks, or a single car.

The price on eggs moved back up a cent, making the quotation 20 cents on case count and 24 cents on candled. On other stock the change was similar. The demand at the 19-cent quotation was too heavy to stand particularly with light receipts—only 385 cases.

Butter arrivals were very heavy—66,959 pounds. This with the sudden turn of Eastern and Northern markets caused a similar turn here, the market dropping off part of the gain made the day previous. Creamery extra was quoted at 22½ cents.

Northern fresh was practically the only cheese sold in the morning. Prices were weak with a 12-cent market in San Francisco. Receipts of cheese totaled 5111 pounds. Only 47 crates of onions were received. The demand for onions continues so heavy that the prices wholesale are still up to $1.75 per crate. Thirty sacks of beans were received. There was no activity in this market.

There were a number of changes in the vegetable market. Practically all of the very early spring lettuce is off the market and the between season being on has caused a very sudden increase of values on that vegetable. Some of it sold as high as $1.75 per crate. Corpus Christi, Texas, is the shipping point of a large number of cucumbers and many crates were found on the market. They brought from $3 to $4 per crate containing about four dozen cucumbers each. Tomatoes stick at the $2 and up price per crate. Artichokes are down to 25 cents on some stock. Rhubarb is selling at $1.10 on the very best. Asparagus is plentiful and unchanged in value. Squash are selling at $1.15 a crate. Other stock is the same.

Shipper, After Survey of Fruit Conditions Finds Frost Reports Were Not Exaggerated.

The first authentic deciduous fruit crop outlook reports are beginning to come in from various sections of the North. E. M. Wolcott, an extensive jobber and shipper, identified closely with the California Fruit Distributers, returned Monday after a three-weeks tour of the fruit-growing districts.

"There was no great exaggeration of the frost reports late last winter and this spring," said Wolcott. "Around Lindsey, Exeter, Tulare, Visalia and Farmerville there were very many orchards in which the crop will not be sufficiently large to warrant harvesting and curing. This was particularly true of apricots. This fruit seemed to have suffered more through all parts of the big valleys in the central portion of the State than did peaches, plums and cherries.

"The plum crop in the Santa Clara Valley, San Benito Valley and other extensive growing districts, will show a slight decrease as compared with last year which was not up to the yield of two years previous. In the Watsonville district, the report on apples is fairly favorable. Cherries there were beginning to ripen. The crop seemed to be among the best of the year, the yield being figured about as high as it was last year when no records were broken.

"Only through Orange county, the southern part of Los Angeles county and some of the orchards of San Diego county, show an average crop on apricots. In some sections this fruit has not come up to standard and dried apricots will be higher than before.

"Fruit jobbers are satisfied that prices will be higher than last year."

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE.

Bears Make a Terrific Raid on Consolidated Midway, Driving it Down Two Points More.

The bears went after the Consolidated Midway stock on the Los Angeles Exchange yesterday with pile drivers, battering rams and every other tool that would leave a mark. When the shades of evening began to fall, and the clearing house clerk of the Exchange had made his totals, it was found that an aggregate of 142,000 shares of the stock had "changed hands."

Monday the bears had pounded the quotations down to 17 cents from around 21, and yesterday the first sale was made at 16½. During the bombardment of the bears, sales were made as low as 14½, but just before adjournment there was a recovery and the closing bid was 15⅛.

During the past few months Consolidated Midway stock has been subjected to ups and downs to a degree that the recurring news from the property did not justify. This condition has led to the belief that the unusual fluctuations have been due to the manipulations of professional traders.

The trading in the other shares was light, and there were no pronounced variations in the quotations.

SAN FRANCISCO EXCHANGE.

Comstock Issues Continue to Furnish All the News of the Market. Goldfield Shares.

[Special Service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—There was no special news on the Comstocks today, but the leaders were subject to quite violent manipulation. The physical condition of the north-end properties continues good, with Mexican showing up very rich. Most of the stocks closed off, with the exception of Sierra, which after selling this morning at 50, ran up to 60 this afternoon, and closed 59@61. Ophir closed with a loss of 5 points, Mexican 17½, H. & N., 1, Jacket 3, Union 2½.

The Union, which adjoins the Mexican on the north, is so close to the great Mexican development that it will be a very interesting mine to watch. The sole work now going on in the Union is the sinking of the joint Union and Sierra Nevada winze, which is about in the middle of the Union mine, and about 300 feet north of the Mexican line. This winze is 251 feet deep below the starting point, which is the 2000 level. This brings it close to the 2300 level of the Mexican. The winze is now beginning to enter the northeasterly ore channel, in which the Mexican discovery was made, and there are streaks of very favorable looking quartz coming in, which are charged with lead and zinc sulphides, which are an indication of strong mineralization. Occasional low assays in gold and silver are obtained at times from these streaks. So good are the indications in the winze that Superintendent Sims is now considering the advisability of opening a station at about the present depth and doing some active prospecting.

There were no changes in the Goldfields worthy of comment.

In the Tonopah list Belmont was up 2½, Montana 3. Montana is so closely held that it takes very little buying to influence this stock in the market. Nevada Hills continues to gain slowly, and the stocks in the outlying camps were neglected.

The output of the Tonopah mines last week was valued at $185,700; a decrease of $7000 compared with the week previous. The annual statement of the Belmont Company for the year ended February 28 shows gross receipts $2,314,205; operating expenses, including depreciation, $811,824; net earnings, $1,502,381; other income, $19,920. Total net revenue, $1,522,301; undivided surplus, $1,185,867; cash on hand, $1,162,446; total ore shipped to smelter, 21,907 tons; shipped to mill, 59,159 tons; average value of all ore per ton, $34.93; estimated ore reserves, in tons, 443,036; estimated value, $26 per ton; total, $11,518,988.

BULGES IN MAY FLURRY SHORTS.

BIG RUSH TO COVER OPTIONS ON CHICAGO PIT.

Dry Weather in Northwest Plays Important Part on Bull Side. World's Available Supply of Wheat Shows Marked Decrease—Cash Demand Almost Non-Existent.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—An artifical bulge of 3¾@3 7-8 for May wheat today frightened shorts in all the other options, though business in the current delivery did not reach a size of any great importance. New crop months closed at an advance of ⅝ to 1 1-8. The end of the session left corn 1-8@1-4 to ⅝ higher than last night, oats up 1-8 to ½@5-8 and hog products with a gain of 5@7½ to 32½. Leading longs took the initiative in the buying of May wheat, raising promptly all bids that the shorts made in attempts to cover. Dry weather in the northwest finally became quite a factor on the bull side. Furthermore, the world's available supply decreased heavily and foreign markets were generally firm. Cash demand was conspicuously absent but that circumstance seemed to cut no figure in lessening the urgency for any future, not excepting May. July ranged from 88 1-4 to 89 1-8 and closed firm, 1 3-8 up at 89. Big chartering of lake steamers occasioned a bullish feeling in corn. July fluctuated between 52⅝ and 53 1-4, closing firm at 53, a net gain of 1-4. Cash grades were steady for the best kind but low sorts were weak. No. 2 yellow finished at 54½@54¾. Fine weather prevented oats from improving in price so much or so rapidly as other grain. July touched as high and low points 32 3-8 and 32 1-8, the last sales 32 1-4@32 3-8 and rise of 1-8@1-4, above the figures of 24 hours before. In view of the moderate supply of hogs provisions naturally took the up grade. At the gong pork had risen 20 to 32½; lard, 7½@10 to 12½, and ribs 5@7½ to 22½.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour, steady; No. 2 rye, 1.03; feed or mixing barley, 65@85; fair to choice malting, 1.00@1.13; flax seed, No. 1 southwestern, nominal; No. 1 northwestern, nominal; timothy seed, 12.00; clover, 15.50; mess pork, per bbl., 15.75@15.87½; lard, per 100 lbs., 8.05; short ribs, sides (loose,) 7.37½@8.12½; short clear sides, (boxed,) 8.25@8.37½.

Grain Statistics.

CHICAGO, May 2.—Total clearance of wheat and flour were equal to 81,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 339,000 bushels, compared with 179,000 bushels the corresponding day a year ago. The amount of breadstuff on ocean passage decreased 7,289,000 bushels. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 14 cars; corn, 213 cars; oats, 116 cars; hogs, 28,000 head.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, May 2.—The wool market has again lapsed into quietness, sales being for the most part in small lots of scoured wools. Values are steady at what holders regard as bottom figures. Fleece wools show no improvement, one quarter Ohio selling at 25½ with Michigan slightly lower. A fair amount of territory is moving in original sacks at 17 to 18. Clothing territory scoured sells at 46 to 48c for fine and 45 for fine mediums. Bidders are all in the West interviewing flock masters for the new clip and buying is reported very active, with prices rising. In Utah where 13c was quoted last week shearers are asking 14. Pulled wools remain dull and rather weak.

With bidders in the West interviewing flock masters, the wool market for the old stock has lapsed into the spring quietness. Values were looked upon by holders as near the bottom. Reports from the West indicate rising prices for the new clip; Utah shearers have marked up their goods from 13½ to 14 cents; and Nevada growers are following. The landed scoured cost of the new wools is estimated at 48 to 50; pulled wool continues dull and weak. Texas fine, 12 months, 47@48; fine, 6 to 8 months, 43@45; fine fall, 41@42; California northern, 47@50; middle county, 45@47; southern, 43 bid; fall free, 40 bid. THE WEATHER.

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, May 2.—[Reported by A. B. Wollaber, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.97; at 5 p.m., [illegible]. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 50 deg. and 63 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 88 per cent.; 5 p.m., 68 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 6 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 12 miles. Highest temperature, 63 deg.; lowest, 50 deg. Rainfall for season, 16.43 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

LOWEST TEMPERATURES. — Boston, 56 deg.; Washington, 56; Pittsburgh, 38; Chicago, 38; St. Louis, 40; Cleveland, 34; Los Angeles, 50; New York, 56; Buffalo, 32; Cincinnati, 34; St. Paul, 30; Kansas City, 38; Jacksonville, 68; Spokane, 48.

WEATHER CONDITIONS—The storm central over the lake region is now passing to sea down the St. Lawrence Valley, having given rain during the last twenty-four hours at most stations east of the Mississippi River. Montgomery and New Orleans report precipitation in excess of one inch. The high pressure noted yesterday over the Plains States now covers the country between the Rockies and the Mississippi, and fair weather, with low temperatures, prevails in that section. Frost, ranging from light to killing, is reported in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Missouri and Illinois. Rain is reported in the Salt Lake Basin, Oregon and Washington, the result of an area of low pressure extending over the greater portion of the western slope, with centers of depression in British Columbia and Arizona. The pressure is rising somewhat on the Southern California Coast, and this distribution will give generally fair weather in Los Angeles and vicinity during the next thirty-six hours, with cloudiness at intervals.

FORECASTS. — Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair, with cloudiness at intervals Wednesday. Light, westerly winds.

Pasadena, Riverside, Redlands and San Bernardino: Fair Wednesday.

California, south of the Tehachepi: Wednesday cloudy.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—Forecast: San Francisco and vicinity: Cloudy Wednesday, light showers in the morning, light south wind, changing to moderate west.

Santa Clara Valley: Cloudy Wednesday, light south wind, changing to north.

Sacramento Valley: Cloudy Wednesday, with showers in the foothills, light south wind.

San Joaquin Valley: Fair Wednesday, warmer, light north wind.

California, south of the Tehachepi: Fair Wednesday, light north wind, changing to south.

RECEDING PRICES MARKET FEATURE.

INDICATIONS OF OVERBUYING AFFECT STOCKS.

Coalers Form Marked Exceptions to Recession in Quotations—Bearish Sentiment Fostered by Falling Off in Orders for Steel Reported by Big Corporation.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—Following a week of almost uninterrupted advance, the stock market today became mildly reactionary and gave indications of an over-bought condition, just as for weeks it had shown the contrary symptoms. Prices receded quite generally throughout the list of speculative stocks although in most issues a large part of recent gains was retained. Marked exceptions to the backward tendency of today's market were the coalers, particularly Delaware and Hudson and Lehigh Valley, both of which advanced sharply as a result of reports that these and allied concerns are considering reorganization of their coal properties after the manner of Lackawanna. Bearish sentiment was fostered by the official statement that the orders of the United States Steel Corporation during April averaged about 10,000 tons a day less than in the previous month and were the lowest of the year. Some of the local banks were again extensive buyers of bonds for Western correspondents. The plethora of money in that section has at last reached the point of embarrassment and may be expected to give further stimulus to the market. Bonds were active and prices firm. Total sales, par value, $3,731,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Special service to The Times, by E. F. Hutton, members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—The curb market closed strong and active with the principal interests centered in the Porcupines with Hollinger the special feature selling up to eleven on inside buying. Giroux was dull but firm selling 6½ and 6⅝. Nevada Hills was in good demand selling above 3. If any chance at all, the curb market would do better.

There was absolutely no feature to the Boston market, stocks were dull but strong. There was some favorable news on Lake Copper, which was discounted on yesterday's rise.

New York Cotton Market.

[Special Service to The Times by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members of the New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth st., Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, May 2.—The cotton market today was influenced to slightly lower levels by a slackening of the demand for spot cotton abroad and a consequent easier tone to the Liverpool future market. Spot sales in the English market during past five days having approximated only about 38,000 bales compared with 70,000 for the same period one week previous. On the other hand the weather news during the past week, as summarized in the weekly reports of the government weather bureau was not unfavorable as expected and there are now prospects for general clear and warm weather setting in during the next few days, in practically all sections of the cotton belt, therefore the only bullish incentive at the moment is the very bullish statistics of the old crop which would seem to have been pretty well discounted by the price, especially as the short interest in smaller deliveries has practically been eliminated, leaving a large concentrated and scattered trailing long interest to be liquidated.

Logan & Bryan's letter says:

"After this date last year the spinners of the world took 2,669,000 bales and did not get enough to keep them running. There are more spindles to feed this year, less raw cotton at mills and unless they shut down tighter than they did last year the takings from now on will exceed those of last year. Europe has for many weeks shown so much willingness to do her part in the cotton world that it is useless to presume that she had any other intentions for the future, and as for American mills after this date last year, the northern mills and Canada only took 296,000 bales which would be very easy to duplicate or increase, while southern mills after this date last year were figured at 490,000 bales. This feature of southern mills' takings contribute to both the amount brought into sight and the mills' takings at the same time. If for any reason the weekly takings of southern mills be lessened the ultimate size of the final commercial crop is also lessened. If we are to approximate a twelve million bale crop, we must figure the southern mills' takings at about 35,000 per week next seventeen weeks. If we figure them that large the takings of southern mills for the rest of the year will figure 595,000 bales against only 490,000 bales for the same period last year. These questions are, of course, only matters of book-keeping, but without this weekly estimate of southern mills' takings the amount into sight would drop to exceedingly small proportions. The truth of the matter is that it is going to be a hard matter to make the commercial crop equal the ginning census of final yield, and it is going to be hard to persuade the spinner of the world to take less than 12,000,000 bales for the season."

The Leading Specialist

I HAVE SUCH INDISPUTABLE evidence to lay before you that no thinking person will doubt my ability to overcome any diseases except those which are beyond the hope of human aid. I speak not only of acute ailments, but of all diseases arising from nervous troubles, overwork, dissipation. Many unsuccessful people who had attributed their failure in life to misfortunes or lack of opportunities has come forth from my treatment vigorous and ambitious, equipped and able to fight their battle and win success in the world. Perhaps you recognize your own weakness. I will supply the strength, courage, will power and energy necessary to success. I do this by no occult powers, but by putting into healthy condition the various organs of the body and restoring to the system the vital, rich blood, the nerve energy which is lacking.

My treatment is as wholesome as it is powerful. It is as permanent as it is certain.

I make no charge for consultation. If you are ill or debilitated from any cause, you are welcome to my best thought and attention.

YOU CAN PAY AS ABLE WHEN BENEFITTED OR WHEN CURED.

WHAT BETTER PROOF or more sincere assurance can I offer than that I am willing to wait for my fee until I effect a cure? Could I afford to make such an offer if I was not absolutely certain of curing every case I take? And I do cure every case I treat. In my twenty-five years' practice as a specialist I have never failed to restore perfect health. Such invariable success justly entitles me to the title of leading specialist.

I will gladly give my advice Free to the afflicted, whether they later become my patients or not. Come in for a private talk with me. Don't delay. The worst cases are those in which treatment was too long neglected. If you cannot call, write for self-examination blank.

FULL STATISTICS OF LATE CENSUS.

Tucson Largest City Without Counting Precincts.

Valuable Data Secured As to Indian Population.

Prohibition Sentiment Looms Large in Maricopa.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 1.—Full returns have just been received from the Census Bureau covering Arizona. The population of the larger sections and the counties already has been announced. The statement made that Tucson had been cut 1000, as evidenced by a telegram received a few days ago, was erroneous, the population of that city remining at 13,193, and of the precinct at 16,061. The gross population of Phoenix is 11,134 and, including the precincts immediately abutting upon the municipal lines, 15,778. Among the smaller towns, the populations noted are as follows: St. Johns, 835; Benson, 1039; Courtland, 914; Gleeson, 600; Naco, 517; Willcox, 1411; Hayden, 582; Roosevelt, 645; Winkelman, 484; Safford, 929; Morenci, 5010; Solomonville, 595; Pima, 500; Thatcher, 904; Buckeye, 684; Glendale, 1000; Chloride, 275; Kingman, 900; Holbrook, 609; Silver Bell, 1721; Florence, 1561; Mammoth, 651; Ash Fork, 517; Congress, 471; Humboldt, 525; Seligman, 338; Parker, 420.

INDIAN POPULATION.

Considerable information is given in the census concerning the population of the Indian reservations. That of the reservation at Fort Apache is given at 2557, mainly Apache Indians. That part of the Navajo reservation within Arizona is credited with 8939, an increase in ten years of about 2700, this number of Indians inhabiting a district set aside for them as large as the State of Pennsylvania. The Moqui or Hopi tribe is credited with 3840 souls, about the same as ten years before. The Hualpais have a strength of only 269, compared with 620 ten years ago. The Yavasupais, inhabiting a gorge of Cataract Creek, have decreased in number from 250 to 179. The Apaches upon reservations in Gila and Graham counties number 1866, compared with 3065 ten years ago. Apaches on the McDowell Reservation, thirty miles east of Phoenix, number 125. Pimas on the Salt River Reservation, 718. Pimas and Maricopas on the Gila River Indian Reservation in Maricopa and Pinal counties, 4061, compared with 3850 in the previous report. Papago Indians on the Gila Bend Reservation number 2?8. Papagos on the San Xavier Reservation south of Tucson have decreased from 978 to 541. Mohaves on the Colorado River Reservation around Parker number 848. All this is probably a couple of thousand short of the real number, as there are Apaches unlisted in Yavapai county and a large number of nomadic Papagos wander the deserts of Pima county.

PROHIBITION STRONG.

Official canvass of the prohibition election made by the Maricopa county Board of Supervisors shows that 4400 votes were cast in the county, of which 2480 were for prohibition and 1920 against. The percentage of prohibition votes in the county was better than 72, with a total majority of 560, only seven small precincts outside of Phoenix going wet. In Phoenix, 1045 votes were for prohibition and 1363 against.

Peevishness over the route selected by the Territorial Board of Control for the Territorial road through Cochise county has caused an outcry that the selfishness of Phoenix must be rebuked and that as soon as Statehood is secured, a movement must be undertaken for transfer of the Territorial capital from this city to Tucson. It is charged that the specification in the Enabling Act placing the capital at Phoenix for the next twenty-five years will cease to become mandatory as soon as full Statehood is attained. It is urged that similar action was taken with respect to the claims of Guthrie, Okla., the capital being moved to Oklahoma City despite the twenty-five year clause. All this agitation, which seems to proceed mainly from Bisbee and Tombstone, because the Territorial road has been laid out up the San Pedro Valley from Tucson straight for Douglas, when it would have been preferred by some interests to have it run through Bisbee, which now is left about five miles off the track.

STRIKE FORESTALLED.

Today was the day set for the strike of the carpenter of Phoenix to enforce a demand for an increase in wages from $4 to $5 a day for eight hours. Saturday night this demand was somewhat anticipated by Superintendent Gallagher, in charge of construction on the new Hotel Adams, who dropped fourteen carpenters who stated their intention of standing by the new union schedule. To fill their places, fifteen non-union men were secured the same evening at the old rates.

Two life convicts made an attempt to escape from the Territorial Penitentiary near Florence Thursday, scaling the prison walls by means of ropes to which they had attached wire hooks. The break was seen by the guards on the wall who opened a rapid rifle fire on them as they ran across open ground toward the Florence canal. Guard Capt. Van Sicklen mounted a horse and headed the fugitives off, but before he reached them they had surrendered themselves amid a dropping rain of bullets and were found extended flat upon the ground.

A definite governmental survey is being made of the boundaries of the Pima Reservation along the Gila River, where the Indians are now prospering as never before, blessed with an abundance of water pumped for grain crops.

Excursionist rates from Arizona points to California are now in effect, the rate from Phoenix to Los Angeles and lower coast points being $26.25. The Southern Pacific is making a strong bid for patronage by installing a through Pullman and a chair car from Phoenix to Los Angeles, leaving this city at 6 p.m. and arriving at its destination at 7:15 the next morning.

HARBOU ARRAIGNED.

George W. Harbou, a building contractor accused by Ariosto McCrimmon, a real estate dealer, of forgery, was arraigned yesterday morning before Justice Forbes. His examination was set for May 8, and in the afternoon $5000 bail was provided. Harbou is charged with having forged the name of J. Lee Burton, an architect, to a builder's bond he submitted to McCrimmon.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

Los Angeles, which has heretofore devoted all its attention to the refining of oil, has secured 111 acres adjoining the Union property in the Little Sespe district, and under the management of F. H. Allen already has material on the ground for a rig. The company has plenty of capital, it is said, and if the first well is a success no doubt several others will be drilled.

The Calumet Oil Company, composed of Arizona copper magnates, has secured a lease on the old Guiberson place consisting of 800 acres adjoining the Montebello property on which some good wells have been brought in lately.

ENTIRELY NEW COMPANY.
FOR GUARANTY BUILDING.

It was announced yesterday that an entirely new trust company with a capital of $1,000,000 will occupy the first floor of a ten-story building to be erected by the Guaranty Oil Company at Ninth and Spring streets. R. L. Cox, general manager of the Guaranty, said yesterday that work on the new office building will begin early in the fall, and it will cost around $500,000.

Eastern, southern and local capital will be interested in the enterprise. The Guaranty will occupy one whole floor of the structure.

Inspecting Oil Properties.

During the past week C. E. Spurlin, an oil expert from the eastern fields, has been examining a number of oil properties in the vicinity of Santa Paula. At each one he has plied the superintendents with questions, but will give no information about himself, and whom he represents, further than to say that he has been employed by certain eastern oil producers to inspect properties in the light oil belt of California. Among those he has examined are the holdings of the Bard Asphalt, the Pyramid, Puritan and Atlanta Oil companies.

Town Takes In Oil Wells.

The proposed limits of the city of Maricopa as outlined in the petition presented to the County Supervisors asking for an incorporation election include a section of land in the heart of the Sunset field—the northeast quarter of Section 11, the northwest quarter of Section 12, the southwest quarter of Section 1, and the southeast quarter of Section 2. Property belonging to the Union, New Center, Fulton, Gate City, Adeline, Adeline Extension and Midway View oil companies is included.

News Notes and Personals.

T. F. Burke, secretary of the Kern Board of Trade, accompanied by B. Levick, a magazine writer, has been going over the Maricopa and other oil fields of Kern county securing data for an extensive write-up.

G. E. Worden, a banker of San Francisco, Bakersfield and Maricopa, accompanied by James Lynch, president of the San Francisco Clearinghouse Association, was a recent visitor to Maricopa and the surounding oil fields. The party traveled by auto.

Daniel Bachtel has resigned his position of night foreman for the Associated Oil Company in the McKittrick field, and is succeeded by Henry Cable. Bachtel will continue in the service of the company, filling a responsible place. Ned Shaft succeeded Cable as foreman pipe-fitting department.

Frank Brown, connected with Kern Trading and Oil Company been removed to a hospital in Francisco. He was injured by a tious horse while working in the Spring Has Came!

Spring Days Are Motoring Days

Spring is just over the hill. It will be at your front door in a week or so, teasing you out to the poppy fields, the woods and the open roads.

You will yearn for change, for movement and variety—most of all for what we call "the country," where the trees grow and flowers bloom and birds sing—where fresh air and sunshine are free and unavoidable. To gratify this ever-recurrent yearning to be out and on your way, there is nothing so good as a motor car.

And the spring is the best motoring time of the year, except possibly summer, fall and winter.

Chalmers Motor Cars

are good cars. You have the word of 5000 Chalmers owners if you care to ask them.

You have the word of other makers and sellers of motor cars if you care to ask them. You have the record of Chalmers cars in all kinds of contests—their crowning victory being the winning of the Glidden Trophy in the longest, most trying tour ever held.

Let us fix your delivery date so you may enjoy the spring motoring.

FINAL DETAILS FOR BIG TOUR.

Entry List Smashes All the Previous Records.

Important Meeting Is Called by Referee Garbutt.

Women Drivers Taking Keen Interest in the Run.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

Another important meeting of the officials and automobile dealers interested in The Times Tour to Lakeside will be held this morning at 10 o'clock in the offices of Referee Frank Garbutt, No. 1006 Security building. At that time final details for the tour will be arranged and the new 1911 rules of the Automobile Association of America will be distributed.

At the last minute, Chairman S. M. Butler has sent the new rules which will govern the contest and these will be ready with all the latest data concerning The Times tour. The instructions to observers and drivers and the necessary information for each entrant is contained in the rules.

Those who have not yet named observers must name them this morning, as Chief Observer Guy West is arranging the schedule and will name each man on each contesting car during the meeting. This means that everything for the tour that is necessary to be completed before the start at 12 o'clock Friday will be finished today.

Never before has a schedule such as that arranged for The Times tour been given to any automobile contest in the West. Experts who have examined the schedule, pronounce it one of the hardest ever arranged for the contest, but the tenets of the Automobile Association of America have been followed carefully and as a result, the cars must follow the ruling of the Contest Board.

CARS IN CLASSES.

Referee Garbutt has arranged the classes into which the cars will be divided and this morning will arrange the order of the start. The cars will be sent away, of course, in the order in which each entry was received in its class. This means that the faster cars will be dispatched from 12 o'clock Friday on at one-minute intervals.

Wild Bill Ruess, armed with a megaphone, will send the entrants away in one-two-three order. Every machine that fails to reach the scratch on time will be penalized, and the driver must suffer the consequence of a loss of one point for every minute he is behind his starting time.

Your schedule can be figured exactly if you measure the time from the time you start. If you are No. 8, you will start at 12:08 o'clock.

There is a long list of women drivers who desire to start but the rules of the Automobile Association, which have been followed carefully, are lenient and are also expressive. The women can drive. This is an important item which will meet with the approval of the fair sex.

WOMEN DRIVERS.

Mrs. Sydney Lee Grover will be on hand with her Ford car. She has entered the lists and will ride with her observer in an effort to win in her class. She is a heady driver and is one of the favorites in the small division.

Mrs. Edward G. Kuster, wife of Attorney Kuster, representative of the Contest Board of the Automobile Association, will drive her Stoddard-Dayton. She knows how to handle the fifty-horse power car, but must enter the lists as a non-contestant as her husband is one of the chief officials. His word will be law, and if his wife should chance to win he would have a hard time to keep her from getting the trophy.

Mrs. Walter G. Hemenway is another of the fair sex who has qualified as a driver who will not start as a contestant. Mrs. Hemenway had her heart set on driving her Stoddard-Dayton touring car through The Times tour. She is an expert at the wheel and was confident of finishing with a perfect score.

When the rules were explained to Mrs. Hemenway she refused to enter the lists, as she was not allowed to enter under her own name. She wanted to jump into the tour right and was willing to take a chance with her Stoddard against the best of the drivers. She will not drive in the ranks, however.

Mrs. Roger Miller, wife of the Pullman agent, is another fair driver who will be denied the chance to participate. Her husband will drive the Pullman and Mrs. Miller will ride with him. She is fearful that she

LOW SCORE WON BY MISS MELLUS.

WOMAN'S SUBSCRIPTION TOURNEY DRAWS EIGHT PLAYERS.

Long Carries Over Hills and Bunkers on the Men's Course do not Frighten Ladies—Do Exceedingly Well Over Pitfalls of the New Links.

Miss Katherine Mellus of Los Angeles won the low score prize in the ladies golf tournament held on the new Country Club links yesterday afternoon. Her score for 18 holes was 107, two strokes less than the score of Mrs. J. V. Eliot of Annandale and San Gabriel Country clubs. Mrs. Eliot won the handicap prize with a gross score of 109 and an allowance of 5, giving her 104 net.

Eight ladies, the best of the players in and about Los Angeles, entered the contest of one round of the long and difficult course. The day was an ideal one for play and a number of club members, male and female, were present to witness the play.

Play was from the men's tees but the long carries over hills and bunkers did not frighten the fair golfers, who drove in many instances well over the hazards that the majority of male players fail often in carrying.

The scores turned in showed that the ladies did exceedingly well considering the course was strange to them, comparatively speaking, and the numerous pitfalls encountered.

Second best net score was made by Mrs. H. D. Requa, whose card showed 117 gross, handicap 12 and net 105. Following are the entrants and their scores and handicaps:

	Gross.	Handicap.	Net.
Mrs. J. V. Eliot	109	5	104
Mrs. H. D. Requa	117	12	105

EXPULSION CONFIRMED.

Persons Implicated In Horse Racing Swindles Are Punished For Their Actions.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, May 2.—The expulsions of H. L. Duvenick, Sr., his son, H. L. Duvenick, Jr., both of California, Mo., whose names have been connected with trotting horses and driving races for many years, from the American Trotting Association were confirmed by the Board of Appeals today and they were forbidden ever to enter any events conducted by the association.

Theo. Christian of Centertown, Mo., and J. E. Roberts of St. Louis were declared by the board to have been implicated in horse racing swindles with the Duvenicks and also were expelled.

The Missouri men were charged with having entered Marie Van Hook, a pacing mare, with a record of 2:09 1-2, in a 2:17 race at Monroe, La. The mare was entered, it was charged, under the name "Lulu Allee" and won the race easily. The race was protested.

Geo. P. Van Hook of Gibson, Ill., owner of the mare, was found to have had no complicity in the fraudulent entry.

MANY NON-CONTESTANTS ON THE TIMES BIG TOUR.

FOURTEEN extra non-contestants joined The Times tour to Lakeside last night and will make the run over the course. Headed by Dr. J. W. Gray the automobile men will leave Los Angeles at 1 o'clock Friday, the day of the tour, and will drive through to Riverside and then on to Elsinore.

This will swell the lists of the tour until all previous records are smashed. The entry list is already the largest ever and with the addition of more than half a score of other cars the long string of machines will stretch almost to the city limits.

Dr. M. A. Spinks will lead the battalion of machines which will spin out of this city the day The Times tourers are sent away. He will drive his Peerless touring car. The others who will join the tour are Dr. O. G. Lochman, in a Halladay; Dr. L. E. Ford, in a Premier; Dr. W. C. Smith, in a Cadillac; Dr. C. M. Benbrook, in a Winton; Tom Lynch, in a Buick; Dr. W. A. Smith, in a Mitchell; Dr. C. J. R. Engstrom, in a Regal.

This does not complete the list, as Dr. S. C. Bogart will drive his Stoddard-Dayton; Dr. O'Dell, in a Winton; James Irwin, in his Cadillac; J. W. Neblett, of Riverside, his Ford, and Dr. Andrew Spinks, his Columbia. Dr. Andrew Spinks wants it distinctly understood that this is no balloon trip. He will drive on terra firma all the way and try to smash a few records on earth just for the fun of the thing. He has had his fill of long balloon tours and this time chooses his Columbia.

NERVES GIVE WAY ON LINKS.

Game of Golf Requires Sharp Eye and Clear Brain.

No Place for Mollycoddles and the Weak-kneed.

Idiosyncracies of Local Golfers Due to Nervousness.

BY J. ALEX SLOAN.

Ye golfers, listen to this—

A learned doctor versed in all forms of athletic endeavor declares that there is more nervousness on the links than is found in any other branch of sport.

Dr. Sargent of Harvard says that it requires a steadier nerve and a better eye to become proficient on the links than is found in the athletic make-up of the football player, the baseball player or any other sort of athlete.

Go out on the links of the Los Angeles Country Club and ask the first golfer you meet whether he has developed any nervousness since he started to play the game and see what his answer is, especially if he is a star.

Then go to another, less experienced, and see what he has to say. You will probably learn that the links have done much for an overworked brain and broken-down nerves in Los Angeles.

There is a humorous aspect to almost every golfer's nervousness. Take the foremost player of the time, Walter J. Travis, or the most widely-known character on the links, President Taft, and then scan the whole field of stars and notables that look to the golf course for recreation, and you will not be able to find a single golfer who hasn't some trait, or peculiarity traceable to nervousness.

Take as a first example that "prince of good fellows" to all wielders of the golf club in Los Angeles, Frank Griffith. He never goes on the links unless he is stocked with special brand of chewing gum. In this respect he is like President Taft, who generally

A new international champion was developed in Los Angeles yesterday when C. R. Joy and G. D. Joy won, 6-0, 6-0.

International committeemen usually are very dignified. They do not have much time to dabble in such trivial things as sports. For this reason McDill, who is Y.M.C.A industrial secretary of the world, looked very much

Many Fancy Stunts.

KLEIN FAILS TO STICK IT OUT.

Taken Out of Losing Game in Sixth Inning.

Miekel Heaves Good Contest Except in Fourth Round.

Big Crowd of Fans Witness Much Good Fielding.

BY GREY OLIVER.

San Francisco, 6; Los Angeles, 3.

Weakness by Klein and Smith and consistent heaving by Miekel made the Angels look cheap yesterday in the first game the two teams have played together this season, and but for the fancy fielding shown by a number of the men, the game would have been a dumb one. A large-sized crowd of fans saw the performance, and after the excitement of the Vernon-Angel games last week, that one yesterday seemed like going to a Sunday-school picnic.

Dillon put Klein in to pitch, but after the fifth, when they slammed him around for three singles and a sacrifice, he managed to get one man out in the sixth, when Dillon threw him into the clubhouse. Wheeler, who took his place, was also perforated for two runs and five hits, and the Seals simply galloped around about as they saw fit.

Those who like fancy fielding got all they wanted for the out-of-the-way stunts kept the fans looking sideways every inning. Daley started things in the third with a great running catch to the score board of Weaver's long fly, and five minutes later with one out and Smith on first base, Akin hit a high liner over Vitt's head and the kid jumped high in the air and grabbed it with his left hand and had no trouble doubling Smith at first.

In the fifth, with Akin on first base and one out, Metzgar hit a short fly to right which Melchoir ran in and grabbed, and racing on at top speed ran to first base and made a double play unassisted, on Akin. In the sixth, with Bernard on third base from his triple to right, Howard fouled a high one that shaved the whiskers off the front of the grand stand and Berry ran back and picked it off the wire screen. In the eighth, Bernard popped a short fly to right and Melchoir made another wonderful run and got the ball just as he was on his last stride before falling. In the ninth, Metzger jumped high in the air to catch Powell's liner with his left hand and Vitt grabbed Klein's high liner in the third with his left hand. It was really a game of remarkable fielding, but that is about all you can say of it.

The Seals began on Klein in the second when Melchoir got to first because Klein soaked him in the back with the ball. Madden followed this with a hard double to left, scoring Mel and got to third himself on Vitt's out at first. He had no trouble in scoring on a passed ball.

ANGELS LEAD ONCE.

The locals forged ahead in the fourth when Miekel went to the bad for about five minutes. With one out Bernard doubled to left and scored on Daley's single to right. Daley stole second, ran to third on Howard's infield hit and both men reached the plate when Delmas tripled to center. Delmas was caught at the plate on Dillon's bounce to Weaver and the locals could get no more runs. After that Miekel was there notwithstanding the fact that he had a little poor support at times.

The Angels did not enjoy the lead for very long, for in the fifth a single by Berry, a sacrifice by Miekel and a swat to center by Powell scored another run. McArdle swiped one to center and Powell would have scored but for a fine throw by Daley to the plate.

In the sixth a fielder's choice, a steal, a bad throw to second by Smith and Vitt's drive to right scored the fourth run.

This poke by Vitt ended Klein's pitching, for Dillon took him out and put in old George Wheeler. George got along all right until the eighth, which Melchoir started with a Texas leaguer to right. He stole second, ran to third on Madden's safe bunt to third and scored on a wild pitch. In the ninth McArdle's hit to right and Weaver's double to left scored the final run.

Umpire Finney had a very easy time of it for, aside from a few growls let out at him, he had no mixing business with any of the players. Everyone was almost a perfect gentleman. The Seals were so far ahead they could afford to be and the locals were too far behind and too hopeless to make much of a kick.

One little feature of the game not noticed by many, was the safe way the Seals have of breaking up a squeeze play. In the fourth inning, with Delmas on third and the squeeze ready to be pulled, Berry chased Del back to third with a bluff attempt to throw and then Miekel shot an incurve over that Dillon hit with the handle of his bat and knocked to Weaver, who easily threw Delmas out at the plate.

Weaver's work was well worth the price of admission. In five times at bat he hit two singles and a double and had four outs and four assists. His error consisted in muffing a hard fly toward right field. Bernard made

SEATON SHOWS OLD TIME FORM.

Blanks Hogan's Tigers in Two-Hit Game.

Bad Weather and Icy Air Keep Fans Home.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tommy Seaton was too good for Vernon today, for he allowed the Southerners but two hits and shut them out runless. Portland amassed two aces against the fine twirling of Harry Stewart by bunching two of the five bingles he allowed with a base on balls in the sixth inning.

In spite of threatening weather and frigid atmosphere which kept the fans away from the game, the rival clubs put up a fine exhibition, and Vernon is especially to be commended for the showing made, in view of the fact that Hogan's Tigers jumped off the Shasta Limited at 2:30 o'clock and played the game at 4 o'clock.

Hogan was determined that Vernon was going to do things to McCredie's league leaders, and until the sixth inning, the visiting band had a good chance of getting an even break on the game, for Stewart had pitched shut-out ball up to that period and was going as good as was Seaton.

In the sixth, Ryan opened up by pulling a three-base wallop along the first-base line, and Sheehan worked Stewart for a pass. Krueger's tap to Brashear sent Sheehan to second, but Ryan was held at third, and Rapps, who returned to the game today for the first time in a week, pulled one past Brashear which registered both Ryan and Sheehan and the game was on ice for Portland.

Seaton pitched a remarkably steady game, allowing but two hits, though Ross robbed Brashear of a hit by being caught at second on the latter's Texas leaguer to center, by being thrown out at second because he thought Ryan would catch the ball. Seaton fanned eleven of the Hooligans, winding up the game by striking out Ross and Patterson.

OAKS GET ANOTHER.

COY MAKES GOOD AGAIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Ben Hunt, turned over to Sacramento by the Boston Americans, essayed the task today of southpawing the Oaks into defeat. Hunt seemed to have plenty on the ball and remarkable speed, but he could not locate the plate and there were times when the Oaks were landing on him. Coy, the Vernon discard, was responsible for overturning the Senators, for with a lead of 2 to 0 against him, the right fielder cleaning the sacks with a two-bagger into center. All told, the Oaks showed up at the end of the session, 5 to 2 against their capital city opponents.

Both Sacramento runs came in the third. Shinn poled one at Wares that was too hard to handle. O'Rourke followed by sending a bad bounder at Cutshaw and when the latter tried for Shinn at third, a wild throw to the Sacramento bench sent Jimmy limping home, Wolverton in the meantime trying to give the runner the hook. On the same play O'Rourke reached third and scored by Thomas's single.

Hunt showed signs of wildness in the fourth and went to pieces in the fifth. Wolverton grounded to Dulin but Pearce was hit and Pernoll singled. Maggart hit the ball into left and filled the bases, although Pearce started for home and was only saved when Kilroy caught him and pulled him back in time. Then came Coy's two-bagger to center and there were three Oakland runs.

With two down, Hoffman on his two-bagger scored Monte Pfyl, who had reached second and the last run came with Charlie Baum in the box. Wares was retired on a grounder to Danzig. Wolverton hit the chalk on the first base line for a double and Pearce sent an easy one to Shinn. Jimmy had Wolverton a dead out but elected to try for the batsman and his bad throw scrambled the situation, Wolverton scoring as the ball went to the bench.

A new bowling organization to be known as the Mercantile League was formed at a meeting held Monday evening at the Orpheum alleys. This makes the seventh bowling league formed within the past six months, and plans are now under way to organize two more leagues. Such interest goes to show what a strong hold this fascinating game has upon Angelenos at present.

The all-day tournament for the Commercial and Electric leagues, which was to have been held next Sunday as the opening feature of the new Majestic alley, has been postponed one week, or until Sunday, May 14. This tournament will be for singles, doubles and trios, and entrance fee for each event, 50 cents per man. Prize money to be divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent. basis.

While rolling in the mixed doubles on the Grand alleys Friday evening Mrs. Knox piled up the excellent total of 816 pins for an average of 163. She also got high game among the ladies, knocking down 186 pins in the third game. This lady is just getting back into the game, and while her score Friday evening was a good one, she is capable of much better bowling when in practice.

Cy Taylor was missing from the Grand line-up Monday evening for the first time this season. Things did not seem natural without Cy's "pep" and his absence may have had something to do with the Grands losing the odd game to the Crown City boys.

Charlie Platt punched his average full of holes when he shot a total of 474 in the three games during the Grand-Brenwood match. He is now below the 180 mark, but has been off his stride during the last two matches. Just wait until he gets that old "reverse" working right and he will certainly make the wood fly.

The Cosmopolitan Ladies' Bowling Club held its weekly series of games at the Cosmopolitan Monday evening, and while no records were shattered, some very interesting games were rolled. Miss Garnet Siemans succeeded in keeping most of the balls on the alley until they reached the pins and nearly made a strike. Miss Simpson rolled 191, making two doubles and a "turkey." A little more practice and some of these young ladies will be up among the good ones.

Ballard of the Grands, seems to roll a stronger game in the mixed doubles than he does in the team matches, that is, he has the last few times out. Wonder what the cause is? Some of these boys have to put up a mighty good game to keep the ladies from beating them.

Walter Young, the 19-year-old Venice bowling "phenom," gave his team mates a lesson in pin tickling Monday evening in the Bimini-Venice match. Walter made the pin boys pick up just 606 pieces of maple as the result of his handiwork with the mineralite pill during the three games. This boy's good bowling was mainly responsible for his team piling up the excellent score of 2806. No wonder this bunch is at the head of the heap when they can bowl such scores.

"Dad" Wilson's College Inn ten pin braves covered themselves with glory in the Southern California League tournament last week when they made a clean sweep of all weekly high score honors. To begin with they hung up a large league team record, gathering 2879 pins in their match against the Orpheums. Next came the high team game of 1012, rolled against the Ship Cafes. Lustig grabbed the high three individual games, picking a total of 634 sticks of wood, and he also copped high single game with 249. This week "Dad" is busy receiving congratulations and answering, "I told you so!"

The youngest and smallest bowler in the Southern California League is only two days old and weighs just ten and one-fourth pounds. To date this rising young ten-pin artist has only mastered the rooting part of the game, but has a "bawl" of his own and if he develops a right as strong as his lungs, "look out for him." Today Johnnie Weber is buying the cigars and receiving the hearty congratulations of his many friends as the result of his latest "bowling find."

Has His Friends.

KILBANE WILL BE SUPPORTED.

Cleveland Fight Fans Are Confident of Victory.

Coming Across Continent to See Saturday's Battle.

Rivers Down to Weight and Showing Fine Form.

BY J. ALEX SLOAN.

Johny Kilbane, the little Cleveland fighter who will meet Joe Rivers, the Mexican, at Vernon Saturday, will have a delegation of home friends at the ringside to cheer him on. Several prominent sporting men are making the trip from the Buckeye metropolis, across the continent, to Los Angeles to witness the contest.

Kilbane, aside from his fighting, has a wonderful personality and to know him is to respect him. He is sincere and absolutely honest and has won a lot of money for the men who have backed him in all his battles since he became prominent in the fighting game.

There are a great number of Ohio people in Los Angeles now who will also attend the battle Saturday and root for the little lad from back home. Kilbane will also be supported in the betting by Cleveland money, which has been sent out to Los Angeles to be placed on little Johnny at even terms.

Another large bunch of fight fans were out to see Kilbane work yesterday and none of them shared the opinion that has gone the rounds that the Cleveland boy lacks a punch. Johnny showed how much steam he has in his blows in every move he made and he has promised to convince Rivers that he can hit some before the battle has gone very far Saturday.

Kilbane has improved a lot in his physical appearance since coming to the Coast and he says he will enter the ring as strong as he has ever been.

Rivers' rest Monday fixed him up for a hard session of work at Venice yesterday and in his six rounds of boxing with Leonard Lauder and Mike Fusco he let himself out several notches. Both boys had to hang on several times during the friendly mixing to save themselves and Rivers showed no signs of tiring.

The Mexican will have no trouble making the required weight. He was down to the mark yesterday and by a careful drying out he will easily step on the scales Saturday morning below the 122-pound mark.

Joe hasn't had as much to say about the coming battle as Kilbane, but he is just as confident as the little Clevelander. He understands, however, that he is going against a boy that has had more experience than himself and is faster and cleverer, but Joe says that if a knockout punch is delivered before the limit is reached it will be of the Mexican brand.

There was a large crowd of fight followers on hand to see Rivers at work yesterday and they were very favorably impressed with his actions. He seems to enter into fighting more naturally than most boys who are beginning their ring careers.

From what little betting has been done it looks as though Rivers would enter the ring the favorite. The money placed so far has been by the pikers, who have offered odds on the Mexican. The Kilbane money will probably come out between now and Saturday and if there is any quantity of it the odds may switch, making Kilbane the long end.

INVITATIONS ACCEPTED.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The Amateur Boxing Association of Great Britain has accepted an invitation recently extended by the Pastime Athletic Club of New York and will send its five star men to New York to meet the winners of the American boxing championship. The English team, consisting of W. W. Allen, Dare Warner, Bruce Logan, D. Erskine, W. Spencer, will leave for the United States on May 6.

DUAL ATHLETIC MEET.

BOSTON, May 2.—Advices received at Harvard University from England indicate that the question of a challenge from Oxford and Cambridge for a dual athletic meet in July between the English universities and a Harvard-Yale team is nearing a decision. There is said to be some doubt about Oxford not being willing to participate in such an event. But in case Oxford should decide not to take part, Cambridge is likely to challenge alone.

BERRY INDIFFERENT.

DOUBLE OR SINGLE FOR HIM.

"What do I think of the double umpire system, now?" said Henry Berry yesterday.

"I don't think," he added. "I had my say last year and they wouldn't do anything, and now I'm going to let every one alone. If they can stand it I can. I don't care what they do. That's all I know about double umpires for this league and that's all I care."

SCHAFER TO BE TRIED.

FORMER VERNONITE IN LINE.

Local baseball fans need not be surprised to see Pitcher George Schafer in an Angel uniform today or this week, for he is to be tried by Dillon.

Schafer has not been right so far this season, but he may be lucky enough to get into shape. Dillon could not be located last night to confirm the rumor that Schafer is to be an Angel, but Manager Berry stated over the phone that it was understood that Schafer was to be signed.

POLY ATHLETIC MEET.

All-Around Events Being Pulled Off To Decide Individual Championships On Field and Track.

For the past three days Polytechnic High School has been holding an all-round athletic meet, about half of the events have been run off, the remaining events to be finished this week.

So far Edward Wright is in the lead with four first places to his credit, William Creighton is second with one first, three seconds and one third place. Eugene Ross is holding third place with one first, one second, and one third place.

Results:

The 220 yard dash: Ross first, Creighton second, Rivers third; time, 24 3-5s.

The 220 yard low hurdles: Wright first, Creighton and Philips second; time 30 1-5s.

The 880 yard run: Creighton first, Ross second, Rivers third; time, 2m. 24 2-5s.

WHERE WE GET OFF.

BY J. ALEX. SLOAN.

Little Ad Wolgast is coming to Los Angeles to see Johnny Kilbane and Joe Rivers meet in their twenty-round sketch at Vernon Saturday afternoon. Ad has never seen the Mexican in action and he is anxious to get a look at him under fire. At the present writing Little Joe looks as good as anyone in the country who is coming.

When last seen on the Coast there was some talk of Tom Jones, the champion's manager, taking over Rivers's business, but Joe Levy is now in charge of the little Mexican's affairs. Had it not been that Rivers himself expects to be an opponent of Wolgast some day he probably would have sought out Jones, before he secured Levy, although the latter is regarded with great favor by Joe.

Wolgast may place a good-sized bet on the outcome of Saturday's go, as he is one of the best judges of fighters in the game today. Thursday Ad will probably watch Kilbane in action. He is quite an admirer of the Cleveland boy at long range and he is anxious to get a close view of him in his fighting togs.

It will be interesting to the fight fans to know which way the little champion will let his money go. Jones will also try to pick the winner and Tom comes pretty near being the original fellow in the picking business. In all the years he has been following fighters and the ring he never has gone wrong except in two cases. And in both instances before when he has been mistaken, he has had the satisfaction of knowing that there were few exceptions to his judgment. The most notable of Jones's mistakes was made at Reno, when he bet close to $5000 on Jeffries.

Jones thinks very well of Rivers, but his knowledge of the Mexican is limited to what he has read and heard about the little fellow, and when he gets a look at both Joe and Kilbane he may change his mind.

Wolgast right now is in the limelight more than ever before in his life. He has more than made good in the eyes of the fighting world, and instead of being the "cheese champ" that Battling Nelson dubbed him, he is the "fool 'em" champion. Ad has upset a lot of dope handed out by the eastern critics. Now he is coming to the Coast to engage in two of the most important contests of his career.

On May 28 he will meet Frankie Burns and on July 4 Owen Moran will be his opponent. In view of the way the Dutchman has been traveling for some time, both of these men should fall by the wayside when they face the champion.

The one boy generally regarded as the toughest opponent for Wolgast is McFarland, and Packy has got about as much chance to engage little Ad in a contest at 133 pounds as the proverbial snowball. However, to show the pugilistic world that McFarland looks like all the others to him, despite the latter's advantage in weight, Wolgast has announced that he will bet $5000 that he can beat him if he will weigh 135 ringside, which is two pounds heavier than the legitimate figure.

Wolgast goes considerable further than this, also, if the reports given out at the Kelley-Thompson fight at Racine the other night are true. He will meet McFarland and bet the same amount that he can beat him in twenty rounds if he will make 134 ringside, and if the little Chicago stockyards wonder will face him at the lightweight figure, 133 pounds ringside. Wolgast will bet $5000 that he can stop him in ten rounds.

McFarland has made no reply to Wolgast and before he does it is a safe bet that he will figure out some way out of the predicament. Packy knows better than anyone else that Wolgast is a tough proposition right now, and to meet him unless he had everything his own way would be foolish. McFarland might outpoint Wolgast in a limited round bout if he had a big advantage in weight over the champion, but with the conditions even Wolgast ought to almost murder McFarland. Packy has not got the punch in the first place to put Wolgast out, even if he could outbox him. This means every minute the fight went the champion would be getting nearer to victory. McFarland is a boxer and not a fighter. Wolgast is a fighter and not a boxer.

In New York just now a contest of any duration between McFarland and Wolgast would get more money than any fight between little fellows that could be framed up. Until Wolgast whipped Hogan in two rounds the battle would not have attracted many more people than the Wolgast-Knockout Brown contest, which drew about $25,000.

When Wolgast re-entered the ring after his several months' absence, he announced that he was going to show the ring followers that he was the champion of the world in more than name. He started out badly, but he soon hit his stride and he has improved so much in the last three or four fights that he looks better now than any of the recent lightweight champions.

Wolgast will not have time to take on McFarland before the fight with Moran is over on July 4. He will have to rest up a couple of weeks after the Burns battle on May 28, and then the time will have arrived for the training to begin for the Moran battle.

Jimmy Coffroth may be given the first chance to bid for the contest between McFarland and Wolgast if it is arranged. Jimmy is the one big promoter who has always looked upon Wolgast as one of the greatest fighters that ever lived. The night before the Wolgast-Memsic battle, Coffroth thought so well of the little champion that he signed him up for two battles, agreeing to give him $20,000 for the two contests.

I happened to be present when the articles between Jones and Coffroth were signed and mentioned to Jimmy that he was taking a pretty big chance, offering so much money, especially in the face of the number and class of fighters that Wolgast was to meet before his dates rolled around. Jimmy said, "Why, it's a pipe. He will make right through to my dates without so much as a hard battle." That is exactly what he has done.

Coffroth will probably come to Los Angeles for Saturday's battle, as he is anxious to see both Rivers and Kilbane in action.

"Bat" Nelson is getting as "pevl" as Richard Carle would say, over being shooed into the background and comes out with a strenuous letter to all of his friends, and he has a world of them on the different newspapers of the country, stating that it would be a shame for Ad Wolgast to mingle with McFarland at anything but the legitimate lightweight figure. Less than three months ago the same "Bat" was dealing out the roasts to the little champion table d'hote, claiming that he was not a real champion. Now he would warn him. One undignified person had the nerve the other night at Racine to publicly announce a battle between Jack Redmond and the Dane. Little "Bat" became awfully frustrated and after the manner of Dan Webster, announced that it was a damn lie.

Mark my words, Nelson will break out some of these days in some entirely new role.

Sporting Comment

BY THE MELANCHOLY DANE.

Another Gould Fancy.

I observe that another one of the sporty Gould family has been married. This time one has picked out a relative of the former mahogany queen of the Sandwich Islands. Just why some persons like dark meat is something that gets me. I'd just as soon eat a toad's legs or a cow's stomach. There's no accounting for tastes however.

Bill Squires Weeping.

A story comes from Australia to the effect that Bill Squires was found weeping one day before the statue of Hercules because he could not make any impression on the stone man by hitting him on the nose. Bill shows poor judgment. He gets nothing for slamming at the stone nose of Hercules while he might get $100 for having his own nose knocked off over here.

Papke Too Noisy.

Billy Papke should not be too fresh in declaring vehemently that he will never return to Australia. Bill should be careful for Sam Langford is in this country now and Bill cannot speak above a whisper if he wants to talk Chance In Australia.

The breeding interests do not seem to suffer much over in Australia. There they are allowed to gamble on the nags and they run their six furlong handicaps in 1.19. As the bookies have about cleaned up the suckers in this country there is a fine place for them over across the water.

Oakland Full of Mutts.

Nine thousand fans at a Sunday morning ball game at Oakland shows that there is another city in the league aside from Portland. All of the commuters appear to be of the mutt order, however, for going to a park where their own team gets but two games a week.

"Amateurs" Get The Money.

The fact that such old-time fighters as Rufe Williams, Label and Tommy McFarland are allowed to fight at "amateur" entertainments up around San Francisco indicates that the promoters there have evolved a scheme to slip the boys their cut when no one is looking. They don't fight for purses any more in their amateur shows. They simply get their share next day.

Quit Talking.

With Jack Johnson and Langford both in the East at present, it is up to them to either fight or quit talking the country to death. No one can ever be a champion by fighting with the mouth. Papke is trying this scheme but he won't get anything by it. A punch on the jaw beats all the bush in the world.

GOLF CLUBS RESPECT ONLY TWO PLAYERS.

There are only two golfers of note in this country who have the right of way on golf courses—President Taft, because of his official standing as the first citizen of the nation, and John D. Rockefeller, by right of his pocketbook. President Taft, no matter whether he plays at his home course, Chevy Chase, Washington; at his summer home in Beverly, Mass., or, in fact, over any links, receives courtesies which no other American follower of the game would get.

There is always a margin of at least two holes between the President's four-ball match and those which follow, and the gallery always respects his wishes by keeping away. So everywhere the President plays these things are observed. At Augusta, Ga., this winter, where both the President and John D. were playing, the other golfers had a hard time of it. Winter golf is an expensive pastime and men from the North who went to Augusta for their favorite sport were in a bad frame of mind as a result. Many a man of wealth has demanded special privileges, but not one has yet been favored over his fellows. The links are separate from the hotels, and because of this every golfer realizes that he will get a square deal.

MORAN BEATS BROCK.

CANTON (O.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Owen Moran, the English lightweight, had the better of a ten-round bout with Phil Brock, of Cleveland, here tonight. Moran did the hardest of the fighting, not much damage was inflicted by either man. No decision was rendered, but the popular verdict was in favor of Moran.

BOXING IN ILLINOIS.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) May 2.—By a vote of 30 to 3 the Carroll bill which legalizes six round bouts promoted by incorporated athletic clubs, was passed in the Senate. In its amended form the bill permits boxing provided a license is secured from the Mayor of the city or the Board of Trustees in villages and towns.

MORRIS BEATS MAXSON.

NEW YORK, May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Andy Morris had the better of Dummy Maxson in their scheduled ten round bout at Brown's gymnasium tonight. In the third round Referee Brown stopped the bout, Maxson went into the ring with his right hand practically useless; he fought gamely, however, with his one good hand.

GOSSIP ALONG GASOLINE ROW

BY BERT C. SMITH.

Leon T. Shettler and his friend, Walter Chanslor, attended the ball game yesterday afternoon. L. T. drove his electric and left the Apperson coupe at home. They enjoyed the game, of course, but Shettler captured the honors as chief rooter.

Don Lee is here. He looks better than ever. He says business is good in San Francisco. Well, Don my boy we are glad to hear it because there was a time when business for the Cadillac was not so good in the Bay City. What is the secret? Is Don a great organizer? No, I've got it. He's good looking.

The Times Tour to Lakeside. Great. The entry list is the largest for any tour of the kind ever held. Almost too large. We will all enjoy the run and will be there at the finish when the handsome silver trophies are awarded. No more cars can enter even the non-contesting ranks.

Don't forget that meeting this morning at 10 o'clock in the rooms of Referee Frank Garbutt, No. 1006 Security building. The officials, prominent automobile dealers and observers are invited.

Joe Ollier is busy arranging for that moving picture display of the E.M.F. car in the building. Just think of it. This idea is novel. We are all to be invited to a banquet either in Shrine Auditorium or some other large hall and after we have enjoyed the feast the pictures will be shown. Why of course Joe will make a speech.

Charles Dundas, from Riverside, agent for the E.M.F. and Flanders, who is leading the outside agents in the numbers of sales of the two lines, was in Los Angeles yesterday. He will greet the tourers in The Times contest and will be the control official at Riverside and starter on the following morning, that is, Saturday morning.

Harry Mason, the Diamond Tire man, will be the chief control official at Claremont, the first checking station. Just look for the man wearing that big badge. It will be Harry ready to receive you whether you wear Diamonds, Goodrich, Firestones, or in fact any old tire.

Fred Pabst is busy these days. He is doing yeoman service helping on the details of The Times Tour to Lakeside. His one worry is that Baron Von Pretzel will be satisfied. Why of course he will. He is a good sport.

George Adair is glad he is out of the hospital. His heart is not right yet, however, and will not be until he becomes a benedict. To tell the truth, George is in love. Don't blame him a bit. Just the sweetest little debutante ever and the marriage bells soon may ring.

P. A. Renton is going into the tour to win. He will drive his own car and will send her through on that fast schedule. It will mean something to drive the Overland into a perfect score, but P. A. is the man who could turn the trick.

William Bush, technical committeeman of the A.A.A. wil be on the tour. His Pierce-Arrow is in commission and you will be able to tell the car by the big sign.

If you are worried about the tour and you want to ask a question call me between 1 and 2 o'clock this afternoon and I'll try to answer your query. The details will be completed by this afternoon.

The White gasoline car. Look out for it. One of the favorites in its class. Yes, Pau Melchert will drive and O. K. Parker will be on the car to direct operations. The White has just finished a remarkable run and stands a chance to grab one of those big silver trophies.

Wild Bill Ruess is the official starter. He will be there with a big megaphone ready to send the cars away at one minute intervals. It will be a long procession, but Ruess is just the man who can hustle the cars along.

Volney S. Beardsley has written a song for The Times tour. Mrs. Beardsley has chosen a quartette, which will sing. Fun will be on tap after the hard run each day and we will all have a chance to rest quietly and enjoy the music.

Warren Vance is out to win in his class. He will drive the big fifty-horse-power Halladay and has a chance. He went over The Times tour and tried out the course with a fast run. He is confident of making his schedule. He says he will finish with a perfect score.

SOUTHERN YACHTING NOTES.

BY A. LESTER BEST.

The South Coast Yacht Club will open the yachting season of 1911 next Saturday, the clubhouse going into commission at 3:30 o'clock p.m. After the opening ceremonies the boats will be open for the inspection of the guests, and at 6 o'clock p.m. a barbecue supper will be served on the lawn. In the evening dancing will be in order, and on Sunday many of the yachts in commission will take out sailing parties.

The South Coast Regatta Committee tell me that they are preparing an additional schedule of races for the smaller classes. This is welcome news, as the smaller classes have been neglected for the last two or three years and the boats are so evenly matched as to make good racing.

One of the chief joys of the rocking-chair fleet at the South Coast Yacht Club during the season is to sit on the porch and gamble on how many times an incoming yacht will miss her mooring before coming to safe anchorage. The "woollies" which swoop down from Point Firmin make it decidedly interesting at times, and many a sailor expresses his feelings rather strongly when a stray puff gives his craft more way than he figured on, and allows the spectators afterward to tell him how he ought to have done it.

Last Sunday afternoon a strong westerly breeze was blowing, and, while only a few of the yachts are as yet at their summer moorings, there was something doing every minute. Mr. Loomis was out for a little swish in the Rosie, which he brought up from San Diego during the winter. On coming back to the anchorage he tried to pick up his mooring from windward, and as a result went by it like a freight train in a hurry. He had a man up forward who tried to catch his buoy, but fortunately missed it, or else he would have parted company with his footing and made a big splash. After vainly trying to go about under mainsail alone, he finally got his jib up and, sailing back, got his hawser on board on the next try, much to the relief of skippers on other yachts near by.

This crisis over, Rear-Commodore Hubbell decided to go sailing in the rejuvenated Edna, but, on getting away, forgot that there were any other boats in the anchorage and brought up suddenly against Dr. Soiland's newly-painted power launch. Little damage was done, however, except the loss of about ten feet of the Edna's mainsheet, which was cut away while getting her free.

Fred Millard then came in with the Valkyrie and forgot that the channel had been deepened to thirty feet. He proved the theory that twenty-five feet of anchor chain will not touch bottom on thirty feet of water, and the Valkyrie went sailing on her own hook, bringing up against the Wasp, from which perilous position (to paint and varnish) she was finally extricated by the club launch. This closed the comedy of errors for the day, but wait until all the boats get outside.

Commodore Laubersheimer took the first cruise of the season to Avalon on the Royal Saturday and Sunday, with a stag party. He reports that the town is looking forward to the big Decoration Day cruise, which really marks the opening of the summer yachting season.

Spalding's Minerva is now in the outer anchorage and looking very fit. Her crew is bewailing the loss of a coil of new halyards which has delayed somewhat in getting her in commission, but hope to have her ready for the opening sail next Sunday.

Gibson has sent the Wave to the Banning Shipyard on Mormon Island where she was built two years ago. He purposes changing her cabin inside and installing a galley. With the added conveniences she will be a comfortable cruiser. She has already proved herself to be a fast and able one.

C. D. Callahan of San Pedro has designed a cruising ketch for Hebeler which will be a notable addition to the South Coast Yacht Club fleet. Her dimensions are fifty feet on deck, forty-three feet water line, extreme beam fourteen feet, and draught eight feet. Her sail area is figured at 1350 square feet. Hebeler has done considerable sailing in North British waters, and along the coasts of Norway and Sweden, and at his suggestion Callahan has modified the standard type of North Sea pilot boat, a design noted for seaworthiness under adverse conditions.

FINAL DETAILS FOR TOUR.

could not drive the Pullman into a perfect score, and so will not take the helm at any time during the run.

Mrs. D. L. Severson has reserved her decision until today. She wants to study those new rules more carefully. She can have them this morning and then will be able to decide whether she really wishes to start with the other drivers. She is planning a trip to Europe soon after the tour, and the outing with her Chalmers-Detroit "thirty" would be the last she will be able to enjoy for a time.

Two handsome trophies are to be given. Solid silver emblems will be awarded for the best score in the touring car division and for the best record in the roadster class.

GRIFFIN IS DEAD OF THE TYPHOID.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ANN ARBOR (Mich.) May 2.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hank Griffin, well-known colored heavyweight pugilist, died at his home here yesterday after an attack of typhoid fever, which lasted nearly a month. Griffin, who was 41 years old, has been conducting a school of instruction in boxing and a gymnasium in Ann Arbor.

The negro was best known for his battles with Jack Johnson and Jim Jeffries. Griffin had three fights with the present heavyweight champion, getting the decision over Johnson in twenty rounds on one occasion and later drawing with Johnson in fifteen and twenty rounds.

Auto Play Ball.

AUTO DEALERS BALL PLAYERS.

TWO FAST TEAMS ORGANIZED ON GASOLINE ROW.

Baseball League May Be Organized of the Prominent Dealers, Salesmen and Mechanics Who Are Old College and High School Stars of the Past.

Not satisfied with a national reputation for large automobile sales a number of the enterprising dealers on gasoline row have taken up baseball as a side line and at the present time two of the fastest teams in the Southern State League are wearing the uniforms of local firms.

The Speed Boys team, which has just been organized by Harry C. Connor, bids fair to rank near the top. Few games have been played on the schedule, so far, but with no defeats against them, the speedsters seem to be comers.

Among the automobile and accessories represented on this team is the Franklin, Locomobile, Warner Instrument Company, W. D. Newerf and Western Rubber and Supply Company.

The Joy Riders is another aggregation of fast semi-pros, who represent the automobile industry. On this nine the following firms are represented: Chanslor & Lyons, Ford, Diamond Rubber Company, Premier, Kissel Kar, Packard, Seeley, Van Sandt Company, E. A. Featherstone and Earl Automobile Works.

With the interest in the national sport increasing at the present rate there is likely to be a league formed especially for the automobile men and the employees. There are any number of old college and high school stars, both on the various sales' forces and in the shops.

FEATURE AT OGDEN.

Metropolitan Shakes Off No Quarter in the Stretch and Wins by a Length After Neck-and-Neck Race.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OGDEN (Utah) May 2.—The feature of today's card at the fair grounds track was the purse event, which was practically a two-horse race between Metropolitan and No Quarter.

For the entire five furlongs the horses ran neck and neck, and in the stretch Metropolitan shook off his opponent and won by one length.

Lady Elizabeth again failed to reward her backers. Summary:

Five furlongs, selling: Prince Winter won, Gertrude G. second, Whisky Toddy third; time, 1:05 2-5.

Five furlongs, selling: Hammer Away won, Aunt Polly second, Tillis third; time, 1:04 1-5.

Five furlongs, selling: Zick Abrams won, Beaumont second, Genova third; time, 1:04 4-5.

Five furlongs, purse: Metropolitan won, No Quarter second, Novgorod third; time, 1:03 2-5.

Six furlongs, selling: Gene Wood won, Greenbridge second, Lady Elizabeth third; time, 1:19.

Six furlongs, selling: Domithilda won, Chief Desmond second, Joe Moser third; time, 1:17 4-5.

RACES AT LEXINGTON.

RACELAND STAKES FEATURE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LEXINGTON (Ky.) May 2.—In a nose-and-nose finish here today Worth won the Raceland stakes for colts and geldings from Buckthorn and Paratorian, the latter an added starter. The track was heavy, and the weather cold. Summary:

Five and one-half furlongs: Rogon won, Helena second, Zool third; time, 1:10 1-5.

Four furlongs: Catula won, Beretta second, Christmas Daisy third; time, 0:50 3-5.

Six furlongs: Crystal Maid won, Grover Hughes second, Enfield third; time, 1:15.

Four and one-half furlongs: Worth won, Buckthorne second, Pretorian third; time, 0:56 4-5.

Mile: Jabot won, Sir Dawn second, Myrtle Marion third; time, 1:46.

Mile and twenty yards: Wing Ting won, Marian second, Indian Maid third; time, 1:45 3-5.

PIMLICO RESULTS.

PATAPASCO STEEPLECHASE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BALTIMORE, May 2.—Election day, despite a cold wind, brought a large holiday crowd to Pimlico, today.

The Patapasco steeplechase, the feature of the card, went to Ticket of Leave, with St. Abe second and Dufficield third. Fitzherbert made his first appearance of the year and won the opening dash with ease.

Results:

Six furlongs—Fitzherbert won, The Squire second, St. Regis third; time, 1:15.

Four and one-half furlongs—Surfeit won, Springboard second, Bo third; time, 0:56 1-5.

Six furlongs—King Commoner won, King Avondale second, Mon Ami third; time, 1:15 1-5.

Steeplechase, two miles—Ticket of Leave won, St. Abo second, Duffield third; time, 4:03 2-5.

Four furlongs—Wyandotte won, Rosallo second, Eos third; time, 0:50 1-5.

Mile—Plate Glass won, Hampton Court second, Uncas Chief third; time, 1:40 1-5.

Six furlongs—Salvolatile won, Reputation second, Dress Parade II third; time, 1:15.

Deserved Success.

"MORTIE" LAZARD IS SURE MOVING UP IN METROPOLIS.

"GOING up!"

This will serve as the designation of a young Angeleno who yesterday received notice that he had been made an executive officer in one of the most important amusement corporations of the country.

Mortimer S. Lazard is the new treasurer of the Rabinoff-Centanini house of New York, allied with the Metropolitan Operahouse, and managers of several of the leading attractions, best-known of which, to local audiences, perhaps, are Pavlowa and Mordkin and the Imperial Russian ballet. Lazard is a member of the board of directors of the institution, and will have permanent offices in New York.

Next season his firm will send a large number of attractions on the road, and will undertake the direction of visiting foreign celebrities.

Several years ago Lazard was in the Behymer employ here, and was marked as a box-office man of unusual talent and integrity.

Then one of the Kubelik tours came along, and owing to the deficiency in the violinist's entourage he joined the staff.

Next year he returned as the manager of Kubelik.

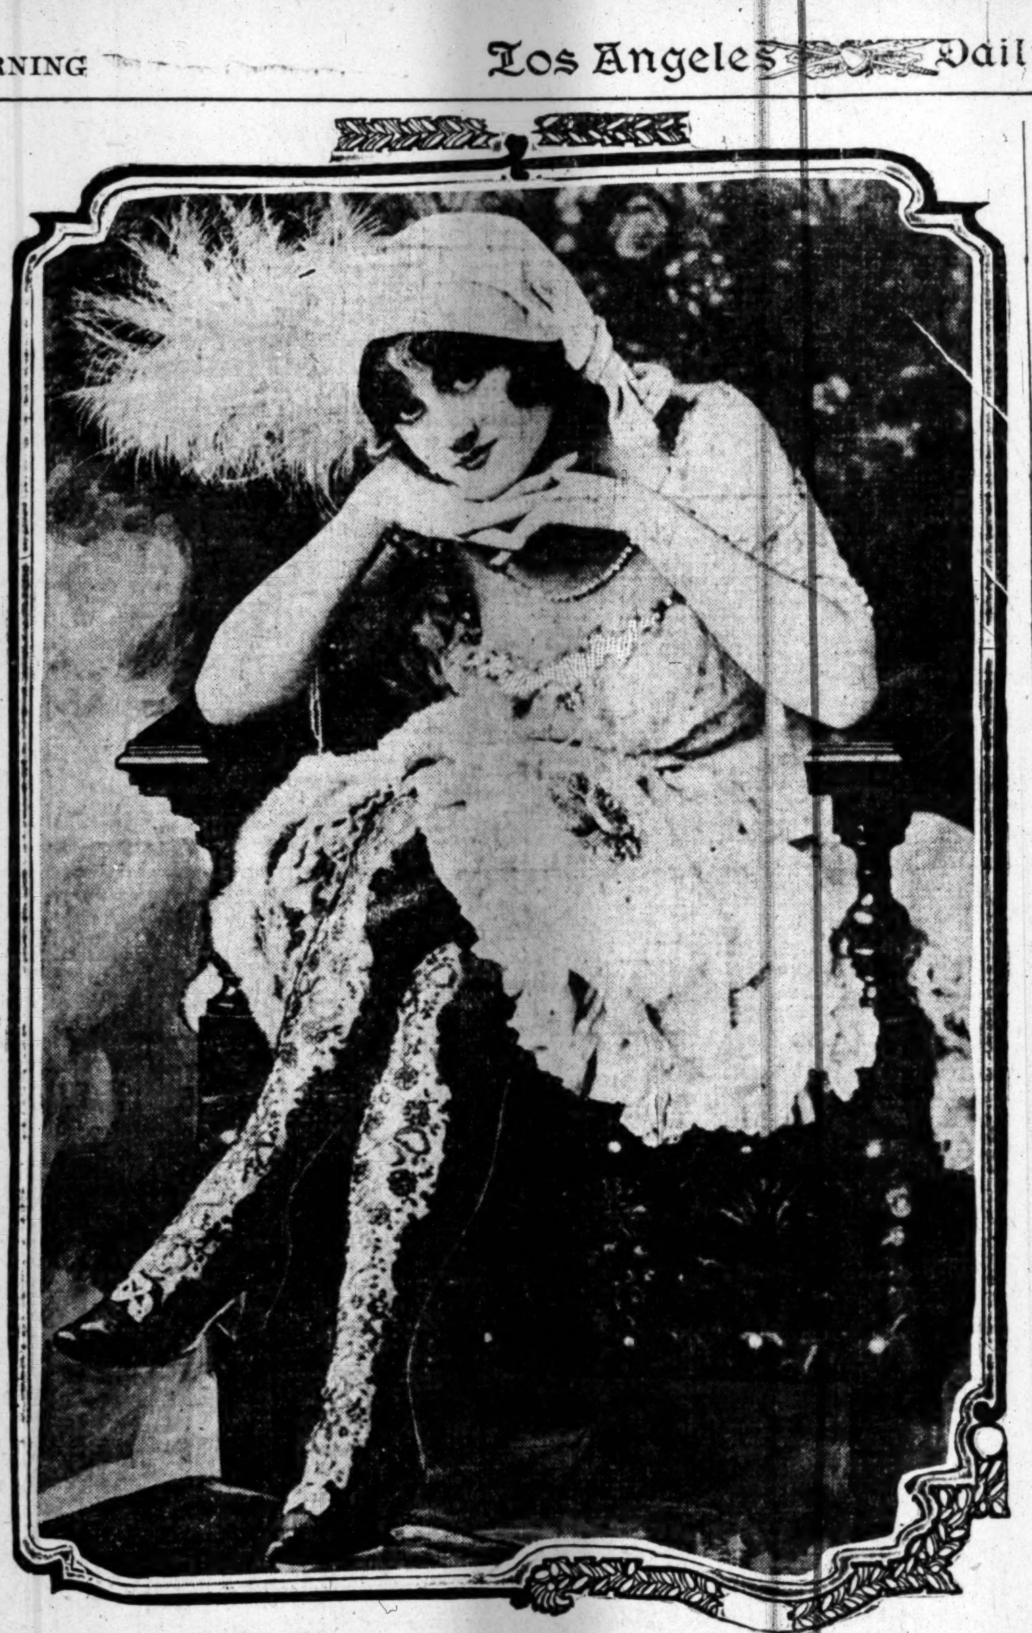
The following season—still going up—he became traveling treasurer of the San Carlo Opera Company, from whose nucleus Henry Russell organized the present great Boston opera organization.

Emilio de Gogorza, probably the best known single concert artist in America, next wanted Lazard as tour manager.

During the year just closed Lazard was not the tour manager of Gogorza, but the booking-director of the tour itself, from New York offices.

He will enter upon his new duties early in the autumn. The Imperial ballet, a big orchestra, and possibly traveling operatic affiliations of the greatest size will enlist the attention of the Rabinoff-Centanini-Lazard firm during the coming year.

Just at present Lazard is resting at home of his parents in this city, and is just visiting among "the boys."



Lillian Lorraine, Star of "The Follies."

As will be seen, the photographer has in this instance posed Miss Lorraine in a very charming illustration of the latest hosiery fad—insertion stockings. The insertion is of two descriptions: exteriorly, lace of an ultra-peekaboo gossamer; within, a very—that is to say, a very substantial insertion au naturel. Strange to say, stockings of this description would not return from a celestial laundry in very presentable condition, nor would they be excessively popular with long skirts. So the man who has to regularly purchase hose other than of garden description need have no very grave fears.

CHESS NOTES.

NERVES ON LINKS.

chews nervously at a cud of gum when playing his best game. The men who play with Griffith say that if he chews too hard on the left side of his jaw he pulls and, on the other hand, if he pays too much attention to the gum on the right side of his face he slices the ball. Consequently, any time he makes a poor shot he has an alibi.

President Taft sets his teeth firmly when he drives and often when he tries for a long brassy shot he will prepare himself by chewing gum very industriously. Mr. Griffith is practicing this custom.

Then there is J. F. Sartori, another familiar character on the links of the Los Angeles Country Club, although for four years he absented himself for various reasons. His return was noted by the large number of high-grade cigar stumps found over the whole course. In fact most of the caddies and help around the county club indulge as often as they care to at the expense of the genial Sartori. His record for consuming cigars in one afternoon has never been carefully looked into but an average day's smoke is about twenty-eight colorado maduro perfectos per the eighteen holes or one trip around the links.

Whether there is any other trace of characteristics common to Mr. Sartori and Walter J. Travis has never yet been learned, but in the smoking stunt they are one. Travis consumes about 28 black perfectos in every game in which he takes part, especially where some championship honor is at stake. He never lays the weed down but keeps on buffing away until it disappears. Mr. Sartori is not so selfish as the great golf expert and generally lays his cigar carefully down to forget about it. Along comes the caddy of the next player and picks it up.

Without the cigar to keep them company both Mr. Travis and Mr. Sartori would play only an ordinary game. This probably applies to Mr. Travis more forcibly than to the local golfer.

To J. A. Jevne and M. J. Connell, the manner of dress on the links is of nervous importance. The former must have everything from the immaculate cravat and collar to the polished shoes looking perfect. Ruffle anything about him and immediately he loses his eye and the game he plays is disgusting to even his partner, M. J. Connell, providing they happen to be together. Mr. Connell does not go quite as far as Mr. Jevne but he must have his red vest adjusted perfectly or his play is below the average.

These traits of Jevne and Connell are known to few of the stars. In fact it has been noted throughout the country that the most successful golfers favor the negligee and careless dress.

There is such a thing as being too careless, as was the case when Judge Frederickson insisted on wearing an old pair of trousers until his friends voted that he must discard them or play by himself. The Judge was a long time getting used to other wearing apparel and to this day claims that his pals on the links forced him to discard the old trousers because they made him so formidable. The truth is that the judge's nerves were affected by the change in clothes.

John W. Wilson always has to have a session of warming up by himself before he enters into match play. He is like the high-bred horse that has to have so many rounds of the track before he is going at his best. His friends in the Los Angeles Country Club say that it requires a solid hour's preliminary practice to get John W.'s nerves steadied. He admits it.

A. H. Braly and E. B. Tufts have to have their black pipes between their teeth to play their standard game. In this respect they are like many of the great stars of golfdom. In fact a half dozen of the best players in America would be lost on the links without their pipes to steady their nerves. Messrs. Edward and A. H. have grounds, therefore, to figure out where they may land some day in the race for honors on the links.

The majority of golf players fall backward as they drive, but Albert Crutcher, the lawyer player, does the front dive to a perfect nicety. He is sometimes called the "high diver" by his friends in the country club. This is due to the peculiar development of the nerves.

Joseph Bowen never wears a hat, no matter how hot the sun is. This helps his nervous condition and incidentally gives him the distinction of being known as the hatless wonder. Joe's head is a show spot on the Los Angeles Country Club links. It resembles an Egyptian sunset in appearance and between his bright yellow shoes and his saffron-hued dome he is something of a wonder in looks and as a player.

It is through those idiosyncrasies that every follower of golf shows in some way or other traces of nervousness. In the game for pastime these little peculiarities are not so noticeable, but in match play, and especially when the other fellow has a commanding lead, they crop out.

No better illustration can be found of the prevalency of nervousness on the golf links than in the case of National Champion Fownes. But when he gets his golf club in his hand he is the personification of a self-master. During the last championship play it was said that Fownes slept very little any night while the tournament was on. But look at the success he had.

Walter J. Travis says that the golf player who takes part in tournament play is a helpless looking being on the links when playing against one with a national reputation. He is usually beaten before the first shot from the tee.

One day spent on the Los Angeles Country Club links shows many nervous traits in men who show no signs of such a thing in their offices or homes. One person when playing against a long driver endeavors to overcome the distance gained by his opponent by a longer brassy shot and presses, while at other times in his anxiety to reach the green he will lift his eye and top the ball. Another person is so nervous in match play that he drips with perspiration, even on a cool day. Then again there are players who get cold from fright and are taken with chills.

I might go on indefinitely until I had taken in every member of the Country Club, for each has his peculiar nervous weakness. This accounts for the statement of the noted medical expert and of Dr. Sargent of Harvard. But don't be afraid of playing golf; it is the greatest form of recreation known for those who have graduated out of all other forms of athletic exercise and athletic endeavor.

BIG GUNS PLAY TENNIS.

shocked when C. R. Joy, also a world-wide official in the Association, deliberately challenged him to a tennis match yesterday.

"I believe I can beat any member of the international committee in a game of tennis," said Joy as he sauntered up to McDill in the corridor of the building at Seventh and Hope streets, just after they had figured out a campaign for two or three thousand new members.

"Wh-What did you say?" stammered McDill as he vainly tried to figure out what tennis had to do with a membership campaign. "Tennis? Why I don't claim to be any tennis player."

Then he happened to remember what a crack player he was back in his college days. "I'll just take you up on that challenge," he said. Secretary Quillian happened to be a witness of the challenge and he immediately signed the two athletic looking business men to a match.

It took just three serves for Joy to completely subdue his portly opponent. McDill had to acknowledge the college days were too long past. Occasionally he showed a burst of speed that would have done credit to a college champ but between times he knocked "home runs" (that is, they would have been "home runs" if it hadn't been for the cage,) net balls and sometimes missed the sphere entirely.

Joy had evidently been practicing for the bout for he smashed curves and cut balls with unerring accuracy and speed; in fact he showed real championship class.

It developed after the match was over and Joy was formally declared winner, that he has for years held the championship of Keokuk, Iowa, where he lives. McDill declared his rival had taken undue advantage of him but this did not have any bearing on the championship honors which the Iowan had cinched.

Besides being a tennis crack Joy is one of the best indoor baseball players in the Keokuk Y.M.C.A. He occupies the box in all the big matches.

LITERALLY TIED CAN TO COMING STAR PLAYER.

Joe Jackson discovered two years ago that the supposedly even-tempered Connie Mack possesses considerable temper at times. It was after the Athletics had been training down South in the spring of 1909. Jackson was in the squad in the special car when the train they were in halted at a small town en route for Philadelphia. Jackson's attention was called to a bunch of milk cans on the platform. Among them was one painted red.

"I wish they would tie that red one on me," remarked the batting wonder.

Connie Mack overheard the remark and quick as a flash came back with "Just for that, I will tie that can on you."

And the next day Joe was farmed out.

"That was when I was a bug," said Jackson as he related the incident.

ALPINE NON-STOP RUN.

An international Alpine none-stop tour of 1300 kilometers, approximately 800 miles, is being aranged by the Austrian Automobile Club for May 13 to 16. The cars will be divided according to piston displacement and the daily routes will probably be as follows: Vienna to Radstadt or Aussee, to Trieste, to Klagenfurt, to Vienna. Three money prizes will be awarded to the entrants of the cars losing the least number of points and there will be a team prize of a gold medal, which will be awarded to each firm having three cars to finish with perfect scores.

THE MARMON

The Easiest Riding Car In The World

Champion of All Stock Cars

THE trophies here pictured form the most notable group ever won by any car in America or Europe.

The Center Trophy stands 8 ft. 4 in. high, built out of $10,000 worth of coin silver, takes three men to carry it.

THERE is not merely pride, but wisdom in the ownership of a car known everywhere as without a superior.

It means the luxurious comfort of easy riding, the silent smoothness of operation, the correct elegance of appearance, the economy in tires and upkeep, the always-ready reliability that makes motoring at its best a matter of great pleasure and convenience.

In a word, it means the thoroughly satisfying daily service that Marmon owners know.

The path to success in tire making is a straight and narrow one.
